Mid Term Entrants From Wide Area

Students enrolling for the second semester come from pretty well over the state, a hurried check over registration records indicates.

Two high school students and twenty-nine college students are making their first acquaintance with the Murray campus. Home town mail is now due to be sent out to such far-flung places as Denison, Texas, Oklahoma City, Henryetta, Kingston, Pauls Valley, Okmulgee, and way stations.

Johnston County registrants as usual lead the counties with every high school district in the county contributing at least one student. Registration tabulated early last week included Cletus Bradshaw, Oklahoma City; Lester Bond, Commerce; Benjamin Franklin Donathan, Henryetta; Helen Farris, Aylsworth; Charles Platt, Ardmore; Carrie Gallagher, Tishomingo; Billy Garrison, Ardmore; Mina Green, Fillmore; Wilbur Hearne, Madill; Rena Mae Jester, Ravia; E. May Lindsey, Elmore City; Leonard Norwood, Soper; Cecil O'Rear, Idebel; J. C. Parrish, Mill Creek; Leroy Patrick, Graham; Joe Bob Pruitt, Ardmore; La Roy Richey, Kingston; Grandall Puckett, Tishomingo; Lucille Richey, Kingston; Jewel Smith, Madill; Floyd Stout, Okmulgee; Harold Taylor, Pauls Valley; Harry Taylor, Denison; Texas; Juanita Thornhill, Marietta; Cecil Wade, Wade; Charles Marvin Watts, Ravia; Legton Murray Webber, Ravia; Elgie Norman Williams, Russett; Woodrow Williams, Troy; Carey Young, Troy; and J. R. Young, Troy.

Music Dept. To Give Recitals

The vocal music department is working on numbers to be given in a recital late in the spring. H. B. Courtwright, director announces.

Special group selections will be given by the girls' glee club, mixed chorus, boys and girls quartets, arios, and by the girls' octet. Piano pupils will also be introduced in solos and special numbers. Mr. Courtwright announced.

Frazier Announces The Debate Team

The members of the debate team have been announced by Glenn E. Frazier, debate coach. Mr. Frazier intends to use the whole class in the debates instead of selecting two or three main debaters. The members of the team are: Myron Pritchlynn, Frank Shannon, Verli Hickman, Hebur Grundy. These debaters have been enrolled in debating since the first of the school and they have worked hard on the Phi Rho Pi debate question.

The class members usually choose sides and have heated arguments among themselves.

The debate question as chosen by a National committee is as follows: Resolved that Congress should be permitted by a two-thirds majority vote to over-ride any decision of the Supreme Court declaring a law passed by congress unconstitutional.

The following schedule has been arranged for the team:

February 5—Dual meet at Durant.
February 21—Tournament at Alta.
March 6-7—Tournament at Durant.
March 20—Dual meet at Ada (tentative)

April 11—State meet at Norman.

No debates have yet been scheduled at Murray, however, later on, Murray debate fans might get a chance to hear a sample of oratory from their fellow students.

To Speak Tomorrow

Mrs. Kate Galt Zanis, President of Southeastern Teachers College, Durant, will deliver the principal address of the Phi Theta Kappa, here tomorrow night.

The visit for Mrs. Zanis to the Murray Campus is of particular interest in view of the many friends of long standing she will meet within the Murray State School itself, and among the citizenry of Tishomingo.

As a member of one of the state's oldest families and for many years a recognized leader in the educational and civic life of southern Oklahoma, Mrs. Zanis now has the distinction of being on of the very few women in America ever to be the administrative head of a major co-educational institution of higher learning.

Following several years of service on the faculty of Ardmore High School, a membership of the State Board of Education, Mrs. Zanis was named President of the Durant Teachers College, two years ago.

In addition to the former professional associates and colleagues on the faculty who will renew association with Mrs. Zanis, several of her former high school pupils will be among the group in whose honor her visit is made. Among these are: Misses Euline Tenneyson, Mary Wimberly, Oleta Taylor and other graduates of Ardmore High School.

4-H Club Rally To Be Held Here

The annual 4-H Club Rally and contest will be held at Murray State School on April 3, 1936, the Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Backus, said. Each club presents programs and the judges decide the winner. Twenty or thirty-five of the county's outstanding 4-H Club members are awarded trips to Stillwater to the State 4-H Club Convention. The State's outstanding 4-H club members are awarded trips to Chicago and St. Louis.

The Federation meeting will be held April 18, at Murray State School and the annual county 4-H Club picnic will be held at Devil's Den with the presentation of a short program by each club sometime during July. The adult 4-H Club picnic will be held at Ballard's Park.

O. B. U. To Award Scholarships

Oklahoma Baptist University is giving scholarships of $100.00 value to the honor boy and girl students who graduate from high schools and junior colleges this year, according to announcement received by the registrar's office from president Raley of O. B. U. The scholarship offered annually is awarded the highest ranking students in the class and in the event of their non-acceptance the board of O. B. U. directs that the highest ranking Baptist students in the class should be awarded the honor.

The value of the scholarships is $100.00, to be applied on the student tuition over a four-year period, or over the minimum period required for the completion of a degree after graduation from a junior college. The award is non-transferable and is made to apply to tuition charges only for courses offered at the school.

TO BE HERE FEBRUARY 18

DIXIE MELODY MASTERS

The Dixie Melody Masters, a colored quartet, will present the south in a series of lyceum numbers in the Murray auditorium on February 18.

All of the members of this quartet have had wide experience on the radio and concert stage. Harry D. Mickle, tenor, has traveled extensively with various musical organizations throughout America and has been acclaimed by many leading artists as possessing a perfectly natural tenor voice. He is a truly versatile artist with an enviable reputation as a tenor soloist and dramatic artist.

Marion L. Kay, dramatic tenor, was featured as a soloist in the Hall Johnson Choir, in "Green Pastures." He has appeared with various choirs, quartets, and octets. He has also had a wide radio experience.

George Bizzelle, bass-baritone, is very proficient in both the Russian and French schools of singing. He has also had wide radio experience having sung over the well known stations of NBC, WGN, WLS, KYW, and others. He has gained great popularity in his singing of the "Volga Boatman in the Russian language."

Raymond Lowe, baritone, has studied vocal art with some of the best teachers obtainable in this country. His musical training also included the study of the piano which has fitted him most excellently as an accompanist. Mr. Lowe with his splendid baritone voice earned for himself well deserved success as a radio singer.

The quartet will present songs of the Old South, camp meetin songs, plantation songs, and songs of slavery days. This promises to be one of the most interesting and entertaining lyceum numbers to be presented. Murray students will be admitted on presentation of their activity tickets, otherwise an admission of twenty-five cents will be charged.

President Recovering

Hon. Harry B. Cordell, for eleven years president of the State Board of Agriculture, is steadily recovering from a paralytic stroke suffered some six weeks ago at his home in Oklahoma City, press reports from the capital indicate.

While President Cordell did not preside over the regular monthly meeting of the state board last week, he was able to give his personal attention to most of the duties of his office, reports at that time indicated.

Mr. Cordell, elected two years ago for the third time to the office he now holds, is among the oldest of the state's administrative officers in the point of service. Being the chief executive of the governing board for Oklahoma A. and M. College, and the three junior colleges of Agriculture, and beginning his tenure at about the time the latter institutions were coming from vocational high schools, Mr. Cordell has seen these institutions through their scope and take their places definitely with those of today.

No member of any educational board in the state with such varied responsibilities can point to such a record of service and of accomplishments as can Mr. Cordell. Reports of his continued improvement are a source of satisfaction to his friends here and elsewhere throughout the state.

Horne Named 2nd Lieutenant

W. W. Horne, registrar and mathematics teacher, received his commission from the War Department in Washington, D. C., last week to become Second Lieutenant of the Murray National Guard unit.

Mr. Horne has been working with the company several weeks before receiving his commission in order to help it prepare or Federal inspection, which comes in March.

Lieutenant Hall announced the promotion of nine non-commissioned men. Preston Greeson was promoted to the position of staff sergeant, Poggie Wolfe, W. B. Gooding, and Frank Fodge were made sergeants, and Stanley Geyer, Orville Green, Clay DeBoard, Hugh Hales, and Gordon Murphy were made corporals.

Selma Sanguin Returns To Take Examinations

Miss Selma Sanguin, who withdrew from school during the holidays to become secretary to the county engineer of Choctaw County, returned to the campus last week-end arranging for the completion of courses she carried up to the time of her withdrawal from school.

Miss Sanguin who attended Murray last year, was a member of the Y.W.C.A., Phi Phi Omicron and the Goal-diggers. While a student here she served as secretary to Mr. W. W. Horne, registrar.

Flood Control Plan Considered

Possibilities of a flood-control and irrigation dam to be constructed across Pennington creek and on the Murray farm were indicated last week by announcement from the State Conservation Commission.

The commission will, it is announced, send engineers to make a survey of the site with a view of determining the practicability of such a project within the next month.

If the layout of the land and other conditions warrant, a dam will be constructed that will impound enough water to provide irrigation for the school's farm and truck garden, besides being of material aid in the flood control program for the Washita and Red River valleys.

Suitability of a site just west of the Murray campus was recognized by the agricultural engineering department and school officials some years ago, and it is regarded as likely that the structure will be made there, if one is located in the section.

The site regarded as the most likely to be selected is just above the small irrigation project developed by the agriculture and engineering department of the school two years ago.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

(BY BESSIE DUNCAN)

In a modest log cabin on a farm near Hodgenville, Kentucky, on February 12, 1809, Abraham Lincoln was born. His father was a wandering sort of man, never settling down. When Abraham was seven years old, his father moved his family down the Ohio River to a point on the Indiana side where later the village of Gentryville was established. There Abraham lived until he was nearly twenty-one years old.

In 1820 the Lincoln family moved to central Illinois. There Abraham's mother died, and it was not many years before his father married again. From his step-mother Abraham received much encouragement in his studies. Although the boy had no more than a year of schooling, young Lincoln mastered such books as he could obtain. Worn copies of the Bible, Shakespeare, Robin Crusoe, Pilgrim's Progress, and The Life of George Washington fell into his hands and these books he studied conscientiously.

About the year 1832, Lincoln began the study of law. It was this study that aroused his interest in politics. He worked for a time as a surveyor to pay his expenses in the law course, and entered the state Legislature when twenty-five years of age.

Lincoln lived much alone and the tendency to melancholy and solitary meditations was marked in him. The subjects of his study were not found altogether in books. He was a lover of men and sought to know what they were thinking. He came to have the power of understanding without words; currents of thought and feeling ran deep in his nature. He also sought to gain power of expression, both of his own thoughts and of by people in language he could not understand, and he resolved that always he would speak so that even a boy could understand him. Lincoln himself became an embodiment of the national character, whom James Russell Lowell called "The First American."

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

St. Valentine's Day, February 14, was originally observed as the day of eight saints and martyrs of the Christian Church. St. Valentine's Day is famous as a lover's festival. Mention of Valentine Day is found as early as Chaucer. The custom was to place the names of young men and women in a box and were drawn them out in pairs on St. Valentine's eve. These whose names were drawn together had to exchange presents and be each other's Valentines throughout the ensuing year.

The Valentine time is still observed as a day for lovers. We give Valentines to our sweethearts, mothers and other loved ones. If a young man wants to express his love for his best girl friend, he presents her with the best picked and assorted chocolates all cradled in a heart-shaped box, or he may present her with the most beautiful paper and lace Valentine he is able to find. You girls who are fond of chocolates, hurry and get you a boy friend, for St. Valentine's Day is only three days off.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

George Washington, commander in chief of the Continental forces in the War of the American Revolution, and first president of the United States, was born at Bridges Creek, Virginia, on February 22, 1732.

He was athletic in form, a graceful and expert rider, and fond of the wild life of the woods and encampments. Such education as he received was completed by the time he was 16 years of age. His last two years of schooling were devoted mainly to the studying of engineering, geometry, trigonometry and surveying.

On January 6, 1775, Washington married Mrs. Martha Curtis, a young widow with two children. On June 15, 1775, he was chosen by the second Continental Congress to be commander-in-chief of the Continental Army. He accepted with great modesty, refused any pay for his services, and asked only that his expenses be refunded to him after the war.

Washington was unanimously chosen the first president of the United States, and on April 30, 1789, took the oath of office in New York, where Congress was then sitting. He served for two years, but declined to serve a third term.

At Mount Vernon, his home, he devoted himself to agriculture. In 1798, the prospect of a war with France led to his appointment as commander-in-chief of the national army. On December 12, 1799, he was attacked with acute laryngitis from an exposure to cold and snow. When he died two days later, the whole world mourned his death. The eulogy of "Lighthorse Harry" Lee that he was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen," had a wider meaning than its author intended to give—it a meaning which the lapse of years has extended, rather than diminished.

"Difference—"That means fight where I come from!" "Well, why don't you fight then?" "Cause I ain't where I came from."

"Where is Washington?" "He is dead." "I mean the Capital of the United States." "Oh, they loaned it all to Europe." "Do you promise to support the constitution?"

"Me? How can I? I've a wife and six children to support."

Happy Combination—The boys of the Fairmount (W. Va.) American Legion Post were discussing impending marriage of a buddy.

"That's an accomplished girl Ben is going to marry" observed one of the men. "She can swim, ride, dance, drive a car, and pilot a plane; a real all round girl."

"They should get along fine," replied another. "You know Ben is a good cook."

Campus Gossip

The Snooper knows all, sees all, and tells all. Did you notice in one of the Oklahoma City papers where "Handsome" Bill Wooster would the Murray boxing team when they enter the Golden Gloves.

Did Elizabeth Null say that she was quitting school just to get some of the boys to kiss her good-bye? Why is Vera Phelps known as bad influence? Did she have anything to do with the two girls who went to the preview the other night?

Kathryn Black and Margaret Alexander thought that they would go to the preview the other night, so without asking anyone they just took off. They had no more than got inside the show until— They have been around the campus ever since. Is that why Hank Spikes is called "Preview Pete?"

We notice that Jack Pehworth, one of our women haters, has gone social on us. It seems that Helen Gale has softened his heart. If you don't believe James C. Frazer is a ladies man just ask him.

Can anyone tell us why "Fat Boy" Young has a five pound bag of Epsom Salts on his dresser. You don't suppose that he takes that many medicines. We have been told that our red head "Pepper" is getting to quit school. Could it be that she isn't getting along with someone.

The snooper's roaming eyes caught the glimmer of diamonds the other day on two of our girls' left hands. What could that mean? If Miss Kingston and Miss Haldston won't tell us the guy that does the snooping.

We notice in some of these 7:50 classes a number of drooping heads when we pass the door. Sleepy?

The two girls from the same town, Healdton, who used to be inseparable have not been seen together in the last week or so. It seems they can't agree, eh—particularly on pictures. There was glass all over the floor of their room on the first floor of the dormitory. They had dropped some pictures. Oh! It was an accident of course. Alon! The rub is—they still have to room together.

For a while there was fear in our hearts that the "escort of the new girls" had gone back on us, and was about to give up the title, but we noticed in the line the other night that he's back in the game. Girls, take warning, that dancing guy is a heart-breaker.

We wonder if you knew the "kitchen pet"? Yes, there is one. He's a grand guy, too. Maybe there's an art of being a "pet" too, or maybe it's the fact that he takes care of the boiler.

All of you had better watch your step for the Snooper's always snooping.

GETTING OUT A PAPER

Getting out a paper is no picnic, If we print jokes people say we are silly, If we don't they say we are too serious. If we publish original matter, they say we lack variety, If we publish things from other papers, they say we are too lazy to write.

If we stay on the job, we ought to be out hustling news. If we are out rustling news, we are not attending to business in our own department.

If we don't print contributions, we don't show proper appreciation. If we print them, the paper is filled with junk.

Like as not some fellow will say we swiped from an exchange. So we did.

To The Ladies

"Once to every man and nation comes a moment to decide. . . . And likewise, once to every college coed comes the moment to decide on the basic color for her spring wardrobe. There is something about a "good or evil side" in the above quoted poem, and likewise, there is good or evil basic color.

So when and if you venture forth to buy that new spring wardrobe, be sure of your sense of color. Nothing is more perennially good than navy blue, with paler blue and white. It has many advantages. It can be worn later into the season than can many colors and is good for late summer or early fall for left-over wear. It is one of the colors most becoming to the most people, for blonds, brunettes and red heads can all wear navy blue.

Fortunate is the girl who has blue eyes, for her problem is solved before it presents itself. Without a doubt, navy is her color.

Brown is also an excellent base color for the gal with tawny tresses. Green is a good complement for the Brown.

Grey is very pretty for the red head, or brunette, but is less flattering to the paler blonds. One advantage grey holds over other colors, is that it may be worn with any color of the rainbow.

So, if after the color is decided upon, and the "fair" god-mother sends you a nice big check, grab your hat and make a dash for the college shops.

First of all, you will need the lightweight coat or suit. Many clever navy tailored coats are being shown. They have belted and pleated backs, and fit over the shoulders and hips.

Then there are the bell shaped coats, smooth shoulder lines with pleats which flare out and make the coat full around the bottom. The sleeves are bell shaped and there are large patch pockets which fasten with carved wooden buttons.

Under the coat must be a lovely printed crepe dress. In selection of this dress, let your fancy roam. You may choose a soft feminine collar, full sleeves, shirred waist, and a sash, instead of a belt. Or you may select a more tailored dress which buttons down the front and is belted in patent leather, and has pleats. Or there is the chance they will run across a happy-medium dress which just suits you.

How about a suit? That is the latest thing. The suit with a coat made like a man's if forever, the latest thing. This year, they are being shown with only slight alternations. The lapels are wider, and patch pockets have more grams on them. Often the pockets are perfectly round and are stitched.

Inside of a blouse, twist a scarf around your throat and slip on the jacket. For sports, wear an ordinary turkish towel for the scarf. If you still want the monogram, buy wood on initials on little pins and arrange them across the scarf.

If you are really smart, you will go to the most exclusive college shop you can find and try on the most expensive clothes. Make your own selections and study them carefully. Then go to the bargain basements and purchase patterns and material, and go to your favorite dressmaker. The result is, madame will appear dressed like a queen, and still have a few cents in her pocket.

But what is a new suit without a new pair of shoes? Patent leather is all the rage, high heeled pumps with bows, Cuban heeled T straps with buckles and flat heeled oxfords with big buckles. Everything fastens with a buckle.

Your purse matches your shoes—patent leather with a buckle.

Your hat is of soft felt in the color of the suit or coat, or it may be completely different, something bright and gay.

In London, the British women prefer a manish tailored suit of grey, with grey hat and purse, but worn with a colored blouse, shoes and gloves, all the same shade.

In case you don't care for colored shoes altogether, try patent leather sandals piped in red, blue, green,

With The Alumni

Once more we have reached the end of a semester and again we have lost out (not gained more) students. They have left our campus for other colleges, some near and some far. Fred "Little Man" Barringer and Eve Meek are now enrolled in East Central Teachers at Ada—Bill Carroll and Eugene Wiggins are enrolled in Oklahoma A. and M.—Burdorf Montgomery is now enrolled in S. T. C. at Durant—Bennie (better known as Sadie) McKee has gone to Southwestern State Teachers at Weatherford—Mary Ross is enrolling at Gainville Junior College, Gainville, Texas.

Snatches here and there from former students—Leslie Earl is now with Seismograph Company in Tulsa, the "oil capital" and doing well—Selma Sanguin, who visited on the campus last week, is still working at Hugo—J. R. McKinley, former men here the Aggie staff, is Sports Editor on the Oklahoma Daily and the O'Collegian, both newspapers published by the University. Norman—Hiawatha "Hi" Estes and Jimmy McReynolds, now O. U. Sooners, visited the campus last Thursday.

Just as a reminder, get acquainted with the new students and help them become "old" ones.

DID YOU KNOW?

That Tishomingo, the county seat of Johnston county, is the largest city, has the only paved streets, the only jewelry repair shop, the only picture show, the largest food store, the only radio repair shop, the only insurance agency, the largest high school, the largest service station, the largest dry goods store, the only National guard unit, the largest hotel, the only lighted football field, and the only college in the county.

Just, or gold. Only one, not all the colors.

With the new clothes you must of necessity have a new manicure, fresh shampoo, a bright lipstick, a new gay "line" and last and most important of all . . . some place to go.

Aggie Boxers Take Two, Lose Four In Golden Gloves Tournament

Ammeron, Wooster, Take First Round Victories, Wolfe, Morgan Score Wins

Two wins, four losses represent the net outcome of the Aggies' debut in mitt-slinging circles in Oklahoma's Golden Glove Tourney held in the City last week end.

Captain Bill Wooster, light heavy-weight, and Wes Ammeron, bantam weight, disposed of first-round opponents in impressive style. George Deer, welter weight, and Bobby Harrell, middle weight, dropped a pair of close decisions to their first opponents.

Accompanying this Aggie quartet to the bouts, "Pogie" Wolfe, Tish fans their first thrill of Thursday afternoon's session by the workmanlike polishing-off he administered to Rowledge, Hobart's classy Kiowa light weight. Ken Morgan, Tish welter weight turned in a couple of victories, dropping a third round decision to Howell of Ada.

Ammeron, who prior to last Friday had never engaged in a glove contest in his life, found himself faced with a bracket which included such stars as Jeffie Vann, Oklahoma bantam weight champion, Hoy Isaacs, Ada and "Junior" O'Neal, Oklahoma City's sensational bantam.

Apparently unimpressed by this galaxy, he tore into Isaacs a few hours after the Ada lads' deadly right had disposed of Jeffie Vann, carried the fight to him all the way and took an easy decision over him. Meeting O'Neal, in his second start, Ammeron carried the fight to his man all the way, but the experienced city lad, taking advantage of the Aggie's over aggressiveness slipped in a punch that stopped the hustling Ammeron near the end of the first round.

Deer, meeting Herman Colston, O. M. A., and Oklahoma's title holder for 1935, gave the brilliant cadet more trouble than he was accustomed to encounter in the early rounds, making it almost a blow-for-blow exchange, but dropping the decision.

So close was the decision between Harrell and Alexander, Bacone's Adonis, that the announcement was lustily "boomed" by the fans, who apparently felt that Bobby had the neat Bacone man.

Wooster jabbed his way to a commanding lead over Jack Smith, El Reno light weight, and won his first match going away. Meeting Buddy Scott, Oklahoma State champion, in the semi-finals, he jabbed the champion around the ring for the route, losing a decision that was also lustily boomed.

Feeling among the Aggie camp is that, while the showing made is not so impressive on paper, it is quite creditable in view of the close of competition encountered in the ring sport's debut to the campus.

Sports observers covering the tourney for the city papers single out Aggie contestants for favorable mention repeatedly throughout the meet, Ammeron in particular being pointed out as "the man who up-set the champ."

Glances at the Glovers

For whatever the glove sport may become on the Murray campus, all credit is due "Handsome" Bill Wooster. An enthusiast, a former title-holder, he took the initiative in starting the workouts for the tourney.

Doing the "towel-wielding" for all the Aggie entrants, looking after conditioning, preparation for bouts, and "matroning" the boxers, told on Cap'n Bill. He lost eight pounds during the tourney.

George Deer was introduced for his bout as "George Little Deer." Colston's comment at the end of the bout was that neither part of the last name sounded appropriate.

"Ah, these are college boxers!" one fan commented as Ward, O. M. A.'s slugger, waited for his recent opponent to take the ten count, then shouldered him up and carried him out of the ring.

Incidentally, this same Ward, after taking three consecutive victories via the KO route, lost the semi-final decision to Dick Hogue, Coleman's only entry in the tourney.

Howard Renfro, Aggie football star of '33 and an old high school mate of Wooster's was in his corner for the Scott battle.

Seen While Meandering

Murray Get New Transport Bus

Starting the new year out in a fine style, Murray College has come in possession of a new transport bus. With the basketball season starting, and band trips to be made, the need for a new bus was readily seen by all. Consequently during the Christmas holidays, a new bus was purchased and delivered to the school. The bus is painted the school's colors, blue and white, and the words "Murray Aggies" is written on the body of the bus. The engine is a standard Dodge motor. The bus has all modern features, seating 20 comfortably. It has electrically controlled doors, and reading lights.

Aggies Return With Three Wins

Couch Powell and his Aggies returned from their upstate road trip with three victories to their credit.

The Aggies, an improved team since the first and last two home games, dropped to the Conner Aggies, but took the Beames-schooled Marvicks at Tonkawa in a side to side tussle on two successive nights to the tune of 39-23 and 44-24. King and Murphy captured scoring honors on respective nights.

The Aggies journeyed over to Chillico to win handily from the Rodskins, 39-12, with Murphy, Aggie forward, making 18 points for high score.

Aggies Drop Game To Okla Baptist

The Aggies dropped a hard-fought game to the Oklahoma Baptist Bison at Shawnee last Tuesday night, by a score of 32-28.

The Bison were trailing by five points up until the last three minutes and came from behind to take a lead that could not be headed. Led by a sharp-shooting forward, Willhoite, the Bison showed a smooth-working offensive game.

The Aggies have been strengthened since John Donahue of Henryetta, entered school the second semester. Murphy and Willhoite put on a duel for high scoring honors, Murphy winning with 13 points.

The Aggies leave this week to play the Cameron Aggies, leaders in Oklahoma Junior College cage race.

Oklahoma Dialect To Be Studied

Do you know where Typicalville is located? It is any small town, probably in central Oklahoma, which the educational leaders will select to record the speech of the natives to determine if Oklahoma has a dialect. Dozens of native Oklahomans will be engaged in conversation while hidden mike records will record the speech to determine the accents peculiar to Oklahoma speech.

This is only one phase of the speech project. Questionnaires have been sent to 4,000 grade school teachers, to 848 high school teachers, and to junior college teachers of the state. These answers will be tabulated and leading speech teachers will write a speech course of study for each grade from the first through junior college.

A third phase of the speech survey will determine the number of persons having speech defects. Sponsors are asking information of the number of hair-rips, stuttering, lispings, and mumbling pupils in each school. If the numbers are large enough, it will probably lead to the establishment of speech clinics, where as many of these as possible will be remedied.

MIGHTY COLLEGIATE, GENTS!

The New Deal started it. Now the flivver industry has gone collegiate.

The Oklahoma City Times quotes Mr. E. A. Conliff, secretary-manager of the Oklahoma Automobile Dealers' association, as leading a fight of the Jallops!

Hands up all that are hit! All right, you don't know whether to duck or not.

The Jallops, according to Mr. Conliff, is the most collegiate of the joy-wagons. That is, the strip-downs, tie-ups, and whatnots of the motor creation that have the age of from five to ten years.

The plan Mr. Conliff proposes of riding the highways of this menace is to junk these antiquies, rather than attempt to repair them or recondition them. They constitute, he states, a menace to traffic and should be junked.

This junking, as everybody knows, is what the collieth boys have been doing with all these years.

But who would have thought that they were Jallops?

Tennis Club To Enter J. C. Meet

In an attempt to introduce lawn tennis as a regular minor sport of Murray, a number of tennis players have formed a collegiate tennis club. With the coming of minor sports into the state Junior College circle, tennis has taken its place as a new sport to be considered. The club is sponsored by Mr. P. J. Park, professor of biology.

At the club's first meeting, Jack Peabworth, high school student, was elected president. He has taken an active interest in the sport and in making the advancement of it as much as possible. The club is open to any students who care to participate in tennis. Present members of the organization are: Billy Garrison, Charles Dunn, T. J. McIntyre, Hanks Spikes, Arthur Sneed, Clovis Davis, and Cletus Bradshaw.

The tennis court at the south end of the campus is being repaired by members of the team in preparation for an intermural tournament in March for elimination of players for the team. Mr. Park announced that there was to be a team of the four highest ranking players with one alternate to take part in intercollegiate competition. Also a team

Mercer Addresses County 4-H Clubs

Ford Mercer, State Assistant 4-H Club director, Stillwater, addressed the Johnston County 4-H club federation meeting, on Wednesday February 12. Mr. Mercer, a former 4-H club champion was the first youth to win an award as national champion.

He was national 4-H club champion in 1925. His address covered the field of club work in general. He told them about the different awards one could win, the different projects, the importance of accurately kept reports, and the impact and outside trips to be given to the outstanding 4-H club boys or girls.

Alfred Autrey, Bisset, Johnston county presided over the meeting. There were 151 4-H club members representing 10 clubs with 9 coaches. The purpose of these meetings, which are held quarterly each year, is for each club in the county to get together and discuss the achievements of each, the projects they intend to carry out during the year and to learn to carry out the parliamentary order in all the meetings. After attending one of these meetings each member goes back to his home club with new ideas he has observed from the other clubs, and with a greater determination to make his club a model club.

County Agents Join 4-H Club

W. W. Bonham, County 4-H Club agent, and Miss Clara Backus, County Demonstration Agent, and secretary, Billie Tate joined the Murray 4-H Club at a meeting held in the Murray administration building on February 15. At this meeting they gave talks on the proposed constitution for the club.

The meeting was in charge of John King, president. After several songs, led by Esther Sheehan, Leta Walters gave a reading "Mary Had a Little Lamb." Talks were given by the sponsors of the club, Mr. Howard and Mr. Cox.

This club was organized after the Christmas holidays, with only seven members. Its purpose is to carry out some definite achievement during the year that will help local 4-H Club boys and girls, or to help each member sponsor a club in his own community.

In the Murray 4-H Club, boys have an opportunity for winning awards. Several trips are to be awarded during the year to the best boys in judging. One is to the fat livestock show at Fort Worth, Texas. The other is to enter in competition judging at Stillwater.

There are 23 members in the club at present, including Mr. Bonham, Miss Backus, Miss Tate, Mr. Howard, and Mr. Cox, sponsors. Other members are John King, Ardmore; Ollie Michael, Ardmore; Maymie Lee Henderson, Ardmore; Harold Loudermilk, Ardmore; Linnon Johnson, Tishomingo; Clyde Reed, Tishomingo; Irene Alexander, Tishomingo; Esther Sheehan, Mill Creek; Maxton Buford, Wade; L. J. Neese, Broken Bow; Homer Arns, Stratford; Thomas Ray Best, Lindsey; Roy Folsom, Quahab, Texas; Morene McFerran, Red Oak; Thelma Bray, Mill Creek; Lela Walters, Wilson; Marie Valis, Blue; Muri Gray, Roosevelt; Wallace James, Harshorne; and Vernon Smith.

of the two highest ranking players will compete in the Junior Collegiate Track Meet at Tonkawa on May 1.

Girls Agriculture Class Makes Progress

What is this school coming to? There seems to have been a complete revision of the labor system. At any rate, there is a rumor that the boys are learning all about the art of home economics, and the girls have retaliated by becoming farmers.

Mr. Cox reports that much interest is being shown in the girls' agriculture class which began the second semester.

Thirty-seven girls have enrolled in the class and are fast learning all about pruning, gardening, spraying, poultry, and other farm industries.

Home Economic Attracts Boys

They're learning a little. You wouldn't expect these Aggies from Murray to know everything. When enrollment was being done many of the past partakers said that Home Ec. III was a snap. There is a boys class in Home Economics. Those enrolled seem to be in there for something else besides a credit, though, Miss Stone, Home Economics instructor, asked the boys what they wished to know about the other day and many subjects were turned in, most of these being seriously asked.

The first two lessons were spent in learning how to develop the personality. During the latter part of the second and the whole of the third lesson the boys were instructed on how to make themselves good listeners and conversationalists. The subject of courtesy was discussed in the latter meeting. Classes only meet every Tuesday, but there is a large attendance.

Then there is variety. There are gridiron stars, lady's men, intellectuals, etc. On the whole they are pretty well balanced.

Homer Arms, Bill Saling, Preston Gresson, and Kenneth Stice comb from the gridiron. Gordon Murphy, Ravia's pride, is from the basketball squad. Charles Dunn leads the band boys in. These include Charles Platt, James Winn, and Lester Johnson, incidentally, Platt could be called a lady's man. There are smart boys who sometimes follow him in. Representative of these are A. T. Worley and Fred Traylor.

Dorm sends Roy Folsom, and Bill Grumbles, Vinson Bogard comes from the opposite side of the campus. It might not be best to name the farm hands, but they are here and most of them seem interested.

WPA Collects Data For Guide

The Federal Writers' Project sponsored by the WPA, is collecting data on the Murray State School and Tishomingo in general, with view of completing a Guide for America. Information was sent last week for Murray.

The chief undertaking before the Writers' Division Professional, is the preparation of an encyclopedic publication entitled, "The American Guide." This guide, which will be vastly more elaborate and detailed than any guide heretofore published by a firm or city, will occupy five volumes of 600 pages each.

No section of the United States will be neglected by the guide. The writers, covering the country under the supervision of State Directors, will submit their collected data to central offices where the articles will be checked and edited. Afterwards, they will be sent to the State headquarters for assembly and completion. This project will take about 4,500 writers from the relief rolls.

Funeral Services Held For Miss Poe

Funeral services for Bessie Lawana Poe, graduate of Murray in 1936, were held at the First Orthodox Baptist Church at Ardmore, on February 19, with the Reverend W. Lee Rector, conducting the services. Burial was made at Lone Cedar cemetery near Baum.

Her death followed an attack of acute appendicitis, while she was in Ardmore. She was carried to the Von Keller hospital on February 15, but because of her weak physical condition, physicians were unable to operate. She died at the hospital Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock.

Miss Poe graduated from the eighth grade at Baum. She was salutatorian of the graduating class of Dickson High School in 1932. Following her graduation from Dickson, she attended Murray for two years, graduating last spring. She attended Southeastern Teachers College last summer and the first term of this year, preparatory to accepting a position to teach in Mary Niblack School, a short distance from her home near Dickson. She was engaged in teaching there prior to her death.

She was born on April 5, 1911, and died on February 18, 1936. She is survived by parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Poe of the Niblack community; Callie Poe, a sister, and two brothers, Vernon and Joe Poe of Ardmore; one aunt, Mrs. Joe Ellis of Ardmore; and one uncle, Bill Cook of Mill Creek.

During her school days here at Murray she made many friends by her friendly, lovable disposition, all of whom were grieved to hear of her untimely death.

Connors Gym Is Destroyed By Fire

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the manual arts and gymnasium building at Connors State School of Agriculture last Tuesday reports from Warner indicate. Value of the building destroyed was approximately $35,000.

The fire, which started at about six o'clock, is believed to have originated from a gas heater, which had been left burning to heat the building for basketball practice. Students were at dinner when the fire started.

Wooster Wins by KO In Muskogee

Bill Wooster, Aggie lightweight and team captain, journeyed to Muskogee last Tuesday night to give the old home folks a thrill by stopping "Quagaw Shewens," Muskogee heavy, in the third round of the feature bout on promoter Gene Ellis' amateur card.

Cletus Bradshaw, an Aggie newcomer sprang a surprise by cuffing Alexander, Racone lightweight and a golden glove semi-finalist, for a draw decision that was less popular with the fans than a victory for "Red" might have been.

Wooster had his man finished at the end of the second round, the bell ended the count. Only a few seconds of the third round had ticked away before the former Muskogee high grid star went down for the count.

Bradshaw, off to an unconfident start, was outpointed in the first by the more experienced Indian, but came back in the second and third to give the highly rated Alexander a sound lacing.

School To Get
Mail Privilege

If you observe the masthead of this issue of the Aggieite you may note the entry "Second Class Mailing Application pending."

This means that, assuming that the Post-Office Department grants the privilege, application for which has been duly filed with Postmaster Bennett, and the necessary deposits made, bulletins and publications of the Murray State School will be admitted to the mails as second class matter.

Second class rates are considerably less than third class rates, at which the Aggieite has been admitted to the mails heretofore. Under this class, rates are figured by the total poundage of each issue, rather than at so much per copy as in first or third class rates.

Today is the anniversary of Enrico Caruso, who was born February 25, 1873.

Florida is entitled to a break of some sort. Her birthday will never be thought of, since she became a part of this union on February 22, 1819.

LEAP YEAR

The observance of Leap Year is a custom which originated many years ago. The old calendar was very confused until the time of Julius Caesar, when, in the year 48 B. C. he revised the calendar, abandoning all attempts to base a calendar upon the moon, and declaring that there should henceforth be three years of 365 days each, and then one year of 366 days, in perpetual cycle.

This arrangement was satisfactory for some time. It was not entirely correct, however, since there are not exactly 365 1/4 days in a year, and, in the course of centuries the error became appreciable. The accumulated error in the Julian Calendar was corrected by Pope Gregory XIII in 1582, by omitting 11 days from that year. At the same time he instituted a leap year rule which will serve for more than a thousand years.

The leap year rule is as follows: Those years whose date numbers are exactly divisible by 4 are leap years, unless they are also exactly divisible by 100. In such cases they are not leap years unless they are exactly divisible by 400. Thus the year 1900 was not a leap year, but the year 2000 will be a leap year.

TODAY IS SHROVE TUESDAY

Shrove Tuesday has been celebrated in the city of New Orleans since 1857. It is celebrated by street pageants, brilliant masque balls, and other festivities. In the Roman Catholic Church it is celebrated the day before Ash Wednesday which is the beginning of the Lenten season. It was so called from the old custom of confessing or receiving shrift on that day, but at the present time, it is a great festival of rejoicing, preceding the penitential season. It is the Carnival of the Italians, the Mardi Gras of the French, and the Pancake Tuesday of the English.

BOXING

Since the days when fighting with the bare fists was made unlawful, the tendency of the interpretation of the word "boxing" has been to limit its use to exhibitions of skill, and to use the word "pugilism" when referring to professional contests under the old rules and to ancient gladiators. Modern boxing rules, known as the "Queensberry Rules," which govern even professional prize fights, have eliminated the worst features of the pugilism of antiquity and effected a great improvement in modern methods.

The ancient method was to make the punishment as cruel as possible by wearing a cestus of bronze, several thicknesses of rawhide strongly fastened together and projecting beyond the knuckles, and by binding the wrists and forearm with leather thongs, by these means adding to the capacity of the bare hand to inflict injury. The present custom of wearing a padded glove lessens this capacity. The last remnant of barbarism disappeared from pugilism when wrestling, which played an important part in the contests of the eighteenth and first half of the nineteenth centuries, was ruled out.

Boxing may be traced back as far as the days of Troy. In the writings of Virgil there is an account of a boxing match. Boxing was not so popular in England during the Middle Ages as were other sports, but in 1759 a theater was built for the display of boxing. It has gradually grown in popularity in many countries.

Boxing here at Murray is in its infancy. This is the first attempt of students to organize a boxing team, and so far the results have been very gratifying. The results from the Golden Gloves Tournament showed that Murray boxers made a very good showing. Woster's win over "Quappaw" Stevens, Musko's heavy, and Bradshaw's win over Alexander, Bacon's welterweight, at Muskogee last Tuesday night, proved that Murray boxers are accomplishing something worthwhile.

As long as the sport stays on a high plane, stressing clean sportsmanship, systematic training, and providing as it has so far unquestioned high class entertainment, we feel that it is entitled to the same enthusiastic support the Aggietite always gives to any part of its sports program.

With The Clubs

4-H Club

The 4-H Club met Thursday, February 13, with two new members present, Mr. Bonham, County Agent, and Miss Clara Backhaus, County Demonstration Agent. Mr. Howard talked to the group about judging teams. Mr. Bonham also gave a talk. A reading was given by Leta Walker. Plans were discussed for a constitution.

The club met again on February the song leader, Esther Sheehan. The club met again on February 20, at which time President Murray talked on "Importance of Agriculture."

Those on the program were Margaret Alexander, Katherine Black, Audra Carpenter, and Pauline Harrison.

The Y. W. C. A. met in the reception room of the girls' dormitory on February 11. Plans for a party were discussed. A Bible drill was given, followed by devotional reading by Margaret Hunkapiller. Those on the program were Margaret Alexander, Katherine Black, Audra Carpenter, and Pauline Harrison. The club was dismissed with the song "Follow the Glean" and the benediction.

With Our Neighbors

Houston Wright, director of the National Youth Administration of Oklahoma, is putting forth an effort to have the college student aid continue another year. Mr. Wright hopes to prove that this employment is beneficial in helping students, and is raising value received through self-help in the various colleges where students are employed. If it is proved to be beneficial to students and colleges, the work may continue for years and years.

Athletes of Oklahoma A. and M. College now have a new bus with all the luxuries of a pullman. The new bus cost $3,000 and is a 21 passenger, dodge, which is an improvement over the bus they formerly used.

Construction work on dormitories at East Central Teachers College, at Ada, will begin within the next week, according to an announcement made by Dr. A. Linshied, college president.

Under the set-up seven dormitories will be constructed in Oklahoma schools.

East Central will have two dormitories, one for men and one for women, calling for an outlay of $363,000. The government project calls for over 100 men on the job, which will require approximately ten months. At this rate, completion of the buildings may be expected about January 1937.

Dr. Earnest E. Brown has been selected as president of Northwestern Teachers College at Alva, to succeed acting-president Sabin C. Perciful. Mr. Perciful has been retained as dean of the faculty.

With The Alumni

During the past weeks, the Aggietite has received word from some of the former students and take pleasure in passing it on to you.

"Have just been reading some of the Aggietites sent me by Mr. Thompson and couldn't resist writing you about good old Murray," writes Mrs. Frank Bohrer (Tajanna Lewis to you Aggies). Well Tajanna, we're glad you threw resistance to the winds and dropped us a line. Congratulations are a bit late but nevertheless, are sent, and every wish for your future happiness.

"If the snooper can find time and space, I wish he would tell the friends that I promised to write 'hello' and for them to write me," Lois Williams. Lois, we're sorry we lost you the second semester, we're sorry you were too late to enroll at Texas Tech, but we're not a bit sorry that you can't forget Murray and your friends. This isn't the Snooper's column, but we'll try to give your message to your friends.

Hope you like Levelland, Texas, but don't forget us here in Oklahoma. It always helps us to hear from ex-students so some of you who are attending A. and M. College, O. U., S. T. C., and any of you who are still receiving the Aggietite, write us. Don't forget us, we haven't forgotten you!

Delois Alsup who left us at the end of the semester, was a campus visitor last Friday.

Thelma Bray, freshman student from Mill Creek, who has been seriously ill with influenza for the past week, has improved enough that she has moved to her home. She expects to be able to return to school March first.

Daniel Boone and Thomas E. Edison were both born on February 11. The first phonograph was patented February 19th. If all three of these could have gotten together at some time, we'd like to hear the kind of record they set.

To The Ladies

When, Where, Why, and How do you wear jewelry? Of course you wouldn't part with your senior class ring even for one minute, but there are times when you should. For example, never wear your diamonds (if any) on the same hand with a heavy class ring. If you insist on the class ring, leave off the diamonds, or if you won't part with the diamond or the class ring either, wear them on different hands. Maybe they won't clash there as much. And never wear more than one ring on a hand unless they are both worn on the same finger. And if you do wear two rings on the same finger, be sure they are both small and match well enough to be worn on the same finger.

Please don't go to classes wearing rings the size of a saucer. They are for evening only. And wear diamonds are too obvious. If you like the costume jewelry, lovely little rings may be purchased at any department store for practically nothing, and they don't have the ten-cent look.

As to ear-rings, there is a problem. If your ears have been pierced, you must always wear ear-rings or run a thread through the hole to keep it from growing back together. Sometimes the ear-rings are decidedly in the way, such as the times when one meets gym classes, plays tennis, or goes swimming. For such occasions, we humbly suggest that you select a very pretty silk thread to match your costume, and tie it in a lovely bow through the ear. This is quite novel but not at all barbaric, as would be large golden hoops.

If you are fond of bracelets, wear ones which will match your costume. Please don't appear in class in a skirt and sweater, and a long string of rhinestone bracelets. For school, wooden and leather bracelets are correct. Miss Mary Louise Bredlove has several very pretty beaded bracelets. Beatrice Felker wears an attractive Indian bracelet of turquoise stones set in silver. And remember, don't wear your watch on the same arm with the bracelet, in fact never wear both at the same time.

Necklaces are the most difficult problem of all. To wear, or not to wear, that is the question. Whether this nobler in the mind to suffer the styles and rules of outrageous fashion, or to be a rugged individualist and wear what you please. Large carved beads are quite obsolete, as well as colored glass ones. You may wear a small locket or crucifix on a gold chain with any type of clothing, except the above mentioned sports. They are quite appropriate with school and dress clothes alike. Jerry Wiggin and Maxine Black wear very pretty ones. Winna Workman has an unusual one, but she seldom wears it.

You may wear your Phi Theta Kappa pins at all times. If you have been smart enough to earn one, you are most entitled to wear it. All other pins which indicate membership to some organization are quite in place on school clothes. Fancy brochures are best left in your jewelry case on your dresser.

Save your jeweled clips that you wear in your hair, for all the numerous dances etc. on the campus.

While on the subject of hair, what does yours look like? Might take a good look at it and then get a fresh shampoo and a new set. The Moore twins keep their hair looking practically perfect. Dittie Vera Phelps and Katherine Black. Mary Rowe has lovely tresses. Look over the girls who have lovely hair, and do a bit of copying.

A rich man appeared before a poor man. "All my family," he said, "were generals, and killed men. Here am I, already in my fortieth year and I have not yet killed a man. I will give you $1,000 if you will let me kill you." The poor man said, "Your offer is very generous but with such a sum. Give me $600 and only half-kill me."

Campus Gossip

The Snooper knows all, sees all, and tells all. Could anyone tell us why all of the girls are having their pictures made? It couldn't be because they are three for a dime, so it must be for the boys back home. What is the matter with the girls who get their rooms stacked? Can't they take it? They should ask some of the boys how they get even with the ones who stack their rooms.

We saw "Fat Boy" Young, Bill Saling, and "Little Fat Boy" coming to breakfast through the girls' dorm. What? Did someone lock them out?

When Charles Deer was in Oklahoma City he said that he was going to the O. G. and E. picture show. George, that isn't a theatre, it is the Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company Office.

Lindy, we thought that you were going to quit school. What is wrong, did you think it was too cold to go prooving?

Who is the pretty brunette from Ardmore who is so crazy about "Bull" Birmingham? Maybe Bull can tell some of the boys how to win a queen. When asked about it all he declared himself innocent, but you should have seen him blush.

We wish all of you would ask Margaret Hunkapiller what she said she was going to do in order to get her name in the Snooper's column. George Deer says that eating soup with your fork is like kissing your best girl—you can't get enough.

We notice that Jack Peberworth has started playing tennis again since Helen has quit school.

Some of you guys and girls hurry and do something so we can write a longer column next time, G. Bye. The Snooper

Ford Builds 'High Wheeler' for Difficult Roads

A FORD V-8 "HIGH WHEELER" for use in rural districts where exceptional road clearance is needed is now being produced by the Ford Motor Company. The car is equipped with 18-inch steel spoke wheels and 6.00 by 18 4-ply tires, instead of the 16-inch drawn steel wheels and 6.00 by 16 tires which are standard on the 1936 model. The additional road clearance enables the "high wheeler" to negotiate roads with deep ruts and trails with high spots such as stones and stumps. The view at right shows the standard wheel in front, and the new "high wheel" behind.

Glove Artists To Get Action

Boxing, making its formal bow to Murray fans with last night's elimination cards, promises to be a rollicking youngster in the sports family, according to the tentative plans of the sponsors of the sport. Two men in each weight from last night's grid will be groomed to represent the Aggies in the Oklahoma A. A. U.'s district elimination bouts at Ada next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Men regarded as most likely winners in the district mill are: Wes Amerson, bantamweight; "Foggie" Wolfe, and Frank Novotny, featherweight; George Deer, welter; "Red" Bradshaw, middle; Bill Wooster, Harry Sims, lightweight. Others in the intermediate weights who are showing up well are: Arthur Snead, John Davenport, "Mule" Dobbs, Lowell Hakey, Hebur Grundy, and Limon Johnson.

Following the district tourney, dual meets are tentatively scheduled with amateur clubs of Ada, Durant, and with the Oklahoma Aggies.

Higher Education—Farmer Brown: "What did your son learn at college?" Farmer Green: "Wal, he hadn't been home a week before he showed me how to open bottles with a half-dollar."

Murray Wins One And Drops One

The Aggies lost a heart-breaking game to the Altus Pirates on the Pirates' home court. The count was tied up 34-34 at the end of the regular playing time and a five minute averting period was necessary. The Pirates won 38-35.

The next night the Aggies were playing an improved game of basketball and took the Pirates, 37-24. The Aggies will journey to Warner to play Connors, Thursday and Friday, to wind up their 1936 schedule.

The Doctor looked ahead—

Dr. Levine: "Well, maybe some day the State will take over medicine."

Dr. Ferguson: "Before we let the State control medicine, we'd have to put every politician on the operating table and cut out his acquisitive instincts."

Dr. Levine: "That would be a major operation."

Murray Loses To Cameron Aggies

Murray's age old rivals, the Cameron Aggies, came out on top in a two-game series last week with the Aggies.

Murray gave the Cameron boys something to think about in the first half by Murphy's sharp-shooting, the Aggies were leading half time 17-16.

Each team was showing a good offensive threat, and they were running neck and neck until the final minutes of the game when the invaders dropped the game, 33-44.

The following night Cameron, last year's champions, came back with every man hitting the basket, seemingly at will. The one-sided score, 45-16 shows that Cameron is making a fair bid for another conference title.

"They Took It"

A PLAY IN THREE ACTS
(A Summary)

By D. H. D.

Scene: Administration building.
Time: Wednesday, February 12, and Friday, February 14.
Hero: T. B. Testar.
Heroine: Murray Farmer lads and lassies.
Villain: The feeling "Dread."

Act I
The play opens with all the ladies and gents from Murray milling up and down the halls of the administration building waiting for the auditorium doors to be opened so that they may enter and wait their turn to take a T. B. test. All talk in a hush; the villain is on the scene when the curtain rises. Bill Grumbles comes in with a new girl. He casts his eyes around, sits down slowly, and then gets up and leaves. He comes back with Janet. Throughout the scene there is the little tingle of restlessness. Little groups are seen congregating here and there. More of them are taking seats down close to the stage. They think they will outwit the villain and get their test over with before it gets the best of them. (Curtain)

Act II
Scene: Auditorium and Home Economics room.
Time: Wednesday, February 12.
Characterization: Same.
The curtain opens again on the auditorium scene. The hero has arrived. Things are coming to a fast show down with the villain, Dread, apparently. The low numbling voices that were heard before, now become louder. Everyone is waiting tensely and wondering if the test will take off. Birmingham comes to the door of the auditorium and tells twenty of the boys to come first. Twenty stalwart lads step forward. These are unafraid. The scene changes as they march boldly up the stairs to the Home Economics room. Katherine Black has to get some ink before the test is made. She asks age, sex, and wants to know if there has been any T. B. in your family before. The twenty stalwart lads make a good showing. A. T. Worley thinks she gets a bit personal. Roy Poe is non-committal. All the time the hero stands in the background. Mamie Lee watches the inside of the arm just below the elbow with rubbing alcohol. The heroine bravely approaches the hero and looks appealingly at him. He seems to sense the heroine's fright and chats amiably. He pulls a little needle about an inch long out of boiling water and inserts it. In the little injecting instrument. He draws some solution up into the instrument. Carefully taking the arm of the heroine he injects the testing solution just under the skin where Mamie has washed. The heroine dreads to see the ordeal go on but is surprised when it is painless. The villain receives his first blow. The hero tells her it will be Friday noon before the test will be known definitely. The villain seizes the heroine again in spite of everything. This goes on behind the hero's back. Apparently the villain has the upper hand. (Curtain)

Act III
Scene: Mr. Hall's office.
Time: Friday February 14.
Characterization: Same.
The curtain rises with the heroine standing before the hall door of Mr. Hall's office. There is a hush among those gathered. Some have a big red sort of inflammation where the solution was injected. On others the size of the inflammation dwindles down to almost nothing. It does not even show on some. The hero arrives and the villain loses some control of the heroine. He draws farther back as more students go into the office. Some test P. positive. These are in varying degrees, 1 plus, 2 plus, 3 plus, etc. For 1 plus you carry the germ, and so on. The villain flies farther and farther to nowhere as more students come out of the office. Most of the students do not have T. B. The villain is automatically exterminated as the last student leaves the office. The heroine has a greater love for the hero. (Curtain)

Mike Visits Campus

Dear B. M.

Will wonders never cease or is it just the force of habit; what ever it may be here I am back at get back of Murray and plenty glad to get back. As you probably well remember, we use to look forward to the time when we could leave Murray, but now instead of being on the inside looking outside, I am on the outside looking on the inside and wishing I was back on the inside. In fact, I wish it so strong that I can hardly stay away from the place. Very few days pass that I don't wish that I was back and I do manage to get back quite often.

Believe it or not, it seems quite ridiculous to hear the students say the very things we used to say, that they will be plenty glad when they can leave the place. For you see I have been there and I know just how they feel, but I also know just how they will feel when they do get away.

I haven't been away so long, but as little as one might think about it things have certainly changed. New faces are quite evident on the campus and in the dorm. You eye them over and over and wonder who they are and where they are from, while all the time they are giving you the once over and wondering what in the world you are doing here, and why in the world you want to come back. Then there are the old faces that one misses, and after inquiring you find that they have left school to take a job of some kind or maybe just to loaf. But one of the nicest experiences is to run across one of the old students who were here when you were and has come back to take some more work. For instance, I ran into Bert Thiafero this morning. You have no idea how surprised I was to learn that he was now one of the fold, as well as two others I ran across in the personage of Charles Flatt, (remember Tarsan?) and Cecile O'Rear, the little girl who could make so many A's.

Then the changes in the dorm were quite evident. The first thing one notices now when he enters the dorm is that there is a host of new furniture in the reception hall. New chairs, divans, and tables have all come into view, and the old reception room looks like a very different place. But in spite of the many changes it is very much the same place, and a place where I am proud to say that I spent almost two years. Mother Bingham is still occupying the same chair, which only few dare to occupy, where she can watch the sheep of her fold. As one alumni to another, I fully enjoy being back at dear ol' Murray and am looking forward to the Alumni Banquet when we can all be back together. Until that time, Adios.

Love, Mike

In Our Band

Dorothy Fresson, Sulphur, doubles on the piccolo and flute. She is a member of the Murray band, orchestra, and dance orchestra. She started playing three years ago and immediately joined the Sulphur high school band. In this band she did considerable solo work and also was a winner of honors in the individual flute solo contest held at Ada. The Sulphur band was a winner at the band contest held at Ada last year.

Harold House, bass horn player, is known as the "general utility man." Last year he played trumpet in the Murray band. Harold started playing about six years ago in the high school band at Healdton. Since then he has played in the band at Pauls Valley, also. In his musical career House has played trumpet, baritone, alto horn, drums, and bass.

Paris, Texas sends a valuable man to the band in the person of James Frazer, bass horn player. James is a second year man and will be sorely missed next year. Frazer first started playing some eight years ago in the Hugo band. He played trumpet here for three years and then quit playing altogether. A year later he moved to Paris, Texas, and when the municipal band there heard about him, they asked him to play bass. This was easy to do, he states, because he already knew the trumpet and could read music well. Besides the municipal band, James was a member of the Paris, Texas high school band. This band is known as one of the best bands in East Texas. Of the five players in the bass section James held first chair for almost three years. In the musical department at Murray, James plays in the band, orchestra, and dance orchestra.

A musician of long standing is Harris Maxey, Madill, Harris started playing about six years ago in the Madill band. Since then he has played in the National Guard band at Durant, and was a member of practically all of the booster bands gotten together around here the last four years. Before playing trumpet, Maxey played baritone, bass alto horn, and clarinet.

Muri Skaggs has been playing in bands five years. He played in the Healdton and Pauls Valley bands before coming to Murray. In the Healdton band Skaggs played baritone, and in the Pauls Valley band he played baritone and drum. He took up trombone two and a half years ago. Skaggs played in the Murray band, orchestra, and dance orchestra both last year and this.

Duane Hunter has done considerable clarinet solo work with the high school at McAlester. He has played for five years. In his senior year at that high school he was concertmaster and a student director. In the four previous years to 1935 the McAlester band placed first in the band contest at Durant. In 1935 they

Charles Dunn is manager of the dance orchestra at Murray and plays clarinet and saxophone in the dance orchestra and band. Before coming to Murray he had played bass clarinet and oboe. He has been a drum major four years, two of these being in the Murray band. Dunn has played in the Madill high school band and the 180th infantry Band at Durant.

Horne Announces This Year's Grads

Indications now show an increase of about thirty in number of grad uses this year, with seventy-eight applications for diplomas already on file, according to Registrar Horne. This is an increase of twenty-seven over the number of junior college graduates last year, when fifty received diplomas at graduation time. While the list is not yet complete, it is believed that not over three or four more will be found with sufficient credits to graduate, Mr. Horne stated.

Among those whose applications are already on file are: Margaret Alexander, DeLois Alsop, Homer Arns, James Arves, Betty Baughman, Hershell Rice, Vinson Bogard, Estelle Brown, Charles Cape, Audrey Carpenter, Georgia Belle Carter, Carlton Chasoff, Monette Coffey, Claude Denslow, Evelyn Deer, Nolen Denton, Bessie Duncan, Charles Dunn, Beatrice Felner, Lucille Fidelity, Frank Fodge, Chaucer Francis, James Frazier, Clayburn Fultz, Lenora Foxon, Edward Golden, W. E. Gooding, Stanley Guyer, Pauline Harrison, Don Hugh Hathorn, Bob Hearrell, Agatha Holcomb, Yelast Hopkins, Lucille Hostetter, Harold House, Virginia Jackson, Clayton Johnson, Ben Jones, Billie Lewis, Luella Labor, Harold Loundermilk, Morene McFerran, D. M. Mackey, R. H. Marshall, Janet Martin, Willis Milton, Cecil Moore, Gordon Murphy, L. J. Neese, Derris Overton, J. B. Fate, Velma Peacock, Lovine Pennington, Vera Phelps, Roy Poe, Clyde Reed, Lou Ella Riffe, Doyris Rollins, Harvey Richardson, Bill Salling, Frank Shannon, Muri Skaggs, Arminia Smith, Ralph Stolaugh, Oleta Taylor, Earline Tenneyson, Jane Thompson, Marie Yalls, Ed Vandergriff, Oscar Vannoy, Jack Walker, Chris Weldon, L. G. Wiley, Morgan Wilkes, Willie Mae Willis, Mary Wimberly, Winna Workman, William Wooster, and Kenneth Young.

Aggie Boxers To Meet Ada Here

The Aggies' ambitious young boxing club undertaking what promises to be a rather busy evening when they take on the crew of Ada midget-fighters "Buddy" Scatt will bring down next Friday for the Ag's first show before the home crowd.

The match, originally announced for tomorrow night, was moved back when it was decided that the finals of the A.A.U. tourney would have to be postponed until this week. Six Aggies and five of the Scott men figured in last night's finals at Ada, and the time for recuperation was considered so short for another match to go on the second day after.

Scott, present holder of the Oklahoma A. A. U. and Golden Gloves light-heavyweight title, battled his way into the quarter-finals of the national championship tourney held in Chicago two weeks ago. He will meet Captain Wooster, who has won the feature bout of the match.

In the supporting cast, the Adams will present Hoyt Isaacs district A. A. U. bantam champion, who has had to share honors with Wesley Amerson in the two meetings between the pair so far this year. Accompanying this pair will be eight or more others who know their way about the ring.

Interest so far manifest in the bouts indicates a capacity house will be on hand. Reserved seat tickets will be placed on sale tomorrow.

Z. H. Lawter Will Visit Here Saturday

Honorable Z. H. Lawter, secretary of the State Farmers' Union, and member of the State Board of Agriculture, will be a visitor on the campus next Saturday, according to word received by President Murray yesterday.

Mr. Lawter's visit will be his first to the campus for the current school year. Combining his duties as a member of the Aggie school's governing board and executive secretary of the Oklahoma organization of the Farmers Education and Cooperative Union, Mr. Lawter is expected to devote part of his time here to the interest of the farmers' organization in Johnston County.

County Schools To Compete Here

The Johnston county track meet will be held here at Murray on April 10. Entries will be made from all high schools and grade schools in the county. Contests will be held in all high school subjects from ninth through the twelfth grades. Tests will be given in mathematics, English, social science, and natural sciences.

Acceptance tests will be given to grade students from the fourth through the eighth grades. Grade school fine arts will include first, second, and third grade story telling, grade solos, readings, and orations.

High school fine arts will include soprano, alto, and baritone solos. Girls and boys quartets, girls' glee clubs, piano solos, and orations and dramatic readings.

Track and field events, to be run off on the second day of the meet, will offer events for both high school and grade school boys and girls.

Early indications indicate that a record entry will be on hand when the first contest gets under way at 9:00 o'clock, April 10. Last year over 400 entrants participated in the library and fine arts events, alone, and nearly that number participated in the track and field.

Districts expected to make strong bids for the curricular and all-round championship this year are Milburn, last year's winner; Ravia, who last year saw a three year reign as the champion broken; Mill Creek, winner of last year's track and field and already winner of the basketball title for the year, and a perpetual threat for the literary and fine arts supremacy; Wapanucka, who always presents an excellent set of musical contestants and who last year made a real threat at the high school curricular events.

Mannville, who usually has matters pretty much their own way in the dramatic reading and story telling contests; Coleman, Fillmore, Washita, Russell, and Troy, each with a well-balanced representation in the curricular events, may be counted on to share points with any of them.

Teachers' Association, in charge of the meet, conducted by the school on behalf of the Johnston County of a faculty committee consisting of Messrs. Patton, Powell, Courtwright, Horne, and Misses Breedlove and Stone.

Misses Estelle White and Evelyn Taylor, Murray grads of 1935, who are now attending S. T. C. at Durant were campus visitors last Friday.

The first manual training school in the world was opened at Baltimore March 4, 1884.

The first municipal college was established in Charleston, South Carolina in March, 1796.

Murray Band To Broadcast

The band accompanied by the boys' quartet will again broadcast over station KVSO in Ardmore, Sunday March 15th at four o'clock. They will play from the Ardmore High School auditorium through remote control; it is believed that better sound effects may be accomplished by playing in a more roomy building with the necessary equipment. The band will feature the overture "Princess of India" by King, in addition to several popular marches. The boys' quartet will sing in between numbers.

Fine Arts Club To Attend Meet

Fine arts students of Murray are invited to participate in a festival at Oklahoma College for Women, Chickasha, on April 25, by invitation from the dean of the Chickasha institution received last week.

Junior Colleges are asked to send women students and instructors in fine arts: Glee clubs, vocal trios, quartets, and instrumental ensembles are included in the invitation. There will not be any contests for prizes, but there will be public programs, and private auditions before faculty members of O. C. W.

In the afternoon there will be a verse-speaking program, in which each school may have one representative. In the evening, each school may present one number, which shall not exceed ten minutes of time for presentation.

A representation will be sent to the festival, according to Miss Mary Louise Breedlove, who will be in charge of the group.

Band To Enter Festival At Ada

Plans are being made by Director H. B. Courtwright for the Murray band to attend a band festival to be held at Ada on March 21. This is the first festival sponsored by the Southeastern Band and Orchestra Association, and will be climaxed by a concert at seven-fifteen o'clock in the evening by a mass band of one-hundred pieces, Musicians for this band will be taken from the best musicians in the attending bands. Guest conductors, Boh Makowsky from A. and M. College at Stillwater, and William Wehrnd from O. U. are expected to be present.

There will be "pop" concerts on the street corners Saturday morning. At eleven o'clock there will be a parade of all bands present. Sectional clinics will be held at the East Central State Teachers College under the direction of Jimmie Nelson, authority on trumpet, from one-thirty to two-thirty o'clock. In these clinics the visiting band men will be able to ask what questions they will about their instruments.

Director Courtwright has received music for the Aggie musicians who will appear in the mass band, that they might start rehearsing their parts individually. These are: Duane Hunter and Sylvre Craig, clarinets; Francis Hopper, trumpet; Muri Skaggs, trombone; Harris Maxey, baritone; Harold House and James Frazer, basses; and Dorothy Prosson, flute and piccolo.

Others than marches the mass band will play overture, Safari, Holmes; The Pilgrim, a grand march, M. L. Lake; Superba, grand medley, Dalbey; Slavonic Dance No. 3, Ant. Dvorak; In a Persian Market, intermezzo, Albert W. Ketelbey; and Children's March, Goldman.

Aggie Boxers Take Places In District Tourney Held In Ada

Library Reading Room Is Popular

What is the most popular meeting place for students of Murray? Many would say that it was at the school store. But according to Mrs. Mary Fowler, head librarian, most of the idle spend their leisure time in no other place than in the library. Here at all times of the day, one can see the room full of young scholars, poets, and athletic-minded individuals.

If any of the students desire to pursue the adventures of Tom Sawyer, obtain an outside reading report on history, or find out who won yesterday's boxing tournament, they invariably turn their feet toward the library. Mrs. Fowler reports that lately the novels with philosophic trends are the most widely read. The reserve history books run a close second for popularity. The library receives four daily newspapers and several weekly school papers. These are read and digested thoroughly by sport fans, debaters and humorists. The magazines are an important element in the library. The Colliers, The Saturday Evening Post and the Liberty seem to have the greater reading audience.

The library is ideally situated, and its librarians do a good job in keeping the books in good condition. The decorations in the library consist of numerous trophies which the school has won in picture of President Roosevelt, and the state flag of Oklahoma. A desk and chair are donations from former governor, William H. Murray. Therefore the library has its historic as well as literary value. The four unbridged reference books of the numerous well rounded collection of service books.

All told the library is an institution which the whole school should be proud of and support.

Science Classes Present Assembly

The assembly program Thursday, March 5, was sponsored by the Biological Science Department. The following program was presented:

Devotional—Audean Carter.
Music by the college orchestra, Treasure Island, China Boy, and A Little Bit Independent.
Reading, "Within the Law"—Agatha Holcomb.
Group of Spanish Songs—Mammy Lee Henderson and Ernestine Moore.
Reading, "Mary Had a Little Lamb,"—Leta Walters.
Piano, Medley—Luella Findley.
Reading, "Little Gentleman"—Dorris Rollins.

Panhandle Has New President

The selection of Mr. Ed Morrison, for several years State High School Inspector, as Assistant Director of NYA work, to the presidency of the Panhandle A. and M. College, was announced by press dispatches of the meeting of the State Board of Agriculture last week. Mr. Morrison will succeed Mr. Bryan B. Dekas, who has served the Panhandle school for four years.

Morrison, a graduate of Oklahoma A. and M. College has done graduate work in Yale University. His professional experience included high school principalship at Wetumka, State High School Inspector, and Director of NYA service.

Three Firsts, Seconds, and Thirds Clinch Team Title

DEER LEADS IN POINTS

In a series of slam-bang fights that kept the largest crowd of the four-night session on its feet and pulling, the Aggie boxers swept through to the team championship of the district A. A. U. in the final run-off at Ada last night.

From the moment George Deer slid his bronzed figure through the ropes to send Howard King, Ada welter, down for the long count after thirty seconds of sharpshooting until Capt. Bill Wooster parried the last pole of "Buddy" Scatt, Ada light-heavy, there was no let-down in the action of the championship matches.

The Aggies, placing six men in the finals for three individual champions and three runner-ups, and annexing three third place titles, scoring 51 team points in the process, had a walkaway for the team title, Ada and Seminole clubs were far back of the Ags, trailing in that order.

By a long way the highlight of the final card came in the semi-windup, when "Red" Bradford, Aggie middleweight and Cecil Sheegee, Ada's veteran whitehead their dynamite-laden mitts in a three round slug-fest that literally ripped the roof. One or the other of the fighters was on the floor for about half the time. The Ada's superior ring generalship finally giving him the judges' nod over "Red."

In the Aggie's own final, that between James Hankey and Joe Pruitt, Aggie featherweights, the fans were treated to one of the neatest matches of the entire card, both boxers giving and taking with a gusto that brought a great hand from the audience which was for once entirely impartial.

Individual championships were won by Ed Alsop, heavyweight, George Deer, welterweight, and James Hankey, featherweight. Capt. Wooster, light-heavy, Bradford, middleweight, and Joe Pruitt, catchweight, took second place medals, with Wes Amerson, bantam, Bill Grumbles, lightweight, and E. J. Dobbs, middle, coming in for third money.

Of the remaining championship, Ada took two, Seminoles two and Allen one. Highest individual point winner was Deer, Aggies, whose four wins out of as many starts accounted for 12 team points. Deer also hung up another record for the meet, taking three of his four wins by the KO route. Only Cletius Howell, Wewoka's welter succeeded in staying the route with Deer.

Of the Aggies, Pruitt finished as runner-up in the point score, his three victories and loss in the finals giving him 11 points.

Goaldiggers Have Moonlight Hike

The girls of the dormitories were the guests of the Goaldiggers on a moonlight hike to Kingsbery's Park on Thursday, March 5.

The girls left the dormitory at 7:00 o'clock and walked to the park where a roaring fire awaited them. Weiners and marshmallows were roasted and eaten and then the group gathered around the fire and gave readings and told ghost stories. Margaret Hankapiller, Leta Walters, Doris Rollins, and Sylvre Craig contributed to the evening's entertainment. The picnic ended with the girls singing several songs.

WELL DONE, WOOSTER

Bill Wooster, Muskogee, is the boy who has taken a bunch of inexperienced fighters and trained them to box, so that they have made good showing in both the A. A. U. Tourney at Ada, and the Golden Gloves Tourney at Oklahoma City. He has done road work every morning with his team members and he has built a fighting spirit at Murray that will remain for many years after he leaves.

The team he has built is not so colorful, but a group of boys who take fighting seriously. Only two knockouts have been seen against the Murray Aggies and not a boy has quit fighting when the going got too rough.

We hope that the boys in the future years will win their fights like Bill did over P. J. Howard, a knockout in exactly 30 seconds.

ORDER OF SAINT PATRICK

The order, Saint Patrick, was founded by George III, in 1783, consisting of the sovereign, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and twenty-two knights, companions of Noble rank, in addition to a number of princesses of the blood. The badge is a white oval shield showing the cross of St. Patrick with a shamrock and three golden crowns. The motto is: "Quis Separabit," the ribbon is blue.

SAINT PATRICK CATHEDRAL

The most important of American Churches, dedicated to St. Patrick is the Cathedral of the archdiocese, of New York, situated on Fifth Avenue at Fifth Street. Constructed of white marble, it was begun in 1858 and dedicated in 1879. The twin spires, 322 feet high, were not completed until 1886. It was consecrated October 5, 1910. The Archbishop's house and a presbytery adjoin it at the east end. The total cost has been over $2,500,000.

SAINT PATRICK

Although this well-beloved personage is the patron saint of Ireland, Saint Patrick was born in Scotland, England or France. Authorities give his birthplace as Bonnaventa, but whether this was in Scotland, England, or France, they have not decided.

The Saint's British name was Suet, Patrick is the Anglicized form of his Roman name, Patricius.

His life was most romantic and adventurous. At the age of 16, he was captured by pirates from Ireland and carried to an island, where for six years he tended the flocks of an Ulster chieftain. During these years of his slavery he became a devoted Christian, and after his escape to France entered monastic life. He returned to Ireland as a missionary in 432. His labors were so miraculously successful that he came to be known as the person who "found Ireland all heathen and left it all Christian." There he founded over 300 churches and personally baptized over 120,000 people.

A favorite legend that grew up about this popular saint is one which says he charmed the snakes out of Ireland by his music. He charmed them and they followed him to the seashore where they were led into the water and drowned.

All over the world, wherever there are Irish, March 17 is celebrated as Saint Patrick's Feast Day.

Campus Gossip

The Snooper snooped around so much that we now know who the "Socialite" of the campus is. Do you? If you don't, ask "girlie" and he will tell you. "Girlie" is that handsome heart-breaker Ganley Stayer.

We'd like to know why Guyer (girlie calls Holcomb Satan?) Does she really look that mean, Stanley? We think that glint in her eye is just there and can't be helped.

By the way, one of the diamonds you read about in this column is gone. Which one? After all these Kingston girls don't seem to be as steady as Highland girls.

Then there's the girl who has been reading up on medicine and how to make good fountain colas since a week-end not so long ago. Why all this interest in drug stores?

We heard some of the girls laughing heartily the other night. It seems that D. M. Mackey forgot when to stop—some of the fairer sex were watching the soldiers drill—Mackey was watching the girls. When halt was called he kept marching right along. Maybe he heard the song, "There's Something about a Soldier."

We heard someone remark that in order to get over big (with teachers and all) you have to be able to drive a car and fix the car in case it stalls—we wonder.

You've read of "Drawlin Texans" and seen them in movies, but have you ever talked to one? What? You've never talked to McFentyre? We suggest that you get acquainted with him.

The snooper knows all, sees all, and tells all. There is a girl who is very much from the "city"—Ardmore to be exact. If she can't find out whether or not cows will bite or will kick with their front legs let the snooper snop just a little longer and she will be told.

Duret has said that they don't walk on their galls—that's true—and you can't feed them ice cream, that's an old one isn't it? So are cows. I suppose that you all know why we never get "ham" and more, it is because some of the students are to playful.

With the nice spring weather, along comes love, well that's what we think that gives Francis "Lee" Hopper that for away look in his eyes. It isn't doing Green and good eyes and swollen lips, here on the campus, it looks like some of the boys have been fighting, they really have, you should ask someone who has attended the A. A. U. tournament in Ada. Well did the boys feel out when the "Coal Diggers"

With The Alumni

Well, here another Journal week has come around and the old alumni editor was almost despairing of the fact that there was no news. Lo, as a gift from the heavens, several letters from ex-Aggies appeared.

"I see a lot of the former Murrayites every day up here, George May, Jack Crouch, Shivers, Andrew Williams, etc.—I have to be his way to absorb a bit of knowledge, so if you ever have a spare moment, and feel the fingers need exercising on the keyboard, drop me a line. I still live at 731 DeBarr." J. E. McKinley.

Congratulations J. E., on obtaining the Sports Editor job on the University publication. Let us hear from you, again often.

We have also received a letter from Pete Alton, former Sports Editor on the Aggietite. He reports he is still calling basketball games and sends word of the boxing tournament to be held at Broken Betsoon. Keep up the good work, Pete.

"Red Brady, student of '32, from Ardmore, was a visitor to the campus last week.

Purvis "Happy" Spangler was a welcome visitor several days ago. "Happy," one of our last year's football players, left us at the end of the first semester last year. 'Twould be nice indeed to have you back, yes, 'twould.

We're still on the lookout for news of the students and graduates. Until next time, so long.

Money for the new dormitories at East Central will be available within a few days according to word received by Dr. A. Lentschew, East Central President. The loan amounts to $200,000, but is not at all the money the school will receive for the structures.

Oklahoma Baptist University graduates are attempting to pay the school debt by sending gifts and making donations. They are attempting to raise $10,000 of the amount scheduled to be raised by the Baptist of the state. There are many that have already contributed. One alumni sends $100 as her contribution.

Lola McAninch, university librarian, announces the progress made by students in providing a more complete system of magazine checking and book-cataloging during the last year. Not until recently have the magazines which have been in the possession of the library become available to the student body.

Approximately five hundred magazines have been bound in cloth and placed on the shelves in the reading room. According to the librarian this school is the first in the state to undertake such a project of binding magazines under the FERA and NYA aids.

went on their little outing, some of the boys didn't miss it so much, because they went to town and waited for them to come back, so that they could walk back to school with them.

Someone sure had "Fat Boy" going for awhile, they took his watch one morning and returned it to him the next morning. Does one "Hand-take care of Buddy Scott? This "Red" Bradshaw isn't a bad little scrapper either. Earlene Teenyson says that her hero is a tall red-headed boy, is that so A. T.? Students, come on and have a good time. If you don't we will not have anything to put in this column.

To The Ladies

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Love," but in the spring a young girl's fancy seriously turns to thoughts of clothes. And rightly so too, for while clothes may not make the man, they certainly make the man turn and make a second look when a girl in pretty clothes passes his way.

Of course we do not advocate parading around just to show off new clothes, but this may be done subtly by a mere camouflage. Before donning a new spring suit, parade around in whatever you happen to be wearing. People will think you are merely strolling, which you should be. After a week or so of strolling, you have convinced the public that you are not showing off, but are merely enjoying the spring weather.

Now is the time to catch them. Next day, don the new spring clothes and go for your daily share. Quite casually walk past every group of males lying prone upon the campus. If they don't sit up and take notice, stroll past again. If the second dose fails, you may be sure they are discussing the fights.

But don't give up. Try again the next day. If after several days, no one has noticed the new clothes or commented on them, you might try, (as the last report) carrying a big sack of chocolate candy with you as you stroll. We feel quite confident any near-by swain will become alert then. But let us warn you against the chocolate maniacs, who will eat your candy and not notice the clothes. In extremely stubborn cases, when after several doses of the clothes, no effect is produced, you may resort to a strong poison. (for those who do not notice the clothes.

This poison may be administered in a number of ways. The best way is to secure a tasteless and odorless poison. Mix this with a variety of baits. Ripe apples are good, also any kind of candy. Doughnuts are inexpensive and easily poisoned. The best bait is a hamburger, but these are often too expensive, as you will wish to poison several at a time. Care should be taken to use only foods which the man will like, and these poisoned foods should be given only to the ones who deserve it. Under no circumstances should you poison your room mate, or your room mate's fella. Pick on some one else.

But you really may not need the poisons. Let us go back to paragraph three, above. After parading past the group of males lying prone upon the campus, and ask you to come and sit with them, or will hop up and stroll with you. For every fella likes to stroll with a gal in pretty clothes, for when people stare at the dress on the girl, and exclaim, "How stunning."

"Perfect"

"I never saw anything like it." The fella at her side swells up with pride, for he thinks the people mean him, not the dress.

After he has commented on the clothes, he surely will ask for a date. Don't urge him, give him time. Let him think he is running after you. Turn on the charm and just sit back and wait. He'll ask you for a date. And so on Friday evening, you walk to the show, under the moon. And on Sunday evening, you walk to church, and back under the waning moon. But a waning moon is better than no moon at all.

If the clothes are to have all the above mentioned effects, they must be selected with care. Pick out a most becoming color and style. Have your hair done over to suit the clothes, buy a new lipstick, get a fresh manicure with one of the lovely spring shades of polish. Buy the bestest sandals tinted if you like. Select extra sheer hose, a dainty handkerchief, and a new vanity case.

The new dress may be purchased at home this week-end, or may be made for a small sum.

A flock of checked gingham, cotton print, organdy, bedzie, dotted swiss, linen or printed silk would be the best thing to select. Topped with a stunning onion-

"Oh!" fervently exclaimed Mary Taylor, "if the Lord had only made me a man!"

"Perhaps He did, dear," said Margaret, consolingly. "but you haven't just happened to find him yet."

C. J.: "Well, wife, I've had my life insured for three thousand dollars." Dorothy: "How sensible of you! Now I shan't have at keep reminding you to be careful every place you go."

Hanks: "Now that you are through college, you must begin looking for employment of some kind."

"But, don't you think, father, it would be more delightful to wait until the offers begin coming in?"

"Oh, Doctor!" exclaimed the woman patient. "I was suffering so much that I just wanted to die."

"You did right," said the physician, "to call me in at once."

"It is always unwise to jump at conclusions," said the cautious man. "You're liable to make yourself ridiculous, to say the least."

"That's right," said the librarian. "I once jumped at the conclusion of a ferry-boat, mistook the distance, and fell into the water."

"Did you get out again?" dilly inquired of an absent-minded man who was standing near.

"Remember, Bridget," said the lady to the new maid, "there are just two things I insist upon: truthfulness and obedience."

"Yes, miss," was the reply; "and when you tell me to tell the callers that you be out, when you in, which do you prefer—truthfulness or obedience?"

"My boy," said the millionaire, lecturing his son on the importance of economy, "when I was your age I carried water for a gang of brick-layers."

"I'm proud of you, father," answered his offspring; "if it hadn't been for your pluck and perseverance, I might have had to do something of that sort myself."

"I told you last Sunday," said the teacher, "that you should all try to make some one happy during the week. How many of you did so?"

"I did!" gleefully answered one of the boys.

"That's nice, Noble, what did you do?"

"I went to see my Aunt Mattie, and she's always happy when I go home."

Maxine: "Why did you refuse Buddy, if you really loved him, as you say?"

Jerry, sadly: "Well, you see, he said he couldn't live without me, and it aroused my curiosity."

"Papa," said Mary W., "did Clayborn call on you at the office this morning?"

"Yes; but I couldn't make much out of what he said."

"Why, papa! what do you mean?"

"Well, as near as I could understand, he said he wanted to marry me; that you had enough money to support him, and that we loved each other very much, so I told him to get home and calm down, and write it down in plain English."

Mr. Courtwright: "Now children give us 'Little Drops of Water,' and put some spirit in it."

James A.: "Be careful, sir, this is a temperance school. Better say, 'put some ginger in it.'" skin straw, with a with brim for the tall gals and a off-the-face brim for the shorter ones, the costume is complete.

So start today with your strolling, and then come out in the new double turn on the charm, and power to you.

Boomerang

(Editor's Note: This is an endeavor to explain the game Boomerang which so recently swept the campus.)

The six or eight boys go over the one that is "down" in their respective turns. Red Traylor is "Fat," of the leader who tells the rest what to do. After all the boys have "gone over" the one who is down Fat Boy, Red goes over again and kicks Fat Boy in that portion of his body where he connects horizontally and vertically. As Red goes over he says, "One kick." Fat Boy can take it as all the boys swing their legs.

More boys are coming in all the time. Each new comer is supposed to go down and the one who is just down becomes pats. However, Fat Boy enjoys being down and lets all the boys go in the game without going down. Red likes fun and as he goes over the next time yells "one flip." Each man following has to turn one flip over Fat Boy. The man who can't do it goes down. You are supposed to get only one trial, but Fat Boy gives everyone two. The boys go over in their respective turns until one boy, Marion Buford, thinks he can't turn a flip. He offers to go down. There is no persuading him to try it, and he goes down. Fat Boy is now pats.

Fat Boy calls boomerang as he goes over. Everyone is supposed to yell this the first time he goes over a new man that is down. Then there is dirty work that you can do to a man who is down and get away with it. Bill Watson decides to try some dirty work. If he kicks Marion while he is going over and another man, previously placed to follow him, goes over before Marion can raise up he goes on with the game. However, if Marion raises up before a man goes over, Bill has to go down and Marion is pats.

Bill asks Harold Taylor to cover him. The boys are running and going over in fast succession. After Bill goes over, and yet before he touches the ground, he hits Marion a stinging blow in the place where his mother used to do some paddling. Not four inches behind him comes Harold. Harold has his hands on Marion's back as Bill hits. While Harold is directly over him he raises up. Harold is sent sprawling through the air. Although he was sent sprawling, one leg passed over Marion and he has gotten away with it. He picks himself up and gets in line again. Marion bends his back again and the game goes on. But wait!

Harris Maxey asks Lonzo Eaton to cover him. Eaton agrees. The boys go over Marion, but Marion is more alert this time. Maxey hits Marion before he hits the ground. Eaton is an instant too late about going over. Marion raises just as he leaves the ground and Eaton is sent sprawling. He did not cover Maxey, and therefore, Maxey has to go down and Marion is pats. Maxey says a few words, they all go when they have to go down, but he is a good sport and goes down. Marion calls boomerang and the game proceeds.

A lot of fun is derived from watching the two boys try to get away with these tricks. Using the hand is not the only way to deal misery to the one who is down. You can kick, pinch, kick in the head, and anything else that you can get away with.

You have to go down for various things: If you don't say the same thing that pats did when he went over you have to go down if the man who is down catches you and no one covers you. You have to go down if you exercise unnecessary roughness, or kick in the face, if no one catches you.

There are a number of things that pats can call: There is box cars, where the men after they have gone over line up like pats, behind pats, and the men coming up to jump over them all. After five or six men get in line this is pretty hard to do. Then there is one kick, two kicks, one or two hits with the hand, one flip, and any number of others. The only requisite is that pats say boomerang the first time he goes over.

The next time you are walking around the campus after supper and hear the boys yelling boomerang gather round and watch the fun.

The first complete sentence spoken and heard by telephone was forty years ago. Records show that the operator has made one or two connections since then.

With The Clubs

Y. W. C. A.
The Y. W. C. A. met in the reception room of the Betty Fulton Hall, March 4th for their regular meeting. The girls answered roll call with the jrawl they admire most in an individual.

A special was given by Virginia Jackson who played a saxophone solo. A very interesting talk was given by Miss Mary Louise Breed, who spoke on her trip to Germany.

The meeting closed with the regular song and benediction. They will meet again on March 11th.

ENGINEERS CLUB

The Engineers Club met Tuesday, February 26. After the roll call the following program was presented: Discussion of "High Frequency Waves," Muri Skaggs.

Talk on Submerged Bridges, W. T. Moore.

Comparative discussion on "Work with Cardboard and Paper with Sheet Metal," Carston Chassett.

Plans were discussed for the attendance of the Second Year Engineers at O. U.'s Open House on March 14 and 15.

PHI THETA KAPPA

Phi Theta Kappa, national honor society on the campus, has selected seven new pledges. They were chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship, and character. The pledges are Velma Pescock, Margaret Alexander, Vinson Bogard, Kathryn Black, Dorothy Presson, Eva Lee Anderson, and Lou Ella Riffe. Plans are being made for the invitation ceremony which will be held soon. If the entire seven complete initiation requirements there will be a total of 40 members in the organization.

W. A. A.

W. A. A., girls' athletic organization, is beginning to function again since the advent of warm weather. A softball tournament is being planned for the near future and a tennis tournament will follow that. Plans are also under way for several hikes. The girls' physical education class hiked to Bennington March 4, and despite the cool temperature of the water went wading. The annual Plan Day for College Women in Oklahoma will be held in Norman this year, sometime in April. Each year, nine girls are selected to represent Murray. The girls are chosen according to participation in various tournaments during the year.

Cummings of Pittstown was the better boxer, but could not punch. The first two rounds were fast, but in the third, Dickson Johnson could not stand the gaff.

R. Mays, of Allen, did not have the experience that C. Scott of Ada had and Scott gave him right to the head and mid-section for a decision.

Chie Williams of Allen jumped up in the air and did a snake dance, but C. Hughey of Wewoka won the decision.

MURPHY PLACED ON ALL STATE TEAM

Gordon Murphy, Ravis, sharp-shooting Aggie forward, was placed on the all-state junior college basketball team picked by the coaches of the conference.

Murphy, who has lead the Aggies for the past season, has been the outstanding performer on the offense with his accuracy and ability to hit the basket. His total scoring average ranked second in the conference.

Buddy Wiley, Tishomingo, was given honorable mention on the all-conference team as guard.

Track Meet To Draw Fast Teams From Oklahoma And Texas

Entries Are Already Coming In

O. C. CARDINALS HOLD TITLE

Indications now are that when the starter's gun barks for the opening of Murray's invitation track meet here next Saturday week, it will set in motion one of the fastest groups of track stars to be assembled on any Oklahoma field this season.

Coming as it does at the beginning of the track season drawing of both Oklahoma and Texas, the meet has always been recognized as one of the best to be held in Oklahoma or Texas. Early entries for this year's meet give promise of a larger and faster field than ever before.

Among the first entries already filed with Coach Powell are Norman, Waurika, Ripper, Oklahoma School for Deaf, Broken, and Durant. Other schools who have signified intentions of sending their entries include Shawnee, Chickasha, McAlester, Muskogee, the three Oklahoma City High Schools, and others from practically every section of Oklahoma; Sherman, Denison, one or more of the high schools from Dallas and Fort Worth, and several others of the well known track and cinder aggregations from down south.

Indications now are that Oklahoma City Central High School Cardinals will be the hand to defend a title which they have held powerfully for the past two years. Waurika battled the Cardinals point for point for the title two years ago and has already served notice of her intentions of pushing the Cards or any other contender for this year's honors. The Jefferson County teams, always strong in the track and field events, winners of their own invitation meet, will bring a seasoned bunch this year.

Murray's track, recently overhauled and graded, will be in the finest condition ever for the meet. Although possibly premature, the meet may serve as a sort of pre-dedication for this year's new stadium, assurance being given by Professor Courtney that at least one section of the stadium will be completed in time for the meet, and more of the rest, while not completed, will be in condition to be used on this occasion.

Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded the winners of first, second and third places in 100 and 440 yd. dashes; 1,0 and 200 low hurdles; pole vault, high jump, broad jump, javelin, shot put, half mile and mile runs; discus throw, 440 and 880 yd. relay, mile relay, and medley relay. A sterling and gold trophy will be awarded to the team champions. In the past years, such individual stars as Allen and Cagle of Shawnee, Nelson of Norman, Phillips of Bristol, Jones of Walters, and Reynolds of Sherman, Texas, and are holders of records in the various events. Many of these boys are getting ready to enter the Olympics the latter part of May.

ARMINA SMITH RETURNS TO SCHOOL

Armina Smith, second year student from Canadian, is back in school this week, following a trip to Sherman clinic last week. Miss Smith, who has been ill for the past several months, is now regarded by the physicians as safely on the road to recovery, and it is felt that she will be able to continue her school work.

The first post office was established March 12, 1789. There's a game of the same name that must have been started in one of the spring months.

County Contest To Feature Bands

Johnston County high schools will for the first time send their bands to the county contest to be held at Murray on April 10.

Addition of the band comes as a result of the steady development of interest in group music that has been noticeable in county contests during the past four years. This year Ravia and Wagonwells, both of whom have been represented consistently by splendid choruses and instrumental soloists, have signified their intention of competing in the band contest this year.

In addition to these two schools it is possible that other schools of the county their first attempts at organized band music for the year may send entries.

Other musical contests this year will be the same heretofore, with the usual full entry expected for choruses, quartets, and solos, both instrumental as well as vocal. Soloists from Mannsville, Milburn, and Mill Creek, always strong in music events, are expected to take their usual quota of points this year.

While the high school districts usually sweep team or group honors, entries from smaller schools may be counted on to figure in the point awards. Students from Bee, Bullard's Chapel, Enterprise, Nida, Plain View, Prisco, Emmet, and several other of the smaller districts are constant point winners in achievement, as well as in the grade, track and field events.

Sixty-Six Students Make Honor Roll

With the second semester well under way, and the first six weeks of work completed, the honor roll showed a total of sixty-six students, both high school and college, who made an average of "B" or above. Six of these students made straight "A's": These are: Eva Lee Anderson, Milburn; Leta Ann Tishomango, Arthur Sneed, Isabel, Dennis Rollins, Madill; and A. T. Worley, Tulepe.

Band To Present Annual Concert Tonight In The College Auditorium

First Year Class Plans Annual Prom

According to John King, First Year Class president, plans are being made for the spring prom, to be given sometime in May. The class sponsors are endeavoring to make arrangements to have the prom at the Payne Hotel, in Tahomango. The class is at present discussing means of raising funds with which to sponsor the event.

The prom is an annual school affair. It is on that occasion that the First Year Class entertains the Second Year Class and the faculty with dancing and bridge.

Spring Grid Drill In Progress Now

Coach Powell reports that he has prospects for a very good football season during the 1936 campaign. Nine lettermen reported for spring practice, headed by Captain Ed Alsop, co-captain John Davenport, "Mule" Dobba, Preston Grevson, Jack Covington, guards, Harold King, and "Marietta" Stice, ends; and Dowell Wilson, center. The only position which letter men are lacking is in the backfield where Loyd Major is the only returner; wearer of the "M."

Other prospective men are: "Red" Bradshaw, from Capitol Hill High School, who gives promise of giving the backs plenty of competition for a half-back berth; Dan Perry, Tahomango High flash, who is expected to fill in a gap that was left by graduation; Pat Smith, Ardmore High, promising fullback, who enrolled at Murray this second semester in order to get the benefit of spring practice and to become accustomed to Powell's style of football. He is expected to play an important part in the Aggie backfield next year.

B. S. U. Elects Officers

The Baptist Student Union, a new organization on the campus, was organized Friday, March 6. Its purpose is to bring the students closer together in the work of Christ. The Baptist Student Union is a link between the church and the college.

A group of students met in the Auditorium Monday afternoon, March 16th, to discuss the formation of this Union which will be sponsored by Mr. Horne reviewed from chapter of the B. S. U. book. The group selected by the committees of the Baptist Student Union for the different offices are:

President, George Woodmore; Vice-President, Sylvane Craig; Secretary, Letta Walker; Treasurer, Pauline Mainville; Lee Henderson and reporter, Joe Bob Pruitt.

The group decided to meet each week on Wednesday evening, at 7:00 o'clock for thirty minutes devoted to prayer.

HIGH SCHOOL GROUP PRESENTS ASSEMBLY

The assembly program Thursday, March 19, was sponsored by the High School Department, under the direction of Miss Ship, with Mary Taylor as program chairman. After the devotional, a skit, "Memories of Murray," written by Lovine Pennington and Dennis Rollins, and featuring imitations of the faculty, was given. Jerry Wiggins and Virginia Jackson played saxophone duet, "When I Grow Too Old to Dream." Owen Livsey contributed a tap routine. The program was closed with a very touching melodrama, "His Just Desert," written by a former student, John A. Reynolds, and enacted by Virginia Thompson, Mack Lester, Billy Garrison, and Jack Reed.

Boys And Girls Quartets To Sing

PUBLIC IS INVITED

The Murray band will present its annual concert in the Murray auditorium this evening at 8:15 o'clock.

The boys' and girls' quartets will also be on the program, according to H. B. Courtwright, music director.

This concert is given annually and represents the best that the band has done all year. This evening's performance will include "March Nobel," grand march, Charles Bach; Selections from "Naughty Marietta," Victor Herbert; "On Parade," march, Goldman; "Atlantis Suite," V. F. Safarke; "Whistler and His Dog," novelty, Pryor; "Princess of India," overture, K. L. King; and "Man of the Hour," march, H. J. Woods.

Mr. Courtwright reports that the band members have shown good interest in their work this year and the program should be of interest to all. The highlight of the program will be the "Atlantis Suite." There are four parts to the suite, "Morning Hymn of Praise," "A Court Function," "I Love Thee," and "Destruction of Atlantis." Also held in high regard are "Princess of India," and Herbert's "Naughty Marietta." Both are favorites and give the baritone, cornets, and clarinets a chance to display their skill.

Persons taking special parts in these numbers will include: Frank Hopper, trumpet; Muel Stanga, trombone; Harris Mackey, baritone; Dorothy Prosser, flute and piccolo. The public is cordially invited to attend the concert.

First Year Team Scores In Meet

A team rank of four in a field of seven contestants was the net total of Murray's first year track judging team to participate in the Dallas fat stock show last week. The team composed of first year students in animal husbandry, coached by professor Howard, spent three days on the trip to the Southwest Exposition, Marion Buford, Elred Harris, Ollie Michael, and Limon Johnson comprised the team.

Johnson scored fourth individual on all-round competition. Michael took first place in "Roosons."

Other Oklahoma teams entered were from Cameron and Eastern junior colleges. John Tarleton college of Texas took first place in all-around competition, with Cameron's team finished in the runner-up position.

Entry in this meet constitutes the second competitive judging undertaken by a Murray entry in recent years. The second year team in crop judging swept A and M's meet last spring to get the Murray entries away to a far start in judging.

GLEN WOLFE IS HOME ON A FURLOUGH

Glen "Doc" Wolfe Murray graduate of 1923 is at home this week, on leave from the Naval Station at Long Beach, California. He is spending his leave visiting here with his grandmother, Mrs. Lyon, pioneer citizen of Tahomango.

Wolfe expects to "sit in" on the state A. A. U. boxing matches in Oklahoma City, following the despatch of the Aggie entries in the meet. During his school days at Murray he was state and national guard lightweight champion.

We're Lucky It's Free

Tonight's annual concert presented by the band is nothing more than an accumulation of the better part of the type of entertainment in which the school has shared throughout the year. Beginning with the very first student assembly of last year, continuing with every athletic game, reception, entertainment or assemblage of any sort in which any body connected with the school has figured, the band has been there, either as a unit or represented by individual members of the band and quartets.

A considerable majority of us cannot make music of any kind, and by no means a small portion of us will say we do not care for it in any form, because of that. However, on whatever the occasion, we unconsciously or otherwise, catch the spirit imparted by the musicians and get that all right feeling for the major attraction.

Few or none of the band members are devoting their time to it as a prospective career. It's an avocation in which they get and give the pleasure of the most wholesome kind. Perhaps there is not a better example of unselfish and industrious devotion to be had in the entire school than they give. The rest of us, rushed to death with the fast pace of getting to a first or even a second hour class, could well wonder how the band members, many of them honor students in class standing, and doing a full-time turn at student labor besides, have met regularly at 7.50 throughout the year.

The accumulated efforts of these Murray students is to be passed on to us tonight. We're mighty lucky to have them around. They deserve an appreciative audience tonight if anybody ever did.

"The Team" Passes

For the first few months, up until Thanksgiving, then again through the winter until February wanes, every college or high school student outwits with recognition at the mere mention of "the team." Then we thrill to the thud of the punt or the swish of the basket, taking our sports "second-hand."

But from then on, "the team" is its identity. As days lengthen and the sunshine becomes more inviting, we must turn to other things. There are plenty.

Tennis, track, soft-ball, boxing, hiking, any of a dozen different forms of organized sports beckon. Why not let's have more of them as a more likely way of "letting in" than in "campusology."

The Essential Things To Know

This is addressed to a young man about to be educated. Why are you going to college? What do you expect to get that will be worth four of the best years of your life?

Is it your hope that four years in college will make you a gentleman? That once serene, true, for gentlemen were college men and people assumed that college men were gentlemen. Even now there are communities where college graduates are considered superior, but in the end they are judged by their behavior, and a college diploma doesn't save those who prove unworthy. If a college can make one a gentleman, he would have been a gentleman in any case. In this particular, he gains nothing that is worth four years of life.

Have you a keen mind that thirsts for knowledge? Henry Adams says that all he got in four years at Harvard might have been obtained in four months. In college you will spend too much time getting knowledge that will never prove useful, yet fail to get many kinds of knowledge that you will need. If you desire a "liberal education" for your own pleasure, a college is doubtless the best place.

March is a great month for democrats. Jackson, Cleveland, Bryan, and Tom Marshall, being born in this month.

to get it; but a keen and a tentative mind can absorb more general and useful knowledge in one winter's reading than you are likely to get in any four-year college course. If you desire the kind of education that will qualify you to win success—to get wealth power to associate with the earth's best people on terms of equality—there are certain elemental things you must know, and it matters not at all whether you learn them in school or elsewhere. You must know your own country—its past, its laws and people and institutions. You must know the geography of the world. You must know something of the sciences.

But chiefly you must know your own tongue, German and French for Europe, Spanish for South America, Chinese or Japanese for the Orient, and mathematics for all undertakings everywhere. With the equipment, assuming that you have good sense as a foundation, you are ready to compete with all men and excel 99 in each.

—Robert Quillen — Okla City Times

"To like a lamb, out like a lion." — said of March. Maybe the old month expires while trying out for a similar play.

Aggitlitter

Sanitary Inspector: "My good man, you keep your pigs too near your house. It isn't healthy."
 That's just what the doctor said, replied the slouchy man; "but I don't see how it's going to hurt 'em none—and they're just as healthy as any one's far as I can see."

Mother: A. T. Worley, stop using such dreadful language."
 "Well, mamma, Shakespeare used it."

"Then, don't play with him another minute. He's no fit companion for you."

Frank: "Bill got six months for stealing a pig. I hear."
 Paul: "That so? How did they prove it on him?"
 Frank: "The pig squealed, I understand."

Fat Boy: "Can I get trusted for a shave?"
 Barber: "Not here. If you can't raise a dime, you'll have to keep on raising whiskers."

"I kept my head when I fell into the water," said Morgan Wilkes proudly.
 "How fortunate," replied Ruby; "It must have helped you so nicely to float."

"And what is that man running for?" asked Maxine Black soon after the Baseball game opened.
 Wooster: "He's trying to get home."
 Maxine: "Dear me! He must be very fond of his family."

D. M.: "Will you lend me your mug to shave?"
 Bert: "Go on, now! Shave your own mug."

Father: "Weren't you out after eleven last night?"
 Buddy: "No, father, not near that bad. I was only after one."

Mother Bingham heard a terrible scuffling on the porch and looked out to ascertain the cause.
 "Oh, you naughty boy!" she called to W. B. Gooding; stop pulling that cat's tail."
 "I'm not pulling it, Ma," he said innocently; "I'm only holding it. The cat's doing all the pulling."

"What could be more sad than a man without a country," feelingly asked the high-school literature teacher of her class.
 "A country without a man," promptly responded Jerry Wiggins.

Mary had a little lamb; It was well trained, no doubt. For every time her fellow called, The little lamb went out.

Father: "If it were not for one thing, Oscar might be regarded as a very intelligent young man."
 Virginia, hopefully: "And what is that?"
 "His brain."

Mary W.: "I'm to be married next week, and I'm terribly nervous."
 Earline: "I suppose there is a chance of the man getting away up to the last minute."

Mrs.: "I had a notice from the bank today that I had overdrawn on my account by $2."
 Mr.: "What did you do about it?"
 Mrs.: "I sat down and wrote right back that if they would make it $1.98, I would send them a check at once."

Wilkes: "What happened to you and your little school teacher? I thought you said you were going to marry her."
 Young: "Well, I got to thinking what a job it would be to write 'I must be home by 10 o'clock a hundred times every time I got home late.'"

Mr. Gill: "Can any of you recall a time in my life when I was afraid to call a spade a spade?"
 Voice: "No, nor can anyone recall your taking one in your hands and using it."

Bob: "See that good looking lady over there? She has been divorced three times."
 Joe: "That bad luck with her!"

Campus Gossip

The snooper knows all, sees all and tells all. "What a night!" says Stanley "Pet" Guyer, when he awakes at five o'clock in the morning, asking someone if it is night or morning. Well, boys, how do you feel after talking to Mr. Hall? It seems that Wooster, Mack, Lindy, Glen, and Fraser stayed out late the other night and they had to go in and see Mr. Hall the next day. We see that our friend Lindy just laughed and laughed because she knew all the time that Higgs was just fooling. Well, Van Noy, your room mate seems to be doing all right with your girl. He is kissing her out in public, while you must hide to kiss her. What connections are there between Polk-salad and kissing dogs? We wonder. We've noticed some new co-eds on the campus of late. Jerry Lou Ayres, tall and distinguished looking, charming Buddy Lou Wiley and demure little blonde Roy Lee Poe. Now, boys, here's your chance, and they all shout in loud voices.

We heard several of the girls remark, "in in-not bad" while watching the performance of Mr. Mack Lester in assembly; maybe we have a Clark Gable here in school after all. By the way, since Mr. Murray got us started on the subject—would it be wise for the snooper to tell a few things about the kitchen crew about it. After all boys and girls he IS your pal, eh? It seems that our "Cook" is very easily embarrassed, ask some of the kitchen crew about it. The snooper values his neck. We wonder if he's ever been to the beach?

Did You Know?

Dr. Frederick A. Cook, 70, whose claim to the discovery of North Pole has been disputed by explorers, renews that famous Arctic dispute by claiming he was the first man to reach the Pole, and is pleading for justice.
 Col. Joseph I. McKellen, of the Judge Advocate General's office, is found guilty of two specifications brought against him under the 96th article of war. He was acquitted of the criminal charge of bribery lodged against him. He was reduced in rank to the foot of the list of officers of his grade and will suffer a reduction in pay for two years.
 Harry Clifton (Curley) Byrd, former athletic director and football coach of the University of Maryland, is named president of that institution.
 Dr. James H. Kimball, recognized authority on weather over the North Atlantic, is appointed principal meteorologist and officials in charge of the weather bureau stations in New York City.
 Governor Herbert Lehman, of New York, appeals directly to the people for the support of his drive against gangland, vice, and racketeering, and declares a powerful group of lawyers, legislators has set in unison to defeat his anti-crime program.
 Justice Thomas H. Trenchard resentenced Bruno Richard Hauptmann to die in the electric chair some time during the week of March 10.
 Banking clearance continued to roll well above the 1935 level.
 Latest dance is called "The Fleet" and is expected to attain the popularity of "The Carioca."
 Marriages, didn't she?
 Bob: "Not at all. She was as poor as a church mouse when she was single, but now she has oodles of money."

Murray student (to guest at his table in the dormitory): "Here lady, you take my coffee, it's already sauced and blown."
 Hank: "Is this the Weather Bureau?"
 Voice: "Yes."
 Hank: "How about a shower tonight?"
 Voice: "It's all right with me; take it if you need it."

Vera Phelps saying that James Ayres came into her room and stole her pajamas. Now, was that nice James?
 "Pet" Club selling candy at the first dual boxing meet Murray ever held.

 Bill Staling parked out on the road in a maroon Chevrolet. You should be home studying, Bill.
 All of the journalism students hustling around trying to get news every other Thursday.
 Wilkes and Guyer are not on speaking terms. We thought you two boys were going south together.

Oh-hum, another Journal week and my little notebook empty! It would be so nice if one could just say "abba-ca-dabba" and there huge sacks of news would appear. Fortunately, just before deadline, some of the "exes" made their most welcome appearance.

Junia Beers, "32" to you, was a visitor to her former haunts Tuesday. Beers is now attending East Central at Ada. When asked how she was making it, she replied "Well, we have exams tomorrow. I can tell you better after that."
 Good luck to you, Junia.

Mildred McCall and Ruby Jones students of 25, visited the campus last week. Come back and let us know something about you next time.

John McReynolds, better known as "Jam", editor of the Aggellite during the year 1933-34, was a campus visitor March 14.
 Evidently, I am finished unable to go on—at the end of my tether. If there is such a thing as a particle of news about the alumni floating around, please take pity on us and send it around.

Poets Corner

"D'S"
 (With apologies to the author of the noble poem "Trees")
 I think that I shall never see
 A grade so useful as a "D".
 A "D" whose spiteful face looks
 Out and puts my week-end
 Plans to rest.
 A "D" that may in fall or spring
 Be such a hateful, dreadful thing.
 Whose aspects fills me with despair
 And plagues my weary heart with care.

All other folks get "A" or "B"
 But oh! Alas, I get a "D".
 Exchange

I can stand all the slurs on myself
 Which question my good sense and knowledge

GUESTS STUDY THE HOME PROBLEMS

By Lucille Hostetter

A short course for women was held yesterday afternoon in the Home Economics room under the supervision of Miss Marie Stone. The two speakers of the afternoon were Miss Grace Stieninger, Oklahoma A. and M., who lectured on "Food—Its Use and Abuse," and Miss Fern Srockey, also from Oklahoma A. and M., who lectured on "Textile Tests."

Miss Stieninger is a graduate of John Hopkins Hospital and has served two years as State Dietitian for the F. E. R. A. She is a graduate of Kansas Agricultural College and is now Associate Professor of Household Sciences at Oklahoma A. and M.

Miss Srockey is also a graduate of Kansas Agricultural College and is Associate Professor of Household Arts at A. and M.

They presented much useful and instructive information which proved valuable to the women present among whom were Miss Ruth Morpew, Greenville, Texas; Mrs. W. S. Simms, Mrs. P. W. Williams of Mansville; and the following from Tahawung: Mesdames Cox, Lucas, Cunningham, Robertson, Horne, Mickie, Creecy Patton, Adams, Thomas, Reed, Armstrong, Prater, Courtney and Fowler; Misses Van Noy, Shupp, Backus, Rawls, and Breedlove.

The cotton gin was invented in March. No wonder they got a machine to do it if it took that long to pick the seeds out of the crop.

Yesterday was the thirty-fifth anniversary of the capture of Aguinaldo, last of the Philippine insurrectionists. A co-ed wonders if Old Agui didn't fall asleep reading a seed catalog.

With Our Neighbor

September brings many curricular changes according to the State Board of Education. Minimum requirements for certification of teachers after September 1st, was placed at seventy-six hours, of which sixty semester hours shall be of Academic work, twelve hours Professional Training and four hours of Electives. It is believed that this ruling is one of the most forward steps ever taken by the Board of Education. This change is not to eliminate teachers but to develop higher professional standards. This regulation is effective September 1st, and will not effect those planning to receive certificates before that time.

East Central will go on the semester plan beginning next September according to an announcement of Dr. Lensecheid, president of the college. The change is being made in interest of better instruction. The college has been operating on the semester plan for some time having schedule classes for semester work. The reason for maintaining the term plan was to benefit district teachers.

The gymnasium building of the Fox schools was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin last week with the exception of football suits little of the contents was saved. The basketball seats were burned. A fight was made to save the building but the fire had gained such headway before being discovered that fight was hopeless.

The Atoka high school building has been completed by the Atoka Board of Education. The Atoka building has fifteen class rooms and a combination auditorium-gymnasium. It was constructed at $60,000. This work has been under the supervision of Grady Musgrave, resident PWA engineer.

O. C. Central Wins Invitation Meet To Hold Title For Third Year

Waurika Leads Fast Field In Challenge To Cards.

FOUR RECORDS FALL

Repeating their victory of year before last's invitation high school track meet, the Oklahoma City Central Cardinals, with a total of 49 points, sprinted their way into a win of the Murray invitation track meet, held last Saturday.

Waurika's hard-fighting runners, with a total of 46 points, secured a close second on the fields of the Cardinals.

Fleet Bob Wingfield, captain of the Central team, led in high points, scoring first in the 100 yard, the 400 yard, and 220-yard dashes, also pacing in the 440 yard relay, making a total of 18 1/4 points.

Shirk of the O. C. Cardinals was second high point man, winning a total of 12 points. Sparkman, team hurdler and sprinter, and his teammate Pawler of the Waurika team, shared honors for third place in high point scoring, each man securing eleven points.

Three new records were set in the meet as Wingfield clipped two tenths of a second off the time in which the 400 yard dash was run.

The old record of 52.7 seconds was held by Bill Galing, second year student, former Ryan high school sprinter. In a mighty burst, Shirk of the O. C. Cardinals, hurled the discus 131 feet and 11 inches, thus shattering the old record. Captain Sparkman of Waurika, flashing beautiful form, sprinted his way over the top sticks to set a new record in the low hurdles, his time being 24.5 seconds.

Besides these record-breaking events, there were many other highlights, never declining his perfect stride finished first in the mile run in the good time of 4 minutes and 51.5 seconds, and first in the half-mile running in 2 minutes and 11.3 seconds.

Henry, a tall bond boy from Sulphur, "Schoo for Deaf" men 9 placed first in the shot put, with a throw of 45 feet. He placed second in the discus, and third in the broad jump. Henry came close upon the heels of the high point man.

Smith, of Claypool, showed beautiful form as he lifted-jumped 4 feet, 1-2 inch. Smith, who stands but 5 feet, 10 inches tall used a perfect western roll to high jump 2-1/2 inches above his own head.

Tone, Boynton, a well-set, muscular lad, dragged down the vault supply with a jump of 11 feet, 8 inches. Tone made the last pole vault as if he intended to go higher if necessary.

Jefferson of Kingston showed the expert form of a veteran as he broad-jumped 21 feet, 4-1/2 inches, taking first place in that event. He also placed in the 455-yard dash.

All these marks were considered very good, having been made in the face of a strong south wind blowing in sand all day long. There was a good crowd on hand, despite the inclement winds. The new stadium or as much as is now complete, was jammed all afternoon as the track was run off. Manifest in both the cloakrooms and in the contestants was good sportsmanship displayed in both. No argument was given on any decision.

Following are the events participated in last Saturday, the winners and time for first place in 200-yard dash, Wingfield, O. C. Central, first, 10 seconds; Bell, O. C. Central, second; and Williams, I. S. Sparkman, Waurika, first, 15.5 seconds; Remy, Norman, second; and Shirk, O. C. Central, third, 17.5 seconds. Mile run, Fowler, Waurika, first, 4 minutes 51.5 seconds; McClain, O. C. Central, second; Melton, Sherman, third, 440-yard dash, Wingfield, O. C. Central, first, 52.7 seconds; Taylor, Waurika, second; Jefferson, Kingston, third, 22.0 low

Students Will Have Fingerprints Taken

Murray students are asked to have their fingerprints taken, not for criminal but for civil identification. These fingerprints will be sent to the Civil Bureau of Washington, D. C. according to Colonel Charles Daley, superintendent of the Bureau of Criminal Identification. This fingerprinting of all students is part of a new movement to collect the fingerprints of all citizens. In his talk, Dr. Daley said if all citizens were fingerprinted and buried by their own families and friends instead of having an unknown grave in the potter's field.

If all checks were signed with fingerprints, there could be no forgery for the fingerprints of no two persons are the same. The practice of fingerprinting was first started by a Chinese Emperor who used his thumb as a seal to his official orders to avoid anyone's changing these orders after they left his hands and thereby leading his armies into traps. The use of fingerprints taken from the fingers were furnished every officer, avoided all forgery of orders.

When Governor Marshall, according to Mr. Daley, was asked the idea of the fingerprinting for civil identification he stated that he saw no reason why any honest man, woman, or child should object to having his fingerprints taken. He started the movement by having his own fingerprints taken the first governor of any state to be fingerprinted.

At the close of the program, Mr. Daley showed the students a Tommy gun, gas gun, and various types of bombs, explaining the use of each.

Lieutenant Hall will have charge of the fingerprinting of Murray students, which will probably begin some time this week.

K. U. Quartet To Be Here April 16

The Kansas University string quartet will present the last of the series of lycium numbers in the Murray auditorium at the regular assembly hour, eleven o'clock, April 16.

This quartet has appeared frequently in the southwest, and will appear at several other colleges over the state.

The program will consist of various classic and modern numbers and promises to be one of the best programs in the series, and is regarded as being well suited to bring the lycium series of this year to a climax.

The personnel of the quartet is composed of Waldemar Gelsch, first violin; Conrad McGrew, second violin; Karl Kuersteiner, viola; and D. M. Swarthout, cello.

Glenn Frazer Gives Program

A very interesting and unusual assembly program was given last Thursday in the college auditorium by Mr. Glenn Frazer, professor of Chemistry. Beginning the assembly was the group singing led by Mr. Homer Courtwright, band director.

Followed by the devotional reading led by Oleta Taylor.

Mr. Frazer then proceeded to perform magic tricks with simple chemical elements. First he froze Louie Bredlove for her freshman composition classes. They each received a book for having the highest number of points for the six weeks' term. The points were awarded each week for the best themes, the first receiving five points, the second three points, and the third one point.

Other high ranking students were Ed Jennings, Myrtle Lee, Henderson, Duane Hunter, Clayton Barker, Estelle Durrett, Leta Armstrong, Vernon Smith, Earnestine Moore, Dorcas Penson, Orville Johnson, and Frances Brown.

There will be another prize awarded for the two high ranking students for the next six weeks.

Murray To Be Host To County Track and Field Meet April 10

Dr Nash Chosen For Commencement

The Commencement address will be given by Dr. M. A. Nash, president of Oklahoma College for Women in the Murray auditorium Thursday night, May 21.

Selection of Dr. Nash for the speaker is regarded as one of the best that could have been made from the many excellent speakers considered for the occasion. He delivered the address for the Murray graduation class of 1934. He is a native of Oklahoma, educated in the Oklahoma schools. Doctor Nash has been recognized for several years as a leader in educational affairs of the state.

After finishing the public schools of Oklahoma county, Dr. Nash entered Central State Teachers College, Edmond. He now holds a degree from Central, Oklahoma University, and Oklahoma Baptist University.

As a state professional career he has served as superintendent of schools at Idabel, Chief High School Inspector, Executive Secretary of Oklahoma Educational Association. He was elected to the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction for Oklahoma in 1922 by the largest majority ever recorded an aspirant for that office in the history of the state. He resigned in 1927 to become President of Oklahoma College for Women, a position he now holds.

Representatives of NYA Visit School

Representatives of the National Youth Administration from Oklahoma City visited Murray on April 2.

The purpose of their visit was to interview students working on the NYA to see just what type of student was employed under this program during the past year. Twenty students from Murray were called in to meet these men and tell their opinion of the program.

They left questions for the NYA students to answer during the week. These questions consist of questions about the student's scholastic ability as well as his home life. These questionnaires, when completed, will be sent to Washington, D. C.

A. & M. Coaches Visit on Campus

Ted Cox, head football coach, Raymond Swartz, line coach, and John McDaniel, backfield coach, all of Oklahoma A. & M. College at Stillwater visited the Murray campus on April 5. The purpose of their visit was to see some of the boys, whom they wish to attend A. & M. next year.

According to Coach Powell, these visitors were pleasantly surprised to find the campus athletic set-up and well-equipped as it is.

English Students Receive Awards

A. T. Worley and Miss Louterly were the winners of a recent contest sponsored by Mrs. Maud Louise Bredlove for her freshman composition classes. They each received a book for having the highest number of points for the six weeks' term. The points were awarded each week for the best themes, the first receiving five points, the second three points, and the third one point.

Other high ranking students were Ed Jennings, Myrtle Lee, Henderson, Duane Hunter, Clayton Barker, Estelle Durrett, Leta Armstrong, Vernon Smith, Earnestine Moore, Dorcas Penson, Orville Johnson, and Frances Brown.

There will be another prize awarded for the two high ranking students for the next six weeks.

Large Entry Expected From All Sections of County

MILL CREEK DEFENDS TITLE

The Johnson county meet, to be held here April 10, is expected to have even a larger entry than last year, which was a record entry of 600 participants, the pick of Johnson county students in the high school division is made up of students from Milburn, Tavia, Coleman, Fillmore, Mannville, Mill Creek, Ponotoc, Russell, Troy, Wapawicka, and Washita.

Milburn has won the literary and fine arts department, the last two weeks, running year before last by a very narrow margin of two points over their rival Ravas who promised to give the other entrants plenty of competition in this event in this year's meet. Mannville also gives promise of being a competitor, especially in the fine arts field.

There is also a grade school curriculum for smaller schools of the county, fourth to eighth grades included. The Mannville youngsters apparently have had easy going in winning this for the past two years. Year before last they won by a very one-sided margin of nineteen to ten points over their nearest rival Ravas.

The faculty members of Murray will be in charge of the contests. The entries, eligibility, and awards are in charge of the County Superintendent.

The track and field events are to be held Saturday on the Murray athletic field, under the direction of Coach Powell and his assistants. Mill Creek carried off the honors last year in the high school division of the track and field but were narrowly defeated by Wapawicka and Milburn who were second and third respectively.

Wapawicka boasts of a very fine athlete, Ed Taylor in 1936, who made a quarter of his team's points last year, and a returning star this year for more honors.

In the grade school events of the track, the boys' 100 yard dash was won by a narrow margin. The list of Henry's events and time and places they will be held are as follows:

EASTER SUNDAY

Easter Sunday, which comes this year on April 12, is the celebration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ after his crucifixion.
 In ancient times, this was the principal feast day of the Christians. On this day they would greet each other with a kiss and the salutation, "Christ is risen," to which the response "He is risen, indeed," was given.
 Easter falls on the first Sunday after the paschal full moon. The special observances, past and present, connected with the day are innumerable. The use of eggs in this connection is of the highest antiquity, the eggs having been considered in widely separated Christian areas, as a symbol of resurrection. It is probable that here, as in other cases, the church adopted and consecrated an earlier institution. This is certainly true of the Easter fires, which formerly celebrated the triumph of spring over winter.
 The Easter Islands have been so called because they were discovered on Easter Sunday, April 6, 1722.

ARE THEY RIGHT?

Many of us are looking with some amusement at the movement which is sweeping campuses all over the United States. This is the Veterans of Future Wars.
 The idea of the whole thing is to make war seem ridiculous. The membership of the Veterans of Future Wars is composed of young men who will go to the next war. In the event that there is one, when they are getting ahead some sources state, is that they are getting a petition for Congress to grant them a bonus now, so that they may enjoy life now.
 Not to be outdone, the girls organized themselves into Future Gold Star Mothers. Their obligation is to sacrifice their future children in the event of war. Sources state that they have petitioned Congress for a ship to carry them to France to select burial plots for their future sons who will die in a future war. In close affiliation with the Future Gold Star Mothers is the W. A. F. W. V. W. (Women's Association of Future Widows of Veterans of Future Wars). Their obligation is to be wives to the Veterans of Future Wars.
 The whole idea seems ludicrous indeed, but it is something to think about. It will make the average young man and woman think twice this idea of future wars. An Associated Press dispatch quoted Dr. L. B. Houston, head of the University of Oklahoma psychology department as saying, "The hodgepodge of new clubs cannot be considered good or bad. But at least they open to discussion and interest students in current happenings, all of which may be viewed as healthful."

HELP MOTHER NATURE TO BEAUTIFY OUR CAMPUS

Now that mother nature is doing her best to beautify our campus, we students should not hinder her work. We should have enough respect for our school to preserve its beauty.
 We have sidewalks leading from one building to another. Why not use them, instead of cutting across the campus and beating out paths? We should also think of the shrubbery and try to protect, instead of destroying it by breaking off small twigs. There is also the problem of littering up the campus by throwing paper and cigar stubs on the grass.
 Do you think it would be asking too much of you to help mother nature to beautify our campus?

Roughers Win Softball Race

The first round of the softball tournament ended with Reed's Roughers being top and undefeated.
 The four teams, Reed's Roughers, Maxey's Muggers, the Engineers, and the Aggie played a series of games and determined the winners were Reed's Roughers by a score of 10-0.
 "The Roughers turned in victories over all their opponents for first place and the Aggies were in the cellar."
 "The Roughers were composed of the 'B' Club in which Clyde Reed was the manager. They were all very consistent players and are to be complimented on their soldierlyness to work together as a team, and deserve to be at the top."
 "The Engineers' team was made up of students taking engineering courses and were headed by S. C. Phelps. Maxey's Muggers were a group of boys chosen by Harris Maxey from various classes to represent the Muggers. The Aggies were composed of all Aggie students and were headed by James Colbert.
 There will be another series of games to be played, starting Monday, which will afford plenty of entertainment for the spectators.
 "When did your boy pass his examination?"
 "Don't know," replied Mr. Porter. "I reckon it must have been when nobody was looking."

BITS HERE AND THERE

On being interviewed for a state report last week, Mr. Courtwright, on being told that he was going to be asked some personal questions, said, "Well, I like soap on Saturday," and several such splendid answers. He finally made us think he didn't like being interviewed—maybe a lot. Really, though, one could get a good soap by an interview with him. Take 'em, though, can't you him!
 "What about this little guy around here when they call 'Dimples,' 'Philbert,' 'Cupid,' and such like?" I hear that the other day several students and an instructor were discussing the possibilities of man being descended from apes. One of the students said, "Well, I don't much believe in that." Another replied, "Yeah, me too, but then look at D. M." Ho hum, Mackey better grow some!
 You've heard of people who studied so hard that they couldn't keep their eyes open? Well, believe it or not, such a thing happened in the West Dornitory Wednesday night. A certain young man was studying so earnestly and intently that he fell asleep over his studies and didn't awaken until three o'clock in the morning. When he did awake, he was so cold he thought he was frozen. Try it again sometime, Dornell, it is a good idea after all.
 "If you want to read, try 'I'll Have Four Apples,' 'The Voice of Zigle Ann,' 'Lorraine Dunch,' 'Green Light,' 'North of the Ocean,' or 'Thirteen to Come.'"
 If you crave exercise, don your shorts and play a few sets of tennis. Or you might get up a group to go roller skating over the campus. New walks about the campus. If you are tired of studying and don't care to play tennis or read, either croquet, or embroidering as a pastime.
 "Pat Boy, who was plainly an expert, sneeringly watched D. M. who was eating peanuts, and said to him:
 "Down where I come from we use peanuts to fatten hogs."
 "That so? Here, have some," said D. M., promptly extending his back.

To The Ladies With The Alumni

If you attended the track meet Saturday and got a grumpy everyone else did, you are still trying to rub dust from your eyes. Such a day inspires one to a complete cleanup. After a nice steaming bath, with soap suds, give yourself a vigorous shampoo, using an oil treatment shampoo and massage the scalp well. This not only gets all that excess dust out of your hair, but gives it a sheen, and a glitter in the sun light. Follow with a manicure, and apply one of the lovely shades of polish.
 If you wear brown and white together a lot, as does the comely Katherine Black, wear the new rust colored polish. If you like yellow or orange or green with brown or black, try coral polish. Rose polish is especially nice, vivid shades of blue or purple. With pale pink, wear either natural colorless) rose, or carmine. Try painting the entire nail from cuticle to tip, with the cream ruby polish. It's very pretty. This is also an excellent plan for your nails are not extremely long. If your nails do not have moons that show, try using cuticle remover every night and push the cuticle up high until the moons show. If you are persistent, soon, or later the moons will show.
 The rumored that we are to have a prom sometime and somewhere, so now is the time to start planning. If your nails don't look like those of the beautiful Kay Frances, start work on them now. Get yourself a good manicure kit, and a roommate who is a good manicurist. Go to work. Strive for beauty and originality. Why not get five bottles of polish, all different shades, but harmonious together, and paint each finger nail a different shade, starting with the pale on the thumb, and end up with the brilliant on the little finger, or turned around. Or you might work out a design of your own that would be equally striking. Remember "Originality is the spice of life," or something like that.
 This awful weather keeps us guessing. In case you wake up to find frost on the windows, and your roommate frozen, your natural instinct is to go on heavier clothes. No sooner have you done so and ventured forth into the cold world, and lo! and behold! There comes the sun. Mandy disgusted, you return to your room and remove the wind underwear and the three woolen sweaters and your stocking cap and, bedecked in a summer dress, ankle socks, and a ribbon tied thru your curly locks, you venture forth into the world of sunlight. In an hour or so, up comes a cloud, the wind rises, and in a few minutes rain is not falling at all, as you expected. But the wind is blowing up a lovely (?) dust storm, and your new set is ruined.

Campus Gossip

Spring is, or was here! With the return of Spring, as surely as the homing birds take their noneward flight, the ex-students return to visit the "Alma Mater." No, not waxing poetic, just trying to make it different.
 Evelyn Holcomb and June Baker of Healdton, 23-34, were campus visitors Sunday.
 Heulah Margaret Turnbull, 25, now a student at C. O. W., Chickasha, visited here the latter part of the past week.

 A little personal something about them—"Peck" Martin, football man, then and now, "Speck" Harlins, track man, "Blanche" Ragdale, well almost part of the school itself, "Shorty" Collins, possessor of one of the most brilliant minds that has passed through this institution in a long time, (55) a boy, Shorty—Buford Montgomery, a good all-around fellow and a nice character—seems, well there isn't another like her, always full of life and fun—Junior and Leona, 23, students in Cosmetology last year. All in all, they're a grand crew.
 Ingle Madill, 22 football man, was out here the other day, with his father. He is working with his father at present in Madill.
 Bob Williams, 23, who has been employed in Tulsa, is now working in a drug store at Madill.
 Alpha Prior, alumna sister of 23, visited us Thursday afternoon. She gave us bits of information about several of the alumni from her home town, Sulphur. Richard and Gene Higgins, and Fred Collins are still attending A. and M. College. Emmet Cantrell, who is working in Colerain, was home for a short visit about three weeks ago.
 Mr. and Mrs. Davis Forbes, graduates of '22, are now working in Ardmore, where David is manager of Duke and Ayres. Mrs. Forbes was formerly Lily Jordan.
 Hazel "Stoolie" Carries has been transferred from Ardmore to Wynnewood, where he will work on the government soil erosion project.
 Well, all good (?) things must come to an end and even though it is directly the opposite, so long until next week.

We heard, while snooping around as usual, that our old friend Vera has been shopping for Henna. It seems that all of a sudden she is ka-ray for red hair. Vera, as it became Ginger Rogers has red hair or do you just like the color of, say well, one of our own Aggie's hair? Bradshaw, maybe. Power to you. We know a few others who tried to land him. The best man was; that must be you.
 By the way, all these people running around here with ticks and mosquito bars tied on the ends. They look rather harmless but take a look at Hank's face and maybe you'll change your mind as the Snoper did. They said, "I wasn't told to us, we only heard that he said he didn't know where he got it, but he thinks he was chasing bugs (or did he say insects)? There are scratches on his face. Clayton, have you been chasing butterflies too? We heard another story about the same thing. It seems that there was some disagreement about this work and girl friends. It seems there was no other way to settle the argument but to see who was the best man. From what we saw, Hank won. We never seen so much hair puffing, and scratching and biting. Imagine boys pulling hair and scratching. We thought that girls did it.
 Well, boys, looks like you all must be in by ten o'clock every night. That will cramp your style a bit, but there isn't anything you can do about it. It's just one of those things.
 You can see some very exciting, and interesting things if you will look in some of the cars parked out front, especially when some of the students are not in class. Wootter, why don't you call at the dorm for your girl friend instead of having Red do it? We wonder how Edgie Patrick felt when he came down here and found his girl's picture on another boy's dresser. Harold might tell us. Babe Moore wanted to know what she should do to get her name in this column. We wonder if she thinks we forget her actions outside the typing room.
 It seems that the driveway up to the kitchen door is very private. At least we've noticed a few cars being turned away.
 Well, that space is reserved for a taxi, via "Our Cook" rides in a taxi.
 Someone wanting the problem of getting excuses from classes solved just ask Wilkes (yes, that adorable little Wilky). He knows all the answers and can solve your problems.

Work has begun on the two new dormitories at Cameron. Both boys and girls dormitories will be erected at the same time, with workmen working on first one building and then the other. The buildings are to be completed by the end of the school year. The buildings will be the same, each housing 45 double rooms, which will accommodate 90 students to a dormitory.
 A laundry room will be established in the basement of each building. A combination reception room and parlor will be built in the center of first floor. A room for the matron will be in the left of the reception room.

Miss Stone Gives Easter Breakfast

Members of the Y. W. C. A. and other guests were entertained Sunday morning, April 5, in the Home Economics Room, at an Easter breakfast given by their sponsor, Miss Stone.

The idea prevailing in the decoration was that of Easter, the single long table being decorated very attractively. In the center of the table was a blue basket of yellow jonquils. The place cards were paper rabbits, on which was written the name of the guest. The nut cups were made in the form of chickens.

The two hundred guests, chosen on the basis of attendance at Y. W. C. A. meeting, and cooperation and participation in Club work, were Lucille Hostetter and Pauline Harrison. Cabinet members present were: Oleta Taylor, Margaret Alexander, Pauline Fair, Leta Labor, Louise Starritt, Lovene Pennington, Virginia Jackson, Ruby Jennings, Agatha Holcomb, and Margaret Huntzicker. Members of the faculty who attended were: Mrs. Fowler, Mrs. Bingham, Mrs. Reed, Misses Bredow, Shipp, VanVoy, and the hostess, Miss Stone.

After the breakfast was served, the group attended church and Sunday School.

Foreign countries have ambassadors, etc. to spread good will; American cities have their Chamber of Commerce for that purpose, but the band is the organization that spreads friendliness for Murray College. This afternoon the band will give a concert at Healdton. This is the second of a series of good will concerts to be given by the band this year. At noon they will leave the Murray campus and be in Healdton in time for a mid-afternoon concert. Director Courtwright stated that a large, appreciative audience, always received the band here. During the concert members of the Murray band who come from Healdton, will be introduced at their home town. These are: Earl Skaggs, trombone; Kathleen Bromley, bass drum; and Harold House, bass. Healdton sends much-needed first-class musicians to the Murray band every year, said Mr. Courtwright.

On Tuesday afternoon, March 31, the band went to Madill and gave its first good-will concert in the Madill high school. Principal Sam Potts introduced Director Courtwright to a packed auditorium, and Courtwright in turn introduced members of the band that are from Madill. These are James Ayres, snare drum; Harris Maxey, oboe; Charles Dunn, clarinet; and Harold Taylor, trombone. Mr. Courtwright states that Murray gets a number of musicians from Madill every year, and next year he expects more.

After the concert the bus was parked downtown and the band members were allowed a recess until 6:30. Sandwiches were served to those members who were not invited to eat elsewhere.

At 6:30 sharp the bus left Madill for Kington. The bus was unloaded immediately on arrival and the stage was set up for a concert at 8:00 P. M. Superintendent Henry introduced Mr. Courtwright to an appreciative audience. The concert was cut rather short so that the band members could get back to school in time to study before "lights out."

On Tuesday evening, April 7, the band will give a concert at Wapanucka. Ray Wolfe, director of the Wapanucka band and former Murray band member, will receive the Murray visitors.

Sulphur will be host to the good will visitors, probably Tuesday, May 5. On Tuesday afternoon the Murray band will give a concert in the high school, and Tuesday evening will give a concert at the American Legion hospital. Dorothy Presson, flute and piccolo player in the Murray band, is a graduate of Sulphur high school.

Other concerts are to be given but dates have not been definitely set according to Mr. Courtwright.

The National Department of Education is sponsoring a survey of the public school system in ten states of the United States, of which one has been selected as one, according to Mr. Ed Gill, County Superintendent of Schools.

There is to be a close survey in each county in schools of different sections. The pupils location will be to quarter sections of the spot maps.

The survey is expected to last from five to eight months in Johnston County. It will be under the supervision of Mrs. Grace Smith and Mr. Zed McAllister.

Mr. Gill also stated that the annual examinations for eighth grade diplomas will be held April 18, since Johnston county schools are to be out at eight and half months, this year, with school closings ranging from April 10 to May 22. Teachers will exchange schools to supervise examinations.

He further stated that a test key has been passed for ten teachers which will be held some time between now and the close of school. No definite date has yet been set.

Band Attends O. U. Concert

Well, here we are Sunday morning and all roads lead to the annual band concert of the University of Oklahoma at Norman. The bus is to leave at 10:00. Contrary to usual Lightning! Aggie, the band before hand. There are only seven or eight boys going from the college. We have to wait on ladies, as usual. At 9:30 Dorothy (Pete's) Presson was in her pajamas and declared up and down that we were to leave at 10:30. She finally got ready and she and Kate B. came out to the bus and we started.

We picked up Sylviane C. at her house. The boys downtown met us on the corner by Hogan's. Frances B. was ready and waiting with them. Pistol Pete was waiting on us at Havia. He thought we were going to play at his band unannounced. He climbed aboard and away we go.

Troy was passed in high. They were having Sunday school. About five minutes out of Troy Mr. Courtwright decided we had a flat, and sure enough we did. Both tires on the left back wheel were flat. We knew anything about these new-fangled contraptions and Hebur O. Hunter the bus and jacked the tires up. McCaleb says no, and pulls a nut out of the bus for him to be on.

Hunter had to take a few pictures while we were out of the bus (showing us that he had a kodak). Macky and Presson, George, Pistol and Kate, Hunter and Craig, decided to do a little hitching. They disappeared over the hill in the direction of Hill Creek. We changed a tire from the right to the left side and picked up the storefront hitch hikers about a mile down the road.

We stayed at Mill Creek two hours while the flat was being fixed. One tire was ruined and couldn't be fixed. While we were stopped we ate our oatmeal and ham and graham crackers, and went on.

Dorothy kept saying bridge cards, checkers, matches, and fumbles all the way to Sulphur. These were what she was going to get so we could play bridge, checkers, and read. Her mother was glad to see us and begged us to stay out we had to move on; we were too far behind schedule. Several of us thought of home when we passed a certain landmark. Pistol said he had a license to drive an army truck and Mr. Courtwright let him drive from Sulphur.

Exels and Wynnewood caught brief glimpses of us as we passed through. Mr. Courtwright made General speed faster as we passed the maining school. He made Hunter think of home. We picked up Hank Taylor in Pauls Valley. He is a last year's band man. He told us the band had a few minutes slack at an. Harold (Mercedes) Taylor his brother, the price of the piece of transom section, had decided to give the band a lunch a break and rode with them.

We had a tight squeeze going over the Canadian bridge at Purcell. A miniature dust storm was blowing off the dry river bed. Sooner came next, and then Norman. Pistol parked the bus a block east of the Fine Arts Auditorium and sorted. Dunn stated that we would leave at 7:30.

The concert was good, if you like that kind of music. The uniforms, the beautiful music, all together, kept us in a daze most of the time. We remember a "Frodo in F Minor" no concert would be complete without a prelude.

Everyone scattered after the concert. Dunn said he had a good supper, soared him. Dorothy and Kate disappeared. James Winn went to see his brother. Hunter and Dago Patrick looked up a friend from back home. We found a lot of people who knew where Tishomingo was, and many that knew that there was a Murray O'live. They didn't laugh up their sleeves like they did at Stillwater, either.

Hebur, Cunningham, Floyd L. and Chisholm came in about 8:30. John McKeown, an alumni of Murray, was at the bus. A number of Sooners came up and introduced themselves. Ill Estes came by and stayed until we left. Had to wait for Dorothy until 7:30; until her Herman brought her back.

Mr. Courtwright drove back. Some of us had never seen Soons operating along an airplane route, and learned a little about them on the way back. Soons were in sight until we almost reached Sulphur. At Pauls we saw an emergency landing field with red, white

DATE SET FOR TISH HIGH COMMENCEMENT

Commencement exercises for Tishomingo High School graduates will be held on May 21, according to Jim Bruce, Tishomingo High School principal. Instead of having a speaker for the occasion, the program will consist of a program reciting the past school year.

There are thirty-seven graduates in the class. A valedictorian, salutatorian, and honor student will be selected, but these have not been announced.

FRUIT DESTROYED BY HEAVY FROST

A large percent of the Murray fruit crop was destroyed by a heavy frost on April 1. Reports indicate heavy losses in apple, plum, peach, pear, cherry, and apricot crops. The full extent of damage done has not yet been determined. It is probable that the major portion of the crop was ruined.

and green lights all around it. There was always a beacon to our right, flashing round and round.

They were coming out of church at Pauls. We thought of good dirt and our girls (with both feet on the floor of the bus). We were making good time going through Wynnewood and Davis. At Est-

Dorothy's house, we all stopped for a little rest.

Mrs. Presson had some good frozen salad sandwiches lined for us and ate and punch to go with it. Dunn got a blackjack game started and tried unsuccessfully to break Linnon Johnson and Macky.

Mr. Courtwright said we had to leave at 10:30. Dorothy became excited and forgot her laundry.

Craig awoke Hebur and Chisholm just the other side of Hill Creek. The warbled "Sopht-headed Lady" and "Alexander's Ragtime Band" all the rest of the way home.

All of us were glad to see the dear old dorms. It was a pretty nice trip, no nasty songs or jokes told enroute, but we all had a good time.

Aggie Trackmen Host to S. T. C.

The Aggies will open their 1936 track season with a dual meet with the Southeastern Savages of Jim Bruce, Tishomingo High School principal. The dual meet will be one of twelve events. The Aggies have only been working out for two weeks, but are expected to give the Savages plenty of trouble, although they have more than a month's steady training behind them. Southeastern boasts of two fine dash men in Wiley and Dunford. Wiley is a former Dundee High School track and football star.

The men showing up best in this meet will be taken to the state junior college meet at Tonkawa on May 1. Men reporting for practice are: Bill Saling, Gordon Murphy, Morgan Wilkes, Homer Arma, Had Wiley, Stanley Guyer, Roy Fulson, Clayton Barker, Andy Francis, and Bill Johnson.

Eight Aggies Get Basketball Awards

Coach C. J. Powell named eight basketball lettermen for the past season. They are: Gordon Murphy, Morgan Wilkes, L. G. Wiley, Bill Saling, Ed Vandenberg, Emel Hicks, Kenneth Slice, and Harold King. Due to the financial difficulties there were only three lettermen who were awarded awards and the Aggie colors. They are Hicks, Slice, and King.

The Aggies were handicapped during the past season due to the fact that the gym was torn down. They had no place to practice and did exceptionally well to have the team which won nine and lost eight, according to Coach Powell.

Frank: "Does your mother object to kissing?"

BROTHER OF FORMER STUDENT IS KILLED

R. L. Mock, 40 years of age, of Sulphur, was fatally injured in a head-on collision five miles south of Sulphur, on Highway No. 18, April 2, 1936. He died immediately after reaching the hospital.

Major to Inspect National Guards

During the inspection the members of the unit will drill on the Murray campus, in front of the administration building after which records and equipment will be checked. The staff Intelligence Section, Wire Section, and Radio Section will demonstrate their work by sending messages.

Those who will be here to attend Federal inspection will be: Commissioned Officers: 1st Lieutenant, Clyde Hall; 2nd Lieutenant, W. W. Horne. Non-commissioned Officers: Staff Sergeant, Preston W. Green; Supply Sergeant, James Colbert.

1st Sergeant, Floyd Wolfe; Sergeants, Frank Poole, and W. B. Gooding; Corporals, George A. Guyer, Hugh H. Haley, Orville Green, Clay Deboard, Gordon Murphy; Privates, 1st Class, Francis Hopper, Joe Hall, Clovis Davis, Bruce Nickell, Alonzo Eaton, Foster Strain, Carlston Crosson, Arthur Sneed, Prior Hickman, Marion Buford, Frank Harmon.

Colonel Olive E. Murray left for Oklahoma City on April 2, to undergo a Federal inspection. Lieutenant Hall went to Muskogee Sunday, April 6, for an inspection of his part of the work. These inspections consisted of working out a problem such as might occur in event of war.

Sol Lowenstein Has Long Service.

Former Pupils Pay Tribute.

Murray's Band, faculty members and students, joined with the citizenship of Ardmore and delegations representing other schools and clubs throughout Oklahoma, in paying tribute last Friday to Sol Lowenstein, veteran band director of Ardmore High School.

The celebration, which started with a parade at 2:00 P. M. and ended with a banquet in the evening, brought bands from Murray, South-eastern Teachers College, Madill, Tishomingo High School, Ardmore and Douglas High Schools. Included in the two college bands were many former pupils of the Ardmore director.

Lowenstein, who has been music director of Ardmore's schools for 25 years, is recognized as one of the longest in continuous service with any educational institution in the country. Four members of the first band he directed at Ardmore, 25 years ago, were present, presenting him with a beautiful music case as a culmination to the celebration in his honor.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Creecy were among the faculty representatives who participated in the exercises from Murray.

Ravia Takes County Title in Literary and Fine Arts Contest

Annual Meet Draws Record Entry.

WAPANUCKA IS SECOND.

Scoring points in twenty-seven of the forty-one events offered, Ravia's contestants romped with championship in the literary and fine arts meet conducted for the Johnston county schools at Murray last Friday.

Room space in the Administration building was taxed to capacity with nearly 600 individual contestants answering the director's roll call, with group entries in chess, clubs, quartettes, and bands running the entry list to an all-time high for the annual event.

Wapanucka, with a splendid group of high school literary contestants centered around a pair of brilliant sophomore girls pushed the winners through three divisions of the supremacy in finally yielding the supremacy in high school fine arts contests.

Millburn, title-holders for the past two years, divided points with the leaders in every department, but was unable to overcome the Wapanuckans' advantage in high school contests, finishing in third place in totals.

Scoring places in eight of the twelve events offered in high school fine arts, Mannsville's entries took runner-up honors in fourth place in the most, Mill Creek, Okemah, Washita, Fillmore, and Troy, figured in the total scoring in that order.

Grade school events were, as usual, the most popular, achievement tests, and story telling drawing from 30 to fifty contestants for each event. Nine high school districts and seventeen grade districts sent entries for the grade contests.

Fine arts contests with two entries this year, drew record entries both in grades and high school. High school band contest, offered for the first time this year, drew two entries, while grade school solo another new event attracted seven entries. Seven high school glee clubs were represented in the meet.

Grade School Curricula.
Individual winners:
Fourth grade achievement: Edna Lee Flores, Ravia; Leona Travis, Wapanucka; Verna Crawford, Mill Creek. Fifth grade achievement: Dorothy Taylor, Wapanucka; Warren Braschler, Millburn; Dorothy Ann Stamps, Wapanucka. Sixth grade achievement: Thaliah Lucas, Wapanucka.

The purpose of this course is to enable people who have poor hearing are who are deaf to become better able to carry on a conversation, according to Mr. Abbott's announcement.

Waldemar Gelich, first violin, and head of the violin department at the University is a master violinist. He has conducted several tours over the United States. Some of the leading critics have lauded him.

Conrad McGrew, second violin, and instructor in class violin is also the musical director of radio station WREN. Professor McGrew is a graduate of the University of Kansas.

Annual 4-H Club School to Be Held

Plans are being made for the annual district 4-H judging school for both boys' and girls' clubs, to be held on the Murray campus some time during the month of May, according to Miss Clara Backhaus, Home Demonstration agent for Johnston county. Miss Backhaus and County Agent C. E. Bonner will be in charge of the meet.

Delegates will be sent from 4-H clubs in eighteen counties of southeastern Oklahoma, which comprises the district. Specialist and state leaders in club work will be on hand to conduct the three days' school.

"Plans are not definite yet," Miss Backhaus said. "But there will be a three-days' session of the initial meeting most likely on May 27, 28 and 29. Delegates will likely stay in the Murray dormitories if satisfactory arrangements can be made."

National Guard Has Inspection

The Murray National Guard unit had their Federal inspection Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. They were inspected by Major Wilson stationed at Ardmore.

The company fell in at assembly formation and were inspected by Major Wilson then was turned over to second Lieutenant Horn for fifteen minutes of close order drill. The company showed a great improvement in this, according to Lieutenant Hall.

The company showed a great improvement in drill hall and each respective section was given a problem by Major Wilko. These problems were worked out on the map and by sending one by codes and by telephone.

The Headquarters company was not given a grade for inspection Thursday but Major Wilson said the two sections which does all the map drawing, observing, and accounting in time of war, were better by far than two years ago when they received a grade of satisfactory. They were graded by Major Wilson this time also.

Colonel L. A. Ledbetter, regimental commander of the 180th Infantry and Major Wiley C. Turner recently promoted to the command of the first battalion witnessed the maneuvers.

THE NATIONAL GUARDSMEN

The guard inspection last week, with the boys going through their paces before a scattering group of onlookers, reminds us that nobody ever thinks of a soldier except in times of war. We can't tell just how well they did what they were supposed to do before their superior officers, but we know they presented a very nice appearance as they went through their maneuvers with rifles in hand.

Whether they are ever called on to distinguish themselves in action, or to die in defense of their country, we inclined to feel proud of them for the work they've done as college students like the rest, plus "a bit" of preparation for whatever the fortunes of the nation might require later.

THE BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

One of the youngest organizations on the campus, but one that is already among the leaders in membership, is the Baptist Students Union. The organization, which held its first meeting on the Murray campus less than four months ago, has already attained an active membership of about forty students.

The membership, made up of college and high school students who are members of the Baptist church or the Baptist Young Peoples Union, is designed to keep students in touch with the religious movement generally. Prayer meetings are held weekly, with an average of between twenty and thirty students. Council meetings are held each Monday.

Advent of this organization to the campus, to take its place along with the Y. W. C. A. and other students religious organizations, is in keeping with the policy of religious educators to keep in touch with other educational forces. A survey made of the church preference of Murray students last year revealed that there were more with preference for the Baptist church than for any other denomination. This student organization is a worthy addition to the campus life.

WHO'LL BREAK THE TAPE?

We've often wondered why it is that in the spring of the year, when everybody feels lazy to do much, that they started calling it a track season. Why it is that instead of running these races in the winter when it's too cold to do anything else much in comfort, they have them to come off in the spring.

About the only way we can account for it is that, since the schools started most of it anyway, some philosophical old pro, that year, went out and set up a race to prove to his triternic class that it's not the way you HAVE run but the way you're GOING to run that counts.

The race for the year is, figuratively speaking, on the last lap. The winners will be the ones who can stay up there until the end of the year, four weeks hence. Even if you're ahead now, you've got to keep going if you break the tape.

Today is the anniversary of Josh Billings who was born April 21, 1818. He started the world to laughing about 100 years ago and kept it until radio jokes started.

Harold Lloyd, movie comedian, was 42 years old yesterday.

Four presidents were born in the month of April, Jefferson, Grant, Monroe, and Buchanan.

Without the month of April the Civil War would have been almost a failure. During the month Virginia ceded, the first Confederate call for volunteers was made, the battle of Five Forks was fought, Richmond was evacuated, and Lee's and all the rest of the Confederate forces surrendered.

Yesterday was the anniversary of Bacon's rebellion. Our co-ed commentator points out that ever since that time the Americans have staged an April rebellion against beer.

People born during this period, say the astrologers, are theoretical, good reasoners, and natural organizers. We've noticed that about this time, regardless of when the birthday was, people show decided tendencies to reason that maybe something else would do as well as a term report, and to say, "Let's get the gang together and go on a picnic."

April has done quite a bit for the stage besides starting the annual contests in dramatics. Mary Miles Minter, Mary Pickford, George Arliss, Charles Chaplin, Constance Talmadge, Harold Lloyd, and Ada Rehan are among the stage celebrities born in the month.

Marconi was born in April. Our back-seat stag wonders if he didn't get the idea for wireless from trying to catch what teacher's pet was thinking on exams.

Campus Gossip

The snooper knows all, sees all, and tells all. Francis Lee Hopper must have had a long time at the W. P. A. dance the other night, because they found some of his mutes out on the campus the next morning. From what we hear the orchestra likes very much to play for the W. P. A. dances, we wonder why? We thought that Friar Hickman knew Major Wilson, because of the way he spoke to him, it seems that Friar was working with the telephone during Federal inspection, when the Major walked up to see how he was getting along.

Friar addressed him by saying, "Hi. Maybe he will learn to address a Major if he keeps on trying."

Colbert Rimer is getting to be a better student. We noticed that he came back to school last week on Monday, instead of coming back on Wednesday as usual. Vera Phelps now knows what it meant by the expression "a hard week-end". Did you notice how she looked Monday?

Poor old Mule Dobbs feels so bad because there has never been anything in the paper about him fighting Rudy Scott, well we can say one thing, and that is you seem very proud of the fact that you did not get knocked out.

Mrs. Bingham seems to be having a lot of trouble with her girls. It seems that they do not want to come in every night at seven o'clock, it must be the weather, don't you think? Maybe Plastic Pate should marry the girl, and settle the argument. Well, well, Patsy how do you feel after your best girl getting married on you, you must be losing your sex appeal or something.

We wonder why Jack Covington hasn't been going to the show so much lately? Is it because the tickets come too high?

Maybe the traffic rules aren't the same in Mill Creek and Healdton as they are in Tashomingo. Anyway, Miss Willis and Miss Starr came back to school the other day looking rather white and shaky. They made the wrong turn at the right time or vice versa.

Is it nervousness or a faulty waitress that causes rank Fodge to start tapping on his glass while eating? Frank, why don't you start an orchestra? You've got rhythm and a leader's ability. (Mrs. Alexander says her contribution will be a nice rusty dish pan and that would make a swell drum.)

If you don't want to go to church to show off your new Easter rock, to show off your new Easter rock, tarry along and come into the dining room late. Don't remove your hat if it's new and stylish. The fellows might even give you a hand and a grand welcome. By the way, while we're on the subject, we heard it remarked the other day that one of the first year students wanted to know who the distinguished visitor was? How about it, Colbert? (pronounced Col-ver.)

Do you happen to know the current topic of conversation on the first floor of the girls' dormitory? Hy-men and orange blossoms are very

With The Alumni

Doris Rollins, editor
Six more weeks—five more weeks—four more weeks—and more alumni will be added to the roster of Murray State School of Agriculture. However, until that time, a person has to put on the Old Thinking Cap while he tries to find out something about the other "Grads."

Easter holiday in other proved a blessing to the Alumni editor. You know there must be something about which to write before news can be had. Well, the Easter Bunny delivered an Easter egg chock full of ex-students. We say Kenneth Sharpe, Bill Carroll, Robert "Perch" Armstrong, "Dirty" Thomas, Tom C. Taylor all home from Oklahoma A. and M. It seems that Kenneth and Bill are now members of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, rather than Kenneth is a member and Bill is his pledge. Incidentally, Bill promised Mrs. Bingham and Mrs. Alexander a recipe to one of these delicious cakes with a burnt sugar filling. (Yum, yum!)

Justin King was visiting on the campus Sunday along with Ira "Junior" Bridges. Justin is attending Oklahoma A. and M. too.

Syble Jones, Bronkie, 35, who is attending O. C. W. Chickasha, visited a few hours on the campus during the holidays.

Johnny Hedges, Ardmore, 35, who was attending Texas A. and M. has had to quit school due to his health. Come over and see us if you get around to it.

Happened to notice in the Ardmore high, "Monday" where J. W. "Duke" Wheeler has been appointed State Highway Patrolman by Governor Marland.

Leon Tolbert, Idabel, 35, visited for awhile with us. He is employed in the Highway Department at present.

Hansford Pole stopped for a few minutes while "thumbing" it back to school. We're glad to have all of you back. Come again and give us some more news!

What was the matter with Morgan Wilkes the Saturday night before Easter? We heard that he said he didn't know whether the orchestra at the Masonic temple was a good one or not. He seemed to disagree with one of the fellows over there, too, we heard. Maybe they are lifelong enemies, this one and Wilkes.

Ask Margaret and Vera what time it was when they got in Sunday? (Notice that she didn't say Saturday night.)

We heard one of the boys, Guver—he's just one of the boys, to be sure—say that every time he thought about his mom telling him to keep about his feet off the bed at home that he made it a point to jump in the very middle of his bed over in his room.

And why did you hurry home from the show the other night, Vera? You did leave Hanks with the wrong impression.

If absent-mindedness is the sign of material for a professor, the majority of the kitchen crew has found its calling. Where were you taking the pot, toasters, Marmite, Let's Upstairs? And why did one of the girls cool her dish water with milk? And Tommy, don't try to hang the dish pan where the cup towels belong.

Do you know the little dark-eyed girl on second floor who said she was tired of being good? If you know her very well, you'll know it's almost impossible for her to be very bad.

Talking about absent-mindedness, we wonder why Mary Rowe studies her assignment for Wednesday on Thursday.

There was quite a commotion on first floor of the C. at building the other day. Ask Ross Braudrick for details.

To The Ladies

Now is the time for all good freshmen to come to the aid of their class. Time for the annual Freshman-Sophomore prom is drawing near, and we hope all the freshmen are hard at work on the project.

If you are in the freshman or sophomore class, you doubtless have already started thinking of what to wear to the prom. Before we get off on the clothes, let's think about the other necessary details.

How's your dancing? You know that is essential at the prom. If you are slightly behind in your rhythm, start taking dancing lessons, and practice an hour a day. If you need smoothness, try balancing a book on your head as you dance. Get your muscles loosened up. If you don't feel too limber, try exercises. Stand straight, stretch your arms as high above your head as you can, then bend quickly at the waist and touch the floor without bending your knees, jump rope, and do all sorts of exercises to loosen up your bones. Don't go to the prom unless you're sure your dancing is absolutely AA.

Do you play tennis? If so, how about some new shorts to wear on the court? Ducky ones, shorts and shirt in one piece can be made from 2 yards of plaid seersucker, and they are charming. If your hair blows in your face, tie a bandana handkerchief around your head, peasant fashion. Wear anklets, and barefoot sandals. You'll enjoy your games more, if you are dressed modestly and comfortably at the same time.

If you wish your hair to look its loveliest about the time of the prom, start to work on it now. If you are going to get a permanent, get it soon, so that it may loosen up some in the weeks left. Try out shampoo to give your hair new liveliness. When you have your hair waved, try something new. Rolls are out of fashion, and flat curls are all the rage. If your hair is too long to be easily managed, and too short to wear done up, cut it off. Arminia Smith has had her cut, and it looks lovely, and much more summery. Auden Carter has gone in for curls and the result is very pretty. Maxine Black has also made a change in her hairdress, which is most becoming. The top is waved smoothly, and the ends are soft curls.

Have you noticed the new spring school dresses gracing the figures of our campus coeds? Katherine Black wears a pretty tailored print of white with small black figures on it. She made the dress in home economics class.

Dorothy Jean Powell wears a very pretty blue silk linen, with a blue collar, and sheered blouse.

There are numerous new patterns and worlds of new materials. Sailor designs are quite popular, and one company has some new prints in sailor designs on peuge. They are either white with blue anchors, ships, flags, ropes, etc. with the letters SOB stamped about. These materials make perfect wash dresses for everyday wear.

There is also omenaterial in print that has the banners of most of the famous colleges and universities throughout the nation. This print is unusually gay, as the banners are in the colors of the schools. 'Twould make up into a most dashing frock for school.

Casablene is used for sport suits and capes, and worn with purses and shoes to match. Your gloves and hat for a gaberdine suit are of contrasting material, and color.

GOOD OLD DAYS—You're quite right, grandma, about the "Music Goes Round" thing. But "Ta-ra-ra-boom-de-ay" was no intellectual treat.

D. M.—"Don't bother me. I am writing to my girl."

Cherub—"But why are you writing so slowly?"

D. M.—"She can't read very fast."

Highly Competent—A man of six feet eight inches applied for a job as a life guard.

"Can you swim?" asked the official.

Wapanucka's Trackmen Shade Ravia in Race for County Title

Grade - High School Girls Also Win.

RAVIA GRADE BOYS WIN.

Showing a slightly better distribution of talent in its "Big Four" of Paulk, Cox, Whaley and Strain, Wapanucka's High School trackmen took the scantiest sort of a margin over Ravia for the county track title in the Murray meet last Saturday.

Ravia, paced by the nimble Pittson, held the visitors to a 2-2 point margin by taking the mile relay in the final event of the meet. Mill Creek, with the brightest performer of the meet, took third place in point scoring.

In the girls' track, Wappy's bar athletes also came through, scoring a total of 25 points while the Milburn girls were piling up two less for high school girls.

Wapanucka's soft ball team made it a perfect day for the east siders by edging out Mill Creek for the title in that event. Russert scored in the awards by taking Ravia for the baseball pennant.

Flow, Mill Creek, scoring 20 of his team's 27 points, with first in the discus, high jump, and shot put, and 440, was the bright individual star, with Pittson of Ravia coming in second with 7 1-4 points. Falk, with three firsts and anchoring the second place relay team for a total of 15 3-4 points was the highest individual point winner for the champions.

Hester and Wigginton, Ravia's junior stars personally accounted for 19 and 15 points respectively to lead the way to a rather lop-sided victory for the Ravia grade lads. Ravia's 55 points in the grade meet outdistanced the entire points of the other contenders in that class.

Mrs. Davis Visits The Campus

Mrs. Kimball Davis, who is attending East Central, was a campus visitor last Saturday. Mrs. Davis, who finished the junior college course at the first semester, is staying in Ada with her sister, Mrs. Robert Low, who will be re-membered as Dulcinea Trotter, graduate of last year.

September 24

Dowell Wilson, 195 pound center, will take over the duties of center vacated by Bill Wooster. John De-vonport and Mule Dobbis, who was a regular from mid-season last year, are very capable of taking care of the guard positions. Jack Covington will assist them, and may be shifted to backfield. Captain Ed Alsop will be the only returning letterman at tackle, but can be counted on to fill one of these berths in good style. Stuce and King are lettermen at the end positions.

With only one letterman in the backfield there will be Pat (Little Sims) Smith, who can be counted on to take care of fullback. Red Bradshaw, Dan Perry, and Corbin O'Bryan will fight it out with the new comers for halfback berths.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. met in the reception room of the girls' dormitory Tuesday night, April 4, for their regular weekly meeting.

Ruby Jennings had charge of the devotional. Mrs. Hearn Chisoldom, who was to have spoken to the club, was unable to be present. She will speak next week instead. She is the teacher of the Young People's Class at the Presbyterian church and an excellent speaker. The club sang a group of songs led by Lueda Labor. After the singing the club adjourned to meet again Tuesday, April 21.

PHI THETA KAPPA

Nine pledges to Phi Theta Kappa, National honorary scholastic fraternity were given the pledge examination Thursday, April 17.

They were Frances Rawlings, Madeline, Fernstone Moore, Geraldine Moore, Clover Loudermilk, all of Ardmore; Dorothy Presson, Sulphur; Margaret Alexander, Thompson; Katherine Black, Marietta; Fritz Hickman and Vinson Esgard.

The final initiation ceremony will be held sometime this month. Plans are being made to have Dr. Linscheid, president of East Central State Teachers College, deliver the address.

W. A. A. BRAVES THE WATER

TENNIS

What could be more fitting for amusement on these warm spring days than a set or two of tennis?

Enthusiasm about this sport is growing more each day and more attention is given to the care of the courts. It's quite a familiar sight to find Mary Taylor, Roselle Wolfe, Doris Rollins, Lindy Phillips, Jack Petward, Arthur Sneed, Farmer Frisby, and more recently John Davenport and Kenneth Young.

Come out and watch them play. Some fair matches are being exhibited.

LEISURE OF THE Every An old Southern planter was discussing the heretofore with one of the colored servants. "Sam," he said, "if you die first, I want you to come back and tell me what it's like over there. If I die first, I'll come back and tell you what it's like."

"Dat suits me, massa," replied the old nerr, "but if you dies first, Ah wants you to promise me dat you'll come back in de daytime."

Safe for Baby—Did you kill all the germs in the baby's milk? "My, yes, I ran it through the meat chopper twice."

Of interest to the Murray College was the marriage of Miss Virginia Jackson, second year Home Economics student from Madill, and A. G. Jacks, former Murray student also of Madill. The wedding took place Easter Sunday, April 2, in the home of Miss Jackson's parents at next week following a trip to Oklahoma City as a honeymoon.

Another marriage of considerable interest to Murray was that of Boss Healin and Julia Reeder, former Murray students who left school at the close of the first semester. The marriage was at Kansas City, Kansas on March 7. Witnesses were Mrs. Reeder, the bride's mother, and Miss Sophia Reeder, an alumni of Murray. The couple are now living in Shawnee where Boss is employed in a lumber company.

Twenty-seventh annual summer school will open at East Central school will open at East Central State Teachers College, Ada Oklahoma, May 25. Registration will be on the following Monday. Class work will begin on Tuesday. Probably no other summer term here has ever offered the advantage that accrues this year. The curriculum is rich in scholastic and professional work and teachers, or those who intend to become teachers, will find thorough training in the fundamentals of teaching.

During the nine-week term eight hours may be earned. This is the normal study load, but those with exceptional records may take an extra hour. No change is made in degree or certification requirements this summer, but beginning certification and degree requirements will go into effect. The present two-year state certificate will no longer be available to teachers after September 1.

They Know Their "3-R's" and Others

When Mozelle Riddam and Kate Hancock, two comely sophomores from Wapanucka High School, divided honors in English, Geometry, and History in the county contest last week it marked the third also of Madill. The wedding took place Easter Sunday, April 2, in the home of Miss Jackson's parents at next week following a trip to Oklahoma City as a honeymoon.

Two years ago this pair, both representing Enterprise school, finished "one-two" in eighth grade achievement. Last year, competing as freshmen from Wapanucka High, they divided the third contest for algebra, English, and Oklahoma history.

The pair this year, with three firsts and three seconds in their contests, each scoring a first and second, and tying with each other for first in the third contest for a total of twelve points each.

Thanks to this even break with each other, both had to yield the high individual point score to Miss Norbie Joe Caperton, of Ravia, whose first in dramatic reading and second in American literature gave her a one-point margin over the Wapanucka pair.

Miss Caperton, in winning the dramatic reading, unseated a two year winner in that event, Miss Marie Barnes of Mannville. Other "repeaters" in the meet, who are not new to the position at the top include Dean Son, 301-berry's junior, who in past years has taken places in algebra, Oklahoma history, geometry, and high school geography. This year he took first in dramatic reading and second in algebra II and high school arithmetic.

Hayden Rogers, Millburn, repeated as best in baritone solo this year, as did little Miss Sue Ellen Son, who held her place at the head of grade soloists, -3, from last year.

What is the use of knowing things if we cannot communicate them? We learn how to pass on what we know through our English Department. All sorts of human wisdom may serve for our mental training, but for enlarging our mental views, for awakening responsiveness of mind for nourishing that imagination which is the creative force in practical affairs as in all other human work, no other training can rival the study of English.

Glee Club to Attend O. C. W. Festival

The girls' glee club and quartet have accepted an invitation to participate in the Pine Arts Festival at O. C. W. on April 25.

This will be the first time the festival has ever been held at O. C. W. and likewise the first invitation that has ever been extended to Murray. The invitation was given by Dean of Pine Arts at Chickasha, to the college by Miss Francis Davis.

The purpose of this festival is to get college girls together. Murray's representative for reading, both humorous and dramatic, will be Doris Rollins, who will participate in both contests.

Three girls will represent Murray in a mass orchestra, composed of orchestra members from all colleges. These are Sylvine Craig, Jimmie Richardson, Wapanucka, and the piano grade boys.

Sutton May Get Trip To Nations Capital

John Sutton, Jr., first year student from Iabel, may get to take the trip with all expenses paid during the forthcoming school year as he is in line for the tour which will carry him to the Nation's Capital and other places of interest in the surrounding vicinity of Washington.

During the past summer Sutton attended a Citizens Military training camp in Texas, and was selected to serve as an alternate to one of the best drilled, and best equipped man in the entire camp; in other words, the Iabel boy was second best in his camp.

Sutton graduated from Iabel High School in the spring and was actively engaged in many extracurricular activities there including football and others. He played center for three years on the Iabel team, and was one of the best players in the Kansas Valley conference. The entire Aggie campus is in hopes that he will be the one to open their doors for class work.

Traditions For Girls

By Mrs. Daisy Bingham, Dean of Girls

It is remarkable to see such a nice group of girls attending college this year despite the warm weather and drought. We have a large number of girls who are of very good quality. There are ninety-four in number of girls forty-two to twenty in which to live.

We are crowded but happy with our large family, even though some of the rooms are overcrowded by the fact that three of four girls have been assigned to some of the rooms.

It is a pleasure to see the girls taking an interest in the beautification of their rooms with pictures, bed spreads, curtains, and radios. The girls are called in from the campus at 7 o'clock in the evening at which time they are supposed to study until 9:30.

The meals are served in two shifts, as the dining hall does not have adequate room to serve everyone at the same time.

There are several ways for girls to earn board and room, such as sweeping floors, waiting tables, and washing dishes. There are many Alabama colleges represented by girls attending Murray this fall, such as Marshall, Love, Carter, McMurtain, Pumphama, Atoka, Vernon, Garvin, Murray, Seminole, Bryan, Caddo, Creek, Jackson, Tulsa, Stephens and Pontotoc. The largest number come from Carter and McMurtain, with Bryan and Marshall following closely.

The girls have three open nights a week in which to go to the short and church. On Monday and Thursday afternoons at 3:30 o'clock they are allowed to go to town to do their shopping. On Thursday nights at 7:00 there is a meeting of Y. W. C. A. members open to all girls. On Monday afternoon, Tuesday and Wednesday, all girls are allowed to use the school's washing machine to do their laundry. In all, it is a very fine group of girls, with a common interest for all concerned.

Salutations!

With this effort the journalism club bids its bid for a new year. We hope you will accept us as a group whose purpose is to serve not primarily our own membership, but to serve every individual, club, or organization on the campus.

We feel particularly anxious with this first offering, because we are aware that our confused efforts can't be overlooked by an indulgent chairman and by fellow-members just beginning, but in print here it will stand the same when cold reason looks it over. We hope it will appeal to you then as what we wish it to be—your newspaper, worthy of a place in campus life.

THE JOINERS GET THERE

Suppose you have just arrived; there isn't anybody here who has been here much longer than you have. All these clubs and things around here are not exclusive things into which old-timers drift while they wait for retirement, but are organizations made by guys like you for guys like you. As a matter of fact, most of them would join you if you would let them. Why not loosen up a little and take unto yourself a club or so. It isn't what you dread that helps you, it's what you join.

An eastern court is called on to settle whether or not North Carolina University and North Carolina State College shall be required to charge sales tax on books for football games. Interest seeking the order maintain that football is a part of the educational program. In the case of many teams, it could be more clearly defined by asking the court to decide whether humor is amusement or education.

Traffic Toll Sweeps Nations

The Americans read with horror the lurid stories from Spain, of a conflict taking an average of perhaps one thousand lives a day. At least thirty thousand are dead in Spain in the death struggle that is now more than a month old.

Horrible! Yet in the last seven months sixteen thousand five hundred and thirty Americans have also been killed violently, their blood crimsoning the pavements, their mutilations and agonies no less sickening and sharp. They are just as dead as their Spanish brothers, without even as much satisfaction as there may be for dying for a cause. They are traffic victims. If their toll increases during the latter part of the year, as it usually does, then the casualty list will be higher this year than ever before. Last year thirty-seven thousand died, probably a greater loss of lives than the entire Spanish Revolution will account for.

Every week end blaring headlines sweep across the nation headlines from, as they were against traffic accidents which Americans are taking too many chances on the crowded roads. Three lane highway, we are far too inadequate

For Milady

Girls' fashion plays a game this autumn! A jolly, rollicking game that has taken us by the days of the neighborhood. Remember when you were eight and ten years old? How you dressed like a princess one day and wore the heels off your older sister's next? Some dresses let you to behave yourself, while others develop you as an entirely different personality.

Get out your old family album and compare the portrait of you and grandmothers to that of the modern girl. See the dresses with waists so tightly fitted? And see how they button up the front just like grandmother's dresses did? Leg-o-mutton sleeves pop up again in the collections just like they did years ago. Populists have a way of going out in the back to remind you of the rustle of a bustle. If you have the right figure, you can wear these old-fashioned, new-fashioned dresses and look as lovely as grandmother! And see how they are talking about figures. Tunics of all shapes, forms, and fashions are being worn extensively this season.

Don't think that because you wear a tunic that you can't wear a tunic, for you can. There are the slim, slender ones, the wide flaring ones and the ones that are like a tunic in style, but have the shape of a dress. So almost any girl can wear a tunic this fall.

You dress to wear to football games to wear in the office or wear here on the campus or college classroom, there is no fashion more readily accepted than the Peasant. They consist of bright, flashing colors that trace their line back to the old days when the peasants wore such colors. Full skirts and handings on skirts are another style that will be good for the next bright years to wear to the next football game would bring out the gay nature of the campus "hats" as well as express her desire to look fashionably dress.

What kind of hat are you going to wear this fall? There are the long and especially gay high crowns and hats that have been the achievement of the season. They come in many different shapes, and no one can deny that the most unique one. There are those with the high pointed crown, which by the way, would suit a short person, and the hat with a short crown of which the top is covered with a material of a different color.

By the way, girls, did you know that a new style is being created in hosiery? It seems that some style artist believes that women should wear hosiery with some special pattern on them for the cold winter days. This is an idea being developed, but time will prove how it will work out. Can you feature yourself going around with a pair of sootien hose on attracting attention by their loud pattern worn on the side?

You may depend on the old skirt and blouse again this winter, for it has been used as the universal "College Campus" however, we have decided change in the style of the blouse this fall, in that they are placed over the waists and are belted or twisted to hold them in place. This makes them extra-full, but they are new, so that is enough for us. Such changes will be the most important material this fall for the blouse, and when you get your saint blouse, make it extremely tight-fitting. The more manish ones fit tightly, so keep that in mind.

The fall "use that fall over the waistline" have big, full flowing sleeves, still giving you the "princess" look that seems to be all the go this season.

With Our Neighbor

The 36-37th term of the Goodland Indian Orphanage opened Monday, August 21, with a full enrollment. The 400 dormitories crowded to their utmost capacity, and it is always the case, a large number have been denied admission because of the lack of room and maintenance. Some of them have had several applications on file for several years.

You will find yourself refreshed by the presence of cheerful people. Why not make earnest effort to confer that pleasure on others? You will find half the battle is gained if you never allow yourself to say anything gloomy.

With The Alumni

As we enter into a new school year, our thoughts wander to those who have passed on ahead of us to some senior college, or to a job out in the world. The Alumni have set up here again on Homecoming, and we will be glad to see them once more—Morgan, Wilkes, and Shantzler, and those who are attending Loyola of the South at New Orleans, after a summer of work on a steamship.

Wallflowers

Wallflowers know all, see all, hear all, and tell all. We are the unseen guests at every party and social session. We are the near and distant listeners to every heart to heart confession. We wallflowers see all, hear all, and tell all.

We'll miss the old familiar name in the old snapper columns of last year, but there is plenty more to know. At present the hen parties and bull sessions do not have much on the first years but it will start romance downtown that broke up some of us. Some said her love for him was beautiful with his trumpet all last year, but not so this. One session "ding downtown" was a hen party said (quote) "he was tired of her and she is a heart breaker. We wallflowers don't pass opinions. We only see, hear, and talk.

Most of the "perennial bachelors" of last year are now going with girls. The worst of these seem to be the famous sweeping Murray boy. The hen sessions have it that the "that way" about an alleged "Spanish woman." There must have been something to make him leave behind. A favorite Western story magazine, and a radio, wallflowers see all and hear all.

CLUBS

4-K CLUB
The first meeting of the Murray Collegiate 4-K Club was held last Tuesday night, and will meet on the first Tuesday night of each month. At the close of school in the spring Ole Michael of Ardmore was elected president, Linwood Johnson of Tahlequah, vice-president, and Esther Sheehan of Mill Creek secretary-treasurer.

Many important functions are on tap for the club for the coming year and an active program will be carried out by the members. A wide variety of social functions will be conducted this fall, that were held last year. Mr. Howard and Mr. Cox will serve the club as sponsors.

FLORIBANDS

Present indications are that Floribands will launch into another successful year of activities and they have already obtained many new members. Initiation services were held for the new members last Wednesday evening. According to Arthur Seidel, one of the members, they have 28 new members and 8 old ones. Floribands organization have been ordered to arrive in a very short way. Last fall the Floribands gave a very good account of themselves every football game. Plans are being formulated for a year of very active activity for the entertainment of football fans in attendance at Aggie football games. The Floribands are a very colorful group of boys and surely they will add zest to the games.

PHI THETA KAPPA

Interest is at a high pitch with the raising of Phi Theta Kappa national honor society which has an active chapter here on the campus. To become a member of Phi Theta Kappa a student must receive the principle of scholastic standing. Mr. Patton, Mr. Hall, Mr. Prater and Miss Henderson are the faculty advisors selected according to their scholarship, leadership, and character. Many of last year's members who have returned are Mrs. Frances Hawkins, secretary; Mrs. F. H. Woodrow, treasurer; Mr. Paul Kenyon, promoter; Mrs. Margaret Hunkapiller, sponsor; Mr. George Woodmore, because of the absence of the president, A. J. Wobley, a meeting is being planned to elect a new president.

Pledges of the organization are Ernestine and Geraldine Moore, second year students from Ardmore. Mrs. Lorenne Wiley Reed, instructor in typing, shorthand and secretarial training, was the first president of Phi Theta Kappa on the Murray campus.

FOOT DIGGERS MEET

Forty-four old members of the Goal Diggers met in the reception room of the Betty Fulton Hall last week to discuss plans for the coming year. Invitations have been sent to the other girls in the dormitory and in town. New members will be initiated into the club as soon as plans are formulated. Last fall Goal Diggers gave a very good account of themselves at every football game. Present indications are that the 1936 edition of Goal Diggers will be the best. Officers of the Goal Diggers are Margaret Hunkapiller, president; Auden Carter, vice-president; Miss Lee Henderson, secretary; treasurer; Myron Pritchely, leader; and Leta Walters, sponsor. Mrs. Josephine Shipp, sponsor.

For the benefit of those football fans who do not understand the many arm swings displayed by the football official of this section...

1. A salute with the right arm over the right temple (similar to salute given by soldiers) This salute designates personal fouls and the runner's roughness.

2. Hands on hips. Violation of kick-off.

3. Holding left arm with your right arm denotes that illegal use of the hand has been used by either a man on offense or a man on the defensive team.

4. Motion of arms with the palm upward in a one-quarter swing is the signal that a man was caught crawling, pushing or helping the runner.

5. Right arm at side, left hand palm out denotes man in motion for violation of the shift or huddle.

6. Arms crossed on chest shows that a flying block or a flying tackle has been made.

7. Left arm at side with right arm displayed from the rear with the palm forward shows that an illegal forward pass has been caught.

8. Both hands out horizontally denotes that the official has found some interference with the forward pass from a legal point of vantage.

10. Arms vertically extended indicates that a score has been made.

11. Hands vertically placed together above the head shows that a safety has been made.

News Grist

Wearing a defense of New Deal spending in a two fold address on unemployment and the drought, President Roosevelt went on record recently with the contention that government expenditures saved business and will save the drought stricken farmers.

"Re-employment in industry is proceeding rapidly," he said. "Government spending was in a large part responsible for keeping industry going, and putting it in position to make this re-employment possible."

An organization of self-styled liberals from political, labor, and agricultural fields has launched a campaign for the re-election of President Roosevelt.

A party of 116 conference members "National Progressive Conference" concluded with an agreement to back the executive, and appeal for all progressive-minded voters, and expression of opposition to the Republican presidential candidacy of Governor Alf M. Landon, of Kansas.

The University of British Columbia, which is this year celebrating its 21st anniversary, is one of the youngest of the fully-recognized universities in the British Empire. Situated at Vancouver, on the extreme western shore of Canada, it has been blessed with a site which is not only beautiful, but which makes it a strategic focal point for the blending of three distinct civilizations.

Seven squads of aerial dodgers and lanky line-runners began preparations for what promises to be the interest fight in years for Southwest Conference football boys.

More than half the conference teams will go through their first light exercises as "favorites" in the eyes of sports writers and coaches. Four eleven, Texas Christian University, Texas A. and M., Baylor, and Arkansas will crowd the driver's seat. What coaches of strength in the remaining contestants, Southern Methodist, defending champion, Rice and Texas University, augers well for the lineup.

METHODIST STUDENTS

Rev. A. A. Puckett of the First Methodist church of Tishomingo has suggested that an organization for the Methodist young people be founded on the campus. Definite plans for this organization have not been discussed, according to Rev. Puckett, but he promises that students who are interested in the formation of such club will be notified at the conclusion of the annual meeting with the board of Christian Education which will take place soon.

John Thompson of Broken Bow and Ole Michael have been designated by Rev. Puckett to take the names of those students who wish to become members.

B. S. U. NAMES OFFICERS

The Baptist Student Union met last Wednesday night under the sponsorship of Mr. Horne for the first meeting of the year. Previous attendance records were shattered when approximately sixty students were in attendance. An interesting program was presented with the entertainment part in a song, festival scripture reading, prayer, and a round-table discussion.

The aim of the B. S. U. is to develop and create leaders for religious training here in our school. The club is for both boys and girls with an environment toward religious endeavors.

All students on the campus who are interested in the services of the B. S. U. are invited to attend the regular noon-day prayer meeting at 12:45 in room 307, and the weekly prayer meeting which is to be held each Wednesday evening in the college auditorium at 7:00 o'clock.

New Bandsmen Get Initiation

New members of the Murray band lost no time in making their first appearance when director Courtwright answered the request of the Tishomingo Legion Post for music for the Legion's annual rodeo. The band, numbering 45 members, was engaged for three days of the very first of the 1938 season, with publicity throughout the state, and in playing for the three day session of the rodeo, which ended September 13.

Plans are already in the making for a number of concert tours over the state, according to Director Courtwright. With the old members already beginning to discuss the annual concert next year, and with the largest membership of the organization has had in several years, it is expected that the season will be a most successful one. Present members include:

Chairmen:—Sylrene Craig, Ed R. Thelma Lamkin, Healdton; Phillip Brooks, Healdton; Bonnie Bess Graham, Madill; Mary Margaret Olsen, Madill; Thomas Wright, Okla.; J. L. McCaleb, Beardon; Lovell Loughridge, Ardmore; Delores Ingram Henry, Jr., sixteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ingram Henry, of Ardmore, has been accorded first honors, and has been rewarded with a gold medal, symbolizing his efforts in the American Legion Oratorical Contest, at Tulsa recently. Last year the young Ardmore boy barely missed first place by only a fraction of a point.

DAN PERRY MAY RETURN TO TEAM

Dan Perry, prospective choice to fill the shoes of Harry Simms whose position was made vacant by the fact that Simms is attending Oklahoma University, may return to the Aggie line-up for the first of their Oklahoma Junior Collegiate Conference games. Perry was injured during the second week of football practice, when he was tackled by "ab Rennie" in an open field practice session. Simms was also injured on the same play, but was able to return the next afternoon for practice.

Perry was fast becoming one of the Aggie's best passers and an able running back. There is no doubt in the minds of Aggie followers that the rest of the season by Perry will be the Aggie offense, as well as the defense.

Several players are getting a trial at the post vacated by Perry, and the present Aggie backfield will be composed of Bradshaw or Barrett at quarterback, Wylie and Taylor at halfback, and Smith at fullback.

FORMER STUDENTS CONVERGE ON A. & M. COMING YEAR

One look at the list of students enrolled at Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College at Stillwater, would convince one that the two schools were hand in hand and they are for preference among the students who graduated last spring denotes that fact.

Many other schools over the state are drawing heavy enrollment figures, and among their numbers are many past Aggie students. Southeastern at Durant and East Central at Ada are running a close race for second choice honors, while a sprinkling of students are being listed in other state schools.

Those at A. and M. are Noble Birmingham, Buddy Wiley, Roy Poe, Frank Podge, Francis Hopper, L. J. Nense, Ralph Stodough, Gene Neese, Louisa Lebor, Vernon Beard, Margaret Alexander, Evelyn Deere, Ben Jones, Herbie Rice, Billy Lewis, Clyde Reed, S. C. ### AGGIELITTER

The dealer was telling his fair prospect how easy and safe it was to drive a car.

"Then you have the hand brake," he was saying, "which you put on in case of emergency."

"Oh, I see," the prospect enthused, "something like a kimono."

"Well, said Professor Park, "I be there any questions before the final?"

John King's voice was heard from the back of the room.

"What's the name of the textbook in this course?"

Well of course, they will acquit Professor Park for shooting him.

Mr. Hall (Angry): "Look here, Clayton, I found a pocket knife in the back of the room."

Mr. Clayton Barker: "Thanks, Mr. Hall, I thought I had lost it."

Pat Smith: "How would you like to eat supper with me tonight?"

Bonnie Bess Graham: "Fine."

Pat: "O. K. Tell your mother I'll be there at six."

Bonnie Bess: "I wonder why that girl is looking at me so much?"

John Davenport: "She has weak eyes, and the doctor told her to rest them by looking at something green."

Mr. White: "Did I see you kissing that Wolfe boy last night, Virginia?"

Virginia: "He said his uncle had just died and I felt sorry for him."

Mr. White: "Well, if I know that boy, he'll probably not have a relative left in a week."

"I wish that goodlooking man would get up and give me his seat," said Virginia Bales to her friend in a crowded street car.

Sneed, Weekly, Livingston, and Aggie go up immediately.

"Really, I can't play golf," Kathleen Bradley, the sweet young thing from Healdton said. "I don't even know how to hold the caddy."

C. J.: "To pupa!" Now you have learned enough of the art of self-defense for today.

Fremman Barber, very much muddled: "I should say I have—and I would like to ask if I can't take the rest of the lessons by mail?"

Mr. Armstrong: "To applicant for job: 'Can you take shorthand?'"

Orville Johnson: "Yes, but it takes no longer."

Corlinton: "Are you fond of indoor sports?"

Beulah Weatherly: "Yes, if they know when to go home."

Miss Van Noy: "Mention twelve animals of the polar region, Jack."

Jack Wilson: "Two seals and ten solar bears."

Care must be taken to avoid opening the oven door for five minutes after the cake has been placed in the oven. When removing it or drawing it to the front to see if it is baked evenly be very careful, as the heat ray may cause the cake to lose its lightness.

At least once a year take down shades, stretch them out on a flat surface and after dusting them thoroughly, go over them with a wet (not dripping) cloth rubbed lightly with white soap. Bill Watson: "I say money talks, Joe Conroy." "Yes, but all I ever hear is the cash."

Junikan: "My mistake. Any bottles?"

EASTERN MOUNTAINERS ARE TO BE HOMECOMING FOES

Aggies to Meet Last Years Nemesis on Old Grads Day

Pepsters Ready

If hopes, wishes and plans of school officials, pep squads, the 'M' club and the entire student body have anything to do with it, all roads will lead to Murray on Friday afternoon, October 30, 1938. Plans are being made to take over the many past games and near by and hope will run high that the current group of football pepers and students do themselves size in the eyes of the visitors who will return to the campus. With the largest and most versatile student body in years, a tight band of footballer's will be fighting mad as they furnish the high spot of the day when they make the events taking on the eastern Oklahoma Mountaineers in an afternoon football game. The game will likely be one of the highest on the entire Murray schedule, for the Eastern is reputed to have their best team in years. On the other hand the Powell coached team will enter the battle making regulars in the game. The game will be played at Wilburson in 1935.

At halftime the new Aggie football queen will be crowned and a coronation ceremony has been planned to be participated in by the various clubs on the campus, with the Goal Diggers having direct charge of the crowning ceremony. Other activities will also take place during the intermission. In 1935 the triumphant Aggies captured the field and at that time they presented the same Miss Betty Jo Jordan who was the last years queen, but this year will have a real test on hand and the members of the team say they will pull no punches as they strive to upset the haughty

Armory Projects Become 4-Way Race to Finish

Murray Project one of 4 Marked for Early Completion

Gardsmen Busy

All Oklahoma is interested in the four cornered race between Norman, Haskell, Kingfisher and Tishomingo who are really putting all of the steam to win out in the battle to see which of the towns has its armory ready for occupancy first. So far as Works Progress Administration officials are concerned it is a neck and neck affair, with none of the four having an edge on the other.

Recalling unexpected delays that have occurred before, it may be that some unknown delay will bob up and further hamper the progress that has been so noticeable over the last two pay periods.

Under the direction of Mr. Arnie Armstrong, supervisor, the local armory project is making rapid strides toward completion. The building is one of the best in the state and will certainly be a solution to the troubles of the Murray unit of the national guard, which is under the direction of Lieut. Clyde J. Hall, head of the company and W. W. Horne, second in command.

The Aggie guards have been drilling regularly since school opened and have made satisfactory showings in the weekly drills, with an average number of drills, set at five per month.

Mr. Armstrong and the others who have been so persistent in the armory project, we offer our heartfelt congratulations as you near completion time.

Waldrop Makes Visit to College Campus

Hon. L. S. Waldrop

Honorable L. S. Waldrop, member of the state board of agriculture, Frederick, Oklahoma, was a visitor on the Murray campus last Thursday and Friday, making his annual inspection tour as a member of the government board of agricultural colleges of the state. Mr. Waldrop made a careful inspection of plant and equipment, expressing an interest in the changes made during the last year. He spoke very favorably of the general appearance of the dormitories, and other parts of the school plant. The trip was the third one of similar nature made by Mr. Waldrop, who has been a member of the state board of agriculture for the past four years.

Cadets Ask to Change Schedule

Board Notified May Withdraw Unless Date Changed

Cage Dates Set

The annual fall business meeting of the Oklahoma Junior collegiate conference was thrown into a slight turmoil Saturday morning, September 26, in Oklahoma City when the Oklahoma Military Academy notified the conference by mail that the school would withdraw from the league if a readjustment in the football schedule was not made.

The cadets, who tied with Murray Aggies and University Junior college for the conference crown last year, are seeking a change in the Thanksgiving date which they have with the Preparatory school.

Tonkwa officials claim they have a signed contract calling for the Thanksgiving date. The conference notified the commissioner, Norman Duman, to send word to the Cadets that if they withdrew from the conference their re-entrance would be subject to the usual two-thirds vote of the schools.

Five other schools in the league, Cameron Aggies, Murray Aggies, University Preparatory, Northeastern Oklahoma, Okmulgee and Eastern Oklahoma college at Wilburson drew up and approved a double round robin schedule for basketball.

Representatives at the meeting included, O. E. Ekins, president of the conference, John Holcomb, Northeastern Oklahoma, Okmulgee, and Eastern Oklahoma, Clyde Hall, Murray Aggies and H. R. Harold, Tonkwa, secretary of the conference.

Conners Aggies will not be represented in basketball this season because of the destruction by fire of the school gymnasium.

Transportation Is Student Solution of Housing Problem

Many students are being transported to and from Murray due to the overcrowded condition in the dormitories and the inability of the school to furnish all or part time work on the Murray campus.

The NYA program is making it possible for most of these students to come to school by furnishing a small amount of work to cover their transportation expenses. Various means of conveyance are being used to bring these students to one camp coming from Midburn bringing the following students: Thomas Edmondson, Veston Tate, Leta Arnolding, Anita Eubank, and Norma Crowson. Bob Clark, an engineering student, is making use of his motorcycle for transportation to and from school.

Junior Press Men Meet at A. and M.

State School Sponsors Annual Contest for School Papers

Executive plans are under way to hold the annual Oklahoma Junior Collegiate Press association meeting November 13-14, according to Mr. Clement E. Trout, sponsor of the junior college association in Oklahoma. The meeting is held each fall at the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college in Stillwater, usually with one of the state or one of the national outstanding speakers giving the keynote of an inspirational journalistic speech.

There are two main activities with which the junior college association has so far been concerned, one of these being the fall meeting and the other the contest in spring. The spring contest brings together practically every publication in the state and gives vent to the competition in every phase of newspaper work, as honorees are bestowed upon the school having the best paper.

Last year several members of the Aggie staff attended both the fall and the spring meetings and again a great amount of interest is expected at Murray publication has hopes of raising their standard higher in Oklahoma Junior Collegiate Press association ranking.

ENGLISH INSTRUCTOR TO GO TO STAFF A. AND M. COLLEGE

Miss Breedlove Is to Leave After Eight Years Here

Miss Louise Breedlove

Mary Louise Breedlove, for the past eight years instructor of English, will leave next week for Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, she has announced. Miss Breedlove was recently named to a secretarial post in the English department at the Stillwater institution, which she expects to fill while completing the academic requirements for her doctor's degree. In departing from Murray Miss Breedlove severs a connection that has many accomplishments to mark its usefulness during her eight year's here.

Aside from her regular class room duties in the English department, Miss Breedlove has been instrumental in organizing and sponsoring many of the most important events on the campus.

Among these might be listed the Aggieite student publication, established by Miss Breedlove in 1928 and sponsored and directed by her during the first four years of its existence.

In 1933 Miss Breedlove relinquished sponsorship of Journalism in Oklahoma, in addition to an extensive program of intramural sports for women, were her outstanding accomplishments in that field.

Through her efforts one of the three chapters of Phi Theta Kappa national junior college honor society of Oklahoma was organized on the campus five years ago. Although she has been in the school for the past five years Miss Breedlove has been class advisor for the college sophomore group in addition to serving on the faculty committee on registration discipline and honor awards.

'You Can't Beat 'Em' Advises Hall

Students Reminded of 'No Marble Machine' Regulation

Mr. W. W. Horn

Following the assembly program Thursday, October 1, Dean of Men Hall made a short announcement that new students will refrain from playing pool and using the various marble and slot machines during the remainder of the school year.

It is a rule of the school, Mr. Hall pointed out to show a football waste of money or time and all students enrolled in school are expected to observe this regulation, he stated.

Students who habitually loaf about town or elsewhere were warned that it might endanger their status as students.

The assembly program featured a violin solo by Miss Helen Maxwell. Lecture sections and other classes accompanied by Kathleen Bromley. Miss Maxwell rendered her selection, Mr. Horn lead assembly singing with Director of Music Homer Courtwright at the piano.

First Exams Set for This Week

Quizzes Set for Final Class Periods of the Week

First period examinations will be held next Thursday and Friday, according to announcements from the registrar's office. Classes not scheduled to meet on either of those days will have the quiz at the last scheduled meeting of the week, it was stated.

Lecture sections and other classes unable to find sufficient desk space in any available class room may be divided at the discretion of the instructor in the course. Registrar Horn pointed out, provided arrangements could be made to get all quizzes off hands by the end of the week.

Grade reports will be made out as soon as quiz papers and laboratory exercises can be checked. However, no reports will be released in the case of students who have not filed the necessary high school transcripts, or otherwise not fully registered, Mr. Horne stated.

Campaign on for Football Queen

Classes Pick Favorites for Homecoming Day Celebration

Voting to Start

The candidates already nominated and properly introduced to their voting public, the annual football queen's race awaits the starting signal from the M. club, who sponsors the contest.

Details of the campaign will be worked out early this week according to John Davenport, M. club president, and talking may start by the end of the week.

Indications now are that the race may be a two-sided affair only with no eligible candidate available from the prep school. However, arrangements have been made to present the division of allegiance by the high school side, it was announced.

Ernestine Moore has been nominated to carry the standards of the second year class into the race. Miss Moore is from Ardmore and is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, national honor society, besides being interested in other campus organizations, she is connected with the typing department.

The first year class will back Beluah Weathers of Tom, and already have organized their forces for the forthcoming race which promises to be one of the most heated of all queen races ever conducted here on the campus.

Debaters Prepare for Practice Tilts

To Visit High Schools in Practice for State Meets

Frazer Is Coach

With ten members enrolled in the debating class with three of the old members on the campus, Prichard, Myron Pritchyn and Orville Johnson of Phi Rho Pi National Debate society, plans are being made to give practice debates in the various high schools of the county. They also plan to participate in the Southeastern State Teachers college forensic meet according to Mr. Frazer, coach of the Murray debate team.

The Oklahoma Junior college debate question has not yet been announced but will be decided upon in the near future. The debate meets over the state may attract Aggie debaters into attending them. Southeastern Teachers college meet will afford local debaters an opportunity to compete with the best debaters in the state and probably some of the outstanding teams from nearby states.

New interest is being displayed by high school debaters over the state as the result of a new Oklahoma High School Athletic association ruling which demands that athletes, both boys and girls must participate in some form of forensic study.

The new members of the Aggie debate team include: Watson Everett, Jack Wilson, Frank Novotny, Adam Barnes, Lella Walters, Billie King, E. J. Dobb and Vernon Smith.

Hey, Girls! Here's an Office That had to Seek a Man

What do you say, girls, about a good, nice, job, ready made and delivered to you and we don't mean Spain or Rhodia, either? It's not that your newspaper has a To Let sign on its throne, but we know of a bunch of bustling subjects that have one, with exactly even percentage that the labor, any, can be tickled to the inside.

You see, it's sort of this way, although we're being somewhat reticent in handling such matters of state, don't know exactly how to put it, but the M. club and pep clubs offer to crown a duly elected queen of football at Homecoming next October 30.

Sophomores and freshmen have selected candidates and are whooping it up for them to beat the boss. While the prep school boys, who have elected two out of the crown, a duly elected queen of football at Homecoming next October 30.

Sport Shots

Reports from the lair of the highly touted Cameron Aggies indicate that Julius Johnson, has a well balanced dread-naught sized team on hand for the forthcoming Oklahoma Junior College race, which may not be near as intense as it has been predicted.

Texas football fans, coupled with the great southwest will have four of the nation's best football games on tap in the near future. On October 10th, Texas university will renew its annual rivalry with Major Lawrence M. "Buff" Jones, University of Oklahoma Sooners, October 17 will see Ray Morrison, originator of the aerial circus return to the Southwest bringing with him a tough band of Vandenberg Commodores who will attack Morrison's old home lot of S. M. U. Mustangs, in a game that will be a corker.

Oklahoma high school football fans are girding themselves for a great season as pre-season dope indicates that a red hot battle is coming along in fine style. Despite the fact that early games ordinarily prove considerably less than nothing, a few teams have already stamped themselves as better than average.

When the Aggies meet Red Weininger's Eastern Oklahoma Mountaineers on October 20th, it will be a "tough" game. Last fall the Mountaineers after a most disastrous year turned on full steam and felled the Murray team 6 to 0 in a game that saw the Aggie's baffled by a team that employed a trick ball, one of them catching the "pawls-men" of guards, and as a result Eastern threw Murray out of the pinnacle heaps of the conference.

Thought the Aggies might remember the following: If you think you're beaten, you're not.

If you think you're not, you're not. If you'd like to win, but think you can't. It's almost a cinch you won't. If you think you'll lose, you've lost. For out in the world you'll find success begins with a fellow's feet all in the state of your mind.

WE'RE FOR YOU AGGIES, AND HOPE YOU WIN!

We're striving to win the championship for the best service in town, and invite you to drop around when in need of fancy and staple groceries.

Tish High Loses to Ada Cougers

Indians Unable Stem Air Attack, Drop 18-0 Battle

Outclassed by Heavy Ada Team. The Tishomingo Indians lost a hard fought game 18 to 0 to the Ada Cougers Thursday night, on Murray field.

Outclassed in every department by the heavier Ada team the Tishomingo boys at no time threatened the Couger goal line.

Led by Strow, fleet footer fullback, the Cougers passed and ran their way to three touchdowns. Gilbert failed to convert on all three attempts. Ada made eighteen first downs to three for the Indians.

The Cougers attempted twenty-seven passes, of which twelve were complete for one hundred and ten yards, thirteen were incomplete, and three intercepted; while the Indians were attempting fourteen, of which only two were good for twenty-eight yards, seven were incomplete, and four were intercepted by the Cougers. Ada lost sixty-five yards by the penalty route, while the Indians were only assessed ten yards.

The officials were: referee, Dyer; umpire, Fisher; Heintzmann, Powell.

INDIANS DEFEAT DURANT

Displaying the best offense so far this season, Lucien Neims, Tishomingo high school, Indians Tishomingo high school, Indians crushed an inexperienced Durant high school football team 12 to 0 on Thursday night, September 24 on Savage field in Durant.

The Lions were never able to function smoothly at any time against the hard-working Indians, whose line rose to new defensive heights by throwing off all of the Lions' offensive threats. In the first quarter the two teams battled on even terms, but in the second quarter E. R. "Tevney" Smith intercepted a Lion pass, and before that bewildered line could recuperate Smith dashed over the goal line for the first Tish score.

Following a hectic third quarter Tishomingo again broke loose in a sustained drive down the field to the six-yard line, from which point Jack Brown, Indian fullback shot a thirty-yard aerial to Paul Puckett, who stepped over the goal line for the second Indian score of the game. Puckett, Brown, E. R. Smith, Johnson, Tribble, and O'Bryan played stellar games for the winners.

The big political question-mark, the night-mare of Republican campaign managers and the supreme hope of Democrats in this eastern section of the country is Pennsylvania.

In times past, this has been known as the banner Republican state, only once since 1856 has it failed to give its electoral vote to that party, and then it was Theodore Roosevelt, the Progressive nominee of 1912, who won it. Even in 1932 President Hoover carried the state by 170,000 plurality.

Aggies Open Loop Pep Squads Take Feud to Gridiron

Indian Invasion Will Be First of Three Foreign Dates

With every Oklahoma Junior Collegiate football team in action this week-end, C. J. Powell's Murray Aggies will trek to Chillicothe for a conference game with Ray Colglaser's Chillicothe Indians Friday afternoon.

Nothing is known of the wily Indians strength, but every year in the past Ray Colglaser has managed to build up a husky band of manning braves, and it is anticipated that this years battle will be a keenly fought affair, with the local team bearing a slight weight advantage over the northern Oklahoma team. The Chillicothe team always has a brand new assortment of trick plays to shoot at the Aggies, and it is said that they have a newer assortment this year than ever before.

Last fall the Murray team banged out a 25 to 0 win over the wily braves on the home lot, but this long trip will see the hoarding trek across the state, may handicap the Aggs to some extent. Coach Powell and the team will depart from the Murray campus Thursday with a workout somewhere along the route.

In case the game should become a free scoring affair for either of the two clubs, Coach C. J. Powell will give some of his second string men a chance to display their football ability, so that members of his first lineup can get some rest before the next game which is with Paul Kratz's high powered Connor Aggies at Warner. Last week-end the Connor team soundly spanked an Eastern Oklahoma Mountaineer team 14 to 0, and East Central Teachers of Ada barely beat Eastern 8 to 0, so Connor is not to be taken lightly.

Players who will likely make the trip are: Alsup, Dobbs, Daverport, Wilson, Caldwell, Bryant, Jones, King, Stice, Palmer, Erblich, Covington, Barritt, Wylie, Hankamiller, Taylor, Barber, O'Brien, McSwain, Bradley, Smith, Powell, Conroy, Wheeler, Riley and manager Umphers.

A relief expedition to aid the distressed natives of "is-Infested" Tristan da Cunha, "loneliest island in the world," has been organized. Located 1500 miles southwest of Capetown, South Africa, Tristan has been inhabited for more than a century.

Many Events Set. The Murray Blue Devils have challenged the Murray Rowdians to a football game to be played at Murray field in the near future.

These pep squads have been organized to cause more interest and enthusiasm in football games, and other school sports. The Blue Devils, organized only last month, exceed the Rowdians members by a two to one majority, causing a stronger rivalry between the two clubs.

In the forthcoming months each organization will have various activities, such as track, football, basketball, softball and boxing. The team that wins the championship in each of these club activities will meet the championship team of the other organization, for the school championship.

Some of the students who will probably participate in the football game are as follows: for the Rowdians: Roy Nelson, Arthur Sneed, Fred Arohald, John Sutton, Wallace (Speedy) James O. Murray, J. P. Jones, Gerrell Parker and Dwight Savage. Some of the probable football players for the Blue Devils are: Will McClure, Red Duffin, Murrel Gray, Boyd Vanderstiff, Glen O'Neal, Murrel Cooper, Jack Stein, Harris Maxie, Alonzo Eaton, Eldred Harris, Royal Brubaker, Elton Johnson, Ed Fyle, Clovis Cunningham, James Francis and George Hirm.

The admission to the game will be ten cents this will be divided among the clubs, and will be used for other club activities.

Deer, Livingstons Are Named to Lead Squad in Training

Davis Returns

With thirty-eight men answering the first call for boxing candidates made last week, with at least two who expect to make every weight from 605 to heavyweight, prospects are fair for a new era in the glove sport for this year.

George Deer, fourth district, welterweight title holder, and Don Livingston, former state bantamweight king, were named temporary co-captains of the squad, pending members and final selection of team leader.

At the meeting it was announced that the athletic committee, recognizing the sport for the first time in several years, would award letters or certificates to those qualifying at the end of the season.

Aggie ring prospects are bright and considerably for the return to school of Kimball "Bud" Davis, former middleweight champion, who is expected to be available as trainer.

Present training schedule calls for general conditioning and road work, pending arrangement of training quarters in the new Armory-Gymnasium, it was announced.

THOMPSON-NEESE

Of special interest to their many friends at Murray is the marriage of Miss Jane Thompson of Ardmore to Mr. L. J. Neese of Broken Bow, Oklahoma. Their wedding, an event that took place in Stillport, May 17, 1936, was announced in a recent issue of the Daily Ardmoreite.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Neese graduated from Murray State School in May, 1936. Mrs. Neese was very active in all student activities and was majoring in Home Economics. She received special recognition as a physical education student during her second year in college. She was an active member of the Young Women's Christian Association.

Mr. Neese was also interested in all curricular activities. He was a member of the M. club. He plans to teach school. Both Mr. and Mrs. Neese are attending Oklahoma A and M College.

Any Pole Climbing Today Mister?

Hey! Does anybody have a pole that is in need of having someone to climb. The kind of pole will not be considered, for to Robert Lehman, of Sulphur it won't matter as he claims the pole sitting and climbing championship of Murray county. Be it either a greased pole or just a pole of common dimensions, it won't be anything out of the ordinary for the Murray county title holder to shingle right up on a moment's notice.

Lehman gave one of his famous performances last Wednesday afternoon when he shingled up the Aggie flag pole in exactly nothing flat to establish a local record held by Kenneth Young, and to endanger the United States champion pole climber and setter "Shipwreck" Kelly, former fullback on the University of Kentucky football team. Of course the Aggie hope can't have any record recognized by the committee on such methods of pole climbing.

If there are any other pole climbers of merit on the campus it will be well for them to get in prime shape or the Sulphur splash will leave you so far behind in the upward trend, you will think you are the lead.

Says Mr. Lehman of his pole climbing activities, "I enjoy climbing poles, and think it's lots of fun, and I wish the Aggie campus had some tall poles so I could get closer to heaven, than I am now."

Wallflowers

Wallflowers know all see all, hear all and tell all. We are in every hall and room of the Ad building. We are in every hall and room of the dormitories. We are unseen guests at all hen parties, the eager listener at all bull sessions. Wallflowers hear all, know all, and tell all.

The Cadco feminine delegation to dear old Murray seems to be getting more popular every day. We find Rose dividing her time equally among all the boys, we heard her tell her room mate last year that she was not so good to go with anyone. We're not slinging any slurs or anything like that, far be it from us to say anything like that. Lately we've seen her with several of the Madril masculine delegation, Ed. Massey, and Wilson.

Apparently Poppy D. is the forgotten man of the Cadco twins.

First it appeared that he had a little romance with Lorene who, along with Corine's sheik. That was alright, Corine looks just like L. so friend Poppy proceeded with her. Now it seems that the tall, dark, and handsome guitar player of the famous Murray string trio has stolen Corine's heart. Wallflowers hear all and tell all.

More and more of the "perennial bachelors" of last year are venturing out with girl. Poppy has been going to the show and church quite regularly. She's a brownette, works in the kitchen, and her name is Betty. Another blonde, from Broken Bow, attracts George H. ever so often. Hunter has been seen quite regularly with Mr. Crewe's smiling secretary. The campusology class is growing. Hen parties and bull sessions are telling a lot. Wallflowers hear it all.

Milburn Schools Get Building Enrollment Increase Fly Is Leader

The current school year bids to be the greatest in the history of Milburn public schools as an increase in enrollment has caused an expansive curriculum to be installed. Approximately 275 students have enrolled, a substantial increase over the 1935 enrollment.

W. A. Fly, formerly superintendent of Hugo public schools will head the Milburn schools for the second time in as many years, and will have C. J. Pierce, to help as principal and athletic coach. Last winter Milburn had one of the best basketball teams in Johnston county, finishing second only to the strong Mill Creek Bulldogs in the annual county race.

A new Community House has been built by the W.P.A. who supplied the labor, while the community was in on the furnishing of materials. It was a needed move for the town, and the school system, as only one gymnasium has been available in Johnston county, and that one being centrally located at Thiboumpe. The new venture will enable the Milburn schools to better their athletic standards, and will give the citizens of that township a permanent meeting place, where they can discuss all their functions, which demand a comfortable hall for such meetings as may arise in the near future.

Besides Mr. Fly and Pierce, the following teachers are connected with the school: Mrs. Clay Anderson, English; Miss Vinnie Creecy, math and latin; Miss Esther Pearl Halbrook, home economics and seventh and eighth grade work; Mrs. O. J. Skillers, fifth and sixth grades; Miss Birdie Sparks, third and fourth grades, and Mrs. Kate Tiner, primary grades.

The Milburn school board is composed of N. M. Sou, clerk; O. E. Sipes and J. A. Murk, members.

Eastern team.

Eastern will display a razzle-dazzle brand of football to the old grid and fans, for they use a very intricate shift that keeps things really hustling all the game, and at times they shoot the works before the opposition has any idea of their snap signal. But after being routed by such methods, Murray will likely go into the game with their fangs out, and give their best to vindicate themselves for the loss in 1935 that left them in a three way tie for the conference title, which they would have copped had it not been for the pesky Mountaineers.

Murray will not enter the game as the favorites, but is accorded an even chance of showing the old grads that they can play football yet. The Aggies will hinge 100 per cent on all their functions, which demand a comfortable hall for such meetings as may arise in the near future.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR HOME-COMING Armory-Gymnasium Ready For Dedication

National Guard, W.P.A. Officials To Open Building

Everything Is To Be Ready Next Monday, Says Wigington

Dedication services for the new Murray armory which will bring to the campus Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett, Brigadier General, W. S. Key, commander of the 4th division of the national guard, and other high ranking national guard officials, according to word received by Lieutenant Hall, commanding the Murray guard unit, are set for some time next week.

The exact date of the dedication services depends on the time of completion of the work. Mr. Hall stated. The work, according to Superintendent Arthur Wigington, will be completed not later than the 26th.

W. P. A. officials including Mr. George Van Noy, district director from Ardmore plan to participate in the dedication services, according to Superintendent Wigington. It is also possible that Governor Marland may be present for the ceremonies as he has previously expressed a desire to participate if circumstances permit, Wigington said.

Completion of the Murray project will be the first unit of the largest single class of projects undertaken by the W. P. A. in the nation, the armory building program being, as a separate class, the largest one that the W. P. A. undertook.

Definite assurance has been given by Superintendent Wigington and by Foreman Reed that the Murray project will be the first of the 51 projects undertaken in Oklahoma to be completed, and also the first in any state of the union.

The only possible item that may not be completed, it is stated, is the sanding of the auditorium floors. This may be completed if machinery is received in time and work progresses as expected. However, failure to have this completed will not interfere with the dedication ceremonies, it is pointed out.

Guardsmen Take Quota of Recruits

Equipment Ready for Full Program of Training

Seven Recruits

With the armory nearing completion national guard activity on the campus is higher than in past years, according to the unit's commander, First Lieutenant Clyde Smith. The unit will contain 25 members and at the present time there are 24 members, with the other existing vacancies to be filled in the very near future.

A wider program will be launched by the Murray unit when the armory is fully completed. A rifle range will be accessible to the guard members. In fact, the building will accommodate most any type of service.

Seven new members of the unit are: Bill Palmer, Haskell; Ed Smith, Muskogee; C. M. T. C. service; Hayden Morgan, Tahamingo; C. M. T. C. service; Glenn Baileum, Henryetta, no experience; Owen Murray, St. Louis, Oklahoma, no experience; and Charles Chasot, Ravia, no experience.

We're Expecting 'Em

Where are those Aggie captives of the past decade? Will they be on the sidelines, and in spirit with Captain Ed Alsop and Co-captain John Davenport when Murray meets Eastern in the annual Homecoming battle, October 30. Alsop and Davenport will be out there leading and fighting for the blue and white clad team along with their teammates. There has been some great captains in the past, and we wonder if the 1936 team will emulate that cavalry of Aggie spirits that has gone on as a huge vanguard of victory marches.

Students on the campus will have their eyes on you Aggies, and will be for you to the very bottom of their hearts, as you battle the Mountainers.

Here they are those valiant generals of the gridiron who have passed on in a blaze of football glory to another field, and they will be rooting for you to win wherever they may be?

Miss Van Noy to Sponsor Phi Theta

Language Teacher to Take over Leadership of Honor Society

Miss La Joy Van Noy, instructor in modern languages and social science, has been named as faculty sponsor for Phi Theta Kappa, national honor society, succeeding Miss Breedlove who has been in charge of the organization since its establishment here.

Miss Van Noy, herself a member of the organization in her undergraduate days, has been closely associated with the organization for the past three years.

First pledging services for this year will be held shortly after the end of the 12th week of school, Miss Van Noy announced. Prior to that service no particular activity of the organization is planned, Miss Van Noy stated.

Phi Rho's to Debate on Meaning of "Industry"

Just what is "industry"? Members of the Murray debate team would like to know. The question this year announced by the National Association of Phi Rho Psi is, "Resolved that Congress shall be employed to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry." Old members of the debate squad, including: Priser Hickman, Myron Pritchyn, Heber Grundy and Orville Johnson, seem to agree on what constitutes a minimum wage and maximum hours, but a definition of industry promises to become an issue, according to opinions expressed by debaters.

A schedule of practice debates is being arranged with nearby colleges, and it is expected that the Murray debaters will enter the Southeastern meet in the spring. The original plan for practice debates in high schools in this section has been abandoned, it was announced.

Texas Teacher Joins Faculty

Miss Mary Sue Carllock Takes over Work in English

Texas Graduate to

Miss Mary Sue Carllock of Honey Grove, Texas, began work last Monday as English instructor of Murray State School of Agriculture. Taking the place formerly filled by Miss Mary Louise Breedlove.

Miss Carllock has a B.A. degree from Southern Methodist university at Dallas, and a M.A. from Texas university of Austin, both degrees being in English. Miss Carllock did further work the past summer at the University of Colorado toward a Doctor's degree.

Miss Carllock was a former instructor in the high school at Honey Grove, Texas. Miss Carllock says that Murray has one of the prettiest junior college campuses that she has seen.

Freshmen Lead Way On Honor Roll, 39 Placing

Our yearling class, taking 39 out of 60 places on the honor roll for the first six week period, seemed to have unshared considerable quality out of their great quantity, a hurried check of examination reports made last Friday indicated. Sophomores scored with 21 B averages or better.

As usual with the first period, many inconsistencies were revealed by the quizzes, several of the students scoring fairly high in three or four courses and showing near failing grades in their remaining courses.

Highest individual scoring seems to have been made by Delroy Reid, agricultural student from Kenefee, who turned in 6 A's and a B, and Coby Ray, an arts and science student from Hugo, scored 5 A's and a B.

Most of the sophomores who are not newcomers on the honor roll, seemed to have found their way around again, with Leta Armstrong, arts and science student from Midburn showing the way with 5 A's and a B in 16-hours of work. George Woodmore, arts and science student from Manisac came in second with 5 A's and a C for 17-hours work.

A. & M. to Celebrate "Golden Jubilee"

At a recent meeting of the state board of agriculture it was decided to celebrate the 50th anniversary of opening of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college in 1914.

M. C. Bennett, president of the college was authorized to appoint a committee of faculty members and alumni to arrange for a suitable commemoration.

Doctor Bennett said the board decided upon the celebration in order to allow plenty of time for preparations. The school opened its doors on December 14, 1891.

Faculty appointments at A. and M. approved include: Hilton M. Briggs, assistant professor of animal husbandry. He holds a B.S. degree from Iowa State college of Ames, Iowa, M.S. from North Dakota State Agricultural college, and has worked on his Ph.D. at Cornell university.

Other named were Julian Vonder Lancken, instructor of architecture; John W. Conner, instructor in civil engineering; Vera Jones, associate professor of education.

With several laboratory exercises and other reports not yet checked it is possible that several more students may qualify for a B average, the registrars office pointed out. Requirements for honor roll rating are an average of B or better with no grade below C and no incomplete grades listed.

Students averaging B or better for the first six-week period are: Leta Armstrong, Midburn; Ross Braudertick, Caddo; Woodrow Berthill, Okmulgee; Frank Barritt, Seminole; Lola Berry, Tahamingo; Kathleen Bromley, Healdton; Irma Bailey, Wright City; Sylvia Craig, Snyder; Charles Chasot, Ravia; Inez Chapman, Tuskahoma; Paul Clayton, Hefner.

Mildred Davis, Benell; Thomas Edmonds, Coleman; Frank Eady, Dundee; Anita Ehrhart, Midburn; Marie Fox, Kenefee; Duane Hunter, McAlester; Frank Harmon, Porum; Fern Harvey, Idabel; Doris Heard, Springtown; Priser Hickman, Lehigh; George Hirt, St. Louis; Margaret Junkapillar, Broken Bow; Lester Johnson, Ravia; Geneva Langston, Kingfisher; Clover Loud, Muskogee; Dilton High; Robert Lehn.

Soph Candidate Takes Slight Lead in Queen's Race

In First Week of Bidding Moore Leads Weathers

Voting Steady

"Babe" Moore, sophomore candidate for football queen, held a slight lead over Beulah Weathers, freshman representative, in ballots received up to last Friday.

Voting while yet a long way from the "hottic" stage, was proceeding at a rate described as encouraging for so early in the race, according to sponsors of the election. The campaign is due to close at 4:30, October 29, John Davenport, M. C. club president announced.

Wilma Moore Wins State 4-H Contest

Home Economics Student Wins Electrolux Trip to Kansas City

Miss Wilma Moore, first year student in home economics, was declared winner of the state wide 4-H club contest in foods at the Oklahoma state fair, according to an announcement recently made by Miss Marie Stone, head of the economic department.

In consequence of her winning the award Miss Moore is to be the guest of the Electrolux company, sponsors of the particular contest, at the Kansas City Fall Stock Show and Exhibition this week and in addition has been awarded a family sized Electrolux refrigerator.

Miss Moore is a graduate of Hickory high school and has been engaged in 4-H club work for the past seven years, being an active member of the Murray County Association of Clubs. In school she is majoring in home economics, planning a career as a home demonstration agent.

The award of which Miss Moore is winner is offered annually to the winning 4-H club girl in a state-wide contest. Miss Moore, a consistent place winner in state exhibits, has never before competed for the refrigerator company's prize.

Ball Game, Dance Features Of Day

Armory - Gymnasium to Receive Student Dedication

On Friday, October 30, if present indications are to be relied upon the Murray State school will have on its best bud and tucker to greet the returning greats and near greats of past years.

Starting with a football game in the afternoon between our much abused Aggies and the bustling Wilburton Mountainers, the team which in times past supplied Murray followers with the greatest football thrill of all times, the school in general will have out the glad hand.

In the evening, with a fitting climax for the occasion the old-timers will be introduced to our new armory-gymnasium, which is now assured will be ready for the Homecoming dance which is set as a finale of the Homecoming celebration.

The football game, moved up from 7:45 as originally scheduled to 2:30, was changed to make way for the rest of the entertainment features.

Pop clubs, M. C. club, Y. W. C. A. and other organizations on the campus have arrangements made for special feasting to saluaten the winners of the football game the queen will be crowned.

Alumni to Have Business Meeting

Members of the Murray Alumni will meet after the Northeastern-Aggie football game set for Homecoming day. It has been announced by Dr. Reeves, president of the Alumni association. The meeting will be held in the college auditorium prior to the dance, which will climax a day of old grad activity on the campus.

Plans will be made at the meeting for things to occur in the future, and will afford alumni a good opportunity of meeting teachers and telling all the stories they know on one another.

Legion Post To Present Pageant

"Memories of 1918," a World war pageant will be presented by the Tahamingo Legion post in the Murray armory, Armistice day. Characters will be made up of legionnaires, Murray students and local high school students.

The program, led by Superintendent J. D. Dunlap, commander of the local post, will end with a brief prayer at 11 o'clock, for the boys who stayed in foreign fields.

Following the pageant will be a parade in the afternoon. All organizations such as the national guard, American legion and auxiliary, Lions, Daughters of Tahamingo, Gold Star Mothers, Boy Scouts, both the Murray and high school bands and pep squads are invited to participate in the parade.

The parade will form at the Legion hut about forty minutes before the ball game and then parade down Main street and on to Murray field where the Aggies will play Northeastern Junior college of Miami in the Armistice day football game.

The pageant, as arranged by the Legion post, will consist of music and readings reminiscent of war days. The cast made up of legionnaires, members of the auxiliary, and students from the college and public schools will play the parts of sailors, soldiers, and Red Cross nurses.

Honor

By LETA COWEN

In the day when the cavalier dominated, there was little, if any, sense of right and wrong. Each man worked for himself, fought for himself, lived for himself. What he wanted, that he took, even though he was obliged to commit murder to get it. In this glorious twentieth century with its high ideals and altruistic spirit, there are some who still persist in retaining the tactics of the cavalier. They strive to attain the desired end, and quite regardless of the pain that such a course may cause others. This is true in all walks of life. It can be seen even in childhood. Many a student contends for honors in a way that is not at all in keeping with that true sense of fairness which his school endeavorers to inculcate in all of its members.

This type of ethics is quite frequently observed on the gridiron. The rival teams prance out on the field, amid the cheers of numerous friends, determined to win. The players are restless and anxious for the battle to begin. Each team wants to see what the other can do. Does each team want to win fairly and squarely, without any hint of foul means? As a team yes; individually, we regret to say, this is not always true. Sometimes a player desires the glory of victory more than the satisfaction of knowing that he played fairly.

A football team is a machine. Every part must work in perfect harmony with every other part. Each man has a place to fill and an opponent to tackle. Perhaps one of these opponents is playing the most important role. He is the most formidable man on the opposing team. Because of superior training in the game, should he be the center? Should he be forced to play against combination? No, it is the duty of every player to stop him, but it is not the team's duty to combine against him and make him the focus of their combined efforts. The fact that he is a good player does not mean that he should be treated unfairly. However, some gridironers do resort to "doubleing up" on a man when they see that he is a more scientific force than they. Their idea is to injure him or in some other way force him out of the game.

Is this football? Does the score card in such a game tell the honest truth? Is a game won in this way something which to be proud of? Does it show the superiority of the winning team? No, it shows that this team's player gives victory, fair or otherwise, more than honor and clean play.

Teams take great pride in winning, but they do not always take much pride in losing. Many of them believe that victory overloads conscience. If a game is won fairly, every man on the winning team knows it, even though the unsatisfied may not. However, most of the time the world does know and points a silent accusing finger from which the guilty team always shrinks.

Boys, it isn't whether you won or lost, but how you played the game. That's the question of infinite importance. How did I play the game? Did I play fairly? Did I envy my opponent's ability or did I admire it and silently applaud him for his splendid sportsmanship? This is the thing that counts most on the gridiron, in the classroom, and in every phase of life. When the last game has ended and the final whistle has blown, the Great Referee of all games will not ask if you won or lost, but how you played the game.

Library Books

By "PETE" ALSTON

Bands of amateur "executions" are the library. The library is a student institution for our benefit, and should be treated as you would like to be treated if you were a librarian. Every day of the school session Mrs. Fowler, our librarian, is seen scurrying here and there looking for books that have been checked out, but that a neglectful student has failed to check in. If you must keep books for a lengthy bit of usage, re-check the book.

The books in the library have been used, some of them, for a number of years, and are expected to serve the same useful purpose for many years to come. Students are asked to take the same care of library books, as you would if they belonged to you. For instance, use a piece of cardboard for a marker in keeping place, instead of "dog-eared" the pages. Our library can be made into a much better student institution, if every Murray student will give their cooperation to Mrs. Fowler who is for us one hundred per cent.

Your Campus

By "PETE" ALSTON

Students have been asked from time to time during the past six weeks to use the walk that leads from dormitory to dormitory, and from each dormitory to the administration building. Our campus has been adjusted one of the most beautiful in Oklahoma, and can be more beautiful if you will do your part by keeping on the walks, even though it may cost you a few extra steps.

Flowers near the main entrance of the administration building have been given little or no care by many students, who congregate there between classes, and in the mornings before class sessions. No campus can be made into a thing of beauty without the whole-hearted support of the student body. An appeal is made to you to take the walks and help make our campus the best in Oklahoma.

October History

By FRANCES BROWN

One hundred and fifty-nine years ago, on October 17, General Brogden, an Englishman, surrendered his army to General Oates, an officer in the Continental Army, during the battle of Saratoga. It had been the plan of the English to drive a wedge between the New England states away from the other colonies. Brogden, unable to withstand the attack from the American, was forced to "give way" to General Oates.

The battle of Saratoga has been placed among the fifteen decisive battles of the world's history.

If this battle had been won by the English, we would probably still be under the rule of the British.

An Oates and his men fought in the battle that was called the "turning point of the Revolutionary War," so let us carry on the fight for higher standards, and strive for a better nation.

News Grist

Liquor consumption has been going up steadily since repeal, with the result that some eight billion has been spent on alcoholic drink in the forty months since liquor was legalized, reports a Chicago branch of American Business Men's Research Foundation.

A detailed study of the economic side of the repeal has been made on the basis of United States Bureau of Internal Revenue figures by F. B. I. Squires, research director of the foundation. Mr. Squires' conclusion is that a vast amount of money is being spent, which otherwise would have been spent for legitimate purposes.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, old age pension plan originator, said Wednesday he was confident William Lemke, national union party presidential candidate, would win when Townsend said he believed neither Roosevelt nor Landon could receive a majority and Lemke would win as a compromise candidate when the election was thrown into the hands of representatives.

The Pappas of Los Angeles Heights, a suburban school of San Antonio, Texas, recently got a new deal, when they decided to inaugurate the use of the system of honor roll which will be used in grades above the fourth, and one of its main objectives is to eliminate homework for students. Other new deal aspects was to create a manual arts class for girls, and some economic department for boys.

Canon, Ohio high school's football team lost its co-captain recently when lightning struck players in a huddle, killing Don Correll and injuring eleven others, including two coaches.

The coach called for the team to run only two more plays when the fatal flash came, scattering the players all over the practice field. Head Coach Robinson said that he had no "idea of lightning."

A sudden outburst of light in the bright northern star Gamma Cassiopeia, claimed the attention of astronomers the world over recently, when it made a sudden appearance.

Intensely studied by America's observatories because of its remarkable optical properties and anticipated for the past century, the variability of the star flared brightly early last Monday morning.

When refrigerator salesmen together again in Atlantic City, they praise of their number one man, they've got to chant up a better one than "Why, he'd sell ice boxes in Alaska."

This old phrase is getting to be a pretty lame commendation, Juneau residents say.

A recent census in Juneau, a town of 2,000, showed that more than one thousand electric refrigerators were in use by Alaskan housewives.

With The Alumni

THELMA LAMKIN, Editor

We look around the campus and miss some of the old faces that really should be here. From time to time we are visited by some of these former Murray Aggies, and always welcome them to our school. They have a chance to become acquainted with the new students we have this year, and let the new students see what fine graduates Murray has had in previous years.

We have had several visitors already this season, among which we find the names of several of the last year's football players—Byrd Young, and Woodie Byrd brought the report that Virginia Thompson, enrolled at East Central where he is attending school.

Archie Ferris, an old graduate of this school, was here last week. He is an "Old Cowhand" on a ranch between Strawn and Atoka. DeLois Alsop is a frequent visitor to her old stomping ground, and we are planning on seeing still more of her, for she is still in Murray. Ralph Stobough, a graduate of 1912, was down Sunday to visit his daughter, Betty, who is attending Murray this year. His son, Ralph Stobough, Jr. was down a few weeks ago. We understand he was visiting his sister, also. He is attending A. M. and M. this year. Jack Reid, one of the student cooks of last year, is attending Dallas Central High School.

Roselle, "Sally" Wolfe was on the campus for a short time about two weeks ago. We hear she is attending Southwestern this year. There are a lot of former Murray Aggies going to Southwestern this year, among them are Bill Crumble, Myrtle Coffey, last year's end, and Marie Valls, and Lou Ella Riffe. Monette and Lucille were guests of the campus last week end, and Marie has been on the campus all ready this year. We are looking forward to seeing from several others who are going to school in Durant for the latest report says there is thirty-nine former students there this year.

Kathryn Brouillard Mayes was a visitor here last Friday. She and her husband, Albert Mayes, are both graduates of Murray, and are now living in Wapawucka.

Reinhold Williams, former student is head of the WPA for McCurtain county this year. Charles Williams, major of last year, is student manager of last year. He is married now, and is residing at Little Rock, with her husband Mr. Phillips.

LOW PECAN CROP EXPECTED FOR 1937

Mr. D. C. Moore, extension horticulturist, says that while years of low pecan production usually follow years of high production, statistics of the U. S. Bureau of agricultural economics reveal that a year of high production does not necessarily follow one of low production.

The freeze in April of 1936 and the dry summer will undoubtedly affect pecan production in 1937. Trees may have been killed or so badly injured that their production could not be expected. But it is reasonable to expect a much better crop in 1937 than the extremely low crop of pecans in 1936, thinks Moore.

Hunkapillar: (with ball near the goal): "Pat! Don't look now, but I think we are being followed."

INTERIOR DECORATION
I've taken up the study of
A subject new to me.
It deals with fixing up a home,
Oh, so attractively.

It shows pictures should be here
Instead of over there;
The furniture on bias lines
Must be put on the square.

I've concentrated many hours
On windows, floors, and walls;
And color schemes for every thing
From dining room to halls.

After days of thought I find
I've just one plan in view
It's one large chair in any room,
Fulfilled by me and you.

MY FRIENDS
My friends are little lamps to me,
Who aid me all the way.
I try to prove my love by faith,
And keep their loving ray.

Their radiance is so very dear
Around my soul it winds about;
And if I love a cherished one
A little lamp goes out.

The lot in our fast pace,
Send us to rest the vain.

Let America lose the race,

AGGIES TAKE CONNORS 7-6 TO KEEP CONFERENCE SLATE CLEAN

Hunkapillar Goes Over For Counter In Third Period.

CONNORS YIELDS LOOP LEAD.

After trailing the Connor Aggies for three full quarters C. J. Powell's Murray Aggies threw off their scoring shackles long enough Saturday afternoon to come from behind and win a 7 to 6 victory over a valiant Connor team.

During a hectic first half Connor dominated all phases of play, but Murray refused to be shoved all over the field, and in the second half they came out with blood in their eyes and with burly Pat Smith doing the best line plunging of the season along with the fact that Connor's line was suffering under his crushing drives, set the stage for Owl Hunkapillar's 10-yard dash, that carried him over for the first 1936 Aggie touchdown, plus a bullet pass to Kenneth Stice for the extra point, which was the deciding point of the hotly-contested battle.

The final gun deprived the Powell coached eleven of another score as they were headed with all sails set for the pay dirt region. Murray's hard charging line was in fine fettle and was clicking so well that the Warner team's vaunted pass attack was a real flop. A switch to Covington and Ethlich, from Dobbs and Davernport in the Aggie line, made it a busy afternoon for the up-state boys who were on top of the Oklahoma Junior College league.

A large crowd of fans from Checotah, Muskogee, and Warner were on hand for the game, and every fan went away thrilled over the outcome of the razzle-dazzle game, that kept them on the go all afternoon as both teams reached a brilliant peak of play, and they never slowed the pace. It was one of the brightest junior college games of the current season, as the Aggies came out of the coliseum to score, and each team was coached Connor eleven out of the conference lead.

Covington, Ethlich, Stice, Smith, Alsop, Wiley and Hunkapillar led the Murray offense, while the Connor team gave a very good account of themselves.

TISH HIGH WINS

With Jack Brown going on a one-man scoring spree, the rejuvenated Tishomingo high school Indians came to life long enough to soundly spank a hard fighting Healdton team by a 25 to 6 score, on Bulldog home turf.

Healdton scored all the Indian touchdowns and the entire team was shining as they romped through the aidton team before a large crowd on Friday night. The Healdton boys might have averted such an lynch of scores had they not let up the fighting power of the line coach eleven. Several touchdowns by other Indian players featured the contest, which saw the bulldogs play a far different brand of ball from that of a week ago. Every man seemed to do the right thing at the right time, and as a result they wiped out the Indian team very player on the Indian team give a very good account of himself.

The U. S. Naval Academy was opened in October 45. Yale celebrated last Saturday by drubbing the tars out of it.

Skinny Scans The Horizon

By "SKINNY" STICE

The Aggie trip to Chillicothe was a flop one way and a huge success another way. We left the campus at 7:30 with Coach Powell at the wheel, and with him at the wheel, Captain Ed Alsop proved to be equally as good a song leader as was Kenneth Young in 1935. We sang all the way to Seminole, where we disposed of Harold Bradley, who was injured in a recent practice drill. In Oklahoma City we ate lunch, and Dobbs was the first to find both tub when he asked the driver to stop at the Oklahoma university, with Morris White carrying a large portion of the load.

Old John Fain in the Southwestern conference is turning a wonderful eye toward Texas A. & M. who has won two straight games, 7-0, and promise to win more. The Aggie look like a threat in the Southwestern conference this year.

Much credit must be given Harold (Red) Weissinger and Bob D'Arcy Beams for the success of the Oklahoma Junior College conference. These two mentors are considered deans of the conference and they both have long service records.

AGGIE HOME-COMING RIVALS IN MURRAY'S "HALL OF FAME"

Easterners' Encounter of 1927 Rated as All-Time High

Burriss Was Star

What was the greatest football victory ever won by Murray? Well, that particular question is closed case here, as every drama store quarterback in this Johnston county town says, "That was the game between Murray and Red Weissinger's 1927 Eastern Oklahoma Junior College Mountaineers was the greatest and most colorful." Hoars Drug store, the center of this town's football hot stove league is a veritable fountain of past and present football history, and the battles are re-lived with all the vim and vigor of possible.

Back in 1927 Pat Taylor, former Oklahoma A. & M. star was at the helm of Murray football destinies, and in 1927 men were men and Oklahoma coaches were glad of it. Murray opened the season with a mediocre team, while Eastern with Harold Weissinger, one of Oklahoma Aggie's greatest linemen as coach of the Mountaineers who had in Jim O'Leary, a terror at fullback, as he could pass, punt and run like the very devil on running plays. It is without a doubt the greatest of all Eastern teams under the Weissinger regime.

Thanksgiving day brought the rambling band of headstrong Mountaineers to historic Murray field for their annual get together, and they were favored to take the Eastern team to a standstill until the second quarter when Eastern tackled Calvin Beames (Bob D'Arcy's brother) behind his own line for a two point lead, which they held until the fourth quarter. After four minutes of play in the fourth period "Binks" Burriss and "Swie" Holliday took the situation in hand and on a shift play, Burriss, a punter back slipped up on the line, and immediately after the snap off ball with full steam to the touch, while lumbering "Swie" Holliday shot the rabbit back a pass over the head of O'Leary for the winning marker. The final score being 6 to 2.

Eastern's senior victory being began to rain passes all over the field, throwing thirteen (13) in a row with eight (8) of them being completed. The rally was broken up when the mighty "Bink" nose up and intercepted one of Jim O'Leary's passes and from that point to the end of the game it was one point after the other.

The largest crowd ever to attend an Aggie football game was on hand for the game, and they still talk about it, plus being able to tell you practically all of the plays as one great Eastern team, but the day, and as a result the University Prep school eleven, of Tonkawa won the Oklahoma Junior College football title. Following the game Tonkawa officials wired the Murray delegation their best set of wishes for winning the championship for the Mavericks.

Murray's lineup included the following: Smith and Brown, ends; Peak and Womack, tackles; Clark and Stewart, guards; Whitworth, quarterback; Burriss and Beames, halfbacks and Holliday, fullback.

Some of the outstanding players for Eastern were O'Leary, Johnston and Dunlap.

Visitor Speaks On Care Of Eyes

WPA Speaker Says Minor Injuries Need Care

Mrs. Frank Hanks of Durant, W. P. A. lecturer for Southern Oklahoma spoke at the assembly Thursday on "Care of the Eyes" and on general methods of prevention of blindness.

Mrs. Hanks, who has herself been blind from infancy pointed out several precautions to take in case of eye injury or minor ailments of the eyes, declaring that one out of every four school children suffered from impaired vision, while one out of every three high school students were affected similarly.

An interesting feature of Mrs. Hanks' address was the demonstration of reading and writing in braille.

Mrs. Hanks, who is an old personal friend of Mrs. Fowler, Murray librarian was introduced by Mrs. Reynolds of Durant.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. met in the reception room of the Betty Fulton hall Tuesday evening, October 13, to elect a chairman of the program committee and of the social committee. Nellie Dillard from Isabel was elected chairman of the program committee, and Betty Shobough from Tulsa was elected chairman of the social committee. These officers, with the president, Leta Walters, and the secretary, Pauline Fair, comprise the cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. organization.

The president had charge of the devotional after which Esther Sheehan gave a very interesting and uplifting talk, entitled "Today," pointing out that since one has to live only one day at a time, he should make the most of each day.

The sponsor, Miss Stone, was present and talked to the members about the opportunities that were offered in Y. W. C. A. to accomplish worth while things.

The speakers are looking forward with interest to the visit of Miss Eckert, national Y. W. C. A. representative, who has written that she will visit the campus early this fall.

GOALDIGGERS

The Goal Diggers have had several meetings during the past week, ready to plan for their stunt at the Homecoming game next Friday night, in which they will use flash lights in making the "M" while the band makes the "A." They are also planning for a benefit show which they expect to have next Thursday night and several social dances. The dances will start as soon as the gym is completed. According to their sponsor, Miss Shipp, they plan to use the money derived from the show and dances in giving their annual football banquet this fall.

Y. W. C. A. Elects Officers

New officers for the Y. W. C. A. were elected at a business meeting held in the reception room of the girls' dormitory Tuesday evening, October 13. After the business meeting a program was given which consisted of group singing, a talk given by Esther Sheehan and a poem by Myron Fitzhryn.

The following officers were elected: Betty Shobough, chairman of the social committee; Nell Dillard, chairman of the program committee and Mayme Lee Henderson, song leader.

4-H Club Elects

Wallflowers

Wallflowers know all, see all, hear all, and TELL all. We are in every hall and room of the dormitories and the Ad building. We even peep out on the campus and spy on campusoidy classes and labs. We are the unseen guests at every ball session and ten party. We hear all, see all, and tell all.

The talk now seems to be Massey, Massey, and more Massey. It seems that some of the Freshmen can't see through a man and his wife going to the same school. The girls in the dormitory gave him a grand welcome in the reception room of their dormitory the night he came. For her it's the date problem solved, maybe, and we know is what we see and hear.

The little Indian waitress, Owendolyn, seems to be having a harder time with her fellow than any girl in the dorm. She's always complaining that "Trammie" won't fight. He just won't leave brownies and blondes alone. She says that brunettes were made for him. Of course, all we know is what we hear in hen parties. We hear and tell all.

Things were sure lively the week after exams. Nearly everyone went home. For the boys it was cards and town. For the girls it was a good cry. Ootie got so lonely for her twin that nothing would pacify her but grapes. She got them and stopped her crying. Jane W. started crying while waiting tables. She said she just couldn't help it.

Boys, if you want to see how faithful your girl is, take her to school with you. Lovell L. did and found out. Now, Virginia has so much time for Wilbur H., and Ollie that Lovell is left out entirely. He didn't pine long. We hear he's now walking about the campus with Helen (good to the last drop) Maxwell.

We heard our column being talked about the other night and one girl suggested that we get an "eligible girls list." One said that it might include Lois B., Sidney, Laura Jean, Leta, and Katharine V. Jerry Moore is no longer on the proposed list. Vernon changed all that. All we know is what we hear in men parties and bull sessions.

The boy of the week seems to be Ed Vandoe-jiffs' little brother Boyd. Lately we've seen him running around with a varied bunch of girls. We heard a number of them say he was alright.

Diana High's little blonde is a

BARRINGER VISITS CAMPUS

Fred Barringer, president of the M club last semester in 1934, and the first semester of 1935, was a recent visitor on the Aggie campus. He came here to see the Ad high school Cougars play the Tishomingo high school Indians.

Barringer while in school here was the spearhead of every activity the Murray M club undertook and was partly responsible for the success of every drive put on by the club. He was a tireless worker and very seldom did he ever give up, even though the venture seemed to many a lost cause, but not Barringer.

Former Students 'Back Home'

Several former Murray college students were back home for a visit last week-end. They were Ed Vandegriff, Bob Armstrong, Noble Birmingham, and Heribell Rice.

high spirits again. She doesn't look quite right when the bride of Altus is with someone else. He can't seem to make up his mind. She has a cute little Spanish love verse that she will quote to a select few.

The other night we heard Ollie say that he thought he would compose a little song with a title something like "Just you and I and the Rain."

Jaunita C. would be the love interest, and the song would be in his memory she went home. He and Katherine might be "Just you and I and the Rain" man too, if what Ms. Bingham said is right. We heard her complaining that she just couldn't make them understand a thing.

The "Sun's Darkest Moment" of he week goes to Red Archibald, someone said Thelma was trifling in him when she went home. Red asked if she were and she let him know that she was trifling while at school.

From several of the boys who were at the Centennial we learned that there is a pile in Tulsa called "Solitaire Springs." McIntyre's gal wanted to climb up on his shoulder so she could see what he looked like. The way Curtis H. talks he must have tried to get something started with his girl, "I've known it what we hear and see it."

AGGIES SMASH EASTERN IN HOME-COMING TILT

Murray Attack Nets Six Touchdown Win For Old Grads

Aggies Control Air

Displaying a rejuvenated brand of football the Murray Aggies soundly trounced the hard fighting Eastern Oklahoma Mountaineers 10 to 13, Friday afternoon on Murray field to make it a perfect homecoming occasion, for a large crowd of Aggie old timers and followers near the end of the first period.

Eastern took the lead in the first minute of play when Tecumseh shot a 13-yard pass to Southard Mountain's left end who was over the goal line. Sawyer's try for extra point was no good on an attempted place kick. Murray came back fighting but did not get their offensive to clicking until when two runs by Wylie and Hunkapillar rolled up 55 yards, putting the ball on the 3-yard line, from which point Woodrow Wylie drove through right-tackle for the tying score. Bryan's placekick was wide as the wind was against him.

In the second period Murray unleashed its heavy artillery to run time. Hunkapillar and Stice scoring touchdowns, with Bryant adding both points by placement. Hunkapillar's score came when he received some effective blocking from his mates, plus some artful dodging on his part. A pass from Wylie was a sailing pass to him in the clear. The half ended with the score 20 to 6.

The third quarter was a flurry of plays called back by Referee "Doc" Wadley, two of them were good for scores by the Aggies, but were nullified by a holding and clipping penalty. A pass Wylie to Stice, coupled with some more fancy running by Hunkapillar who went over making the count run to 26 to 6. Just before the period ended Pife recovered a blocked

Between halves of the Homecoming football game Friday afternoon petite Beulah Weathers, first year student of Tom, Oklahoma was crowned football queen for 1936, in a very impressive coronation service. Captain Ed Alsup and Co-captain John Davoport, escorted the newly elected queen to the center of the field on the west sideline, and placed her stately crown on the royal head, and bestowed upon her cheek a kiss for good luck, and she, as well as the football team were all rewarded as the Aggies presented her with a round 40 to 12 victory.

"If you are thinking seriously of embarking in journalism," said Mr. Herbert J. Pate in an assembly address last Thursday, "do so. But my advice to you is to resist the urge if you possibly can."

Mr. Pate, editor of newspapers in Tishomingo and Madill, spoke at a program arranged by the Journalism club, discussing journalism as a career, with the various divisions of related endeavors that it included.

Mr. Pate, introduced by chief editor Alston, as a man who is expected to become a leader in journalism affairs of the state was making his first appearance before a Murray audience. WPA Speaker Says Minor Injuries Need Care

Mrs. Frank Hanks of Durant, W. P. A. lecturer for Southern Oklahoma spoke on the assembly Thursday on "Care of the Eyes and on general methods of prevention of blindness."

Mrs. Hanks, who has herself been blind from injury pointed out several simple precautions to take in case of eye injury or minor ailments of the eyes, declaring that one out of every four school children suffered from impaired vision, while one out of every three high school students were affected similarly.

An interesting feature of Mrs. Hanks' address was the demonstration of reading and writing in braille.

Mrs. Hanks, who is an old personal friend of Mrs. Fowler, Murray librarian, was introduced by Mrs. Reynolds of Durant.

Nellie Dillard from Idabel was elected chairman of the program committee, and Betty Stobaugh from Tulsa was elected chairman of the social committee. These officers, with the president, Letta Walters, and the secretary, Pauline Fair, comprise the cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. organization.

The president had charge of the devotional after which Esther Sheehan gave a very interesting and uplifting talk, entitled, "Today," pointing out that although she has to live only one day at a time, she should make the most of each day.

The sponsor, Miss Stone, was present and talked to the members about the opportunities that were offered in the Y. W. C. A. to accomplish their whole lives. The members are looking forward to the Y. W. C. A. organization.

GOALDIGGERS

The Goal Diggers have had several meetings during the past two weeks to plan for their stunt at the Homecoming game next Friday night, in which they will use flashlights in making the "X" while the band makes the "A." They are also planning for a benefit show which they expect to have next Thursday night and several co-ed dances. The dances will start as soon as the gym is completed. According to their sponsor, Miss Ship, they plan to use the money derived from the show and dances in giving their annual football banquet this fall.

Y. W. C. A. Elects Officers

Wallflowers

Wallflowers know all, see all, hear all, and TELL all. We are in every hall and room of the dormitories and the Ad building. We even peep out on the campus and spy on campusology classes and labs. We are the unseen guests at every ball session and hen party. We hear all, see all, and tell all.

The talk now seems to be Massey, Massey, and more Massey. It seems that some of the freshmen can't see through a man and his wife going to the same school. The girls in the dormitory gave him a grand welcome in the reception room of their dormitory the night of Massey. For her it's the date problem solved, maybe. All we know is what we see and hear. The little Indian waitress, Gwendolyn, seems to be having a harder time with her fellow than any girl in the dorm. She's always complaining that "Trammel won't do right. He just won't leave brownies and blondes alone. She says that brunettes were made for him. Of course, all we know is what we hear in hen parties. We hear and tell all.

Things were sure lonely the week after class. Nearly everyone went home. For the boys it was cards and town. For the girls it was a good cry. Corine got so homesick for her twin that nothing would pacify her but grapes. She got up and stopped her crying. Jane W. started crying while waiting tables. She said she just couldn't help it.

Boys, if you want to see how faithful your girl is, take her to school with you. Lovell L. did and found out. Now, Virginia has so much time for Wilbur H. and Ollie that Lovell is left out entirely. He didn't pine long. We hear he's now walking about the campus with Helen (good to the last drop) Maxwell.

We heard our column being talked about the other night and one girl suggested that we get an "eligible girls' list. One said that it might include Letta B. Sider, Laura Jean, Letta, and Katharine J. Jerry Moore is no longer on the proposed list. Vernon changed all that. All we know is what we hear in hen parties and bull sessions.

The boy of the week seems to be Ed Vandergriets' little brother, Boyd. Lately we've seen him running around with a varied bunch of girls. We heard a number of say he was straight. Dixon High's little blonde is

BARRINGER VISITS CAMPUS

Fred Barringer, president of the M. H. D. the last semester in 1934, and the first semester of 1935, was a recent visitor on the Aggie campus. He came here to see the Ada high school Cougars play the Tahomango high school Indians.

Barringer while in school was the quarterback of every activity of the Murray M club undertook and was partly responsible for the success of every drive put on by the club. He was a tireless worker and very seldom did he ever give up, even though the venture seemed to many a lost cause, but not Barringer.

Former Students' Back Home Several former Murray college students were back home for a visit last week-end. They were Ed Vandergrieff, Bob Armstrong, Noble Birmingham, and Hershel Bice.

Noble, who is a candidate for quarterback at Oklahoma A. & M. this year, failed to make the trip to Durant, and came home to visit his parents.

high spirits again. She doesn't look quite right when the pride of Altus is with someone else. He can't seem to make up his mind. She has a cute little Spanish love verse that she will quote to a select few.

The other night we heard Ollie say that he thought he would compose a little song with a title something like, "Just you and I and the Rain." Juanita C. would be the love interest, and the song would be in memory of the Paris game. Ed and Katharine might be "Just You and I and the Rain" fans too, if what Ms Bingham said is right. We heard her complain that she just couldn't make them understand a thing.

The "Life's Darkest Moment" he week goes to Red Archibald. Someone said "Thelma was trifling in him when she went home. Red makes it worse and she let him know that she was trifling while at school.

From several of the boys who went to the Centennial we learn that there is a place in Texas called Sulphur Springs. McIntire got wanted to climb up on his shoulder so she could see what he looked like. The way Curtis H. says he must have tried to get something started with his girl, we know is what we hear and tell all.

Wallflowers know all, see all, hear all, and tell all. We are in every hall and room of the dormitories and the Ad building. We are the unseen guests at every ball session and hen party. We see all, hear all, know all, and TELL all.

Aggies Control Air

Displaying a rejuvenated brand of football the hard fighting Murray Aggies trounced the Eastern Oklahoma Mountaineers 46 to 13, Friday afternoon on Murray field to make it a perfect homecoming occasion for a large crowd of Aggie old timers and followers. Eastern took the lead in the first minute of play when Tecumseh shot a 13-yard pass to Southard Mountaineer's left end who was over the goal line. Sawyer's try for extra point was not good on an attempted place kick. Murray came back fighting but did not get their offensive to clicking until near the end of the first period, when two runs by Wylie and Hunkapillar rolled up 36 yards, putting the ball on the 3-yard line, from which point Woodrow Wylie drove through right-tackle for the tying score. Bryant's placekick was wide as the wild was against him.

In the second period Murray unleashed its heavy artillery to run the tally to 20 to nothing at half-time. Hunkapillar and Stice scoring touchdowns, with Bryant adding both points by placement. Hunkapillar's score came when he received some effective blocking from his mates, plus some artful dodging on his part. A pass from Wylie to Stice over the goal line accounted for the Stice score. It was a sailing pass to him in the clear. The half ended with the score 20 to 6.

The third quarter was a flurry of plays called back by Referee "Doc" Wadley, two of them were good for scores by the Aggies, but were nullified by a holding and clipping penalty. A pass Wylie to Stice, coupled with some more fancy running by Hunkapillar who went over making the count run to 28 to 6. Just before the period ended Fife recovered a blocked

Final Drive
Is Honor Student

Between halves of the Homecoming football game Friday afternoon petite Beulah Weathers, first year student of Tom, Oklahoma was crowned football queen for 1936, in a very impressive coronation service. Captain Ed Alsup and Co-captain John Davemport, escorted the newly elected queen to the center of the field on the west sideline, and placed her stately crown on the royal head, and bestowed upon her cheek a kiss for good luck, and she, as well as the football team were all rewarded as the Aggies presented her with a rousing 40 to 13 victory.

The contest for the queenship ended at 12:45 Friday afternoon, and was a fairly hot contest, but was far below that of past years. The race was not won until the final minutes of the hectic race, as the Fresh students rallied sufficiently to overcome the early lead maintained by Babe Moore, Sophomore candidate, from Ardmore.

Mis Weathers is an Arts and Science student, was named on the honor roll for the first six-weeks, and is actively engaged in several campus organizations. In her high school days, she was named all-Klamath Valley basketball conference side-center two years in succession, being one of the best in her section of the state.

"Get Transcripts"
Warns Registrar

Many students who are attending Murray have failed yet in an attempt to have their former high school principals send their transcripts to Mr. Horne, registrar of the college.

The transcripts are important, and the lax rule that is prevailing in getting them in is causing the list to grow. All students who have yet to get them, are urged to write their former school, and have them mailed to the registrar's office at once, as they will cause many unnecessary delays in the making out of grade cards, and other inter-office irregularities.

Mr. Horne has been very meticulous about this matter, and the high school's involved in the matter should take notice, and forward student transcripts.

A fourth event will be staged for the best mare and foal with awards for places the same as for the individual foals. A champion exhibit will be selected from three classes entered.

The meet started in 1932 by the school for the purpose of building up interest in better livestock, a practice attracting steadily increasing interest of stock men and farmers of the district.

ARMISTICE

BY THOMAS EDMONDS

One morning before eleven o'clock in the morning of November 11, 1918, the long battle front still shook with the deafening roar of great cannons, the hum of countless rifle bullets, and the rattling put-puff of machine guns. One minute after that hour a stillness almost of death brooded over the scene, and here and there could be heard the faint happy song of the little birds. The armistice with Germany which had been signed early that morning had gone into effect.

Thus ended the most horrible and war as at an end the lives of those who had been slaughtered upon the horrible battle fields of Europe could not be brought back. Our own beloved America gave up sixty-five thousand of her noble sons in the terrible conflict, with thousands of others maimed for life.

Does war pay? No! War is horrible and gruesome, and it brings death and despaired by all civilized nations. As we commemorate the blessed event of Armistice, may we renew our pledge to do all in our power to banish war from the earth forever.

THE BAND HELPS

Do you fully appreciate your college band? Do you ever think of the time that is spent by each student as they prepare the programs that are really for your benefit? Of course all of you know that the band must begin practicing early in the morning and continue until class time at 4:40.

The band means more to Murray than we probably give them credit for, as they have endeavored to give us the best of their music in every way that they could not possibly be in their regular places. They have attended basketball games, the band is behind every drive that the football team makes. We owe a vote of loyalty to the director, Homer Courtwright, who has had charge of the Aggie band during their modern era. He has worked with them as a unit, and as individuals to improve their technique. Without the band our school would suffer, and with Mr. Courtwright at the helm, they are bound to make rapid strides in the band world.

THE CHURCHES ARE OPEN TO YOU

The doors of the Tahomungo churches are open to you, and have been since the opening of school. Special college services are conducted and college students have been asked to take part in many of their activities, but still there are many who do not go.

Murray students as a whole are very loyal to their churches, but they can be more loyal if they will try to round up those few who go to church services for the simple reason that they care not to go to church. You can learn some of the greater lessons in life's angle by attending the church of your preference.

Tahomungo ministers are cordial in their everlasting welcome to us as they ask us to come forth and share their church services. We have the chance, and can make it 100 per cent in attendance just to show the time and can gain some worthy knowledge that will be applicable to us as we stream through life. Make it a resolution to attend some church in the future.

STATUE OF LIBERTY CELEBRATES

The Statue of Liberty celebrated its 90th birthday Wednesday, October 28, in silence on popular Bedloe Island in New York harbor. The statue was built by money raised by popular subscription in Paris to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the American Revolution, the statue was erected by Bartholdi, shipped to New York in sections, and erected on a special pedestal paid for by American citizens.

Before being shipped to America the huge statue was set up in Paris so that the people of France might see the huge piece of work. When you first enter New York harbor the friendly face of the great masterpiece greets you, many people making the long trip to America have been inspired by the edifice that means much to both America and France.

FREEDOM

Oh, Wind, who fans my restless form at eventide,
 Whence comest thou, and why thy destination?
 You, Roamer of the hills and vales,
 A veritable Vagabond; come, tell me all thy secrets.
 Ah! If you could only realize my heart's desire,
 To run a romping hand in hand with breeze serene;
 Or dash through storms that overpower the done;
 Sweepest, But, no! God, in His great plan,
 Deceives that some must laugh and play while Others plod. Oh, Wind, be kind to Explain!
 Creatures, and we will not begrudge you that which
 No man has ever had - Freedom.

FROM HIM

The mail brings news of barren lands,
 And vast affairs of state,
 And checks and bills and catalogues -
 But such things have to wait,
 Power the time enough for reading them
 When eyes grow weak and dim -
 I'm looking for a letter - - Oh,
 And here it is - -
 From him!

The mail brings word of smag things
 Of Mrb and death and fame,
 Questions on the market,
 And the box come on the same,
 But what's their chance of being read?
 Well, rather less than him.
 For there's a letter, in the box signed,
 "All my love" - -
 From him!

Dictator Joseph Stalin went back to his better recently, in a simple note to the Associated Press Moscow bureau, he asked the world to believe reports that he was dead, and "don't disturb me in the calm of the other world."

The note signed in blue pencil in Stalin's own hand, was in reply to a written query from the Associated Press submitted to the Kremlin October 22, asking if reports that Stalin were dead had been, like those about Mark Twain in another era, "grossly exaggerated."

Colleges from five states will be invited to the college tournament: Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, and Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, and Oklahoma. All of the high schools in Oklahoma will be invited to the high school tournament.

Campus Gossip

Beware of gals - our flashing halfback from Seminole has gone for hitting the fair sex on the neck - for proof, ask Maymie Lee Henderson.

Ah, this backfall alias halfback seems to have started something, as we find Mr. Hunkapillar chewing on our fair post from Broken Bow. Love in bloom again - all it took was a couple of dates with the drawing Texas to put that beautiful love set from Ardmore and Altus respectively together again.

Seniors, our football game will smell as sweet as the looks, as the St. Louis-Kingston flash cramped, and bestowed upon her a box of powder.

Oh! Patre seems to be having a lapse of memory, as he went home last week end, and didn't bring back a bit of news to our beloved editor. It seems that Peter's gal was home from Southeastern.

"It rumored that Bonnie Beck (Graham the petite young gal from Aggie) Calabrier way, received some of the "Gosh" awful letters on the campus, and that the answers are coming over my every time I think oh, it now he was a phine phib low but - - - he has a better job. Oh, yes, our exchange editor has been on his vacation (not knowing our reporter was leaving also). As both of these are gone everything is laid at my feet.

Mr. Day iph you think you have trouble just this time, as my position on my vacation (not knowing our reporter was leaving also). As both of these are gone everything is laid at my feet.

Mr. Bradshaw our triple threat quarterback doesn't seem to adhere to duty of the fair sex, maybe he has one parked away on the hill in Oklahoma City.

Whoops! Look out my dear it's only 30 more days until Christmas and already some of the gay young men are starting to write short letters to his majesty, Santa Claus, for fear that they will not get on the want list, and some of the fair Senator's have their names attached to some of the misses.

Some of the most important expressions are the following: Cooper Powell's letter, Dear Santa: Please send me a quarterback, who has never played guard and two halfbacks, and some of the fair Senator's have their names attached to some of the misses.

Virginia Eales, of Ardmore writes the crocheted beryl, for wanting the kind hearted old gent to bring back all her lost time spent talking to various gents at Aggie football games, and someone to be stuffed in her sock by the name of Lovell. Hearn or Caldwell, but maybe it's someone else.

Pete Alexander wanted all of Wacker's Store so he could really have a best of all it seems that the chief clerk was the main item of his long list that ended with one big thing, and that was to bring to Murray more editors like Lovine Pennington, and more girls like Bonnie Beck Graham.

IF WE PRAIL, WE PRAIL

Mr. Walter Day, Aggieite Tahomungo, Oklahoma

Dear Sir,
 The phirst time in my liphe I blind the typsetting company sends parts to their customers very soon after the order is placed, meaningly they did not understand that I wanted an "ph" and "n", so they only sent the "n". Now I think I'm still lacking in one letter and I'm hoping they will ship the next order as soon as they did the first. My trouble is still hovering over me "out there will be a day."

I'm hoping my last letter con- paper has to put up with. Our paper has plenty of material but we are not able to print the matter. Mr. Bradshaw has hired a seventy-five year older to write our editorial. Now you know anyone at that age has some peculiar ideas all he thinks oph is the Old Age Pension. We must print these but I'm still interest very phast. Secondly our best reporter has quit work. Phost all of these are gone everything is laid at my feet.

Mr. Day iph you think you have trouble just this time, as my position on my vacation (not knowing our reporter was leaving also). As both of these are gone everything is laid at my feet.

George Deer, coming up asked, "Have you any dog poison?"

She said, "No, but you can get it delivered."

Wallflowers

Wallflowers know all, see all, hear all, and TELL all. We are in every hall and room of the Ad building and dormitories. We are the unseen guests at every ball session and hen party; we listen to every heart to heart talk.

We wonder why it is that Clower Babe and Alta Belle always like to lead the line? Is it because they feel that they are responsible enough to keep the line moving, and not have the ones in the back always stopping? Incidentally, Ma Bingham took Headliners' Thelma that she should make a good line leader.

With so many of the boys being called among other things nicknames, some of the freshmen are having a hard time finding out the real names of some of the Murray farmer boys. There is Cadillac C., Speedy James, Pat Roy, and Texe. The other night we saw a letter that Ye Editor of the old Aggiefile had received. Believe it or not he sports the sophisticated moniker of Edwin Forrest, and not Pete. Wallflowers see all and tell all.

We heard Remick say he wanted the jumping kind. Now he's guiding Janet around in Campusology. Cromwell told her rooms. The Trammel would go then Hunkapillar would be heard Hunky telling Bradley all about it. They said he liked Brownettes very well, and in different sizes. For instance, "Mill Creek" is short. "Dixon High" is of medium height.

Wallflowers are in every hall and room of the Ad building. The other day we enjoyed Mr. Patton's English literature class very much. We learned that Mr. Patton sings a melodious voice and let the songs very well. During classes the other day Lucille K. was wearing a little sign on her tie that said, "I can cook. I can sew, I want a husband" written on it. We wonder if she is that bad off. Wallflowers see all and tell all.

It seems to us wallflowers that the boys from downtown who take their own girls to Milburn. Some of the girls from down there are taking it very seriously, and the Murray girls are not here the year round. All we know is what we hear.

What's the matter with Mike Bryant, and in fact quite a number of the football boys. They won't tell just every body, and when they do it's in whispers, and they are usually laughing a lot. Pat said it was a dirty trick that they played on him. Don said he didn't care.

What two little girls were in a huddle with a number of boys in front of the girls' dormitory the other afternoon just before supper. We couldn't see their faces and didn't hear their names. One of them might have been a red head. More and more boys are going to the girls' dormitory Saturday night, "get-together." Even Pat and Mike have taken up dancing. We saw Norma and another girl from downtown leave because they could find no partners. Things are looking bad. And they are both good looking. And while we are talking about girls downtown, there is a rumor that Humphrey has it bad for a candy girl in a store downtown. We hear all, see all, and tell all.

Bradley must have started something when he started slipping up behind girls and passing a sweet little kiss upon their rosy cheeks. Now Covington has taken it up. He even kisses brownettes when his own red head is standing by watching. Freeman Barber is another man about the dormitory. He's not a bit particular who he goes with either. Just so she is a blonde, brunette, brownette, or red head.

Aggies Smash--

Aggie punt, and raced over for a score, making it 28 to 13.

Murray started off in the first period with little gusto, but before the game had ended Wylie, Taylor, Hunkapillar, Rice, and several other Aggie players were going places with the ball. Tecumseh trying a pass, shot the ball into the waiting arms of Allen Taylor, aggressive Murray end who went over standing up, running the score 23 to 14.

Just before the game ended Covr O'bray caught a 40-yard pass from Wylie and ran the remainder four yards to go over standing up with Allen Taylor place-kicking the final point.

The game itself was a display of razzle dazzle football, with both teams employing trick plays on many running drives, intermingled with a latent forward, and Murray's Woodrow Wylie was at his best in the pass throwing department, while Carl Hunkapillar was in line running fettle, along with all of his team mates. The game kept Murray in the running for the Oklahoma Junior College football title, and leaves them undefeated.

We heard Remick say he wanted the jumping kind. Now he's guiding Janet around in Campusology. Cromwell told her rooms. ### If Shakespear'd Read The Box Score

Hey! Aggies, you better watch out or Olson will get in your eye on November 11th when you tackle Harry Finson's Northeastern Oklahoma Norsemen, for they have an Olson playing tackle and he's from the Sunflower state. Besides Olson other names that strikes you, are Buzzard, White, Freewalker, and Goding.

Maybe the Norsemen will try a pass from White to Buzzard, who would naturally try flying over the double striped mark for a score, or perhaps they will try trading Coach Powell some Goding for one of the Aggie linemen.

What's in a name anyway? For instance take Davenport, of the Aggies, the Norsemen would have course luck setting their frame down on that energetic young gent, who hails from Sulphur; but yet a davenport is made for the purpose of resting the Chair.

Your chance to see this choice conglomeration of fancy names will be afforded you on November 11th at 2:30 in the afternoon, place: Murray Field.

Alumni Meets

Members of the Murray Alumni association met in the auditorium of the Administration building for a business discussion on October 29. The meeting was in charge of Dr. Reeves, who discussed the A. & M. report amendment. The proposed amendment provides for a separate board of regents for A. & M. colleges. Plans were made for the regular alumni banquet to be held next spring.

President Clive E. Murray talked to the grads about plans for the development of the school in future years by the addition of several much-needed buildings.

MISS WYNNIE NET HERE

Gussie Wynne, graduate of the class of 1929, now living at Idabel, says in a telegram received prior to the start of Homecoming activities, by the Aggiefile, "Sorry but cannot be with you, but hope the Aggies win, tell my old friends up there hello for me."

Miss Wynne is chief clerk in the office of C. D. Stillerson, county attorney for McCurtain county, while attending Murray she was actively engaged in several campus organizations.

We are sorry that you could not have attended the celebration, and hope that you do find time however to give the old Aggie campus the once over, and we hang out the welcome sign to you and other old graduates over the state.

family opened the program with the invocation services.

The first speaker on the program was Adjutant-General Charles F. Barrett, of the Oklahoma National Guard. Adjutant General Barrett, has often been referred to in Oklahoma and over the southwest as the "Father of the National Guard." He has served Oklahoma National Guard very faithfully for a long span of years, and is always known in most towns of Oklahoma, especially those Oklahoma towns which have a unit of the National Guard.

The Ardmore orchestra, a unit of the Works Progress administration, followed Adjutant General Barrett on the program with a fifteen minute program of music fitting the occasion, for which Johnston county and southern Oklahoma were being looking forward to for some time.

General Key Speaks

General W. S. Key, State Administrator for the Works Progress administration delivered the principal address of the evening. General Key has been actively engaged in the Works Progress administrative large program of building.

A large attendance of Johnston county, southern Oklahoma citizens along with the fact that many notable members of the Oklahoma National Guard were present, among them being Colonel Lewis A. Ledbetter, head of the 190th Infantry.

Building Is Community Asset

The services were a tribute to Oklahoma's National Guard, the Works Progress administration, and the men who made the building possible. It was a distinct tribute to Oklahoma as a whole, for the building is one of the most beautiful in the state, and will house the Tishomingo unit of the National Guard, under the command of Lieutenant Clyde Hall.

Following the dedicatory services dancing followed with the Ardmore Works Progress administration furnishing the music.

Library Adds Variety New Reading Matter

"DOC" HANAWAY, FIRST HERE

To Robert L. "Doc" Hanaway, of Fox goes the honor of being the first old grad to arrive on the campus. He arrived here Thursday morning and made the rounds of the school to reminiscence with his former instructors, and friends.

During his student days here, both as a high school and college student, Hanaway was a prominent class leader, being a very fine speaker. Many old students recall the efficient way that the "Doc" handles himself, as a master of ceremonies, for a check of Aggiefile files reveal that he spoke frequently in student assemblies.

We were mighty glad to have you visit the campus "Doc" and hope that you can make many more Aggie Homecomings.

Suits Us, Mister!

A card from Mr. P. Mervile Larson, editor of the "Persuader" official publication of Phi Kappa Phi national junior college debating fraternity says:

"Did you know there was a chapter of Phi Kappa Phi at your college? If so, are you giving its sponsor and members plenty of publicity? If not, or if you weren't aware of the chapter, will you give them a break by giving them a boost in your columns. Then will you give us a chance to tell the 60 other chapters through the columns of the Persuader. Please put us on your mailing list."

You see, the Aggie Lite is very proud to welcome the Persuader to our happy family of exchanges, and hastens to assure the Phi Kappa Phi of our helpful interest.

B. S. U. Delegates Attend Meeting At Stillwater

Church Students In Three-Day Meet at A. & M.

Lovell Speaks

Thirteen Baptist students attended the annual B. S. U. convention held in Stillwater, October 30-31 and November 1. The convention sponsored by college students, was held in the First Baptist church there.

Dr. Frank H. Lovell of Nashville, Tennessee, was the out-of-state speaker. Other interesting personalities of the convention were Rev. E. P. Hallock, chaplain of the convention, and Dr. A. L. Aulick, from Shawnee, Okla.

Miss Mildred Gardner, a former Murray student, had part of the program Friday evening. The affair is one which will be long remembered by all who attended. There was a very inspirational program arranged for each session, by President Edgar Hallock, and Sylvester Hawkins and Washita Farm by Gordon Payne.

Those in attendance from Murray were Elizabeth Merry, Nell Dillard; Ines Chapman, Doris Meggs; Mamie Lee Henderson; Lucille Ritchey; Sylvester Craig; Lonzo Eaton; Ralph Laughler; Murrill Jones; James Messig; Jack Gray; and Mr. P. J. Park.

MCKINLEY GREETSS STAFF

J. B. McKinley, journalism senior at Oklahoma university and managing editor of the Oklahoma Daily, who sponsored his journalistic pinfeathers on this university sheet, sends in a modesty-provoking complimentary letter the word that he will likely be down to the Thanksgiving date.

THANKS For all your gifts, great Lord, I give Thanks to your mighty throne. For in your hand my life is held by you alone. I thank you for the sunny days That ripen golden grain; The whispering wind that sings its lays And bids me sleep again. I know them, Lord, a great content That makes my life serene. For there I feel my heart content, And take a grateful sigh: Thanksgiving means just this to me: A time to retrospect, And look into my soul and see: How clear is its aspect. -Orville Johnson

Women Students to Start Use of Gym Floor

Meet Bi-Weekly

With a preparation of available space for work, a new leaf was turned over in women's physical education last week when Miss Josephine Shipp took charge of that class. Activity in the group had been at a standstill for some three weeks, pending the completion of the new gymnasium floor.

The next three weeks work consists largely of calisthenics and drills. Miss Shipp announced with internal basketball and indoor tennis to follow.

Girls who are enrolled in physical education are advised to meet every class for the remainder of the semester, in order to make up for the enforced lapse in the training program Miss Shipp stated. Classes will meet at the seventh hour on Tuesday and Thursday.

"PEPPER" MARSHALL IS FIRST ENGINEERING CO-ED AT MURRAY

In horse racing or honor rolls "also rans" are usually not very interesting. It's a known fact that all those who didn't make the first honor roll, almost made it or ought to have made, and there's not much more to it. But when the "nearly made it" happens to be "Pepper" Marshall, there's much more to it indeed.

Miss Addie Mae "Pepper" Marshall of Ada, Oklahoma, former high school graduate of Murray and former college freshman is the only girl known to take an engineering course in the history of Murray State School of Agriculture.

The boys taking engineering say it is one of the most difficult courses that can be taken. Miss Marshall, taking 16 hours of engineering work, turned up with all "B's" but one, and that one was a "C" for the first six weeks average.

Miss Marshall was born in Ringling, Oklahoma, February 12, 1921. It is one of the most difficult courses that can be taken. Miss Marshall, taking 16 hours of engineering work, turned up with all "B's" but one, and that one was a "C" for the first six weeks average.

Miss Marshall is working for the Bell Telephone company, at Ada, Oklahoma and her mother at the present time is in Phoenix, Arizona. Known to her friends on the college campus as "Pepper," Miss Marshall is the youngest girl in Betty Pikes Hall. She is a member of the Y. W. C. A. and the Coal Diggers.

In shop Addie Mae has made a knife and a griddle. One of 12 boys made it known in shop class that he had given Pepper five dollars to start keeping house so that she could use the knife and griddle but she apparently rejected the opportunity.

CAMERON-MURRAY TILT TO FEATURE THANKSGIVING DAY

Hail, The Queen! Old Lettermen to Attend Game

The annual football game between the homeboys and Cameron, which all former Murray lettermen are urgently invited to attend as guests of the athletic council, constitutes the principal definitely set observance the school will give of Thanksgiving according to announcements made yesterday.

Every effort is being made, according to Dean Hall, chairman of the athletic committee, to get in touch with all former lettermen to bring them here on that occasion. The game itself is THE traditional game of the schedule of both teams, and, as in former years, will decide who shall wear the conference diadem for the current season.

Both teams are as yet undefeated in loop play. Should the Powell men, who have been coming along like the proverbial prairie fire after an uncertain start, execute the rather large assignment of upsetting both the "Mavericks" and "Yon Cameron, there would be no way to the conference "M" - "M" - "M" they drop next Friday's game, they must make Cameron tie for the hunting, as they did last year.

As usual, Murray will be the underdog in the fray. Meetings between the teams have been weekly void of cheer for the Murray clan, except for 1935, when Bud Wiley shot a 20-yard pass to Harry Sims for the two and only score of the game, accounting for the only victory the Murray team had scored on Cameron over a span of some eight years.

In a Cameron-Murray game, dice is thrown to the wind, because anything is liable to happen when these two rivals meet on the gridiron. Usually something does happen, as there is no tie game on the

Junior Pressmen Hold Annual Meet

Miss Virginia Eales, first year student was elected vice-president of the Junior Collegian Press Conference at the annual meeting held at Stillwater last Friday and Saturday.

Selector of Miss Eales, who is Campus Editor of the Aggie Lite, followed the selection of Mr. Jack Ludrick of Cameron. Miss Zoe Simpson, of Oklahoma and other members of the A. & M. faculty.

Plans adopted at the business session called for the usual Press Association contest to be decided at A. and M. track meet next spring, and added content in the original poetry to the five point contest held here-to-fore.

Murray representatives consisted of Mr. Pete Alston, Virginia Eales, Letha Cowen and Kate Bromley, with Miss Josephine Shipp of the faculty committee on publication, sponsoring the delegation.

Boxers to Open With Chilocco

With a match definitely set with the Chilocco Indians for December 3, Murray's rather ambitious boxing club is bending every effort to get into shape for the encounter.

The match with Chilocco will change the Murray team definitely into the very middle of the fastest boxing company in this section of the country, and it is expected will likely prove nothing much more than a boxing lesson for the Aggie youngsters.

The Chiloccoans, long the kings of boxing in the Missouri Valley section are still rated as tops in Oklahoma state circles, with the honor society, sponsoring the delegation.

WIN OVER NORSMEN KEEPS AGGIES' LOOP SLATE CLEAN

Aggies Pass, Run for Four-Touchdown Triumph

Climaxing a day of celebration in commemoration of Armistice, C. J. Powell's Murray Aggies soundly trounced a fighting band of Northwestern Junior College Normans by a 20 to 0 score.

The first Aggie score came when Woodrow Wylie shot a five-yard pass to Kenneth Rice who went over. Allen Taylor made it 7 to 0 when he place-kicked the extra point. The pass play capped off a sustained drive down the field, that netted the local team three straight first and ten. Northwestern was having a tough time solving Murray's running plays.

Still sticking to the air route Murray rolled up their second score when Wylie heaved a 37-yard pass to Allen Taylor, who made a sensational running catch, to go over standing up. It was one of the greatest catches ever seen on the field this season. J. T. Bryant, Aggie left tackle kicked the extra point from placement.

Bury Pat Smith, made the third Aggie score when he intercepted one of Northwestern's many passes and dashed 20 yards to score. Taylor failed to convert, as the ball sailed to the left and wide of the uprights. Smith came up so suddenly that White, Buzard, and Macchi were caught unawares, thus giving the former Armistice flag player a clear field.

Carl Hunkapillar, cried his own right end to net the Murray crew their last score by uncorking a sudden burst of speed on a six-yard dash that carried him over something resembling a three point landing of an airplane. It was a diving act with the Sulphur lad having the best of the day through the air.

Ed Alsup, Kenneth Rice, Murphy Wheeler, Pat Smith, Allen Taylor, and Woodrow Wylie played best for the winners, while in fact the entire Aggie team played a head-up game. The Murray kicking showed a slight let-down noticeable in the second half.

Buzard, Wylie, Palmer and Henson played best for the Normans. The Normans' coaching crew tried 18 passes, but were unaccountable in all but four of them, and they totaled only 40 yards via the air lanes while the Aggies rolled up 105-yards by the air circus route.

Murray had the upper hand of the game all the way, making 12 first downs to the invaders five. Murray netted 175 yards from scrimmage, with the invaders making 81 yards.

The game was played before a large holiday crowd, that had taken part in an Armistice program sponsored by the American Legion and was favored by perfect Indian summer weather. Neither team had any wind advantage, and that was no handicap to the fine punting displayed by Wylie of the Aggies who kicked 60-yards on several occasions. Two of his kicks being kicked on the 2-yard line. Bands from Tishomingo high school, and the college whooped things up all during the contest, which was hard-fought than the score indicates.

The win places the Aggies in a position to win the championship of the junior loop, or at least gain undisputed possession of second place. Their next game will be at Tonkawa, where they will face Bois d'Arc Beams, University Junior College Mavericks, on Friday, November 20. The final game will be Thanksgiving day with the age old rivals, the Cameron Aggies.

Following is the starting line-up:
Murray FB, Northwestern
Taylor LB, Henson
Bryant LT, Smith
Erblich LC, Hanch
Wilson CB, Crosby
Davenport RC, McNamara
Alsup (C) RT, Prehberger
Rice RB, Buzard
Wheeler QB, Killina
Wylie HB, White
Hunkapillar RB, Anderson
Smith FB, Buzard

Sport Shots

Thanksgiving day will bring to Aggeland the highly touted Cameron Aggies from Lawton who will be gunning for another Murray victory. You can be sure that Cameron will be plenty tough as always and will be out to revenge the loss to Murray last year on their home turf. The capable Cameron mentor, Julius Johnston, was down to see Murray pin Northwestern's ears back and will probably come back Thanksgiving day with blood in his eyes.

Throughout the country we find several capable teams who are showing at the far western goal, the Rose Bowl. Nebraska in the Big Six conference looks like a capable opponent for the Washington Bears who are pretty sure to represent the west in the tournament of roses. Other teams who may go to the Rose Bowl are Fortson in the east, Alabama in the south, and Pittsburg in the east.

Very seldom do we find a lead football coach in big time football who has never played the game himself some time or other during his school days. A high school coach, but one of such is found at Washington State in Oran L. Shaw. Hollister who during his career at Washington State has consistently put a winning team on the field.

The Caddo high school football team under Delmas Steinback, former Oklahoma university star have made rapid improvement throughout the present grid season. Although defeated in past games, the Caddo lads made a very impressive showing against a much stronger Hugo eleven who only beat them 25 to 21.

As we glance over the sport pages of our daily papers we find many outstanding players in the different colleges and universities throughout the country who are few in the many are: Don Heap, Northwestern; Busby Bryan, Tulane; Frank James, Cornell; "Redhead" Jack Fuchs, Texas A. & M.; Andy Dray, Minnesota; Jimmy Cain, former Holdenville, Oklahoma boy, Washington State; James Pupala, Notre Dame; Jack Hobbin, Arkansas university; Ace Parker, Duke; Goldberg, Pittsburgh; Morris White, Tulsa university; Cleveland, Kansas State; Reed, Louisiana State; Russell Baylor; Sammy Hough, T. C. U.; Gurka, Fordham.

Much basketball is being raised down Houston way. It seems that everything is not just suited to everybody's taste in the realm of the American Olympic committee. Avery Brundage, head of the committee assures everyone that everything is going to be all right though.

Here are a few of the outstanding high school coaches throughout the state rated by their teams or in their respective classes. Dewey (shorter) Luster, Norman; Jim Lookabaugh, Capitol Hill, Oklahoma City; Tom Mallory, Clatsop, Oklahoma City; Ray (Peacho) Thompson, Paris, Va.; Robert Courtwright, Muskogee; Jake Spann, Hollis; E. C. (Pete) Holt, Broken Bow; Jack Baver, Ponca City; Olin E. (Rust) Ramsey, Miami; J. D. (Hump) Daniels, Perry; Mont Herring, Fairview.

Ed Phelps, Oklahoma A. & M. boxing coach has few worries these days about his boxing squad. Phelps has 115 men out for the squad with others howling to come out. The outlook for a winning team at A. & M. is pretty bright this year.

Earl C. Quigley, Little Rock high school athletic director has filled this position for the past fifty years. Quigley's track team has

Tish Hi, Ruffs Battle to Draw

Smith, McCarty Score In Annual Benefit Affair

Fumbles Frequent

Displaying the power and ability that had made some of them stars in their high school and college days, the Tishomingo Town Tuffs showed Lucian Nelms, Tishomingo high school Indians that they had not forgotten all of their football aunts by trying the Tuffs fumbled frequently throughout the first half. But in the last half they played good football despite the fact that many of the players had not done the mauling for a number of years.

The Indian touchdown came in the second quarter when Jack Brown, high school fullback ruffed a pass to Smith, halfback, who made a great one handed catch. Brown made good the extra point from placement.

In the last half with Dan McCarty, former Murray Aggie player doing the majority of the ball carrying the team took things in their hands long enough to end a sustained drive over the goal line for a touchdown. The kick for the extra point was good, and the score was tied.

Play on the part of the Tuff men kept them from being scored on again in the latter portion of the fray. Billie King, and W. W. Horn, were the shining lights of the Tuff defensive attack while Dan McCarty, Loyd Major and Binks Berry led the offensive through Jack Brown, E. R. Siblin, and Paul Puckett played best for the Indians.

Douglas Graydon, former Georgia Tech track star; Ralph La Porte, Arkansas university; Douglas Whyte; Georgia Tech track and football star; Jack Newby (deceased); Arkansas university captain elect in 1935 are some of the stars who were coaches or coaches in high school.

Whoever is elected captain of the Murray Aggie football team, 1937 will have a mighty big pair of shoes to fill in Alsup and Davenport, hunky Aggie linemen. We're not sure what size shoes these boys wear but we think they're pretty big.

"Reno Elmer" Gets into College

Have you met "Reno Elmer"? Well, if you haven't you've missed something, for he is one of the most sociable horses in Johnston county, and besides that he is a member of the New Deal, for he was sent here from the Ft. Reno remount station at Ft. Reno by the government.

Elmer, is the son of Bartie (his mother), an imported thoroughbred, and is seven years old. He is fifteen and one-half hands high. Elmer is a chestnut in color, and weighs in the vicinity of 1100 pounds.

There are few thoroughbred horses in the state with the same pedigree that our Elmer possesses. The college was very fortunate in securing the horse, as long as it is deemed necessary by the government, with the understanding that Elmer must receive the best of care during his stay here.

A nation wide move has been on for a number of years to purify the breed of the state with the same pedigree that our Elmer possesses. Elmer is one of the rarest specimens in Oklahoma, being, correctly classified, according to Professor Howard, a "pure-bred thoroughbred."

Aggies to Meet May's This Week

Gridmen Stake Title Hopes on Semi-final Go

Teams Rate Even

C. J. Powell's Murray Aggies will make their fourth invasion of the foreign gridiron when they meet the high-gear University Junior College Mavericks at Tonkawa Friday in the feature game of a busy Oklahoma Junior Colleague week-end football.

Last fall the Aggies downed the Mavericks by a 21 to 0 score with Harry Simms literally wrecking a much lighter Maverick line.

Reports from Tonkawa indicate that Coach Bois d'Arc Beams of the Mavs is leaving no stone unturned in mapping his plan of attack for this important game, which will see himself placed against Murray where he was formerly director of athletics. The former grand old man of Aggie football fame will no doubt have a hard fighting team set for the Powell team's invasion.

Murray will go onto the Mavericks' field in a mean mood for they know that the Beams' clan will try all of their well oiled set of intricate football tricks in hopes of knocking the Aggies from the top rung of conference standing. In David Kautsche, Murray will face a tough hombre of the gridiron, who is well schooled in the toughness of the game, coupled with the fact that a Beams' coached team is always noted for its near impregnable defense. Both coaches will shoot the works in an endeavor to gain the top flight among the Loop leaders.

The Aggies will leave for Tonkawa Thursday morning in their own bus and will likely work out en route.

Alston Is Named Oklahoma Scout

Pete Alston, Aggilette editor, was honored two weeks ago when he was selected to help pick the all-state football team for this season. He was named to scout in southeastern Oklahoma.

To Pete it was a distinction for he is without a doubt the youngest scout on the staff, which includes such veteran men as Mike Bialek, who played football at Carlsbad back in the days of famous Jim Thorpe, and Grady Galters, now director of athletics at Tulsa Central High School.

He is an ardent follower and is competent enough to name the best player in his district. He will attend the Daily Oklahoman banquet for all-stars in early December. It is an annual custom that that paper to sponsor such a banquet.

Nebraska's hopes of being chosen as one of the Rose Bowl participants were shattered last Saturday when they were defeated by the strong Pittsburg team by a score of 19-6.

Wallflowers know all, see all, hear all and TELL all. We are in every hall and room of the Ad building and dormitories. We are the unseen listener at every ball session and hen party. We are the unnoticed members of every heart to heart get-together. Wallflowers know all, see all, hear all, and tell all.

We hear that the boys had quite a time at Kenzie last week. They were having a carnival in the gymnasium and the Murray farmer boys really carried on with the local lassies, so we hear. We heard one of the boys telling another that he got a letter from one girl telling him to return something of hers that he had taken. Old W. might be able to tell you that it was, incidentally, the heartbreaker of the week might go to big Husky B. As the band was looking up to leave Husky was one of the first on the bus. His newly acquired girl was standing just inside the gym door telling each of the departing Murray boys to tell Husky good-bye. "He just ran off and left me," she said. Wallflowers see all and tell all.

With the coming of cold weather the library is becoming quite popular as a gathering place. Most of the boys and girls sit on the same side of the table while talking to each other, but not so with the girls. His newly acquired girl was standing just inside the gym door telling each of the departing Murray boys to tell Husky good-bye. "He just ran off and left me," she said. Wallflowers see all and tell all.

Wonder if his flashing personality has effect on some poor little girl there, too? Wallflowers see all, hear all, and tell all. We heard some of the girls talking about some competition that Bernice W. has. We're wondering if she really has a new nice name, and wallflowers wonder what it can be? Bernice W. has. We're wondering if she really has a new nice name, and wallflowers wonder what it can be? Bernice W. has. We're wondering if she really has a new nice name, and wallflowers wonder what it can be?

Wallflowers see all, hear all, and tell all. We're wondering what Wilson E. has that would make him give the girls from Madill a break when he goes with them? The blue button for the most persistent courting of the week goes to Dick H. We heard the other night that he was outside of the dormitory and three racks at Irene's window. We heard she came and talked to him. All we know is what we see and hear. It doesn't seem to make George H. much difference as to whom she goes with, just so she is in Caddo. Anyway, we hear someone say Carol and Wozens, were both from Caddo. We've been seeing Whipmy and Sarah H. together again. Maybe they decided everything was alright after all. Wallflowers see all and tell all.

We wonder what has come between Goldie and Corbin. Some

Cameron-Murray

"modern" history of the classic-feather has there been but one runaway, that by Cameron who swamped the locals by 20-0 in 1932. Cameron has strong line. Julius Johnston and Cassius Gentry will bring a colorful band of football stars here seeking rest for the 1935 set-back, while on the other hand the Powell clan will go into the fray with all of their weapons well oiled.

The Cameron line with big Ralph Steeds, former Clasen Comet sensation, Paul Cochran, former Ardmore luminary, Riley Matheson, a smashing, rip-roaring tackle, and Gene Hancock, one of the season's stand-outs at right end, will offer stout resistance to the thrusts of Wheeler, Whyte, Hunkapiller, Smith and others who may be called on to go places for the Murray interests.

Portillo is backfield star bracketed around Raymond Portillo, Adese Sanders, Shepherd, and Gene Hancock, who is a half-hawk unexcelled at leading Portillo's team for yardage as needed.

Like Murray, the Cameron team did not fare so well in early season, non-conference tilts. However, the hardy way in which they tackled the Panhandle team, a senior college outfit, last week, indicates they have come a long way and are still going.

Murray pep squads and band will go on hand to whip it up during the game. While no definite word has been received yet, it is expected that Cameron will follow the age-old tradition by bringing a big supporting cast. Game will get under way at 2:30 in the afternoon.

say all the red has faded out of his football pants. Maybe Guy had something to do with it. After all, he has the advantage over Corbin by living out here at school. We've just figured out why Lorenne W. is always looking so wistful at every one. She's looking forward to the time when Horsey Jefferson comes to Tahomning with the basketball playing Kingston Redkins. Wallflowers know all and tell all.

Some one should tell Deloris, alias Battle-Ax, that there are only a few more games for her to worry through. It looks to us wallflowers like Red is big enough to take care of himself. Who does Broken Bow's Molly write to that she ends the letter with "Little of Love" and sign it "Chicken"? We are in every hall and room of the Ad building and dormitories. We see and tell all.

Did Maymie start something when she started wearing little boxes in her hair? Virginia E. and Bonnie B. are quite fond of boxes too. Blue seems to be a favorite of all. Also, what do all these rings on the left third finger mean? Maybe Corinne and Doris H. could tell us. Both have faint memories of their old home town.

We heard some of the boys saying they would like to warn Carl H. about a foot towards waitress. They said if she fed him half as bad as she fed them they feared he would start. Another of the "Pecennial bachelors" has broken down. John K. is the popular campus host, to Whyles. Why was Virginia so anxious to go to the Press Conference? Maybe she thought some boy from Stillwater would at least go with her.

Northeastern's Norsemen came, saw, and went home failing to conquer the Aggie's. Anyway they were about the cleanest ball club we've played so far. They were a semi bunch of boys - Allen Taylor won the coveted cake for catch-up, the hardest pass (Palm-Olive) - We have but two more games on our schedule and both of them will be thrillers if dope means anything - Friday we take on heap much big chief Bois d'Arc Brains University Junior College. Mavericks and maybe the Hon. Allen Taylor, J. T. Bryant and Mule Debes will at last get to ride a Maverick - You know they are outlaw horses - but the U. J. C. Mavs are not outlaws, they are full-fledged members of the Oklahoma Junior Collegiate conference, and it will be some game, for their coach took our croquet's job away from him long enough last Wednesday to get a gala eye 'gaw of us - and I feel sure that they will be the water boy on "Cab" Rennick and I feel like he will have a heap much big time - Bois d'Arc is without a doubt the greatest basketball teler in this wide, wide, state - I don't know why I bet you better, or any stock in his fancy tales that his Mavs are little bitty boys just out of high school, but we know ole Dave Kaniatobe is one coveted on Murray field - Maybe the reason Red Alsup, our bathing captain, smacked the Norsemen so hard was that a certain Lynn palmy waly, was in the West stands - It was a tough break on the part of Shorty Wiley that he did not get to see Taylor catch that pass he tossed him - he was knocked down by Onion and some other Northeastern lieman- anyway the Wacker's special was plenty glad that the pass was good - We are a long ways yet from the conference title, as we must win from both U. J. C. and Cameron to grasp the top position, and that's our aim, but to do we are not claiming the championship - We will battle the juce out our other two opponents, and we want it known that we respect the two teams and their coaches with our best thoughts - Coach Powell's nickname should be "Chick" and Wheeler's "Wildcat" and Dal Wilson "Punchy" and Norman Umphers' "Doodle" will be our main allies for U. J. C. game.

A Word A Day! By Ross Brauderick. Recently our English classes have been studying words and their relationship to other languages of the world. The origin and development. Many words are built up of simple elements by a process of combination of component parts or roots and stems. Many of our words came from Latin, for instance "rectify".

Rectify - The Latin root "rectus" (right) and "facere" (to make) were combined in the late Latin "rectificare" which was used in the sense of "to make right". When a mistake has been rectified, there is no longer the transformed into one of right. It has been said that you learn a word a day you will have the vocabulary of a college graduate and it will be equal to college education. "If you see a word three times, it's yours," said one philosopher.

AGGIES TAKE CONFERENCE TITLE

Glee Club To Present Carols Visit Southeastern

Music Department To Give Christmas Program

Chorus Features

With music and all other materials on hand and roles assigned for all the principals in the cast, Murray's music department is at work on the annual Christmas cantata, set tentatively for the evening of December 23rd.

The Christmas program, including several scenes, is being prepared and will be given at the usual time of the year, usually the most elaborate of public presentations offered by the fine arts group.

This year's performance promises to surpass previous efforts in that for the first time a full mixed chorus will be available. Solos, quartets and choruses, with piano accompaniment will comprise the major part of the offering, according to H. B. Courtwright of the music department.

Debate Squads Start Practice

Speech Group Starts Work For Debate Tournaments To Meet Durant

With the preliminary research out of the way, and ready to "choose sides," Murray's debate squads begin practice debates as a regular class feature this week, according to Prof. Glenn Johnson, coach.

First skirmishes will find E. J. Debbis and Adam Barnes paired for the affirmative against Vernon Smith and Leta Walters on the negative. Members of the squad may make their first public appearance as debaters in an assembly program soon, Mr. Frazer stated.

Debate candidates are being tried now with a view of selecting entries for the Southeastern college tournament in February. Awards will be offered at the Durant meet in three classes, men's women's and mixed teams being eligible for entry.

Despite the fact that only three members who won the Phi Rho Pi membership last year are available for this year's debate squads, it is likely that about five teams will be prepared for entry in the Durant meet, Mr. Frazer predicted. Durant Teachers' college debaters will probably be met in practice this same time during December, he announced.

Former Aggies Make Senior Varsities

Ed Lehman and Clark Hoing, two former members of Murray Aggies football teams are now cutting eagles for two outstanding teams of their particular color. Ed is a regular tackle at the University of Arkansas, and has been playing bang-up football for Fred C. Thompson's Porkers. He played here during the Beane regime, and was one of the Aggies' most reliable tackles, but he was a tough man to evade on a running play.

Clark Hoing, another former Aggie first is playing guard for the Oklahoma City University Goldenboys, who have not done so well this season, but they still have a colorful aggregation beset with a line-up containing many former Oklahoma Junior collegiate stars. Nimble Nim Newberry is also a member of that team, he is a former Cameron backfield star.

THEY GOT "IT"

Former Students In East Central

Hostetter Visits Old Haunts; Writes of On E. C. Paper

By Leslie Hostetter

Here we are back in the old office once more, back from East Central for the Thanksgiving, tin bunnies, and Murray, and just couldn't resist filling up a little space in the Aggieite for old times sake.

Murray is represented at East Central by a goodly number of old students. Two outstanding Trier midion players are Enno Byrd, co-captain of the Murray Aggies 1933-35, and Peck Martin, Aggie fullback in 1934 Lovine Pennington, Aggieite editor of 1933-35, is also here.

NEWS PLANT INSTALLED

Equipment was received last Sunday and installation started immediately of a photo-engraving plant by Herbert J. Pace, owner and publisher of newspapers at Tishomingo and Madill. The plant is being installed at Madill, and is designed to serve all the papers operated by Mr. Pace.

The Oklahoma County Capital Democrat, local member of the Pace chain of papers does the mechanical work for the Aggieite, and it is felt that improved work will be made available for readers of the college sheet.

National prohibition came and went in December, being passed Dec. 1917, and repealed in December, 1933.

"Home-Going Week-End" Made A Real Success

The past week-end was deemed after a fashion by Dean of Men Hall as "Home-Going Week-End." Practically every student on the campus left for their respective homes as soon as classes were dismissed, but a majority of them were in attendance for the Turkey day football game.

Those who remained on the campus put on a lively show Thursday night when they made snuggles at the campus left for their respective homes as soon as classes were dismissed, but a majority of them were in attendance for the Turkey day football game.

"AIM HIGHER, TAKE ON FIRE" DESCRIBES AGGIES' SEASON

As the football season is ended, the Aggies opened their season in one hurried glance over the year's record, showing that our Aggies are football champions of the Oklahoma Junior Collegiate conference, and what a season it was! For the high-flying Football team started the season as though they might wind up in the conference cellar, but hard work and perseverance on the part of the players and their general manager led them out of the doldrums to the pinnacle heights of the top standings. The season was started with only five lettersman from the 1935 season at hand, but a band of fighting youngsters were here to fill the gaps left by the departure of such players as Wiley, Wilkes, Simms, Faling, Bryd, Young, Wooster, Arms, Arns, and others.

Baptist Students Hold Apron Party

Social Evening of Club Represents Week of "Dates" Craig In Charge

The B. S. U. sponsored an apron and social party Friday, November 20th, in the armory, with approximately one hundred present.

The mistress of ceremonies, Shilpa Clark, was in charge of the program, which represented dates every night of the week in one minute. Monday night was represented by the famous quartet composed of Dick Powell, Duane Hunter, Bing Crosby, Louis Jones, Grace Moore, Laura Zuchowicz and Kate Smith. "Marry Me, Honeycomb," Tuesday night, by a reading by Leta Walters; Wednesday night by a contest in "Snub 'em Live" by two couples; Thursday night by the Shawnee, where Eddie Hurt opened his Oklahoma Collegiate career with a 14 to 0 win. It was a great day, and was decided by two very big breaks on the part of the inexperienced Murray team. Alvin Smith, Wilson, Wiley and Caldwell stood out for Murray, while Pasala Robson, Powell, Richardson, Phillips played best for the Shawnee crew. It was Oklahoma Baptist's university's first game.

Next came the ever powerful Paris Junior College Dragons for the Aggies opening home tray. Both teams filled several scoring chances. Backhead, Palmer, and Captain Lightfoot were the Longhorn luminaries, with the Aggie crew.

Come From Behind Twice In Bid For Clear Title

Final Game For Seven

Last Thursday was THE big day for all Murrayites when, after trailing the Cameron Aggies by a 13 to 0 score in the first half, C. J. Fowler's hard-charging Murray Aggies came back in the final half of their annual Thanksgiving day encounter with their eastern Oklahoma rivals to finish a thrilling 20 to 13 game out of the fire, and with the win to take the outstanding Oklahoma Junior Collegiate championship.

The game itself was one that is rather inadequately described as being a whirlwind affair from start to finish, as both teams fought out many scoring rallies to halt scoring marches. It was one of the hardest fought Cameron-Murray games in recent years, with the Murrayites pulling the anhand of foot of coming from behind twice to pass their age old rivals in the final drive.

Ed Gill '26 Goes From School Post to State Legislature

When the "Mr. Speaker" rose with his gavel and proclaimed the lower house of our state's law-making body duly convened as he did last week when the Oklahoma legislature was called into extra session by Governor Harland, it is of more than passing interest to all the citizens of the state.

When a Spotted Deer Eaten by Wolves

When a spotted deer eaten by the wolves of nature, howl, a reserve guard was rushed into the fray for the purpose of keeping the extra point and, making the score read Cameron 13, Murray 6.

The first Murray touchdown came when the Ag's wasted little time after a poor kick by Sanders went out on their own 24-yard line. A pass from Wiley to Stone carried the ball to the 6-yard line from which point the visitors drew a 3-yard penalty for offside, the penalty moving the ball to the 3-yard line from which place Carl Hunschlar drove over his own right tackle to score. Alvin Taylor, Aggie, failed to convert from placement.

Wiley Beats One

Murray scored the final touchdown in the third quarter when Wiley quick-kicked 30-yards with the ball being kicked on the Cameron 3-yard stripe. The kick-back was short, and again the fighting Aggie rose to the height of displaying a wretched drive that was eliminated by Pat Smith's touchdown over the goal line. Alvin Taylor missed the extra point from placement.

Two Field Goals on the Part of Ray Portillo

Thursday night was represented by visiting the school and classroom. Friday night, ye old time "singing convention," led by Mr. Hoing; Saturday night party where various games were played and refreshments served. Sunday night ended the party with singing "Into Thy Heart," devotion led by Jack Craig and a closing prayer by Mr. Hoing.

STICE TO OKLAHOMA CITY

Kenneth Stone, second year student and football letterman from Marietta, left yesterday for Oklahoma City, where he will undergo a minor operation of an injury incurred several years ago to his nose.

Stice was one of the stand-out ends of the Oklahoma Junior Collegiate conference the past two seasons, and has been a main cog in the basketball setup here. Prior to his attendance here he attended Marietta High school where he was also an athletic star of some note for his four year tenure there.

CAGE DATES CALL FOR "DOUBLE ROUND-ROBIN"

Loop Members Meet In Home-and-Home Series

The 1936 Murray Aggie basketball schedule will be bedeviled with many important games. It has been announced by C. J. Powell, Aggie coach. All members of the conference will be met with the exception of the Connor Aggies who were unfortunate enough to lose their gym by fire.

An early season game has been tentatively booked with Leonora Ochoa's Mexico City, Mexico, Y. M. C. A. team. The Mexican team will be on a tour of good will and a team composed of players from Mexico City university, one of the oldest schools in the entire world at least in the university class.

The Powell team will be a tale aggregation than was the 1935 team, and will have a better balanced crew. For most of the candidates for play on an outstanding high school team of this district, Kenneth Slace, hard playing forward of last winter's season will be hard pushed by some of the first year men who will contest for his place.

Besides the banner schedule of the Aggies, there will be the annual Johnson county basketball series which will be as usual, but a hotly contested affair. With most of the clubs set to meet the Mill Creek Bulldogs from the pinnacle of the county. Many of them having already reached the lid off in other nearby towns. Milburn has already engaged several teams in both boys and girls games.

Arms Makes Team at Texas School of Mines

Homer K. Arms, Murray's star right end for the last two years, now enrolled in the El Paso, Texas, College of Mines and according to reports has been plenty of service during this year.

After leaving Murray, Homer was employed by an El Paso company for the entire summer before entering the College of Mines.

Homer entered Murray in 1934 after getting his high school football training in his home town of Bradford. He earned two letters at Murray while holding the position of right end.

During the two years he attended Murray he was also active member of the Aggie 4-H club participating in competitive programs at Murray and also at Stillwater.

Enrolling as an agricultural student both years, Homer showed exceptional scholastic ability, making above average grades.

He writes: "I've made the starting line-up in all games, playing at least three quarters each game. We have lost only one game this year. We play such teams as New Mexico university, Arizona S. T. C. and New Mexico Military Institute. If we win the next two games, we will get to play in the Sun Bowl here in El Paso, on New Year's day. This game is an annual affair which attracts the attention of the football critics and fans of the Southwest Conference."

Mathison Is Bashed Late in the fourth quarter the game was delayed somewhat when Kelly Mathison, giant tackle, apparently much puffed by a break of the game took a swing at Referee Lee K. Anderson, knocking him out. Mathison was promptly bashed from the game. Coach Julius Johnston of the Cameron team offered to forfeit the game, but upon the insistence of Murray players, play was resumed. The fans then settled back for the remaining moments of the game.

Cameron's air raiding pair Raymond Perillo and Gene Hancock, aided and abetted by Hanson, Cochran, Shepherd and Sanders lived up to previous notices, their activities keeping the dogged Murray defenders on edge all the way.

Madill Takes Tough One From Tish Team

Identically the Tishomingo high school Indians did not set the pregame standard for their big brothers, the Murray Aggies, for they lost a tough 13 to 6 victory to their ancient rival, the Madill Wildcats, and with it went the Red River Valley bunting. It was the Madill county team first to take the field, and with it went the Tishomingo team in six years, promptly putting a clincher on the Valley title for the Wildcats.

The game was a hard fought battle all the way. Both teams lost the services of one player when they decided on an exchange of blows, causing them to be bashed from the field. Neither player was injured in the short-lived exchange.

When Madill or Tishomingo defeats the other, a successful season is then declared, but the 1936 match set with Tishomingo good football in sport, they had a look at some of the tougher side of the football ledger. It was Coach L. O. Nelson's first full year as head coach for the Tish team and marked Coach Palmer's first year as the Wildcat mentor.

Jack Hooker, the one man Howser company, shot passes all over Skelly field in Tulsa, Thanksgiving day. In gain Arkansas university a well earned 24 to 13 victory. ### Ringmen To Meet Durant Club Here

Boxing Club to Stage First of Home Series

Murray boxing fans will be given an opportunity to appraise the talent of the current flaccid crop at a card to be held in the Armory next Thursday night, December 10, sponsors of the glove sport have announced.

Negotiations are under way to bring the Durant A. A. U. club, composed largely of Southeastern Teachers college athletes here to oppose the Aggie boxers. Definite announcement of the arrangements will be confirmed by Coach James M. Culbertson of Durant, A. A. U. commissioner for the third Oklahoma district.

So insistent are the boxers on the show, that it has been announced that, failing to find a suitable club for opposition, the bout will go on as an elimination affair among the Aggie squad for selection of a representative to meet A. and M. Cowboys at Stillwater the following week.

Aggie Boxing Season To Open Thursday

Murray's boxing hopefuls are set to open with the head of the class, when, Wednesday, they depart tomorrow to take on the Chillicothe Indians in the season's opener for both teams at Chillicothe Thursday night.

Aggie's hopes are somewhat dimmed for the opener on account of co-captain Don Livingston's recent attack of flu. Livingston, counted on to give a good account of the lightweight situation, has had less than a week's training since his recovery, and it is regarded as doubtful if he will be able to go on.

Only five weights of the Murray crew will find experienced men ready to go. Hank and Fred Deere and Bradshaw from last year's squad are expected to see action, with "Ruger" White and Bill Palmer, experienced replacements in line.

Men expected to make the trip are: Challengers: Fleming White, Stanley, Pruitt, Penworth, Lambert, Deere, Francis, Bradshaw, Palmer, Trainer Bud Davis, and A. D. Palmer, faculty sponsor.

EDITORIAL

Mr. Powell, Strategist, Leader

By PETER ALSTON

One's impression of Charles Jenkins Powell, popular head man of Murray college athletic destinies would be that he has followed sports and the psychology of boys who form into athletes. Coach Powell in 1925 departed from Tishomingo high school where he was director of athletics to take over the job here, which had been vacated here by Ross d'Arc Beaumont who in turn had taken over the head coaching duties at University Junior college at Tonkawa.

Coach Powell is a veritable fountain of football, and has proven that his team has adhered to that fountain filled with well-oiled offensive weapons. At the start of the present season it seemed that his Aggie gridiron would never be able to grasp the intricate type of football he teaches, but after long hours of hard work, his boys came through with flying colors.

No coach in Oklahoma today takes more interest in his football team, than does Coach Powell. He is a strategist from the very first of the season to the very end, and that has been very plainly shown by the very fact that his team could not be safely scouted. The Powell coached team of 1935 was at first a boy of high school starts banded together, but after a long season, under his guidance they have at last reached a point of human understanding, and the 1936 team should be rated as one of his best.

Many Aggie football fans throughout the state will have their eyes on the work of Oklahoma's youngest junior college mentor, and will no doubt push him for approval for many years to come for his brilliant work, as coach and director of athletics here. He deserves a lot of credit for he has certainly given his best in only the watch word.

Team playing better as a unit, but falling to uncover any offensive power. The final score read 0-0, Murray 0.

The second home game ended in near disaster for the Aggie team as the tough Altus Junior College Pirates smashed them 28 to 0 in a game that saw Glenn Williams, a former All-State Texas player, run wild on receiving.

The fourth game saw the Aggie players in a hard-driving rain at Chickoos with the Olathe coach-in-charge taking the teams measure to 0-0.

The first time that the Murray offense had really choked, and the blocking was taking shape. At this juncture of the season, the Aggie team is expected to do the passing show, but the alert Powellmen did the fancy work with the aerial circus loops.

Playing before University Junior colleges homecoming, crowd the Aggies tied them in a fiercely fought 0 to 0 battle that left fans aching for the Thompson crew.

The outstanding game of the season, of course came last Thursday when the Aggies who had started slow gained momentum enough to smack the Cameron Aggies 29 to 13 in the greatest of all time Murray-Cameron encounters.

State Dry League Sponsors Orators

Anti-Saloon League Offers Prizes to Winners
$25 Top Award

The Anti-Saloon League of Oklahoma is again offering oratorical contests to all institutions of higher learning in the state, according to announcement made by W. J. Longmire, who is superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Oklahoma. The requirements will be the same as those of last year, namely: 1st, the oration must be in favor of prohibition, 2nd, they must be limited to eighteen-hundred words in length, 3rd, they must be delivered in a public contest before the student body. The local contest in each institution is to be held before the closing of February. The winners of each local contest will receive a prize of ten dollars.

Early in the spring the winners of the various local contests will meet in Oklahoma City for a state intercollegiate contest. The one who wins first place will receive a prize of $25, and the one who places second $15. The contest, closed last year, attracted little interest on the Murray campus, but one or two entries doing any work on the subject, with no contest held. Indications now, however, point to an active participation of several students, with a real contest being developed. Winner of the Murray contest is assured of at least a $10 prize.

Lyceum Offers Varied Program

Appear Here

Three More Numbers

Following appearance of Mr. J. Elder Blackledge, lecturer and artist in conjure, who was here last Wednesday, three other lyceum numbers have been booked for the current season, according to D. D. Greer.

Next number, scheduled for February the 8th, will bring Doctor No Young Park, internationally famous oriental authority, for another lecture. The Roth Ecclesie Choir is booked for a recital on March 11.

Fourth number in the series so far arranged will be presented by Mr. James C. Wilson, a political economist, on March the 26. Numbers arranged represent the pick of material available through the booking agency, measured by the demands made for the numbers by clients of the Dale Bureau, through whom they have been secured. Neither of the numbers has ever been presented before a Tishomingo audience before.

Dunlap To Head R. R. Valley Loop

Madill Awarded Grid
Title in League
Session

Cage Dates Set

J. D. Dunlap, superintendent of Tishomingo public schools, was named president of the Red River Valley conference, December 5 when members of the conference met in Ardmore for their annual winter meeting. Lloyd Harden, of Mill Creek, was elected vice-president, with Earl Everett of Davis as secretary-treasurer.

Other business at the meeting was settled, with Madill high school's Wildcats being officially declared champions for the 1936 football season. They finished their season with three wins and no losses. The drawing up of the 1937 football schedule was deferred until a later date, but the 1936-37 cage schedule was completed.

The Red River Valley conference is one of the state's oldest and has been widely recognized over Oklahoma as one of the best in the state. Games activities have been fostered in the loop, and that will be the continued aim.

Schools comprising the conference are: Wynnewood, Tishomingo, Marietta, Mill Creek, Madill, Davis and Kingston.

National Guardsmen To Observe Holidays

The national guard unit at Murray will put in their required number of drills for this month before the Christmas holidays. Drill practice was held twice last week and once this week.

This leaves two more drills which will be held before December 22. The guard will not report again until after January 1, 1937, according to a report received from Staff Sergeant Wolf.

Non-commissioned officers who have been promoted to Sergeants since enlisting are Holloway, Mickler, Lee, Moore, and Pruitt. Those promoted to corporals are McCaleb, DeBoard, Eaton, Berryhill, and Watkins.

CHRISTMAS TIME

It's in the air!
It's in the air!
That spirit sweet and clean
We feel the tempo of His grace
And deck our homes with green
We run and skip along the street
And smile at all the folks
We laugh and shout at all we meet
For we know each one's our friend
We pass the goblets round the room
And drink to the health of all
For Santa's business is on the boom
And he won't forget to call.

County Teachers To Convene Here Next Wednesday

Linschied, Crable to Speak to County Meeting

All Day Session
End of Term Nears

A. L. Crable, state superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. A. Linschied, president of East Central Teachers college, Ada, will be the principal speakers to appear before the annual Johnston County Teachers association, which will convene here January 8th. It has been announced by Mrs. Addie Beavers, county superintendent of public instruction.

The program is practically complete for the meeting, which will be held in the Murray College Auditorium. Dr. Linschied is scheduled to speak in the morning, while Mr. Crable will deliver an afternoon address. Approximately 160 Johnston county teachers are expected to attend the meeting. The guests list will include every teacher in the county, and all schools including Murray College will be dismissed to allow the attendance of the teachers.

For the second year, Tishomingo business men are financing a banquet.

The Christmas holidays will officially begin on the afternoon of December 23, if that has been announced by President Murray, and they will terminate the classes meeting on the first Monday in January.

Class work will be concluded at 4:30 on the afternoon of the above mentioned date, and will give students ample time to reach their home destinations in time for the high spots of the holiday seasons.

Students will be expected to arrive here in time to be in for regular Monday class meetings, so that there will not be any delay in student scholastic work. During the last six weeks of the first semester there will be many students who will have term themes to be handed in, and their attention will have to be focused on their completion for final approval by the prescribing instructors.

Dormitory Rooms Being Redecorated

Rooms in the Betty Fulton Hall are now undergoing redecoration and retouching this week.

All rooms on the first floor were completed last week, with the other floors to be finished in the near future. Work done consists of calculating and tiling, Ohad Peters, first year student of engineering, is doing the work.

Former Student Here Weds Arizona Man

Miss Lillian Laird of Ardmore, who attended Murray the first six weeks of this term, was married to James A. Wash of Safford, Arizona, November 26, in Safford.

Mr. and Mrs. Wash will make their home in Safford, where Mr. Wash is employed by the Southern Pacific Railway Company.

Mrs. Wash is a sister of Katherine Laird, second year student here.

Intra-Mural Loop Has Five Entries

Gray, Frisby, Dobbs,
Berryhill Lead
Basket Fives

Varsity Barred

A well rounded intra-mural ops basketball season will get under way in the near future it has been announced by Director of Athletics C. J. Powell and will be played with each team playing the other team two times. The final standing will be determined on a percentage basis.

Managers of the teams have been appointed and the selection of material for the event has begun, with practically all managers reporting their lists ready for action.

Teams entered so far are Grays, Washburnes, Frisby's Independents, Dobbs' Jagers, and Berryhill's Wolverines, with another team to be known as the Pumbling Fives to be organized soon.

The intra-mural program will be enabled many players to see action, as no varsity player will be allowed to participate, but if they are outside of the first fifteen Aggie cage they will be allowed to participate. The games will be played daily until a round-robin schedule is completed.

In case of a tie between the two top teams a playoff will probably settle the championship standings, and if such a game should become necessary should be a real basketball battle, for among the intra-mural teams there will be some classy basketweavers, many of them having played a wide range of high school basketball.

Ags Lack Polish

Flashing an impressive offensive, East Central Teachers college players opened their season at Ada last Tuesday night with a smashing 42 to 18 win over C. J. Powell's Murray Aggies in their seasonal opener.

The first half was all East Central as Gordon Murphy, former Murray star, and Rose, center, went on a two man scoring spree to coast them into a 22-7 lead at half-time. Most of the shots were made from points near the basket, it was clearly an exhibition of fine shooting on the part of the McHardie coached Tigers.

Rennick, Jackson and B. King led the Aggie offensive, with Jackson setting the pace with seven points. The Aggie machine, and the Tigers, were going through a process of experimentalism, and could not hit any definite stride.

Cowboys Are Strong

The Aggie boxing squad is due to undertake this week what is probably the most difficult assignment of the year when eight strong, they set forth tomorrow on an invasion of the Oklahoma A. and M. Cowboys' arena.

The Cowboys with a roster of fighters that might well be taken for the main roll of finalists in the state amateur boxing and A. A. U. tournaments, present the most widely distributed collection of fighters in any section of the country this year.

One of the Murray entries may fare in the encounter is very large, but questionable. P. A. Shallemberger, most promising of the 112 pounders in sight, has been ill since last Thursday, and it is extremely doubtful if he will be able to go at all. The top speed in time to render the advantage he has been counted on.

It looks as if the athletic committee of Texas university are very much in doubt as to who will direct athletics this coming year.

At last Harry Newman's long time pass record has been broken. Arnold Herber of the Green Bay Packers turned the trick this past season. Herber was on the throwing end of 112 passes, of which 77 were complete for an average of 44 per cent and 1,289 yards.

After two years as athletic director at O. U. Cliff Jones will go to Fort Leavenworth at Leavenworth, Kansas. Tom Stidham, erstwhile line coach under Jones has been picked as head coach by the committee of athletics at the university. Dana X. Bible will also remain at Nebraska university where he has produced some of the nation's greatest athletes in the past few years.

The selection of Pittsburgh for the Rose Bowl classic proved to be a very sour dose even here. Practically all fans would like to have seen Bernie Moore's L. S. U. Tigers or Frank Thomas' Alabama Crimson Tide.

Ags Place Seven On All-Star Team

Wylie, Stice Placed on First String Roster

Five on Second Team

Two members of the 1936 Murray Aggie football team have been named on the Daily Oklahoman's All-State Junior college eleven...

There is no doubt that this pair helped the Aggies put several games out of the fire during the past season. Stice was a very adept young gent as catching forward...

Ed Alsup, captain of the last team, Doyel Wilson, Pat Smith, Carl Hankaplar and Jack Covington placed on the second team.

The lion's share of the first team places went to the Cameron Aggies, but nearly everyone on the team has some of the praise of the line play by Captain Ed Alsup...
