A Class B Invitational Speech Tournament is to be sponsored by the Language Arts Department of Murray State College, Friday, February 4. Events for teams are to include debate, duet-acting in both humorous and dramatic categories, and 1-act plays. All plays will be presented in the college auditorium at 7:00 p.m. Friday night.

Officers selected for Chi Alpha

The following were selected as the officers of Chi Alpha: President Carol Genn, a sophomore Business Administration major from Ardmore. Vice-president, Jim Mayberry, a sophomore from Lexington majoring in History. Secretary, Thelma White, a sophomore from Wanette majoring in Elementary education. Reporter, Lynda Keith, a freshman from Lone Grove who is majoring in Elementary Education. Tom Estes, a sophomore from Stonewall, majoring in Drafting was chosen as Program Chairman.

Chi Alpha was organized under the sponsorship of Reverend Lester Ames, Buddy Parks, and Francis Blakemore for the purpose of giving the Assembly of God and Pentecostal Holiness students on campus a fraternity for fellowship.

The public is invited to attend these performances.

According to Wood, a number of high schools have expressed a desire to compete in this year's tournament. Each school's entries in the contest will be viewed by judges who have been selected from qualified area residents and members of the Murray College faculty.

Points will be given to winners of the various events and the school amassing the highest number of points during the entire tournament will receive the Sweepstakes trophy. Last year's Sweepstakes winner was Stroud High School. Other awards will consist of a trophy for the best 1-act play, medals for individual first-place winners, and certificates for second and third-place winners.

Senate welcomes new students

The Student Senate met Thursday night, January six, at seven o'clock, this was the first meeting held by the organization since their return from the holiday vacation.

Roll call was the first event, followed by the secretary's report, which included the minutes of the last meeting.

Old business was discussed first. The final report on the "Sexist Prof" contest was given by Bill Fitts. The winner by write-in vote was Sherman Spencer, the legal winner was Gerald Alloway. A report on the Student Senate bulletin board was given by Ken Case. Plans were made for a future constitution committee meeting and for a party meeting to be held in a pizza house.

Ricardo Gonzalez reported on the progress made toward purchasing a new meeting room clock.

The agenda then turned to new business. A "Howdy Dance" was scheduled, to welcome all new students and also the possibility of an information booth, for their convenience, was considered and agreed upon. A report on the last Student Personal Meeting was given by Preston Parker. At the request of the administration, the senators presented possible titles for the two new buildings on campus, and the recently constructed classroom building.

Dr. Murray, Academic Dean, was the Senate's special guest, and sat in on the meeting. The meeting was adjourned by Preston Parker, Student eSenate president.

Sandstone of the Temples of Abu Simbel is so soft, reports Reader's Digest, that explosives and water cannot be used in the current project of cutting them apart and moving them to higher ground to keep them from being engulfed forever by Nile water to be backed up by the new Aswan Dam.

Enrollment fees due January 17

Student registration and fee payment will follow somewhat the same pattern as that used in the fall registration.

All pre-enrolled students who have paid their fees will be ready to attend classes on Tuesday, January 18, without further action. Pre-enrolled students who have not paid their fees should report to the Business Office, Monday, January 17, for that purpose in accordance with the following schedule:

Student's Last Name Begins With:
L-Z 8:30-11:30
A-K 1:30-4:30

Those pre-enrolled students, with fees paid, wishing to change classes or schedules, should delay changes until January 18 or thereafter. If fees have not been paid, students should pick up cards of admission at the Registrar's Office and enrollment sheets at the Business Office. They should then proceed to the Library to make the necessary changes with the help of their respective adviser. Students should return to the Registrar's Office for clearance prior to fee payment in the Business Office.

Students and prospective students who have not pre-enrolled should report to the library on Monday, January 17, as follows:

Student's Last Name Begins With:
L-Z 8:30-11:30
A-K 1:30-4:30

Students who will have not pre-enrolled will pay fees in the business office after they have enrolled.

BULLETIN

Housemothers of Murray College's dormitories will expect full cooperation from all students in keeping the curfew and "quiet times" that are to be in effect during the semester finals period. Semester examinations will be given during the days of January 10-12, and an 8:30 curfew will be in effect.

Art Club plans first showing

The Art Club of Murray College will present an art display January 19-21 in the college library. Works by members of both the 112 drawing class and the 113 night class will be exhibited. Everyone is urged to attend and view the show.

Book list serves as study aid for busy students

The Exploration of the Inner World authored by Antoin T. Boisson makes available studies dealing with mental disorders and individuals who pass through periods of emotional crisis and mutation. Also, religion is taken into consideration by studying about Jesus and his experiences.

Philip Harben's Best Quick Super Dishes is a rather interesting book since it has only twenty favorites of the authors and all of which eggs are the main ingredients. He tells how to make French dishes and Chinese dishes, as well as American. For example, Smoked Haddock a' La Bonne Femme is made with fish, eggs, milk, onions, mushrooms and seasonings.

Books about drawing, and sketching will serve as aids in art or another similar course. These books are authored by Watson.

A variety of poems can also be found in the new book collection. Among them are poems of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, John Milton, Ogden Nash, Robert Frost's In The Clearing, and poems by W. B. Yeats.

History books entitled Our Times by Mark Sullivan are of access in the College Library.

Better Homes and Garden has made available books about modeling, decorating, and gardening. Living for Young Homemakers and House and Garden is another book of interest to the homemaker

"AND WHICH ONE ARE YOU?"

Around the end of a college semester there are just two classes of students on campus. The people who have prepared in advance for finals week, and those who find that they have about one week in which to complete assorted term papers, reports, and pages of reading in order to successfully pass their courses.

Students of the former classification may be easily distinguished by their appearance. Their facial expressions are calm, their hands are steady, and their eyes are clear. They face final exams with concern, but without panic, and their attitude is one of hope for the best.

Consider next, however, the poor students who falls into the latter category. Their stricken look, the feverish gleam in their eyes, and their trembling hands indicate late, late sessions with typewriters and textbooks. They face final exams with feelings of horror, dread, and just plain nausea. To them, the outcome of a whole semester's work hinges on this last few days of school. For some 17 weeks they have hedged and evaded and put off and waited . . . refusing to believe that a day of reckoning would eventually come.

If you are one of the fortunate people who has used his time wisely and who kept up assignments and outside readings, Congratulations! May your efforts be rewarded by many A's! If, on the other hand, you are on your third bottle of No-Doz, and if your eyes are still smoking from trying to catch up your studying last night (and especially if you're a contact lens wearer and when you tried to put them on this morning they melted on your eyeball), Consolations! And welcome to the great big club!

As it appears to me—

By Fern Perry

Here it is that time of year again; the time to make New Year's Resolutions and to begin everything anew. Speaking of new things, Mr. Alloway, how do you like your new title?

Starting Tuesday you may start selling your books back to the bookstore and buying your new books. Better luck next semester.

It seems there is a new fad on campus: everyone is wearing engagements rings or gold wedding bands. John and Jerry what are you waiting for?

Linda Keith why did it take you so long to get into your pajamas Tuesday night?

In a recent biology session Richard McKee said that he once dated a girl who could out bowl, out wrestle, and out run him. Miss Sells asked him if this girl could play the drums better than he could. "I don't know," he said. "I was afraid to get them out."

As a closing thought, I would like to congratulate Mattie on her nice performance Wednesday night, but Mattie how did you rate a separate dance routine?

What's new with Murray's girls

The girls participating in the intramural sports program were hostesses during the Girls' High School basketball tournament held at Murray during the week of December 6.

During the past three weeks the girls in intramurals have played volleyball, but are scheduled to start practicing basketball immediately after mid-term.

The Calamity Janes did a dance routine to the record, "Honey Bun", during the half-time of the Murray vs. Southwest Junior College, January 5.

The Janes, along with the Aggie Marching Band, will journey to Tulpelo, January 25. The girls will dance several routines to the theme from "Pink Panther", and the band will play several selections.

OH, BLISS, TO WAKE UP!

It is a dark, wintry dawn. A group of students stand on the library steps, stamping their feet and blowing on their fingers in the frosty air.

"It's almost time," croaks one, who has a bad cold. "Only a couple of hours more!"

A little before 8:00, three emaciated, hollow eyed librarians appear and timidly edge through the crowd to open the doors.

"About time!" growl the students. They swarm in and storm the bookshelves, jerking books down and occasionally fighting over a choice volume. The librarians are sent scurrying hither and thither, hunting material on economics in Lithuania (five reference books and ten periodical articles); the mechanical wiring system of electric eels, and so on. They stagger from shelves to tables with armloads of books.

A class bell rings. One student starts up guiltily.

"Don't you have to attend class?" ventures one librarian timidly.

"Class? Waste of time!" thunders the leader. "We are in search of true knowledge!" He glares at the student, who slinks back into his seat.

Noon comes, and still the students stay on.

"I'm hungry!" whispers one of them weakly.

"Silence!" roars the leader. "We seek food for the mind, not for the body!" He tears out a leaf and chews thoughtfully. The others follow his example while the librarians watch, dismayed. One girl produces a salt shaker, salts a leaf and tastes with approval.

"Mine's too dry!" mutters the hungry boy. He shows signs of having once been plump, as his skin and clothes hang in folds. "Could I get a drink of water?"

"Water? Certainly not," booms the leader. "It must be chewed, not washed down!" He scowls and the boy dismally tears out another page.

They read on. Time passes. The librarians pass out more books. Dinner time passes. Again the students dine on true knowledge. The plump boy passes out.

The librarians are barely creeping, now, to the thundered commands of the leader. Nine o'clock comes. The librarians grow faint. They try to hide in the book stacks but the leader drives them out.

"Only two more hours!" he cries. "We must read a thousand pages of history yet!"

The librarians rally feebly. They bring more books and fall on the floor. As the clock strikes eleven, they start up. The students are leaving, dragging the poor plump boy out. The librarians stare, glassy eyed, at the shambles around them. They totter to their feet and begin to put away the books.

"Thank heavens!" croaks one of them. "Nine whole hours before we open the doors again! Sleep!"

"Food!" means another. She tears out a page of Sophocles and munches dully. "I wish they'd left the salt shaker," she mutters. Half way through the page she falls forward, nodding, a half eaten leaf in her mouth. The third librarian crawls to the light panel and puts out the lights. There she falls, asleep at the switch.

The room grows chilly. The librarian stirs and a book falls, resounding like a shot in the silence. She sits up in panic, cold sweat breaking out on her brow. Surely it isn't time—yet! It's still dark outside.

The fog of sleep lifts, and her mind clears. Thank heaven, she is not in the library, or in a madhouse, after all. She is safe at home in bed. Oh, bliss, to wake up!

He was named to the Region II All-Star team and received All-American honorable mention.

Intramurals to be reorganized following exams

The intramural program will be postponed and then reorganized at the end of the semester, according to Coach Wayne Canaday.

Participation in volleyball was made almost impossible due to the heavy afternoon lab schedules of most of the participants. The volleyball schedule called for games to be played exclusively on Wednesday afternoons.

Coach Canaday said, however, that the program would be reorganized once the semester finals were over and everyone could participate.

The second semester program will include basketball, track, tennis, badminton, and possibly a continuation of volleyball.

Strange noises issue from the student union

Every morning about 8:00 a strange noise is heard from a corner in the Student Union. The noise, which resembles the ringing of a bell, continues through the day only stopping from 4:00 until 7:00 and ends at 9:45 just to begin at 8:00 the next morning.

Usually clustered around the vicinity of this strange sound is a group of students. They seem to be studying it as though it is something unusual, and as if they will never see it again. They probably study it as much as they study for semester finals. Some are even wondering if this unique noise can be found in Viet Nam. To find out what this fascinating sound belongs to, you can fight your way through the mob to the corner. A closer look over the shoulders will reveal the ever-faithful pin-ball machine.

Library service extension due

A permanent location for the bookmobile had not been selected early this week.

A librarian, still to be hired, will keep the bookmobile open from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesday and Fridays; on Monday nights from 6:30 to 8:30; and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. till noon.

Gonzalez, Fitts voted most active student senators

The Student Senate held an emergency meeting January 19, however, it was extended to the following day because of lack of time.

Main events of the meeting were the recognition of Ricardo Gonzalez as the most active Student Senator, and Bill Fitts as the most active honorary member.

The Senate was asked to help back and support a "March of Dimes Dance," to be held in Madill. The request was made by Pat Bolin, manager of the radio station located in Madill, Oklahoma. The Senate agreed to do so, and made it a point to encourage all students to attend the dance after the ball game that Saturday night.

The information booth for new students was very successful, and plans were made to extend this project to next year, especially during orientation week. The Senate is still trying to revise their present constitution, and a new date was set for the next constitutional meeting. It was also voted to invite the Tishomingo High School students to the "Howdy Dance," to be held Monday night, January 24.

The Senate was very well pleased with the turn out for the pep assembly in relation to the O.M.A. game, and is in the process of making plans for future assemblies for the Cameron and Pratt games. A group of folk singers will be the main attraction of a special assembly sponsored by the Senate. Time and date of the assembly will be posted in the future. All students on campus are encouraged to attend.

Funds were also appropriated for a new filing cabinet, to be used in the Senate meeting room. A discussion was held to set a new meeting time, and to appoint a historian in the near future. The Senators were issued their new Senate pins.

Junior college enrollments up 22 per cent

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Enrollments in the country's junior colleges for the fall of 1965 rose to 1,292,753, setting a record yearly increase of 22.6 per cent over 1964 registrations, according to figures released by the American Association of Junior Colleges. Enrollments for the fall of 1964 totaled approximately 1,050,000.

The opening of 50 new colleges accounted for a measurable share of the increase, but key states in junior college development showed increases ranging from 12,000 each in Michigan and Pennsylvania, to 25,000 in New York, and to 57,000 in California. California has some 80 junior colleges; New York has 67; Pennsylvania, 43; and Michigan, 23. Texas, with its 47 colleges, accommodated 61,938 students, and Florida's 27 institutions enrolled 61,667.

The Association's figures are based on its 1965 survey of all junior colleges that are regionally accredited and/or approved by state education agencies. Information obtained through the survey is being processed for publication in the annual Junior College Directory, to be published in January. Of the 71 junior colleges which will be listed in the Junior College Directory this year, 268 are independent of church-related institutions and 503 are public institutions. The Directory will also contain the names of more than 30 colleges now in the process of organization for opening in 1966.

Most of the new colleges reported impressive enrollments as they began operations.

Oakland Community College in Michigan, for example, welcomed 3,284 students in an area of the state that is well-laced with four-year colleges and universities. Lane Community College in Eugene, Oregon, opened with 2,891 students.

Two new colleges in the Maricopa County Junior College system in Arizona brought enrollments in the system to nearly 20,000. The new colleges—Glendale and Mesa—enrolled 2,000 and 1,369, respectively. The other college, Phoenix, had 16,094 students.

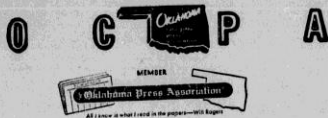

The present rate of growth in numbers of institutions and in enrollments is expected by AAJC to continue for the foreseeable future as more and more communities and states plan for expansion of higher education opportunity.

School buses transport 14,247,000 students of public schools to and from classes every day. That number is 36 percent of all students enrolled in the nation's public schools.

All Around Campus

By Fern Perry

When a column changes hands, the byline should change too. After giving it some serious thought, I decided to change the name of the column to "All Around Campus."

That beautiful white stuff all over the ground created a new turn of events around campus. Girls were rolling their hair during the noon hour. (Could have been because they were rolled in the snow.)

Those screams of agony heard on campus could be produced by only two things: A girl being rolled in the snow or a girl having snow put down her back. Was it cold girls?

Did you know that most snowballs can fly faster than the average student can run? People, you don't stand a chance!

Lisa, if you have a good imagination you can pretend that Christmas is just now here and you can have a White Christmas.

There is a rumor around campus that some people still bring apples to their instructors. Does it help, Don?

By the way Mr. Goss, I heard that all of your classes were closed out this semester. I guess you were as popular as you kept telling everyone. I suppose that proves the saying, "Convince yourself and you can convince anyone."

Let's make Murray a double winner

This year the Basketball Conference is going to award two trophies at the end of the basketball season: one trophy to the Conference champions and a trophy to the school with the best sportsmanship, in both players and spectators.

The Aggies have a real good chance of winning the conference this year, so let's put out a little bit of effort and make the Aggies a double winner this year. What do YOU say?

GRETCHEN DISS freshman journalism major from Ardmore will join the Aggelite staff second semester.

Ardmore frosh selected for Aggelite staff

Gretchen Diss, freshman journalism major from Ardmore, has joined the AGGIELITE staff for the Spring semester. Gretchen will be filling the position vacated by Leslie Winburn, Tishomingo freshman. Miss Diss is the daughter of Mrs. Beryl Diss, 726 Cambell, Ardmore, Oklahoma.

She was very active in speech and dramatic activities during the fall semester, and also wrote articles for the AGGIELITE.

Heard the Cowboy say --

By The Bentleys

The college Rodeo Club met last Wednesday evening and discussed work on the arena. Work will begin immediately on repairs. Also bids were announced on cost of materials.

It was also disclosed that the next meeting time would be announced later. At that time vacancies of officers needed would be filled. Films of last year's rodeo are planned for the next meeting, and membership fees will also be due.

Snowflakes fall; snowballs fly

Students were aghast Wednesday morning and again on Friday as they looked out of classroom windows to see large snowflakes peeping down. Many exclamations were: "You mean it's really snowing!"; "I can't believe it!"; These particular mornings, one could see students walking gleefully through the snow, not caring how white their hair looked as they walked into their next class.

By mid afternoon, there was plenty of snow on the ground to do all sorts of things: making a very large snowball in front of the Ad building, having snowball fights, or rolling screaming girls in the snow.

All in all, Murray campus was a beautiful sight, and there is probably no one that can say they didn't enjoy these snowfalls.

Murray ranks seventh in nation

At a pep assembly Thursday, January 20, in Beames Hall, the 1964-65 basketball team was presented with individual awards given by the Oklahoma State Legislature.

President McKee gave a short talk, in which he said that the Murray Aggies were placed seventh in the nation.

The cheerleaders did some short skits and led yells; all to promote more school spirit for the coming ballgame.

Murray loses to Nationally third ranked Cameron

Cameron State College, nationally ranked third, downed fifth nationally ranked Murray State College at Lawton by a score of 91-69 Friday, January 14 before a crowd of 3,000.

This ballgame not only had national ranking at stake but decided which team was the Oklahoma Junior College basketball champ until they meet again.

The Aggies will meet Cameron at Tishomingo on February 5. This should prove to be an exciting game.

Murray and Cameron battled for the lead all through the first half with neither team holding over a five point lead at any time. Cameron finally took a 41-39 lead at half time.

The first five minutes of the second half started as the first half had ended. The hot shooting Cameron team couldn't be slowed down. They hit 50 points in the second half to Murray's 30.

Cameron shot 45 free throws and hit 27 while Murray shot 19 hitting 11.

Aggie starting five score in double figures

Murray Aggies defeated the Eastern Mountaineers 74-64, Saturday night, January 22.

Murray missed their first chance to score when Eastern scored on their first shot but the sure-shooting Aggies hit 7 field goals without a miss to take a 14 to 8 lead with 15:20 left in the first half. One minute later the Mountaineers had closed the gap to 16-11 but this was to be as close as the Eastern team would get to the sure-shooting Aggies. Half time ended with Murray 45 and Eastern 32. Murray hit 20 field goals out of 31 shots for a 64 percent the first half. Ardele England, sophomore from Oklahoma City hit 19 of his 23 points in the first half. Ardele hit 7 field goals while shooting only 9 to pace the Aggies in shooting the first half.

Eastern outscored Murray the second half but couldn't come any closer than 8 points to the Aggies before Coach Robbins called for the delay game with 6:19 left to play in the second half. The final score was Murray 74 and Eastern 64.

Ardele England pulled down 13 rebounds and hit 23 points while Hal "Stick" Grant hit 16 points and grabbed 13 rebounds. All five of Murray's starters were in the double figures in scoring.

Aggies win JUCO opener by 59-55 over Connors

Murray opened their Oklahoma Junior College Conference play by downing Connors 59-55 at Warner January 17.

Hal "Stick" Grant paced the cold shooting Aggies to victory by hitting 21 points. Grant hit 5 of his 8 field goals in the second half and all 5 of his free throws.

The Murray team experienced for the first time this season the loss of two starting players. Lewis Lillie, sophomore from Houston, Texas was out with the flu and Sleepy Simon, sophomore from Houston, Texas wasn't up to playing due to an injury obtained in the Cameron game. Lillie and Simon played only enough to keep the Aggies out of trouble.

Murray led 29 to 19 with 6:20 left in the first half before Connors hit a hot shooting streak to close the gap to 30-28 with 2:06 left to play in the half. Connors went into a delay game at this time working for a sure two points so they could take a tie in with them at half time. With just seconds left in the half, Daniel Jordan, sophomore from Houston, Texas, stole the ball from Connors and let the clock run out. Murray took a 30-28 lead at half time.

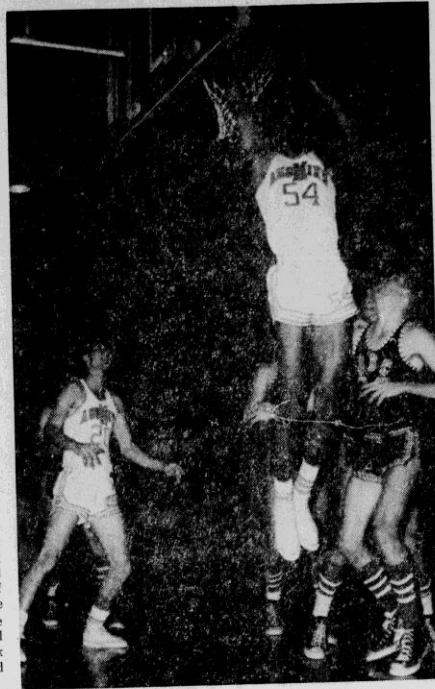

Connors pushed the Murray team all the way through the second half, never letting the Aggies have more than a 5 point lead.

With 3:48 left to play in the second half, Coach Robbins called for the delay game and it worked once again for the Aggies.

"Stick" Grant not only hit 21 points but he also picked off 21 rebounds.

Aggies delay game defeats Dallas Baptist

An overflowing crowd watched the Murray Aggies defeat Dallas Baptist January 10 in Beames Hall.

Dallas Baptist brought with them an impressive 12-1 record and a tough ball team to back it up.

Dallas led the Aggies until 9:41 left in the first half when Lewis Lillie, sophomore from Houston, Texas, hit two free shots to tie the score at 18-18. Hal "Stick" Grant, sophomore from New Orleans, Louisiana put the Murray team ahead with a jump shot from the base line.

The Aggies built up a 39-31 half time lead but the strong Dallas team came out the second half and closed the gap by a score of 41-32. This was as close to the Aggies as Dallas could get for the remainder of the game.

With 12:18 left to play in the second half, the Murray team went into their delay game with the score 49-44 in favor of the Aggies.

Over six minutes elapsed before Dallas could get on the score board but the hot Aggies hit 17 straight points. With a commanding 66-44 lead, the Aggies stopped their delay game and began to shoot from outside. Dallas tried to come from behind but time ran out with the Aggies 72 and Dallas 59.

STUDENTS CAN STUDY and enjoy the art show in the college library. Today is the last day for the show being presented by the college art department.

Murray students display art work in campus library

The Art Department of Murray State College under the direction of Larry Milligan, art instructor, is presenting its first annual Art Show from January 19 until January 25 in the library.

According to Milligan, "The show displays the ever present range from excellent to mediocre, however the students are to be commended for their efforts and achievements." It is Milligan's opinion that this type of activity will stimulate the existing art interest in this area.

The display will include works in water color, oil and various drawing media as well as photography.

DEAN RAY CLEVELAND and Joan Kimbrough discuss the modern art on display in the library. College students have 60 works of art in the show.

Aggie annual to meet deadline

New Spring semester students may place orders for yearbooks until February 1, in the Business Office. Yearbook pictures for newcomers will be taken by Mr. Alloway in accordance with schedule announcements which will be posted.

The Tribesman staff has a February 20 final deadline. The annual will be in the students' hands by the first week in May, according to J. W. Fletcher, yearbook sponsor.

You can't please everyone all the time and that is also the case with the yearbook. "The Sports section has an early deadline to meet," lamented sports editor Paul Lambert. "Because of that track and baseball cannot receive the complete coverage given to other sports."

On the lighter side, the sports section will occupy 15 pages, the largest in the annual's history. The sports' section will be accompanied by a complete summary of Murray's basketball season, with a pictorial athletics Hall of Fame to be picked by the respective coaches.

In Oklahoma, 201,795 school children are transported to and from school each day in buses or other publicly-owned vehicles at an annual cost of more than eight and a half million dollars.

MICKEY ROWE, Murray instructor takes time from his busy schedule to visit the art show in the college library. All of the art in the show was done by students of Larry Milligan, college art instructor.

Trainees sought for nurses aides

Persons successfully completing the course will be eligible for employment at the hospital, according to James M. Norris, administrator.

Odds Against You

Tupelo graduates gain place on school papers

Sisters, sisters, oh the joy of being sisters. (Sometimes.) The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Perry, Tupelo, Oklahoma, Jacquita and Fern maintain the title of editor of their respective college newspapers. Jacquita is the editor of the East Central Journal, the official newspaper of East Central State College, Ada, Oklahoma; and Fern is the editor of the Aggielite, Murray State College, Tishomingo, Oklahoma. In the spring of their senior year, 1963, both Aaron and Jacquita chose to attend Murray, and proceeded to enter the following fall. Fern entered two years later in 1965.

Since grade school days, the three have maintained high grade point averages. Aaron was vice-president of the 1963 graduating class of Tupelo High School and was ranked third from the top scholastically. Jacquita was the number one student in that same class. Fern ranked number four in the graduating class of 1965.

While attending Murray, Jacquita and Aaron came to the front as outstanding students; both were high ranking members of Phi Theta Kappa, the national junior college scholastic honor society represented on Murray campus. Jacquita served as vice-president of the organization.

THE GRASS IS ALWAYS GREENER —

The grass is always greener on the other side. Yes, this is certainly true; anyway everyone thinks it is. In the winter you can hear any number of people say, "Oh I wish summer would get here, it's so cold," when summer does finally come the same people can be heard saying, "I wish winter would come, I can't stand this hot weather."

Many people work months and sometimes years for one goal. When it is finally reached, they are ever satisfied. It doesn't matter anymore. They then set their goal for something else.

Why are people like this? A psychology major might be able to explain this striving for something higher; I can only say that it is human nature. If it weren't for this constant search for greener pastures, life would be merely an existence; there would be nothing to look forward to in the future. There would be nothing to live for.

So, to all you searchers I will say: May you always have a higher goal to reach for. You make life worthwhile.—EFP

Goal Diggers plan dance

Who said that the Goal Diggers Club was only for women? Thursday, January 27, at 7:00 p.m., that statement was proven entirely wrong. The members of the Engineer's Club, along with several other males, attended the Goal Diggers meeting. The object of this meeting was to create higher interest in school spirit, as well as to gain new members.

Discussed at this meeting was old and new business along with the new and interesting idea of using a card section at the basketball games.

The next meeting will be held in the Classroom building, February 7, at 7:00 p.m., when a new secretary-treasurer will be elected. Also planned for the next meeting is the discussion of a dance to be held in March.

After the meeting, hot chocolate and cookies were served.

Meal attributes "Abe" Lincoln

Mrs. Sara McNew and Mrs. Katherine Taylor were hostesses of a meal project which took place at 4:00 p.m., February 1, in the Home Economics room. The theme entitled Abraham Lincoln's Birthday attributed the remembrance of a famous president.

Red, blue, and white were the colors which made up the centerpiece. These colors were displayed by the blue and white artificial floral arrangement including two small red lamps setting adjacent to the sides.

Stove pipe hats containing appetizers were the favors, and these small gifts also distributed tiny American flags with them.

Old-fashioned beef stew, Salad, Corn Bread, Cider, Apple-pie and ice cream made up the menu.

I wish summer would hurry and get here; snow is alright, but this is ridiculous! "Catch me, I'm falling," can be heard echoing all over Murray campus due to the recent rain, sleet, and snow.

Mr. Goss, it won't help you at all to put a spy in Mr. Alloway's office.

Tuggle, did you have sweet dreams the other night?

Donna, was that some kind of a modern dance you were doing Thursday?

Janelle, what kind of mistakes did you make that don't have to be erased?

Gretchen, did you have a little trouble with your feet Monday? What happened, didn't they want to stop?

Mattie, did you have an accident with a stray bow and arrow in the Patton Hall lounge?

To the basketball team: Congratulations ! ! !

Boys, they just installed two new pin-ball machines in the Student Union, so go get busy.

Lannie, I heard that you stopped traffic Monday morning. I didn't know you were practicing to be a traffic cop.

To the girls in Patton Hall: Brace up, maybe it will be warm next July.

Mr. Wood, is the "Phantom" still bothering you?

The Jim Mihura family welcomed a bouncing baby boy to their family at 8:57 p.m. January 25. The boy, who was named Bruce Michael, weighed 8 pounds and 5 ounces. He was 21 inches long and very well disciplined, according to the proud father. Congratulations, Mr. Mihura!

Lorna, do you think you're one of the elite group just because you're the only girl in Patton Hall with a "Smiling Jack" ring?

Janelle, do you always wait in government class until the next group comes in and sits down?

Murray College trims Cameron 97-79

LEWIS LILLIE (25) fires a shot for two points as a Cadet from OMA tries to stop the shot. The Aggies downed the Cadets 77-70 in conference play.

Jordan hits 22 points to lead Aggies by OMA

Murray overcame a late OMA rally to down the Cadets 77-70 in a well fought ballgame, Monday, January 31, at Beames Hall.

OMA took an early four point lead and held on for five minutes before the Aggies could overtake them 5 to 4.

OMA took the lead with 7:16 left to play in the first half but the Aggies came charging back to take a 35-28 lead with them at half time.

Murray commanded the first part of the second half but OMA rallied with 5:25 left to play to tie the score 37-37.

The Cadets missed three chances to tie the score and go ahead by missing three one-and-one free shots in the last five minutes of play.

Murray was in trouble most of the last five minutes but key shots and fine ball handling kept the Murray team ahead.

Murray's win over OMA put them in the lead for the Oklahoma Junior College Conference title and broke OMA's 11 game winning streak.

Daniel Jordan, Sophomore from Houston, Texas, playing his finest game on offensive and defensive hit 22 points and pulled down 14 rebounds to lead the Aggies in both departments.

Lewis Lillie, Sophomore from Houston, Texas, hit 20 points and grabbed down 13 rebounds for a fine comeback after being sick and missing two ball games.

Aggies pass century mark second time

Murray State College made its season record 12-2 by downing Ft. Worth Christian College 101-66 Thursday, February 3.

Ft. Worth Christian College took an early lead and kept the Aggies in trouble for the first eight minutes until Murray could find the range.

With 13:40 left in the first half, Murray led 10-9 but two minutes later the Aggies had scored 8 straight points to double their opponent's score 18-9. This seemed to be the spark that Murray needed to get their offensive game on the move. Doug Nowell, sophomore from Savanna hit 5 field goals while teammate Daniel Jordan, sophomore from Houston, Texas, accounted for 6 field goals the first half. Murray took a 49-25 lead at half time.

Coach Robbins started four substitutes at the beginning of the first half and used only three starters in the second half for a few minutes.

Coach Robbins used every player on his 14-man squad giving them valuable experience.

Two notable substitutes were Jerry Thomas 5'7" freshman from Idabel, who hit 14 points and picked off 8 rebounds and Terry Elizondo, 5'9" sophomore from Hugo who pleased the crowd with his hustle and field goal with 14 seconds left to play in the game that put Murray over the century mark.

Hal "Stick" Grant, 6'9" sophomore from New Orleans, Louisiana, led the Aggies in scoring with 16 points and in rebounding with 16.

Simon puts Cameron to "sleep" with 29 points

Murray State College avenged its early season loss to Cameron State College by stomping Cameron 97-79 Saturday night Feb. 5 in Beames Hall before a sellout crowd.

Murray defeats Northern stall game 37 to 28

Murray defeated Northern Junior College at Tonkawa 37 to 28 Tuesday night, January 25, in one of the lowest scoring basketball games in junior college circles this season.

Northern received the opening tip off and started their stall game which was to last throughout the game. Murray gained control of the ball after two minutes of play on a Northern mistake. The Aggies hit six points before Northern could get on the score board, but five minutes of play had passed. Northern continued their keep-away game and after 12 minutes of play Murray led 13 to 7. The smaller Northern team passed up good shots to keep the scoring down. Murray took a 37 to 28 lead with them at half time.

The second half started as the first half ended. Northern shot only when they had lay ups and the Aggies playing a waiting game. Murray shot 16 times and hit 10 in the first half and hit 3 of 10 in the second half. Even though the Aggie team was below their usual scoring and dropped many individual scoring averages it brought them up in the National defensive average.

Murray Aggies hit their first seven shots to give them a 14-6 lead with just four minutes of play gone. Cameron was forced to call two quick time outs to try and cool the hot shooting Aggies from Murray State. With 10:58 left to play in the first half Murray held a 25-15 lead and had hit 11 out of 13 shots from the field.

"Sleepy" Simon, Sophomore from Houston, Texas, spearheaded the Murray Aggies to a 49-39 half time lead.

Cameron came within 8 points of taking the lead with 14:50 left to play in the game with the score 59-51. This was the last time Cameron could come close to the re-vengeing Murray Aggies. Simon kept the Cameron team wondering why he was named "Sleepy" with his shooting from outside and amazing ball handling. Coach Robbins started his delay game with 3:58 left to play and a comfortable 85-72 lead. Murray's delay game paid off once again with Murray out scoring Cameron 12 points to 7 and a final score of 97-79.

Girls intramurals start basketball

Girls Intramural Sports are back on the road once again. This time basketball is in every girl's eyes and you can hear the question over campus "are you going out for girls intramurals?"

Well if you're not, now is a good time to start, for practice is held each Tuesday and Wednesday at 6:00 p.m. in the gym.

Maybe you don't especially care for that silly and boring girls game, but now you don't have to play by girls rules. There is a more exciting way to play which is by using a roving player, similar to boys rules. This game is known as the Division of Girls and Women Sports.

Letters have been written to East Central and Southeastern concerning scheduling games, also a letter was written to Cameron inquiring about Women's Sport Day.

So girls, you don't want to miss out on all the fun. Like Miss Sells states, "the only object in the game is to make the goals."

Have astronauts made pilots old hat?

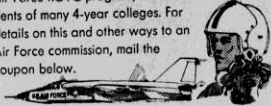

Sure, the boys who go off the "pads" get the big, bold headlines. But if you want to fly, the big opportunities are still with the aircraft that take off and land on several thousand feet of runway. Who needs pilots? TAC does. And MAC. And SAC. And ADC.

There's a real future in Air Force flying. In years to come aircraft may fly higher, faster, and further than we dare dream of. But they'll be flying, with men who've had Air Force flight training at the controls. Of course the Air Force also has plenty of jobs for those who won't be flying. As one of the world's largest and most advanced research and development organizations, we have a continuing need for scientists and engineers.

Young college graduates in these fields will find that they'll have the opportunity to do work that is both interesting and important. The fact is, nowhere will you have greater latitude or responsibility right from the start than on the Aerospace Team — the U.S. Air Force!

You may be particularly interested in the new 2-year Air Force ROTC program, available to transfer students of many 4-year colleges. For details on this and other ways to an Air Force commission, mail the coupon below.

Beware of icy roads

A major factor, causing various accidents around campus and on the road, is the hazardous road conditions. As a result there has been personal injury, property damage, and cancelled insurance policies.

When the roads are icy, the best way to prevent an accident is to restrain from driving. However, if you must drive, keep in mind these safety tips:

1. Travel at a slow rate of speed
2. Do not follow closely to preceding vehicles
3. Be especially cautious while crossing bridges, hills, and curves
4. Do not pass, unless absolutely necessary.
5. Refrain from slamming on the brake, pump them or gear down the vehicle
6. If the car starts skidding, turn

Chi Alpha joins in youth rally

Gamma Sigma Chapter of the Chi Alpha attended the Sub-district C. A. (Christ Ambassador) Rally the night of February 14, at 7:30 in Ardmore at the Central Assembly.

"Speed the Light," was the central theme of this rally and the purpose was to send donations of money to missionaries represented in South America, Chile, and Africa.

Previously, Chi Alpha held its regular meeting Feb. 7, at 6:30 in the Administration building. The meeting proceeded routinely in the study of Romans taught by Rev. Lester Ames from the Assembly of God in Tishomingo.

Sponsors, Rev. and Mrs. Ames, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Blake-moore, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Parks, and their children were present at this meeting.

Art Club sponsors Valentine dance

The Murray Art Club sponsored a Sweetheart Valentine Dance on February 15.

A group from Ada, the Fugitives, furnished the entertainment for the affair.

The semi-formal dance was held in Murray's student union. The Art Club decorated the ballroom in red and white streamers and multi-colored Valentine hearts.

Pictures were taken of couples by Don Blevins of the Journalism Department.

De La Rosa re-elected in International Club

Election of officers was the primary purpose of the International Club meeting February 14 and to discuss briefly the plans for the second semester.

Alejandro de la Rosa was re-elected as the President as were the Secretary-Treasurer, Rosetta Favors; Student Senate Representative, Ricardo Gonzales; and Reporter, Tom Freeman; Bill Rains was elected as Vice President.

The International Club is still open for membership for anyone who is interested.

OCU Balladiers to visit Murray

The Student Senate is sponsoring a special "Hootenanny," to be announced later, in the college auditorium.

The "Balladiers," a special singing group from OCU, will be entertaining. The group is composed of two very talented young men, Dave Stewart and Robert Fewel. They will present witty and humorous folk music.

Since this is a Senate sponsored assembly every student on campus is encouraged to attend.

The National Interstate System will connect every capital city in the Continental United States and 90 per cent of all cities of 50,000 population or more.

Happy Birthday George Washington

Major Bates will be in the Student Center Tuesday, February 27, to talk to prospective advanced AFROTC students.

Student Senate holds meeting

The Student Senate met in an emergency meeting, February 11, 12:15 p.m. The main order of business was to approve a $100.00 loan to the Art Club for the purposes of having a "Valentine Dance". After considerable discussion on the terms of the proposed loan, it was passed unanimously. The dance was to be held in the Student Center.

There was also some discussion concerning the Regional Basketball Meet. Since Murray is in a very fine position to win this meet and even go to the nationals, there was an idea on the floor of possibly chartering a bus for Murray Students. This possibility will be discussed further at the next meeting.

The Senate will have a dinner meeting, February 17, 7:00 at Anastasio's in Ardmore. A pep assembly, which was held Monday morning in preparation for the Conors game was planned.

There will be a detailed report on the Senate Constitution Committee at the next meeting.

The meeting was then adjourned.

WHAT IS AN OPINION?

What is an opinion? What good does it signify? Countless questions arise dealing with all phases in which we as individuals are asked in some manner as to what our opinions are. Do we have opinions about things? Do we let other people make up our minds for us only to satisfy themselves?

There are values to everything and we need to examine it no matter what is may pertain to. In forming the constitution, all did not go smoothly, for time and time again they had to meet and finally come to a compromise. Their opinions made our big America in the past. They've paved our democratic way of life for us, so we as Americans need to hold strong to our democratic viewpoint. What is your opinion?"—B.H.

TELEVISION AND OUR YOUNG PEOPLE

What is television doing to our young people? This may seem like a topic that could be discussed only in Time Magazine or Newsweek. The truth of the matter is, even though it isn't widely discussed, it is in the minds of many people all over the world.

Recently in my English class the subject of commercials was brought into discussion. Most commercials don't care how bad their grammar is just so they get their sales talk over to the people. A young child in school will learn the correct way to make a statement and that night in sixty seconds, the length of one commercial, he will hear it used in another way; the wrong way. He will hear it used over and over again and very shortly he will forget the correct way.

You may be thinking that this only affects the grammar of the child, and that if only the grammar is affected that isn't so bad. Just stop and think over the television programs you watched the past week. In nearly every show drinking and gambling abounds. In one weekly series a thief and a murderer is portrayed as a hero and regardless of how many lawmen are after him he always escaped. Just think what this could do to a young child, he may begin to think, well if he can do it so can I. If from the time he is able to watch television and know what he is seeing, he sees this type of program, what do you think this would do to him?

The other day I was watching television and a horror movie came on. At the beginning of the movie the narrator came on and gave a little talk about how this certain monster did exist in foreign countries so why couldn't it exist in America? He spoke in such a convincing voice that I caught myself half-way believing what was said. Do you think a young child would only half-way believe it? I don't.

Did you ever watch cartoons on Saturday morning? They may seem ridiculous the way the characters are able to take a horrible beating and always get up for more. They aren't ridiculous to the children who watch them.

It is amazing how children will believe anything that they see or hear on TV, believe that a man or woman could be possessed with super natural powers. Children will try to be just like their television heroes whether he be thief, murderer, sharp-shooter, or a superhuman with super natural powers.

Can you, a college student, tell by television commercials which product is the best? Which product will really clean your clothes the best or which cigarette tastes the best, or do you buy the product because it puts a giant in your washing machine, or a knight comes riding out on a white horse, or because it gets you out of the kitchen fast? Do you buy your cigarettes because they taste cool or because you get a breath of springtime, or because they have the taste that's right? Or do you just hang your room out to air and forget the whole mess?

I don't want you to get the idea that I'm down on television, that I think it is going to ruin our young people completely, because I feel that television, just like anything else, has its good points as well as its bad points. I just feel that it should be changed so that the good points come forth.

Darrell, is it true that you have been having to dodge the girls? I hear they want your autograph.

Mattie, why did you get so embarrassed in the gym Thursday afternoon.

Joyce, did you really think that just giving Mr. Alloway a valentine would make him believe in the sign (Be nice to Joyce this semester)? Oh, well you can always try anything once.

.....

Carolyn, I have finally found out how you stay so slim and trim all the time. You go to the gym and jump rope. Do you always go when the boys are practicing in the gym?

.....

Mr. Alloway, what is that you have on Don that won't do to put in the paper? Is it really that bad?

.....

I want to congratulate Mattie and Pattie; they got to class on time for once.

Lawson, I heard that instead of a bed of roses you had a bed of crackers.

I want to compliment Mr. Reid and his assistant, Paula Robinson, on conducting the band; they have done a fine job. Keep up the good work.

To the girls in room 103 of Patton Hall, I want to ask one question: Is it really so bad living in the dorm that you have to put up signs in your window asking for help.

Looking in the back issues of our paper I came across the following riddle submitted by Tom Wood: Do you know why elephants wear red sneakers? So the blood won't show when they trample law breakers. Are there any of those in the crowd?

LEWIS LILLIE (25) fires one during the Dodge City-Murray game. Hal Grant gets ready to go in for the rebound.

Murray leads JUCO in 71-63 downing of Mountaineers

Murray "Aggies", under dogs by 10 points, handed Eastern A&M its third Oklahoma Junior College loss of the season by a score of 71-63 at Wilburton.

The Mountaineers had to call two time outs before they could slow Murray's scoring game down, but the Aggies had built a 21-8 lead. Eastern's time outs seemed to work and the boys from the "Mountains" cut the Murray lead to six points with 5:01 left in the first half. With 24 seconds left to play in the first half, Eastern tied the ball game at 31-31. Junious "Sleepy" Simon, sophomore from Houston, Texas, gave Murray a two-point lead at half time. Simon hit a jump shot with 12 seconds left in the first half.

The Mountaineers tied the game 33-33 on the first shot of the second half. The Aggies could only stay in the lead by one or two points for the next 9 minutes at which time Eastern tied the score 47-47 with 10:58 left to play in the second half. Eastern tied the score at 49-49, 51-51 and took the lead for the first time 52-51 with 9:37 left to play. Murray picked up a 3 point lead and Coach Robbins called for the delay game with 7:05 remaining in the game. JUNIOUS (SLEEPY) SIMON get ready to fire a long shot. Simon was high man with 25 points as the Aggies beat Dodge City, Kansas 114-75.

Simon leads Aggies to tenth straight victory

"Sleepy" Simon, Sophomore from Houston, Texas, led Murray State College to its tenth straight victory of the season and its 45th straight victory on Murray's home court in four years at the expense of Dodge City, Kansas in a 114 to 75 trimming of the Dodge City "Congs" Wednesday night, February 16 in Beames Hall.

Simon, Lewis Lillie, Sophomore from Houston, and Doug Nowell, Sophomore from Savanna, Oklahoma, combined to give Murray 47 points of it's 57 points in the first half as Nowell led the way with 17 points, Simon followed close behind with 16 and Lillie hit 14.

The Aggies took a early 9 point lead and finally built it to 15 points at the end of the first half. Murray's 57 points in the first half was a first half record for Coach Robbins while coaching at Murray.

The Aggies continued to build on their lead and with 5:06 left to play, Coach Robbins sent in his second team with the score 95-66.

Ardell England, Sophomore from Oklahoma City, hit two points to put Murray over the century mark for the third time this season.

James Johnson, Sophomore from Tyler, Texas, shot just as the buzzer went off and hit to give Murray a 114-75 victory over the Dodge City "Congs".

Aggies win Oklahoma junior college coference

Murray State "Aggies" won the Oklahoma Junior College Championship Friday night, February 18 at Oklahoma Military Academy by defeating the Cadets 82-79.

Oklahoma Military Academy hit 11 points before Murray could hardly get on the scoreboard. Doug Nowell, Sophomore from Savanna, Oklahoma, hit 3 free shots for Murray's first points of the night. OMA led the Aggies 11-3 after five minutes of play and it was five minutes more before the Aggies could tie the game at 17-17. The lead changed five times in the next seven minutes with neither team leading by more than one point. Just before the first half ended, Murray out scored OMA by 5 points to take a 41-36 lead at half time.

Murray led all of the second half but at times it was only a one point difference and 10 points was the largest lead of the game for the Aggies.

With 4:36 left to play, Murray started it's delay game with a 5 point lead. OMA cut the lead to two points with 2:55 left to play but Murray began to score and 55 seconds later the Aggies were ahead 78-71. Final score ended Murray 82 and OMA 79.

Aggies bumps Connors 95-68 in JUCO tilt

Murray State College cinched a tie for the Oklahoma Junior College championship by bumping off Connors 95-68, February 14 at Tishomingo.

Coach Robbins felt that Connors was the dark horse in the Junior College Conference, having previously defeated Eastern by a score of 51-50 and OMA 84-82 all in one weeks time. Robbins didn't want the Aggies to let Connors have a chance to get hot so he started a full-court press at the start of the game which paid off. Murray led Connors by a score of 25-14 after 9 minutes of play and took a 46-28 half time lead.

The Aggies had a 72-44 lead after 12 minutes of play at which time Coach Robbins pulled his first team and gave his substitutes valuable experience.

Murray had four boys to hit in the double numbers, and 13 out of 14 boys scoring at least one point. Doug Nowell, Sleepy Simon, Hal "Stick" Grant, and Ardell England hit over 10 points while playing less than half of the ball game.

Nowell led the team with 16 points. Murray

Five Aggies hit in double figures for win over Pratt

Murray State College downed Pratt Junior College of Pratt, Kansas by 13 points in Beames Hall February 7 to revenge an early season loss. Pratt College defeated the Aggies in their fourth game of the season by a score of 69-66.

Murray jumped to a 24 point lead with just 6:35 left to play in the first half but the "Beavers" from Pratt cut Murray's lead to 17 points at half time.

Murray started the second half, as it had the first, building their lead to 22 points with just 3 minutes gone of the second half. Once again the Kansas team cut Murray's lead to 17 points so Coach Robbins called for Murray's delay game with the score 71-56 and 10 minutes left to play.

Coach Robbins began so substitute freely with 4 minutes left to play but Doug "Sailor" Nowell, sophomore from Savanna pumped in 23 points for his season high.

Six Flags seeks state collegiate performers

Talent scouts from SIX FLAGS Over Texas, the famed $14,000,000 entertainment park located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, are seeking talented Oklahoma collegians for their Campus Revue musical variety show.

Statewide auditions have been scheduled at Stillwater, Oklahoma State University, in the Student Union Building on Saturday, February 26, beginning at 1 p.m.

The visit to Oklahoma and OSU is part of a two-month audition tour that will also carry SIX FLAGS talent scouts onto college campuses in Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama, Louisiana and Tennessee, as well as Texas.

The Campus Revue, an especially written, professionally directed and fully staged show is presented annually from mid-June until Labor Day at SIX FLAGS Over Texas.

SIX FLAGS, which has been visited by more than 6,500,000 people from all fifty states since opening in 1961, is now the most popular single tourist attraction in the State of Texas according to the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

Evidence that the Park's popularity has graphically registered in Oklahoma was revealed by a survey which indicated 132,330 Oklahomans and their families visited SIX FLAGS during the 1965 season.

Each year SIX FLAGS opens in mid-April on a Friday, Saturday and Sunday basis only until the end of May. During the summer months the Park is open seven days a week. Following Labor Day, SIX FLAGS reverts to a Saturday and Sunday operating schedule.

The 1966 version of the Campus Revue will be the fifth in a series dating back to 1962. SIX FLAGS' unique 1,200 seat Amphitheater is SRO during the 12-week run of the show with an average of 300,000 theatergoers in attendance each season.

Besides the performers making up the cast of the Campus Revue, which last year included 25 members from 17 colleges and universities in four states, the Park employs approximately 1,600 other collegians, all fully costumed who work on the various rides, attractions and shows.

President McKee and the thirteen other members of the Council met in the Governor's office Thursday, March 3, at 4:00 P.M. to discuss questionable details of Title I.

Title I of the Higher Education Act of 1965 is concerned primarily with the development and implementation of programs to solve community service and continuing education programs.

Home Ec. class hosts members of faculty

Kara Age, Rice, Mock Sake, Tangerine Baskets, and green tea made up the menu for the Japanese Dinner which took place in the Home Economics room March 1, at 3:45. Sara McNew and Katherine Taylor planned the dinner using brown and orange as the color scheme and a teapot and cups as the centerpiece.

Guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Alloway. The Dinner was eaten in Japanese manner, which was by sitting on pillows at a table about 15 or 20 inches from the floor.

Mr. Alloway gave a talk on what vegetables were used to make alcoholic beverages.

A Hawaiian dinner is planned for March 8. Gloria York and LaJoy Walters will plan the menu for this dinner.

Student Senate holds meeting

The Student Senate held their regular meeting, Thursday night, February 24. The main order of business was discussing the possibility of taking a bus to the Regional JUCO Basketball Tournament to be held in Tulsa. The Senators voted to do so, but the plan was dropped because of the lack of students needing transportation to the game.

A report on the OISA, Oklahoma Interscholastic Student Association, meeting was given by Ricardo Gonzales. Plans were made to attend the OISA spring convention to be held at Northeastern State College. Murray will be allowed to send four voting delegates.

Possible dates for achievement day were submitted by the various senators. The final decision will take place in the next meeting.

Honor group seeks eligible members

Phi Theta Kappa, the national non-secret honorary scholastic society, was organized in 1918 to promote scholarship, to develop character, and to cultivate friendship among the students of both sexes of the junior colleges of the United States of America.

Murray State College holds membership in Phi Theta Kappa, because it is the state approved junior college in this area, offering an associate degree upon completion of two years of college work.

The senior honor society is Phi Kappa Phi. Many members of Phi Theta Kappa later join Phi Kappa Phi when they become seniors or graduate students.

When you are initiated into full active membership, you become eligible to wear the famous golden key of Phi Theta Kappa. To put this in dollars and cents values, wearing this golden key can give you an edge over others when several persons are applying for a job. The key is highly regarded by business and professional men and women.

Phi Theta Kappa is an active organization. Membership in Phi Theta Kappa is not only a reward for a job well done, but the beginning of a new phase of your college life.

National Phi Theta Kappa publishes an informative and entertaining magazine four times each school year. Membership in PTK entitles you to a subscription to this

BEGINNING BUT NOT END

The beginning but not the end. If a team doesn't succeed in winning not all is lost because there is much more to gain than the immediate factor of winning. At the beginning of a season even the greatest teams lose games, but still with the act of constant practice and initiative they gain teamwork which enables them to be better prepared in the next years work.

Although the girls intramurals haven't succeeded in winning their first games they are striving to do their best. So if they're doing their best why do the boys continue to slag them with their quotes, "Why should we be interested in girls sports?" Oh, we have a girls intramural team." And just but not least "they really don't count." Is this the attitude of a mature person or is it just a statement to say we're afraid the girls will overpower us in sports as well as someday go over our heads and become President of the United States.—M.L.L.

WHY A STUDENT SENATE?

What is the Student Senate? What is its purpose? A group which deceives for dances? A student support-clique, whose main objective is to oppose the administration? Or is it a figure-head club held by the college scholars?

To the observant student, the Senate is a worthwhile organization, formed and functioning for his cause. Without it something would be lacking.

One of the main purposes of the Senate is to bring about a close relationship between the student body and the faculty. A system of rules and channels has been developed, which are momentous factors in forming this network of transference. Through the Senate, you the student are represented in the administrative branch of our college. Maybe not directly, but at least your voice is heard, because of the efforts of your representatives and the organization as a whole.

The Student Senate encourages and does much for the development of a wholesome school spirit. The pep rallies and victory signs which hang in the gym, are fine examples of the organizations efforts. All social activities which occur on campus are either directly or indirectly connected with the Student Senate. Every assembly, dance, and rally this year was brought about by the active participation of the Senate.

The Student Senate has developed a spirit of unity and cooperation among the students of Murray. This element of unification has developed and encouraged loyalty to our college. With these conditions present, we as students are allowed more freedom and assurance in school activities. We can use what limited authority we have to better our positions and gain the trust, reliance, and confidence of the college administration.

This year the Student Senate has been as active, or more so, than any other in the past. Only the officers and the senators can be given the credit for its success, they have encompassed you well and will continue to do so, as long as they have your support. The Student Senate depends upon the student body and likewise the student body looks to the Senate. Both must be present in order to have a completely successful year.

It is apparent that you, the student, are very important. Each of you has a moral obligation and the responsibility to sustain an active part in supporting your Student Senate.

Keep in mind the approaching spring election. If you are qualified, honestly willing to work and represent your fellow students, be sure and take an active part. D.C.S.

All Around Campus

By Fern Perry

Beware all you students of Murray College, an epidemic is on the way! I'll tell you a few symptoms of the dreaded disease. (1) The person first becomes drowsy even after a good night's rest. (2) he seems to lose consciousness and appears in a daze. (3) the person feels continuously tired and weak (he may go to sleep at almost anytime, even in class.) Have you observed any of these symptoms in any Murray students? This dreaded disease occurs each year about this time and quickly develops into an epidemic. You may have recognized the disease as Spring Fever. Everyone be careful and take all precautions against contracting this awful disease.

President McKee do you always lend money to just anybody or just to girls down at the Sportsman?

John Charles when did you switch from cakes to soap suds? Who knows maybe you can get a job working for Lawrence Welk?

Lawson is it true that you are going to participate in the college races? Did you say you were going to compete in the bull riding events?

It seems that Rocky Bobb has a First Aid book that lists, along with keeping down at the four, and not to panic, as means of escaping from fire.

Sharon Jones does it help any to hear a serenade when you are working your checks off?

Larry Woods do you really believe that your partner could follow you if she stood at top of your feet?

Mr. Alloway did you have trouble eating at the Japanese dinner? Those Japanese tables are pretty low aren't they?

It seems there are a couple of girls from Poe Hall that have to be bribed with PEANUT BUTTER AND CRACKERS to study their math. How about a Sam and Pama?

Engineer's Club purchases shirts

The Engineer's Club met Wednesday night at the Engineering Building for a short business meeting and program.

The club has purchased shirts with the Engineer's Club emblem on them, the shirts will be green and white. Plans for a field trip to OSU were discussed before the program.

Harold Winburn presented the program. He discussed the future of the engineering technician and the various fields offered in engineering.

The next meeting will be held March 16 at 6:30 P.M. in the Engineering Building, anyone interested in joining is invited to attend this meeting.

Aggies beat NEOJC in tourney 80-77

Murray fought off a second half rally by Northeastern A&M to take its second victory 80-77 in the semifinal game of the Regional II Tournament.

Northeastern took the lead for the first four minutes until Murray tied the game at 9-9 with 16:01 left in the first half. The Aggies led the rest of the first half but Northeastern was never behind more than five points. With 5:31 left to play in the first half Northeastern had moved within three points with the score 36-33. Lewis Lillie and Daniel Jordan sophomores from Houston, Texas, and Doug Nowell, sophomore from Savannah, teamed together to give Murray 15 points while Ardell England, sophomore, Oklahoma City, picked off 9 rebounds in holding Northeastern to 4 points in the last five minutes to take a 14 point lead at half time.

Leading 51-37 at the start of the second half Murray went cold in shooting from the field while Northeastern seemed unable to miss from the field, hitting 11 of their 13 shots and ending the second half hitting over 60 per cent of their field goal shots but Murray's shooting at the free shot line kept the Aggies out in front.

Northeastern A&M came within one point of the Aggies with 8:18 left in the second half with the score 64-63 and again at 65-64 a minute later.

Coach Robbins called for the delay game with Murray ahead 72-67 and 4:47 left in the game and went on to win 80-77 with Northeastern's last two points coming after the game was over on two free shots.

Each year a national convention is held at various places throughout the country. This year it is being held in Casper, Wyoming. A PTK convention is an outstanding event in itself. Being a member of PTK is not only a lifetime honor, but an opportunity to enjoy the fellowship, scholarship, and outstanding events of the organization.

To become a member of Phi Theta Kappa, you must meet the following standards:

1. You must have completed not fewer than 15 hours of work and not more than 59 at the time you are initiated.
2. You must be enrolled in at least 15 hours of work the semester during which you are initiated, unless you have completed 45 hours with an average of 15 hours per regular semester, in which case you may be admitted while carrying only 12 hours.
3. You must have a grade point average of 3.2 (B) or above.

Initiations are held twice each year, during the fall semester and during the spring semester.

Phi Theta Kappa is an honorary scholastic organization and pledging is kept on a high level. Pledges are required to learn a few simple facts about the organization.

The national constitution limits the initiation fee to eight dollars ($8.00) and the annual dues to two dollars ($2.00).

A room deposit of ten dollars will be required to make reservations. This is an increase of 4.00 on the present room deposit of $6.00. Deposits will not be accepted before March 15.

A room arrangement of the new dorm is currently on display on the bulletin board in the Administration Building. Students wishing to live in the new dorm will no doubt wish to consult the layout before requesting a room.

The new dormitory will first be used during the 1966 summer session. Requests for reservations will not be accepted until resumption of classes following Spring Vacation.

Ardell England (53) goes up high to shoot for the Aggies in the Murray-Northeastern game.

Patton Hall has dorm party

Patton Hall had a very unusual dorm meeting last week. The meeting was called to order, but then Mrs. Haynes, the dorm mother, told the girls that she had all kinds of goodies for them to eat setting out in the hall. Like any hungry student, the girls thronged around the table and devoured the morsels.

The girls of Patton Hall wish to thank Mrs. Haynes for the delicious bedtime snack they all enjoyed.

The sprawling student center building is the first of three projects completed in a $1,160,000 construction program due completion by this fall.

Campus activity will center at the spacious new building, attractively nestled among the existing campus dormitories and classroom buildings.

The interior design is of Teakwood Formica panelling throughout the building with colorful new furniture adding brightness and accenting the design of the student center.

The center includes a bright and spotless new, cafeteria, capable of serving 600 students. It also has a compact but roomy kitchen.

A 40-foot serving line is connected with facilities to keep food along the line both hot or chilled, wherever necessary. Virtually all kitchen equipment is new.

SMILE A WHILE

"Smile and the whole world smiles with you—cry and you cry alone." This adage has a lot of meaning.

If you wake up in morning feeling if you had lost your friend during the night and go through the whole day with this feeling, chances are you will lose your last friend. On the other hand if you wake up feeling as if the whole world were against you just look into the mirror and smile, then smile at the first five people you meet. They may not smile back but don't let this discourage you just keep right on smiling. After a while you will find that you are smiling without any effort or reason and you will find that people are smiling back.

Liberace's dentures are famous not because he has them, but because he exposes them. Although people don't normally stretch their mouth as much as he does, it wouldn't hurt to follow the example and at least stretch the average lip length.

I have heard many people say about a certain person, he wouldn't be half so good looking if it weren't for his smile.

You may say, "I would smile more but my teeth aren't straight." This is really no excuse. You don't have to open your mouth like Joe E. Brown, you can smile with your mouth closed.

There is really no excuse for not smiling. It takes fewer muscles than it does to frown. No matter how dark things may seem, just smile and they will seem lighter.

Just keep smiling and eventually the idea will catch on. But smile and mean it. — K. E.

Selective Service tests scheduled

The Selective Service System has established a testing program to provide Selective Service local boards with evidence of the relative qualifications of registrants for college study. The test scores of registrants will provide the local boards with evidence of their aptitude for continued college work. The Selective Service College Qualification Test, prepared and administered by Science Research Associates will be given on Saturday May 14—Saturday May 21—Friday June 3, 1966, to registrants who plan to request occupational deferments as college students.

The test will be given at examination centers throughout the United States, the Canal Zone, and Puerto Rico. Murray State College has been chosen as one of these centers.

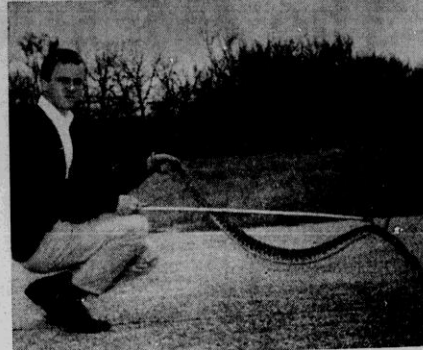

The test presupposes no schooling beyond the ordinary high school preparation for college. Scores on the test will not themselves determine eligibility for deferment. Scores on the test will be used by the Selective Service local boards in considering the eligibility of registrants for occupational deferment as students.

To be eligible to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test, an applicant, on the testing date, must be a Selective Service registrant who intends to request occupational deferment as a college student and must not previously have taken the test.

All eligible registrants who wish to take the test should apply immediately. Obtain a Bulletin, an Application Card (SSS Form 106) and Ticket of Admission (SSS Form 107), and a mailing envelope from any Selective Service local board. Fill out the application in exact accordance with instruction in the Bulletin, insert it in the envelope, and mail it immediately.

On the application you must designate in the spaces provided an examination center and its code number for each examination date. The examination center and center number must be chosen from the list of centers and center numbers appearing in Part 2 of the Information Bulletin. Science Research Associates will assign you to the center requested, or to the closest possible alternative center. Assignment to a center other than that of your choice will be made only when the center you designate is not available.

Any local board will give any material necessary for applying material necessary for applying for the College Qualification Test. Applications for the test must be postmarked no later than Saturday, April 23, 1966.

Aggie sells live rattlesnakes for fun; profit

Spring is upon us; bubbling brooks through green meadows, burst of vivid color from varieties of wildflowers and accompanying the beauty of spring is one of nature's hazards—snakes. Southern and southeastern Oklahoma has more than its share of species, both poisonous and nonpoisonous varieties. When warm weather appears so do the students participating in numerous outdoor activities; fish-fries, swimming, picnics, and parking on the refuge. In any of these "sports one is likely to happen upon one or more of the slithery woodland creatures. Those posing the greatest threat of poisonous bites in this area are the Canebrake (velvet tail) Rattlesnakes, Western diamond back, Pigmy rattlesnake, Maddadauga rattle, Copperhead, and only venomous water snakes, the Cottonmouth. If you can not differentiate deadly from the harmless species, then play it safe and avoid bushes, then it is advisable to carry a good snakebite first aid kit in the glove compartment of your car; insist that your date learn to use it.

However, there is one student on campus who enjoys being around these dangerous reptiles, specially poison ones that rattle. The brain lacking kids name is Jim Craig. He has been interested in snakes, any size, form, or fashion, every since he was six years old. Craig enjoys catching any species, but prefers rattlesnakes. Because they yield a profit and offer quite a challenge.

Jim has participated in snake hunts held at Waurika and Okeene, Oklahoma, and in other states such as Kansas, Florida, New Mexico, Louisiana, Missouri, and Arkansas. In 1964 he took first place in the Waurika hunt.

Although Craig feels comfortable around snakes he still uses certain instruments to capture them with, the "noose," "L stick, and pistol tongs are various snake sticks.

The largest snake he has ever caught was a 7' 11" Eastern Diamond Back rattlesnake. Jim is very careful while handling snakes, however, he has been struck twice. Although Craigs hobby is weird, he has inspired other students to participate in snake hunts.

Located at the rear of the union, the ballroom has a drape-colored glass wall with a railed deck overlooking the rear of the building.

Colorful game tables have been acquired for the recreation room and new shelves and fixtures have been installed in the student book store.

A V.I.P. lounge is also included in the student center for special receptions with plush furnishings and a huge ceiling-to-floor fireplace.

The move of facilities into the recently completed student center was done during spring vacation, making it available for the students on their return.

Work is also underway on remodeling of the old facilities to provide more student housing.

The old cafeteria in the basement of Haskell Lucas Hall is being made over into rooms for another 65 male students and space for 25 girls will be provided by remodeling of the old student center on the first floor of Paton Hall the girls dormitory.

Engineer's Club has active week

Engineers club has been one of the most active clubs on campus this past two weeks. Thursday, March 31, a representative group visited the glass sand factory located a Mill Creek to make a report to the club and will present a program to the Lions Club at a later date.

Tuesday, April 5, the club went on a field trip to Oklahoma State University to tour their Engineering Department and the O.S.U. campus. Among those who went were Mr. Stotts, Mr. Winburn, and Mr. Brisco and nine Engineering boys. They saw advanced projects to test and work out things, to show the strength of metals, and designs their Engineers had made for new tractors for the company.

Club members have received their shirts. The shirts are pale green trimmed in white, the club colors, with an insignia over the pocket which was designed by a former club member.

Wednesday night the Engineers Club had a brief meeting to discuss some urgent business.

Monday night the Engineers Club sponsored a juke box dance in the ballroom of the student union.

The Engineers Club has many other activities planned, but has set an example of how to fill twelve days with club activities.

BUSINESS BOOMS as students pile into the new student union between classes. Mrs. Miller and assistants have their hands full taking orders and getting used to the new location and facilities.

Additions add to campus life

March 28, Murray State College informally opened its new student center and cafeteria.

On March 29, the new ballroom was put into use. A dance was held to initiate the addition to campus life.

The student union is a busy place now with more tables to play spades upon. Many comments have been made about the new union. Students, "love to just go and sit watching the people, like it except the balcony. "I am afraid I am going to get pushed off. "The tables are great for sliding cards across the top. "There is more to do than just sit on the dorm steps, you can play pool in the new gameroom.

Many impressions of the new cafeteria have been made. The students have made such comments: "The window space is great, "the piped music makes it seem more like a college, and it adds atmosphere. "It is great except for having to carry our trays so far.

A new mens dormitory will be completed for the summer. Students have replied: "I think I'll attend summer session just to get in the new dorm. Girls have been quoted as saying: "I wish that was a girls dorm or perhaps I should try to sneak in as a boy.

The additions to Murray have caused many comments. The town people think it will increase sales because more students will be attracted to Murray. It adds to the possibilities of Murray State as a good junior college.

Murray students attend convention

Gretchen Diss, Edwina Harman and Mrs. Katy Rood represented Murray State College at the IAWS Regional III Convention at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, Monday, April 4 and Tuesday, April 5.

IAWS, Intercollegiate Association of Women Students, is the national organization of AWS, Associated Women Students, that includes womens governing groups from more than 200 colleges and universities in the United States. Through this organization the AWS is able to exchange ideas concerning programs of interest and benefit to college women.

The theme for the convention, "Action—The Spirit of AWS, was emphasized by speakers Dr. Blanche Dow, Mrs. Birch Bayh, Dr. Dorothy Turex and Governor Henry Bellmon. Delegates from Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia as well as Oklahoma shared interesting information and ideas.

Although Murray College does not have an AWS organization, plans are being made to try to organize this group which, specifically determines and maintains high standards of conduct to encourage a high level of personal responsibility and citizenship, and to foster friendships in campus living that will be extended into the lives of each woman after she has graduated.

Honor group meets April 6

Wednesday night, April 6, the Phi Theta Kappa members and initiates met to discuss plans for fund raising. The funds will be used to send representatives to the National Convention held in Casper, Wyo.

Plans were discussed for preparing a short skit for the variety show. Phi Theta Kappa was in charge of the concession stand during the Baseball tournament.

The initiates were told the date of their initiation and they voted on whether to have it in the daytime or at night.

Alexander; Severson named to state offices

Six delegates from Murray Student Senate attended the 1966 Spring Convention of the Oklahoma Junior College Student Senate Association (OJCSSA), held at Oklahoma State Tech, Okmulgee, on April 14-15. As soon as this convention was over, four members of the delegation proceeded to Tahlequah, where the Seventeenth Annual Convention of the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Student Association (OISA) was being held at Northeastern State College on April 15-16.

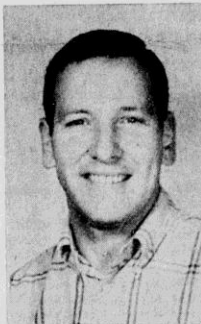

It was a very busy, but successful weekend for the Murray delegates. Those attending were Preston Parker, John Alexander, Rick Gonzalez, and three of the officers-elect for next year: Fred Keas, Dick Severson, and Antoine Treadaway.

At the OJCSSA, Dick Severson, freshman from Marlin, Texas and vice-president-elect of the Student Senate, was elected Vice-President of the organization. The Murray delegation also presented two amendments to the Constitution of OJCSSA. Both were approved unanimously.

The officers elected for 1966-67 were: President, John Malone, Eastern; Vice-President, Dick Severson, Murray; Secretary, Betty Baker, Eastern; Treasurer, Larry Milezzo, St. Gregory's Parliamentarian, Jim Carlile, Connors; Historian, Kathryn Stevens, Connors; and Executive Secretary, Bill Burgess, Dean of Students at Bacone. The delegates also selected Eastern A & M as the host school for the 1966 Fall Conference.

The theme for the Convention was "Effective Leadership," presented by Bacone College. There were three discussion groups, one of them headed by Murray. The topic presented by Murray was "Junior College: An Established Institution." During the periods, various problems concerning the area of Student Government were much discussed.

Room deposit is increased to $10

The Business Office would like to remind all returning students that it will be necessary to place a $10 room deposit with the office in order to reserve a room for the coming school year.

For students currently living in the dormitories this will necessitate an additional $4 being added to the $6 already placed with the Business Office.

If during the summer, a student finds out that he will not be returning he may receive 80% of his room deposit, if requested prior to ten days before school starts.

Students completing their $10 room deposit may select any room of their choice that has, of course, not already been assigned. Only about one half of the rooms remain unassigned in the New Dorm and in Patton Hall. A very liberal selection still remains in our other dorms.

BULLETIN

The closing date for pre-enrollment for returning students has been extended until May 14.

Chi Alphas visit area churches

The Murray Chi Alphas met April 18. All Murray College students were invited. This was one of the programs during Religious Emphasis Week.

Reverend Lester Ames gave a speech which dealt with life in general. He gave quotations from such outstanding people as George Washington, Woodrow Wilson, and Helen Keller. He then ended his speech with a poem entitled "Bridge Builder".

The Murray Chi Alphas have recently visited the Madill Assembly of God, Lone Grove Assembly of God, and the Fittstown Assembly of God.

Aggie Antics held tonight

The first production of the Aggie Antics, with laugh after laugh, will be held tonight as clubs and individuals recall some of the humorous situations of the past year and present skits in an effort to win the grand prize. There are seven clubs competing for the grand prize which will be a large, engraved trophy given with honor and distinction to the lucky club. All of the judges will be unbiased and hand picked from outside of town.

Aggie Antics is being produced by the Student Senate with Barry Buchanan as co-ordinator (the man in charge); Fred Poe as the faculty director and Odes Brown as the Student director; and Tom Freeman as the Master of Ceremonies; and, of course, an all star cast of students representing their clubs.

The Aggie Antics will be held tonight, May 3. Advance tickets may be used or tickets may be purchased at the door.

Record vote counted in recent senate election

Fred Keas, a physical education and English major from Bixby, has been chosen in the recent Senate election, held on April 13, as the President of the Student Senate for the 1966-67 term. Fred was a member of the Progressive Party and led a very active campaign. His opponent was Benton Stricklin, from Prague, Oklahoma. While in high school Fred ranked in the upper 10% of his class holding an over all grade average of 3.6. He was Vice-president of the Beta Club and a member of the Oklahoma Honor Society and was also very active in the school Journalism Department, working with the school newspaper and year book. While at Murray Fred has succeeded in playing for Murray's baseball team.

The office of Vice-president was filled by Dick Severson, a Freshman from Marlin, Texas. Dick is majoring in Business, and has been very active on the football team, and the Student Senate. During his highschool years, he was a member of the National Honor Society, the Student Council, and sports editor for the school paper. Gerald Elias from Baton Rouge Louisiana, was his opponent.

Donna Martin, elementary education major from Tishomingo, was elected as secretary. During her highschool career, she was on the Honor Roll for three years, president of 4-H Club, vice-president of Band, FHA vice-president and very active in many other activities. At Murray, Donna is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, Home Ec. Club, Music Club, and has been selected for the Dean's Honor Roll. Linda Sewell, also from Tishomingo, was her opponent.

Next year the Student Senate will consist of two new offices, one which is Treasurer, will be filled by the recently elected Antoine Treadaway, from Shreveport, Louisiana. This past year Antoine has been very active on Murray's football team and various clubs supporting the sport. During high-school he held many class offices, and was a member of the Key and Sociality Clubs. He also held offices in the Student Council and served as co-captain on the football team. His major is Aero-space Engineering. Pete Williams was Antoine's opponent.

Parliamentarian, another new Senate Office, will be filled by Larry Smith, from Duncan, Oklahoma. Larry is majoring in forestry and plans to have a career in forest service. While in highschool he was treasurer of the FFA and participated in baseball. He was the only candidate for this office.

BULLETIN

After May 10, the Business office will accept checks only for payment of account. No checks will be cashed for cash.

Murray receives $3100 NSF grant

Murray State College has been awarded a grant of $3,100 by the National Science Foundation, Washington, D.C. It was announced April 1, 1966 by John T. Wilson, Deputy Director, National Science Foundation.

The grant was awarded on a basis that Murray should match the sum to total the amount of $6,200. The funds will be used for the purchase of laboratory equipment for biological science, physical science, chemistry, physics, and agriculture.

Enrollment in science courses at MSC are exceptionally high in proportion to areas of study. The reason for this high enrollment is due to the number of pure and applied science majors offered by the college. Approximately two-thirds of the students enrolled at Murray State College for the fall semester were enrolled in at least one science course.

According to Dr. Richard Murray, Academic Dean, "The equipment which will be purchased with assistance of the National Science Foundation will greatly strengthen the laboratory and demonstration experiences of students in the sciences. Much of the material purchased would not have been available without the assistance of the National Science Foundation."

ANYONE NEED AN EDUCATION?

Hey, let's go to the assembly, I hear there's going to be a real good speaker. Ah, come on let's go to the Union, we can go to the next assembly. We just have time for a fast game of cards before our next class. And so it goes for all the assemblies.

This is the attitude that many of the students on this campus take when the word assembly is mentioned. The Union is filled but the auditorium is empty.

For just a few minutes step into the shoes of the guest speaker or the college students who are presenting the assembly. Just think how you would feel being introduced to an auditorium filled with empty seats. This is just the case with the assemblies that are presented for the students' benefit.

The instructors and a few of the students work hard getting ready for an assembly and then the minute the words "students' benefit" are mentioned, no one wants to go. Are we afraid of being benefitted? Maybe if each instructor told his class to meet at the hour of the assembly, instead of releasing his class, and told them to be sure and not go to the assembly more students would attend.

Maybe you don't think that you would benefit from the talk given; go anyway. You learn something new everyday. Even if it's only that you sat through an entire assembly without going to sleep once. Who knows, you may be in the next assembly. Would you want the auditorium to be empty?

Where is your feeling of fairness? Do you think it is fair for so much work to be put into the preparation of these assemblies just for you to go and play cards or go to your room and get an extra hour of sleep? Come on, all you fair minded people, the next time there is an assembly let's see if we can fill the auditorium.

BURRITT, its cold! but not cold enough to keep students from plunging into Pennington Creek on a sunny afternoon.

West runs a 9.5 100 yard dash in Region II Track

Murray State College track team traveled to Oklahoma Christian College Wednesday, April 27, for the Regional Two track meet.

Murray was able to score 30 points in 5 events as Tony "Speed" West, Sophomore from McKinney, Texas, won the 100 and 220 yard dash.

West was officially clocked at a 9.55 seconds in the 100 yard dash under 9.5. West also ran a 12.9 but a few other clocks timed him second, 220 yard dash and it was no doubt after 50 yards, who the winner was going to be.

Jim Baldwin, Sophomore from Azle, Texas won second place in the Shot putt, while Lewis Lillie, Sophomore from Houston, Wayne Williamson, Sophomore from Idabel, and Roger Thomas, Freshman from Oklahoma City teamed together to take first, second, and third places in the high jump. Lillie and Williamson tied for first place but Lillie won due to the fact that he had one less miss than Williamson.

Murray placed third in the 880 relay.

Winners of a first, second or third place in any event qualified for the national meet in Garden City, Kansas, May 30 and 31.

Broken Bow runs off with Class B trophy at Murray

Two track records fell and one was tied as Broken Bow ran away with the Class "B" title and Putman City won the last event of the day (Mile Relay) to give them 10 points and 33 points for the meet to over come Ardmore for the Class "A" title and trophy.

Ardmore defeated Putman City earlier in the 440 Relay and won first place in the 120 yard high hurdles and first place in the 100 yard dash and picked up another five points in three events to give them a total of 25 points. Putman City won the broad jump, 440 yard dash, second in the 440 yard relay and picked up another 7 points in 3 events but were behind Ardmore Relay. Putman City ran a 3.299 2 points at the start of the Mile Mile Relay just 3 seconds off the Murray College record.

Nick Durant of Atoka ran a 1:55.3 880 yard dash to break Murray's old track record by 3 seconds. The old record was set in last year's meet.

Willie Rios of Lawton Eisenhower ran a 4:25.3 in the Mile run to break the mile record by 2.1 seconds which was established in 1963.

Huntley of Capital Hill tied the 130 yard hurdles with a time of 20.2. The oldest record at Murray College is the broad jump of 22:7.75 set by "Red" Phillips of Bristow in 1933 and tied by John Wingham of Pauls Valley in 1959.

Broken Bow placed 11 men in 16 events to gather 43 points together to walk off with the Class "B" trophy. Madill defeated Broken Bow in the 440 yard relay and the Mile relay but was never a strong contender for the trophy.

Target plans trip to Murray

I wished the girls would stop practicing, they are getting able to hit me now. I didn't have any problems until last week, when my job first started. They could not even get near me.

After two-weeks of archery, the girls have improved. They seem to be able to hit my "petticoat" now. Few people can hit me on my beautiful blue shirt, but fewer can hit me on my lovely red lips. When I was in the factory, if I had known that this job would become dangerous, I would have been tempted to become deformed. All I thought I had to do was stand up and look cute for some college. Since I liked college girls, this is the job I really desired to obtain. I never dreamed of being shot.

Oh, well! That's life and mine will soon end when the girls improve more.

Honor society has initiation

Twenty four Murray students were formally initiated into Phi Theta Kappa honorary scholastic society in an assembly Tuesday, April 19. During the candle-lighting ceremony the students signed the oath and received a carnation. Dean Richard Murray then spoke to the group.

These students had to be scholastically in the upper ten per cent of the student body to be eligible for consideration for membership. Final selection for membership in the organization is made by a faculty committee whose selection is based not only on the scholastic requirements but also on qualities of character and leadership.

Those students initiated were Donna Martin, Carol Genn, Alvin Wood, Fred White, Danny Ray Pennington, Sara McNew, Loma Steele, Fern Perry, Linda Sneed, Benton Stricklin, Rebecca Estes, Linda Pogue, Larry McTague, Keith Thomas, Helen McClatchey, Sandy Stone, Janice Pace, Beverly McLaughlin, Larry Van Smith, Linda Hallmark, Elizabeth King, Richard Severson, Fay Barger and Gretchen Diss.

Hudson presents piano recital

Janie Hudson a 1965 graduate of Murray State, who is now a senior at East Central State College, Ada, was one of seven college students who took part in the annual piano ensemble recital.

This year Mrs. Dorothy Little presented the students in the sixth annual ensemble program on Sunday afternoon April 24. Janie played Debussy's "Clair de Lune," with Mrs. Little at the second piano.

Janie a music education major is a member of the college choir at East Central.

While attending Murray, Janie was Homecoming Queen and Honorary Cadet Colonel. She was commander of the A.F.R.O.T.C. Angel Flight, and a cheerleader for two years. She was an active member of Phi Theta Kappa and a member of the Murray Balladiers.

A Wisconsin study reveals that of 77 drivers killed in the first six months of 1965, 70 percent had been drinking.

"SISSY" isn't a part of the student body but as much time as she spends in the student union and around campus, she should be.

"Sissy" leads life of leisure

Is a dog's life really so bad? Who is best known on the campus? How many of us can go to sleep in any class at Murray including in the office of the President of the school? Do you know who rates this high? It is Sissy, president McKee's personal canine.

"Sissy" can walk into any building on campus and be welcome. She investigates all events of any importance on the campus and around. She is greeted by students and faculty as well.

"Sissy" walks with President McKee to the office every morning and remains faithfully at his office door until he is safely busy. Then she takes her daily walk around the campus and looks over the campus for events. For the last few months she could be found looking through the new buildings on the Murray campus.

However, when student life begins in the student center "Sissy" can be found some where near. She has to have her quota of card watching and drinking Dr. Peppers. Every once in awhile she can be found in the girls' dorm visiting the place where her friend Kerry, President McKee's daughter, lived for two years.

If "Sissy" can not be found on the campus grounds then she is the one who can even sleep in the President's office with out fear of punishment.

Brown places 1st in speech tourney

Odes Brown, freshman education major from Ardmore, took first place in the District Carl Albert Speech Tournament held in the Classroom Building April 20. The contest was under the instruction of Fred Poe, Murray's speech and drama instructor.

Odes' blue ribbon speech was debated to "Apathy of the American Public". He defended rather than ridiculed the citizen's lack of concern for problems of his fellow man.

This address qualified Odes to compete in the Regional Carl Albert Speech Tournament Thursday, April 28, at Eastern State College in the Little Theatre of Fine Arts building.

Rick Gonzalez, a sophomore business administration major from San Antonio, Texas, and Larry Finney a sophomore general education major from Burkburnett, Texas placed second and third respectively in the district contest.

State offices-

vention was over, four members of the MSC delegation hurried to Tahlequah, where the OISA Convention was already under way.

John Alexander, sophomore from Ravia and Vice-President of the Student Senate, was elected Vice-President of the OISA—the first student from Murray to hold any office in that organization. The 1966-67 officers of OISA are: President, David Meek, Panhandle A & M; Secretary, Lin Nichols, Northwestern; Treasurer, Robert Dibble, Northeastern. Sherwood Washington, Central State, was appointed Parliamentarian by the new president; and Langston University was chosen as the host for the eighteenth Annual Convention next Spring.

There was considerable discussion concerning the affiliation of OISA to the National Student Association (USNSA). After much consideration, it was suggested that the proposition be tabled until the next Convention. The reason for this was to give the individual Student Senates the time to consider the proposition, and to instruct themselves about the workings of NSA. But the highlight of the Convention was a "Statement of Policy" presented by Oklahoma City University concerning Academic Freedom. After much discussion, it was also tabled until the next convention.

The Murray delegates returned home very satisfied with their participation in both conventions. The feeling of the whole delegation seemed to be summed up by Rick Gonzalez as he remarked, "It was a very rewarding experience for all of us. I only hope that everyone benefits from these meetings as much as we do. They are most helpful in running an effective and better student government."

Be grateful to your secretary: this is her week

Each year the National Secretaries Association sets aside one week to honor all secretaries. This year April 24 to April 30 was set aside for the honorary week. This year is the fifteenth anniversary of the National Secretaries Week.

To honor all secretaries in the business world and Murray's business students, Mrs. Pat Robbins and her business students created a display of business machines and equipment. The display was set up in the trophy case in the Student Union.

The theme chosen for this year's anniversary was "Better Secretaries Mean Better Business."

The Business Office wishes all students to have their accounts paid in full no later than May 10. Administrative charges will be assessed all unpaid accounts after this date. Graduating sophomores should not overlook their graduation fee of $8.

Murray officials plan construction of new buildings

With $604,900 made available as Murray's share of a $4 million bond package, it is hoped that four improvements can be made within the next two years.

A $133,500 project to enlarge the college's library facilities is planned. This enlargement will include stack rooms, a seminar room and an audio-visual classroom.

A second project is the construction of a swimming pool and a gymnastic room estimated at $146,000 is to be located south of the present gym.

A new auditorium is to be constructed at an estimated cost of $300,000. This auditorium will have a seating capacity of 800.

Renovation of the present administration building at a project cost of $25,000 is the fourth project. Improvements will include lowered ceilings, painting and new aluminum entrances.

The location of these projects will make it necessary to relocate the football field to a position north of the college barn.

Part of the present field would become parking area and the remainder is tagged for long-range plans for construction of a new administration building and library there.

"THE MAKING OF A SUCCESSFUL YEAR"

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the student body of Murray State College for its support of, and participation in, the Senate-sponsored activities and events. Any student government is as strong as the support it receives from the student body, and this year we have received that necessary support on this campus.

Among the Senate's achievements of the past year are the election of certain members to state offices, constitutional revisions, a general stimulation of interest by the students in making the rules which affect them, and, of course, the different social functions.

Again, I wish to express my appreciation to all officers, committee chairmen, sponsors, other Senate members and the entire student body for helping to create this "successful year."

—Preston Parker, President, Student Senate, 1965-66

"MESSAGE FROM YOUR SENATE PRESIDENT"

It can only be a great honor to be elected to the office of Student Senate President. This office requires time, effort, and complete devotion; all are necessary for a successful officer, not only the President, but the other officers as well. In the recent election, you voiced your choice of candidates for Student Senate offices for next year. I am sure that you have made very wise decisions and will never regret your choices. I feel that all of the new officers are very capable of performing the duties of their respective offices and that each will go beyond his call of duty to ensure a very enjoyable and very successful year for 1966-67.

The new officers have already begun work preparing for the coming events for next year. There are many new things in store for next year and with the co-operation of the student body, we plan to get "Murray on the move." Many cultural events, social gatherings, and special occasions are planned to highlight next year and to provide for a very entertaining year.

It is not only appropriate, but with appreciation that I thank you. I feel that I owe much to you as students of Murray State College. I speak not only for myself, but for my associate officers as well. It is our hope that we can serve you in a proper and very successful manner. Once again, I say, "Thank you."

It is with mixed emotions that I write this my last column of the year. I am sad to see the year end and see all my friends leave. I am happy that I have made it through the year (it has been an outstanding year) without being stabbed in the back or hanged at dawn from the highest tree, or some worse fate.

I want to thank all of you for reading my column. I can tell you read it by the mean looks that I receive when I walk into the student union.

For this the last issue of the paper for the year, I would like to put everyone's name in the column but because my space is limited this is not possible. Instead I will put some of the events that I think will interest you the most.

Don Blevins were you really getting your camera ready for the Awards Assembly or was that just your excuse?

Linda Risner and Sharron Jones what kind of awards were you given? Why weren't they given at the assembly?

Mr. Milligan are you really the office Jester or do you only tell jokes occasionally?

To all the Top Ten Students who weren't at the assembly, I want to ask one question: Were you really studying or did you have something else to do during the assembly?

Jim Thompson can you always sit on a box of burning matches or only when you are asleep?

Sleepy did you have it planned to run out of gas so the girls would have to walk back to school? It appears that way to me, you drive back to campus then go back downtown, run out of gas and have to walk back to school.

On behalf of the Aggelite staff I want to thank Mr. Wood for the party.

To all you students, "Good Luck" on the rest of your semester exams!

The lounge is only one of the many beautiful rooms in the student union available to the students and faculty for special gatherings. A fireplace accents one complete wall and the furnishings throughout the room.

The Student Union includes this bright new cafeteria, capable of serving 600 students. It contains virtually all the kitchen equipment. A 40-foot serving line has facilities to keep food both hot or chilled. A private dining room that will accommodate 25 persons is located adjacent to the main dining room. This feature will allow privacy for student groups having special activities.

Student Senate has busy year

The Gourmet, a restaurant in Ardmore, was the scene for this year's Student Senate Banquet. The main purpose for the gathering was to initiate the recently elected officers to their next year offices. Also among the activities was the presentation of certificates and awards to each member of the Senate by the president. This year's president, Preston Parker, in appreciation of his outstanding leadership, was awarded an oak and brass plaque by the Senate members. Besides this year and the to be officers and members, several members of the faculty and administration were present with their wives.

This has been one of the most active years for the S.S. in the history of Murray State College. One of their most notable accomplishments was the new record vote set in this year's S.S. election. Of all the elections in the past not one has had as many votes cast as this year. The constitution amendments was also another step toward a better Senate. Although every member of the Senate worked hard on this project, a lot of credit must be given to Bill Flits, sometimes called the "father of the constitution." For the first time at Murray, two state offices were filled by students from our Senate. Dick Severson, freshman from Marlin, Texas, and vice-president-elect, was elected vice-John Alexander, sophomore from Ravia and vice-president of this year's Senate, was elected vice-president of the OJCSSA, president of the OISA. This was a great honor for Murray, because this was the first time a junior college candidate has ever been elected to fill an office in the OISA.

Another outstanding project was the information booth set up and operated by Senate members. The objective was to introduce new students to the college and all of its activities.

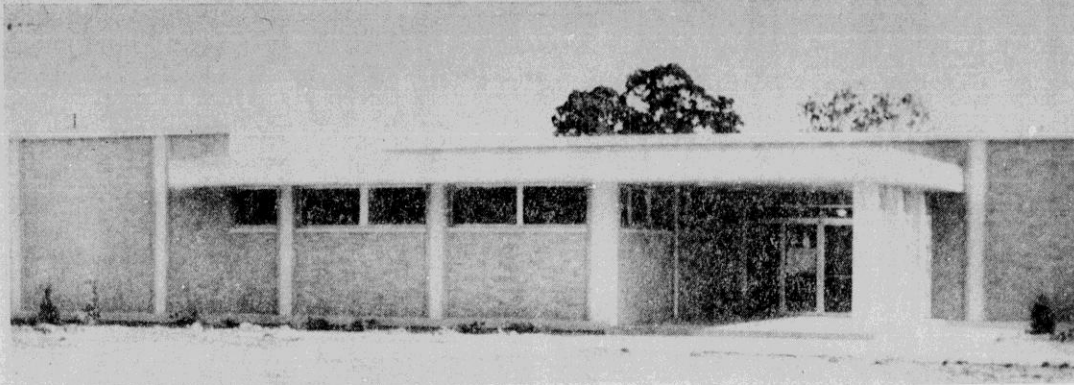

The most important thing that the Senate has done this year was increasing student participation in student government. After they had accomplished this, the organization could not help but improve and grow stronger. Each student on campus should thank each member of this year's Senate, personally, for leading such an outstanding year.

Out going members (1965-66): president—Preston Parker, vice-president—John Alexander, secretary—Paula Robinson, and parliamentarian—Ken Case.

Officers elect (1966-67): president—Fred Keas, vice-president—Dick Severson, secretary—Donna Marway, and parliamentarian—Larry Smith.

Murray State Agricultural College announces opening of new facilities

The sprawling Student Union is constructed and designed to provide convenience for the students. The $400,000.00 Union has centralized campus facilities by providing a new cafeteria, snack bar, book store, game room, ballroom, and lounge.

Architects for the construction were Chap Bills, Architect for Oklahoma A&M Colleges, Collins and Flood, Architects, of Ardmore, Oklahoma.

Construction of the buildings was done by Metropolitan Construction Company of Oklahoma City, and Construction Superintendent was Bill Nigh.

New Student Union is center of activities

Student Union completed for Spring semester

March 23 was the date of the official opening of the new student union.

The $400,000 student center is attractively nestled among the existing campus dormitories and classroom buildings.

A sprawling one-story construction, the student center is designed to provide as much convenience as possible for the students.

Designed of Teakwood Formica panelling throughout, the design of the building is accented by colorful new furniture.

Completely air-conditioned, the union is enhanced by fluorescent lighting, acoustical ceiling, and a central speaker system.

Located at the rear of the union, the spacious ballroom serves a multiple duty as a lounge, ballroom, or banquet area.

The Spring Formal in action. A spacious ballroom is also one of the major features of the Union. It can serve as a dancing or banquet area. The ballroom has a draped glass wall overlooking the rear of the building, where there is a split-level balcony outside.

Activities vary in Student Union

The new student union ballroom was officially initiated into campus life by a dance sponsored by the Pep Club and Phi Theta Kappa.

During the last month, two dances have been held in the ballroom: the Sadie Hawkins dance sponsored by the Home Ec. Club and the Spring Prom sponsored by the Freshman Class.

Several luncheons have been sponsored by the Rotary Club and the Lions' Club and held in the ballroom. The All Sports banquet and the Engineers' banquet along with the Former Students' banquet and the Ringling Alumni banquet have been held in the ballroom.

Counselors from the armed forces and from other colleges have put the V.I.P. lounge to use. They meet with the students in the lounge to discuss their future plans.

This lounge has also been the place of the teas sponsored by the Faculty Dames.

Much of the students leisure time is spent in the pleasant snack bar area in the new Union. The building is completely air-conditioned and has a central speaker system. The interior design is of teakwood formica wood-panelling throughout the building.

Information for new students

Students who are interested in attending Murray State College should contact Dr. Richard Murray, Academic Dean, for admission requirements.

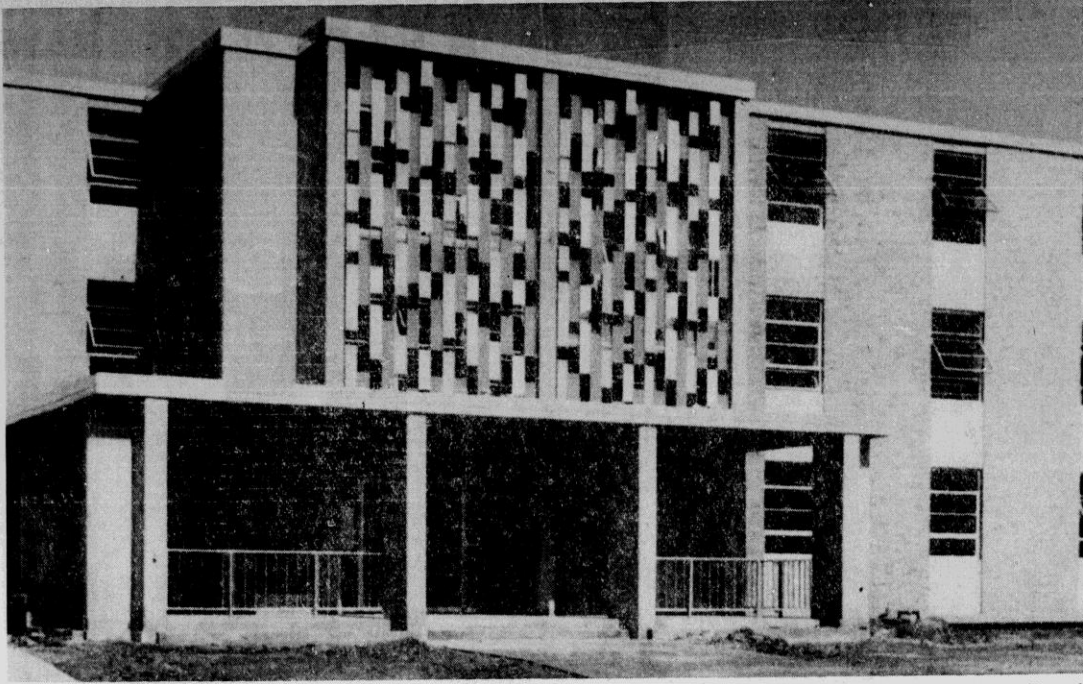

Information about jobs, scholarships, loans and grants may be obtained from the office of Don Martin, Director of Counseling and Financial Aid.

Dormitory information may be obtained by contacting Jim Mihura, Business Manager.

The recreation room of the new Student Union has colorful pool tables built with the college boy (or girl) in mind. There are six pool tables and two pinball machines.

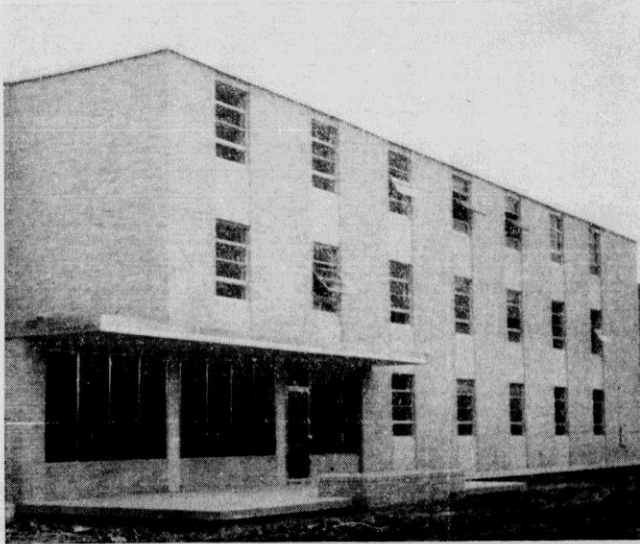

New buildings add much to campus life

The front of the men's dormitory displays beautiful multi-colored metal work that contributes to the outstanding architectural design of the building. The estimated cost of the building is $447,000.00. Lounges are located on each floor of the dormitory and a game room is located in the basement. The new housing facility will accommodate 154 men. The college cafeteria and Student Union are located in front of the dormitory allowing easy access to the students.

New dormitory presents pleasant living

The new men's dormitory has many facilities that will contribute to the comfort of the students. Central air conditioning will make living more comfortable for the men during the summer months. The building contains furniture of superior quality, and the colors selected for the rooms will add much to dormitory life.

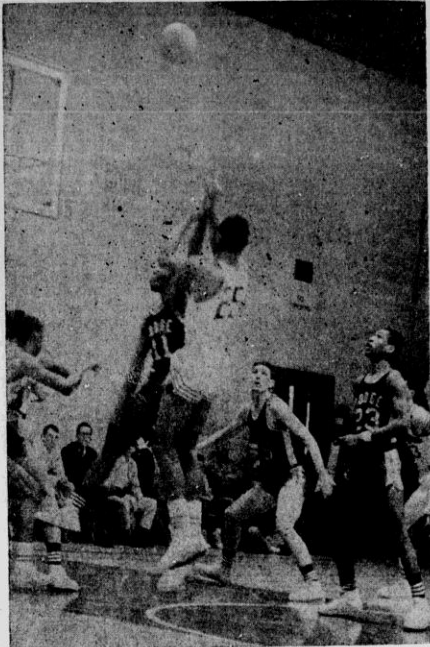

Dr. Freeman McKee, President of Murray College, is pictured above observing the construction of new college facilities. Under the guidance of the Board of Regents for A&M Colleges, Dr. McKee has supervised the development of a master plan for the long-range development of facilities at Murray College.

"Where Most People Trade"

The Murray Aggies finished their baseball season with a split with Eastern. The split dropped the Aggies from a tie for the lead to second place in the JUCO conference. Connors was the winner of the conference.

Terry Elizondo, sophomore from Hugo, was the victor of the first game over Eastern, which was won by a score of 9 to 5, and Mark Koehler, sophomore from Wanette, pitched the second game of the double-header, but was pulled late in the game because of pitching trouble. When Robert Tiger, freshman from Sapulpa, relieved Koehler, he was still unable to contain the Eastern hitters. Murray went down in defeat by a score of 7 to 6. Frankie Scott, sophomore from Dallas contributed three homers. Two of which came in the first game. Robert Tiger, Louis Lillie and Terry Elizondo also belted home runs. Three of these were consecutive homers by Tiger, Lillie and Scott.

Looking back to some of the games, there were some bright moments for Koehler and Elizondo. Against Northern, Elizondo pitched a one hitter, and the Aggies defeated the Mavericks by a score of 6 to 0. At Bacone, against one of the best junior college teams in the state, Koehler hurled a three hitter to defeat the Warriors by a score of 2 to 0. Against Southeastern Elizondo hurled a five hitter and Frankie Scott knocked in the winning run to beat the Indians 1 to 0.

At the regional tournament held in Fort Smith, Arkansas, Murray played Northeastern A. & M. of Miami, Okla. Murray led the game by a score of 3 to 0, through the fifth inning. In the sixth inning, Northeastern went ahead on a home run and an error by one of the Murray players.

Coach Wayne Canaday did a fine job of piloting the Aggies through their 1965 season. To prove this, four Aggies were honored by being selected for the All Conference baseball team. They were, Lewis Lillie at short stop, John Tadlock at first base, Frankie Scott at center field, and Terry Elizondo as pitcher.

Aggies accomplishments high in 1965 football

Murray State College football team won three, lost five and tied two but were runners up in the Oklahoma Junior College Conference.

Murray played two high lighted games of the season; the first one against Cameron in which the Murray Aggies led until the last quarter when Cameron scored three times to down Murray State 20 to 27.

Murray had a chance to share the Conference Championship by defeating Eastern A & M and it looked as if Murray had the game won but a pass play in the closing minute and a fantastic catch tied the ball game 21-21.

Murray has not won the conference title in 27 years but there is big hope for next year.

When it came around to picking the All-Conference teams Murray placed five men on the first team. They were: Antonio West, Sophomore halfback from McKinney, Texas and Raymond Cotton, Sophomore defensive end from Waco, Texas. Both of these boys are going to Southeastern State College on a football scholarship.

Rodger Aucoin, Sophomore tackle from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and Ivory Young, defensive tackle from Wynne, Arkansas transferred to East Central State College at mid-term and have been starting on the East Central football team in Spring training. Young was honorable mention all-conference in 1964.

Billy Woods not only gained a place on the All-Conference team but was also Honorable mention for All-American in the Junior College ranking and is now at North Texas State University.

Bobby Smith, Sophomore halfback from Houston, Texas, Kelly Reeves, Sophomore tackle from Anson, Texas, Marvin Esmond, quarterback from Tulsa, and Donald "Ducky" Day, Sophomore center from Sulphur, were named for the second team.

Toni West carried the ball 102 times for 773 yards for a 7.6 yard average per carry and scored eight touchdowns.

Marvin Esmond threw 125 passes for 696 yards, Esmond's target usually was Billy Woods who caught 34 passes for 619 yards for a 18.1 yards per catch.

Murray Aggies completed their season with a total offense of 2,759 yards with 1649 yards by rushing and 1110 yards passing.

Murray Aggies bat their way into second place of the JUCO conference rounding out an outstanding season for 1966.

"Aggie Antics" roaring success

Perhaps one of the most memorable events of the past year was the Aggie Antics, at least for those who participated in making it a success. The real credit can not be given to any one person, but instead to several. Barry Buchanan co-ordinated the program and Tom Freeman acted as Master of ceremonies relating a thin line of continuity between each act. But the program would not have been possible without the school spirited individuals who represented their clubs by acting in skits. A trophy helped to increase the competition between the clubs with the Music Club, represented by Carol Watkins and Ron Cochrane, winning.

Phi Theta Kappa selects officers

Phi Theta Kappa members met May 13, to select officers for the coming year. Those officers chosen were: President, Larry McTague, a freshman agriculture major from Ardmore; vice-president, Loma Steele, freshman general education major from Elk City; secretary-treasurer, Fern Perry, a freshman from Tupelo majoring in journalism; student senate representative, Benton Stricklin, a freshman agriculture major from Prague; and social chairman, Linda Hallmark, a freshman from Tishomingo majoring in secretarial administration.

At this meeting it was decided to make attending the National Convention in 1967 their goal for next year.

Girls will have intramurals club

Developing a new area of Physical education this year, Murray State college has presented a Girls' Intramural Program enabling the girls to show their interest and ability in various sports and to receive a Murray State College Letter.

This year's schedule consisted of different areas of recreational fields such as: soft-ball tournaments; archery; tumbling and stunts; basketball; field and track events; and an outdoor expedition of hiking.

The fall semester hopes to bring an organization resembling a club but will not have a constitution, which will enable the Intramurals to meet once or twice a week.

B. S. U. reviews active year

Everyday, everyweek the Baptist Student Union holds services for nine months of the year; but that is not all they do. This year the B.S.U. has participated in many activities. All through the year there have been fellowships at the B.S.U. building for anyone who wished to attend.

January 31 to February 4 the B.S.U. sponsored a revival with Reverend Leon Hill leading the services.

Every year the B.S.U. makes a trip to the Baptist mission conference held in Ft. Worth combining business and pleasure.

April 19 the B.S.U. presented a program in accordance with Religious Emphasis Week sponsored by the Student Senate.

Last, but perhaps best, were the fall and spring retreats to Falls Creek where the weekend was spent in fellowship and dedication to the task of the Baptist Student Union.

Sometimes people get the wrong impression of B.S.U. The B.S.U. is not meant to be church, but a link between student and church. The B.S.U. is a place of fellowship and spiritual growth.

Honors won by thin clads in Juco & Region II

Murray's track team won third in the Oklahoma Junior College Conference but only 4 points separated the third place and the first place winners. Toni West, sophomore from McKinney, Texas, won the 100 and 220 yard dashes; he ran on the 440 relay team which took third place, the 890 relay team which won second place and the mile relay team which won third place.

Murray took all three places in the high jump with Wayne Williamson, sophomore from Idabel, taking first, followed by Lewis Lillie, sophomore from Houston, Texas, and Roger Thomas, freshman from Oklahoma City. Williamson also placed fourth in the broad jump.

In the Region II Track meet, Toni West again won the 100 and 220 yard dashes. West won the 100 yard dash in 9.5 seconds.

Jim Baldwin won second place in the shot put while Lewis Lillie, Wayne Williamson, and Roger Thomas teamed together to win first, second, and third in the high jump. Murray also took third place in the 880 relay.

WELCOME FROM YOUR SENATE PRESIDENT—

On behalf of the Student Senate, I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to Murray College. Whether you are a beginning freshman or a transfer student I feel that you have made a very wise choice in selecting this institution for furthering your education. You will find that Murray is equipped with an outstanding faculty and administration, capable of assisting you in every possible way. Also, various facilities have been added recently to serve your needs. Among these are a new boys' dormitory, a new cafeteria, a new music building, a new classroom building, and a new student union building that features a ballroom for dancing, a conference lounge, and a well-equipped game room. Plans are now being made for a new auditorium, swimming pool, and a new football field.

Many extra-curricular activities have been planned to highlight a very enjoyable school year. Dancing, social get togethers, and picnics are but a few activities that have already been formulated to make this an entertaining school year at Murray. We, the Student Senate, would like for each student to take an active part in the activities to ensure their success.

Fred Keas, Jr.,
1966-67 Student Senate President

WELCOME TO MURRAY—

The AGGIELITE staff welcomes each of you to Murray College. This year, 1966-67 is expected to be a more successful year than the past. The campus has been greatly improved.

A new men's dormitory has been built. This building will house more students and give them more modern living facilities. The basement of Haskell Lucas, the old men's dormitory, has been remodeled too. More rooms were added to Patton Hall, the women's dormitory.

During the last semester of last year, a new cafeteria, student center, recreation room, and book-store were added to the other buildings on campus. All these buildings have the most modern of facilities.

Along with new buildings, new gas lights have been added to light the campus at night. A new sign was built on the lawn in front of Patton Hall. More trees have been set out on the campus.

Each year new instructors are added to the list of faculty members. These are added to help accommodate the ever-increasing number of new students that enroll at Murray each year.

It is said that the United States is a "melting pot of nations", surely Murray College must be a "melting pot of students." Throughout the year you will meet students from everywhere; not only the other states but also from other countries.

The faculty sponsors a number of clubs each year. These clubs are designed for the benefit of the students. The clubs are organized and their constitutions written by the student members of the club. The purpose of the club is to give the student an outside interest.

Many freshmen students find themselves away from home for the first time in their life. For the first time they find themselves completely independent. They have to make their own decisions. They have to decide just what kind of life they will lead while on campus.

If a student comes up against a problem that is too hard for him to face, his advisor is always there to help. Advisors are appointed to help the student make his decisions, when necessary, and to help him decide what course of study he will take.

Because Murray College is the college that it is, advisors encourage the students to bring their problems to them. This helps Murray to live up to the reputation of being a friendly college. Friendly not only among the students but also a friendly relationship between the students and faculty.

I would like to say once again, WELCOME TO MURRAY, the friendly college.

G. I. benefits are available now!

On March 3, 1966, the President approved a law passed by Congress to provide educational assistance for veterans who served on active duty with the Armed Forces after January 31, 1955.

A veteran who has served continuously on active duty for a period of at least 181 days, any part of which was after January 31, 1955, and who was discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable is eligible.

A person who is in service if he has served on active duty for at least 2 years is also eligible.

Persons who enlisted in the Army or Air National Guard, or as a reservist, under the Reserve Program, with 4 months or more of active duty for training required and subsequent transfer to the Standby Reserve, are not eligible based on this service.

You may pursue a course at a college, vocational, business, high school, or correspondence school.

The limit is 36 months. This would cover 4 school years of 9 months each for a veteran who served on active duty for at least 3 years after January 31, 1955. If you served less than 3 years, you may receive one full month of educational assistance allowance for each month or part of a month you served on active duty on or after February 1, 1955.

VA may not provide training after eight years from the date of your last discharge or release from active duty if your discharge is on or after June 1, 1956. This time limit is important to you.

The time limit for a veteran whose service ended before June 1, 1966, is May 31, 1974.

The VA has a staff of professional counselors to assist you in choosing an educational or vocational goal at no cost to you. If you need or want this help, ask the VA.

The Registrar's office has application blanks and further information. It is up to you to take the first step. Local representatives of the various veterans organizations, and the Red Cross, also have information and application forms available.

Lions Club is sponsoring essay contest for county students

The youth of Tishomingo and surrounding towns have been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Club—a challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational and/or career assistance grant, says Bob Armstrong, president of the Tishomingo Lions Club.

The club, together with Lions Clubs thruout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the world's youth on Peace. The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including the $25,000 first prize, eight semi-final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Illinois in July, 1967. At that time, the first prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also, more than 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

"We are hopeful one of our young people will win this worldwide prestige award," Armstrong said in announcing the contest locally.

The contest is open to young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1966.

"The Peace Essay Contest is divided into eight world divisions for the $1,000 prizes," Armstrong said. "The purpose of the contest is to develop a formula for world peace because we feel peace is attainable."

Contestants should submit their entry in essay form, not to exceed 5,000 words. "Three judges will be appointed to evaluate the entries submitted to our club," Armstrong said. "If our winner can advance through the judging stages up to the world finals he will receive an expense paid trip to Chicago to attend the Lions International 50th Annual Convention for the final judging of his essay in addition to the $1,000 award." Closing date for the club's contest is December 10, 1966.

"Students wishing to enter the contest should contact one of the Tishomingo Lions to get full details of the contest," he said. "Their school principals will also have this information."

Drivers warned of responsibility toward children

Summer vacation has come to a grinding halt for 561,000 Oklahoma school children. Some schools have already started classes while others will open next week.

Safety Commissioner Bob Lester has issued a reminder to all drivers that they have a special responsibility where children are concerned. Now that classes are resuming, the motorist should direct special attention to the children he sees along the street.

"Motorists must expect children to make mistakes and disregard rules and laws of traffic safety. He must make allowances for this and drive accordingly—with extra care in areas where cars are parked solid on both sides of the street, near schools and wherever children are seen playing, walking or riding their bikes," Lester said.

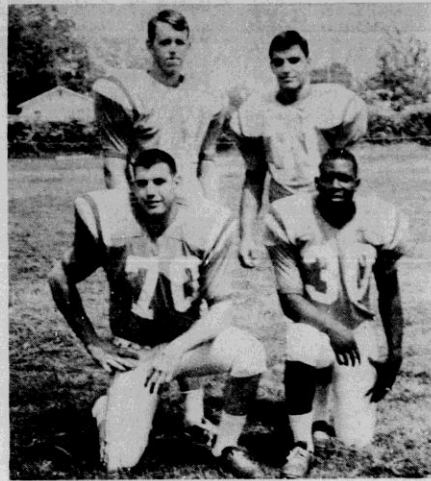

Last year 104 children 14 years old and younger were killed and 2,995 were injured in Oklahoma traffic accidents. Of those killed, 27 were pedestrians.

What is so shocking about these figures is that the children, because of their age, had depended upon adults for their safety. Too young, too busy, and ignorant of danger, they were struck down darting into streets, leaping from behind parked cars, and sometimes while they were following the safety rules they had been taught. Some were riding in cars.

Even when the children themselves are at fault—as they are in many cases—what excuse can the driver make for striking one? With a child dead, any excuse sounds hollow, even though the driver was absolved of legal guilt.

"I've seen the remorse of many a driver after he's run down a child," Lester said. "But remorse doesn't breathe life into a dead body. The time to show concern for children is before an accident happens."

The press is the mistress of intelligence and intelligence is the mistress of the world.—Benjamin Constant.

Only sprinkling of Sophs will be seen in this year's Aggie grid team

Murray College football fans will see a large number of new faces on the 1966 Aggie football team, according to Wayne Canaday, Head Football Coach.

The aggies will be depending on the freshmen to shoulder most of the burden for the 1966 season. This year's crop of freshmen will not be any larger than last year's freshmen, but will probably be faster, according to Canaday.

The freshmen lineup will consist of: Quarterbacks, Gary Vogle, Denison, Texas; Larry Herditchka, Oklahoma City; Gary Wyatt, Tishomingo; Randy Warren, Ardmore; and Terry Patty, Norman; Halfbacks, Ed Smith, McAlester; Phil Pointer, Shawnee; Wade Carter, Midwest City; Ron Chandler, Midwest City; Donald Terrell, Putman City; Marcelous Johnson, Chickasha; Dwayne Freese, Del City; and Richard Williams, Norman; Fullbacks, Ronald Pinckard, Follett, Texas; G. B. Caldwell, Oklahoma City; Carl Albert; Gary Davis, Elk City; and Willie Crockett, Dexter, New Mexico; Centers, David McNeer, Shawnee; Terry Lucas, Midwest City; and Dickie Bills, Hugo; Guards, Les Bower, Tulsa; Donald Swanson, McAlester; Tommy Harber, Sulphur; Samuel Green, McKinney, Texas; Darrel Williams, Wynnewood; Jerry Betsill, Fort Worth, Texas; Jerry Pemberton, Oklahoma City; Cletis Ball, Marlow; Harry Linam, Marlow; and Jimmie Lucas, Marlow; Tackles, Bob Stash, Ardmore; Dick Diepenbrock, Norman; Richard Gage, Bethany; Rufus Brown, Shreveport, La.; Don Doty, Sulphur; Danny Rodriguez, Carrollton, Texas; and Larry Taylor, Oklahoma City; Ends, Max Harbert, Tishomingo; Mike Crossett, McAlester; Randy Ferguson, Elk City; Mike Simpson, Hugo; Robert Andrews, Monroe, Texas; Charles McKay, Seminole; Rickey Myskey, Ardmore; Nate Mosby, Oklahoma City; Rick Calhoun, Marlin, Texas; Ronald Greene, Del City; Ty Caston, Oklahoma City; Wesley Hayes and Robert Manley, Ardmore.

The Aggies will open the season Sept. 10 on the road against Dodge City, Kansas. Dodge City will field nearly the same club they had last year with very few replacements. The Murray team tied Dodge City in last year's opener 7 to 7.

A little learning can be a dangerous thing... for you!

You may think you'll go places with a small education. But you're wrong! Starting to work with a too-small education is like running a race in cement track shoes. It's almost a sure bet you'll come in last in the race for the good paying jobs.

Today, to get a good job you need a good education. A good education is the first thing employers ask for. It proves you've got what it takes to handle a good job... a good-paying job... a job that really goes someplace. So, if you're in school now... stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. If you're out of school, you can still get back in the running. There's plenty of valuable training available outside the classroom. To get the facts, see the Youth Counselor at your State Employment Service. Or visit a Youth Opportunity Center, which has been set up in many cities to help you.

Watch Those Matches!

Americans can now dress in disposable paper shoe covers, to prevent dust and dirt in hospital operating rooms; another company makes academic caps of paper, to be worn with paper gowns at graduation ceremonies. Paper dresses, coveralls, even swim suits are on the market, and one manufacturer has developed samples of paper underwear.

Lightning Deadly

Lightning kills more people than any other natural disaster. Each year lightning destroys property worth more than 100 million dollars in the United States. The average square mile is hit by as many as 20 or 30 bolts a year. About one fourth of all lightning casualties occur in the home.

Although women as well as men snore, a survey indicates that men out-snore the ladies 60-to-1. Attempts to stop snoring range from a poke in the ribs to a patented device that keeps the neck in a stretched position where snoring cannot occur. Drop out of school now and that's what they'll call you all your working life

Nobody looks down on a man with a good education. People respect him. They treat him right because they know he's got what it takes. You know it. Everybody knows it. A good education always shows. And so does a small education. Which will you have?

Remember: respect is only one of the things a good education gets you. It can also get you a good job. A good salary. And a real chance to enjoy more of the good things in life. So if you're in school now . . . stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. It can really make a difference.

If you're out of school, don't give up. You can still get plenty of valuable training outside the classroom. And it's well worth the effort.

BULLETIN

Automobiles driven by students on Murray campus should be registered in the Dean of Students office not later than 5 p.m. on September 26. Cost of registration and decal is $1.00.

All automobiles not registered by this date will be given violation notices and required to pay $1.00 for the first offense; $2.00 for the second offense; and $5.00 for the third offense, reports Raymond Cleveland, Dean of Students.

Draft status of all freshmen announced by S. S.

The Oklahoma Selective Service Director has advised Oklahoma colleges that all male freshman students will be given 1-A draft classification. Not a 2-S student deferment, as in the past. However, colleges have been assured that regular freshman students will not be drafted during their first year of college.

Class ranking for all male students must be reported to the local selective service boards by the college registrars at the end of each semester. Individual draft boards will take action based on grade reports.

For continued deferment, freshmen must rank in the upper one-half of their class. Sophomores must rank in the upper two-thirds.

Fellows, don't worry. The female students' grades are not considered in ranking the male students.

Patton Hall picks officers for year

A meeting of the women of Patton Hall was held Monday night. The purpose of this meeting was to acquaint the freshmen students with the rules of the dormitory and to elect officers for the year.

Those officers elected were, Donnie Sue Davis, sophomore, Bromide, President; June Crawford, freshman, Ardmore, vice president; Connie Holder, sophomore, Lone Grove, Secretary-treasurer; Mildren Scrivner, freshman, Ardmore, Student Senate Representative; and Paulette Bates, freshman, Moore, Alternate Representative.

G. I. benefits explained by V. A.

The nation's 1,200 university and college newspapers, magazines, and other publications have been asked to join the Veterans Administration in an all-out saturation campaign to acquaint every veteran student with all details of the new GI Bill payment procedures of the education program, Joe W. Anderson, Manager of the Muskegee Veterans Administration Regional Office, said today.

The Veterans Administration cautions the veteran going to school that he should be prepared to pay his expenses for at least two months.

The law requires that monthly certificates of attendance signed by veterans be sent to the Veterans Administration attesting the veteran has attended classes. Necessarily, these certificates can only be sent after a month's schooling is completed. On the 20th of the following month, if everything is in order, the Veterans Administration mails the payment checks. Proper and prompt sending of these certificates will eliminate delays.

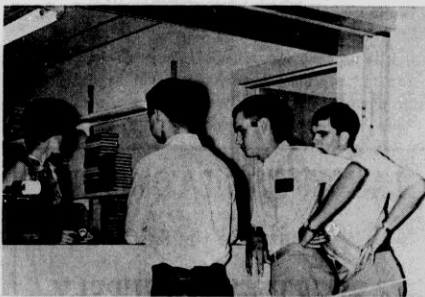

Special Note: For those students enrolled in courses leading to a standard college degree, there has been an exception made for the first check. The enrollment certification submitted by the school beginning from the date of enrollment through the end of the first month will be used instead of the monthly certificate of attendance. This is for the first month only. Subsequent monthly certificates of attendance will be required each month and will be mailed to the veterans with their checks as they are issued. VA 21E-6553A, Monthly Certification of Attendance, for students pursuing courses below college level are still required. These will however be issued automatically upon receipt of an enrollment certification which is furnished by the school.

Monthly payments available to veterans in training vary according to the number of dependents and the type of program enrolled in.

You can tell when you are on the right road—it's upgrade.

You're only young once. After that it takes another excuse. Enemies are the heritage of success. Nobody envies a failure.

There are a lot of good ways to become a failure, but never taking a chance is the most successful.

JOYCE PARRISH is kept busy as she finds all the books needed by the more than 700 students enrolled for the school term. This is the second semester that the book store has been open for use.

THE ART OF PUTTING THINGS OFF

Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow. This seems to be the attitude that most people take.

No matter how much time a person has to do something one day, nine times out of ten, he will put it off until the very last minute and then only do the job half way because he has to rush through it.

Why can't people realize that they would enjoy what they were doing so much more if they knew that they had all their assignments completed for the next day or for that day?

Maybe it is the realization that they should be in their rooms studying or working that makes them enjoy so tremendously what they are doing. It is simply human nature to enjoy doing something that you shouldn't be doing.

Each day you can hear a number of students say, either to themselves or to someone near by, that they really should be in their rooms studying or somewhere else doing something else, but that they just simply don't have the energy to move?

If there is a job that a person particularly dislikes doing, he will find himself putting it off and putting it off; each moment dreading it more and more. If they would only do it and get it over with it would make it seem not half so bad.

It seems to me that it would be better in the long run to do the most dreaded tasks first and then the others could be enjoyed more. The worst ones would already be out of the way.

Why people continually put things off until the last minute will always remain one of the mysteries of life because in most cases the person doesn't know himself why he puts it off, he just does.

I think that the slogan, "Never do today, what you can put off until tomorrow" should be changed to "Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today." Life could be enjoyed so much more.—E. F. P.

All Around Campus

By Fern Perry
 Each year in the college paper there is a column that is known generally as the gossip column. This column, written by one of the staff members, attempts to fill each of the students in on the latest happenings on the campus. I have chosen "All Around Campus" as the name for my column because in this column I will endeavor to touch upon happenings from all over the campus.

Severson, what do you call the girls on the California beach?

Paulette Bates, do you have trouble carrying a glass of water? Or is it only in the student union during initiation that you spill water down the backs of football players?

Bill Sides, are you confused in all your classes as you were in American History Wednesday?

Patton Hall girls: Was it really so bad having to go through freshman initiation? At least you didn't have to wear diapers like the Poe Hall girls.

Rick Womack, how do you rate having a special I.D. card?

Don Allen, do you really think that you're a celebrity just because you were elected vice-president of the Aggie Club

Jim Craig did you finally realize that snakes can be dangerous?

Charles M....., do you still want to go home?

Donnie Davis why do you think that you should have your picture in the paper?

It looks as though Murray will have another record enrollment this year.

Don't let a too-small education put the squeeze on you.

A too-small education can really cramp your style. Box you in. Squeeze you into a too-small job... and keep you there permanently.

Don't let it happen. Make sure you get an education that's big enough to fit you for life.

It's really the smart thing to do. Because, to get any kind of a good job today, you need a good education. It's the first thing most employers ask for. It's your passport to a good job, with good pay and a comfortably large future.

So if you're in school now... stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. If you're out of school, you can still get plenty of valuable training outside the classroom. For details, see the Youth Counselor at your State Employment Service. Or visit a Youth Opportunity Center.

Aggies drop opener to powerful Kansas team

By Tommy Hart
The Murray Aggies opened their 1966 football season on a sour note Saturday, September 10, as they fell to a powerful team from Dodge City, Kansas.

The Aggies were the first to strike, scoring early on a pass from quarterback Randy Warren, Ardmore freshman, to halfback Duane Freese, Shawnee freshman. From there it was a see-saw battle with Dodge City scoring twice before Murray could tally again.

Dodge City scored again and led until late in the second quarter when Murray scored its final touchdown of the game and led at half-time with a score of 20 to 19.

The second half however was all Dodge City as they scored once in each quarter and the Aggies failed to score.

The Aggies running attack was very impressive but their best offense came from the air. With the combined efforts of quarterback Randy Warren and ends Duane Freese and Robert Manley, Ardmore freshman, the Aggies gained a total of 242 yards in the air compared to 97 yards on the ground. The final score was 32-20.

Funds granted for 30 Youth Corps jobs in county

An $84,000 federal grant to Murray State College to administer for Neighborhood Youth Corps projects in a four county area will mean the program will continue this winter, but on a smaller basis than this past summer, according to Harold Slack, college co-ordinator of the program.

The grant, announced in Washington late last week, is for an 11½ month program beginning this month for Coal, Murray, Atoka and Johnston counties. Slack said it will permit 120 youths to work at various school jobs five hours a week and be paid $1.25 per hour.

During the past summer approximately 100 additional youths were employed and the work period was 40 hours a week.

Slack said the new program provides funds for six jobs at Coleman, four at Milburn, four at Mill Creek, ten at Tishomingo and six at Wapanucka.

Ranger goes to air; down Aggies 27-31

Murray Aggies fell Saturday night to a powerful team from Ranger by a score of 31 to 27.

Aggies combining their passing and running attacks were the first to tally. Scoring early in the second quarter on an end run by Farris Strambler, Sophomore from Midland, Texas and a good conversion by Jerry Pemberton, Freshman from Oklahoma City, Murray led 7 to 0. This was the last time that the Aggies had the lead.

Ranger possessing a fine aerial attack were able to score twice before the end of the quarter.

Ranger led at the half 13-7. Ranger struck first in the second half on another pass.

Murray was able to score once again late in the third quarter on a line plunge by halfback, Clinton Johnson, Wynnewood Sophomore. Going into the final quarter the Aggies trailed 19-14.

Murray tallied twice in the final quarter only to have each touchdown matched by Ranger.

Ranger scored again on another aerial volley only to have Murray do the same.

Quarterback Randy Warren, freshman from Ardmore was able to connect with end Max Harbert, freshman from Tishomingo, for Murray's first score from the air.

The Aggies scored again on a valiant effort by halfback Tommy Caskey, soph. from Wagoner as he bounced off tackle for the score.

But Ranger's unflinching aerial bombardment struck again and they were able to hold their 4-point lead until time ran out.

For Murray, it was their second loss in as many starts.

Student Senate has 1st meeting

Student Senate members met September 26 for the first time. The meeting was called to order by Fred Keas, president. New members and guests were introduced.

Parent's Day was discussed and a tentative date was set.

Senator Bressé asked that the Home Economics Club be allowed to present the homecoming queen candidates in the annual presentation assembly, with a presentation dance following.

There was some discussion as to what groups would be allowed to run queen candidates. Senator Stricklin made a motion that all non-constitutional organizations not be allowed to run candidates. The motion was passed.

Mary Stewart announced that the Pep Club wanted to give the annual homecoming dance, October 8, immediately following the football game. She also said that they would like to sell the traditional "Mums" for this event. She then said that the Pep Club would like to hold a pep assembly at noon on Thursday for the Arlington game.

Then Senator Cochran announced that the International Club wanted to give a Halloween dance, October 31.

Senator Freeman stated that the Engineer's Club wanted to host the annual auto rally and asked that the Senate furnish the prize money as had been done previously.

A suggestion was made by Senator Elias that floats or displays be made to "boost" school spirit for the homecoming game. Due to a time limit Antoine Treadaway suggested having a bon fire.

Senator Havens made the motion that the Pep Club would like to sponsor the bon fire. After some discussion, the O-Club, Engineer's Club and Fulton Hall volunteered to help get the wood for the bon fire.

The president appointed Senator McCarrall as chairman of a committee to promote "school spirit". Senator Elias, Mary Stewart, Senator Freeman, Senator Scrivner and Fern Perry were appointed as members of this committee.

President Keas then announced an executive committee meeting. He then adjourned the meeting.

Tourney planned in student union recreation room

Plans are being made for a snooker and 8-ball tournament to be held in the student union recreation room, according to John Kimbrough, manager. The exact date has not been set for the tourney, but it will be held some time after football season, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Faculty and staff will enter one division and students will make up the second division.

Girls may enter only the 8-ball division, but the men can enter either the 8-ball or snooker divisions. A 35c entry fee will be charged for the snooker section and 25c fee will be charged for the 8-ball section.

A chart is posted on the wall of the recreation room, and students and faculty are encouraged to sign up for the tourney as soon as possible, so that brackets can be drawn.

Murray College has Performance Test

The Murray State College Agricultural Department has begun preparations for the Murray College annual performance bull test.

Dr. Jerry Martin, head of the agriculture Department, reported as of September 28, there were approximately 150 head of stock in a warming-up period which will be immediately followed by the actual testing.

The testing will consist of weighing all animals, then providing them with a feed mixture which will supply an ample amount of nutrients for maximum weight gain. The feeding will be completed after several months, but the test will not be complete until each animal has been re-weighed and its amount of weight gain has been compared with the amount of feed that it has consumed throughout the test period.

With this information it can be found how many pounds of feed it took for a bull to produce a pound of gain. It is known that this bull has the ability to pass these characteristics onto his offspring.

All Around Campus

By Fern Perry

I want to extend my heartiest Congratulations to the football team.

Millie Scrivner, what is this I hear about you eating with the pigs? Did you really?

It seems that Annabelle Muller is going to represent Fatton Hall in the Homecoming pageant. What kind of performance did you say you were going to put on?

Robert Manley, do you always come charging into the girls' dormitory and just ask the first person you see if she has a date?

Kay Sizemore, how is it you were going to catch Coach Nelson?

Loma Steele, how do you rate having a private telephone in your room? Oh, you and some other girls are going to share the expenses.

Terry Bryant, is what I hear about you true?

It seems that in the last issue of the paper I made quite a few mistakes and on the front page too. I had the names of Janice Matthews and Susann Canada transposed. I also had the name of Susann spelled wrong. Not only her first name but also her last. I'll try to do better from now on.

I have only one thing to say in regards to the Homecoming Queen contest: May the best girl win, whoever she may be.

It seems that we have two new cheerleaders. The Calcute brothers sure helped to lead some spirit boosting cheers at the Arlington game.

I knew that "Batman" was a great hero in the lives of many of the teen-agers today, but when they start bringing bats into the dormitories this is too much.

Bob Sutterfield, why do people call you "Buggy Bob"?

Phil Pointer, do you always have such uncontrollable energy after you practice for an afternoon?

In closing I would like to say one thing. If everyone is as confused in all of their classes as I am in chemistry—people I sure do feel sorry for you and for your instructors.

BULLETIN

Yearbooks can still be purchased according to Loma Steele, TRIBESMAN editor. Students may purchase their books from the editor or Kenneth Nichols in AD306. No extra copies of the yearbook will be ordered, and the order must be sent to the printer by Saturday, October 15.

SHOW SOME RESPONSIBILITY

I heard someone say the other day that the students were literally tearing up the book shelves in the Student Union. These shelves were added to the union this year.

It seems a shame that they should be torn up so soon, and by college students. At the rate they are being demolished, they won't even last one semester. Most students last at least one semester. I find it unbelievable that a college student would be so irresponsible.

Come on you people lets show everyone that we are responsible college students and that we can keep the facilities looking new!

THE DILEMA OF THE COLLEGE FRESHMAN

College freshmen of this day and age seem to expect too much from one college. Each freshman expects the college to offer him the fullest academic life and social life on campus.

Questionnaires on this subject given to freshmen entering college in 1966 showed that the freshman expects to receive the benefits of the extracurricular activities of a denominational college and also the benefits of the academically minded elite liberal arts colleges.

These types of expectations are some of the fallacies connected with the college freshman. Freshmen who complain about the lack of something to do usually get the idea that college is one big party from older friends, parents, or counselors in high school.

When a freshman arrives on campus with such great expectations about what he will do his first reaction is bound to be a let-down. This let-down can cause dissatisfaction among students. This is one of the reasons that so many colleges are racked with student demonstrations and other uprisings.

If you are one of the many bright-eyed students who came to college full of hopes and boundless energies only to be let down, don't give up. Your college life is what you make of it, and it can be the most rewarding time of your life.—JMM

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Dear Friend,

You were my friend until you murdered that school child. You just the same as murdered him when you went speeding down Murray Drive and over the hill at school.

Didn't you see the buses there loading up? You should have been able to see them even before you topped the hill. What could have been so important to take your mind so completely off your driving?

You can't use the same old worn-out excuse, "I didn't see him. I just didn't see him." If you had been driving at the 15 mile an hour speed limit and had your mind on your driving, you would have seen him. Even if he had run out in front of your car, you would have been able to stop.

I know that you aren't the only one who drives fast down that road, everyone does. It just happens that you got caught. And what an awful way it was. Wouldn't you rather have just received a fine—no matter how large—than to have murdered that child? Could there possibly be a higher punishment?

Just think how you would have felt if you were the parent of a child who had been killed by a reckless driver. Would you accept the excuse, "I didn't see him?" I think I can safely say that you wouldn't, you wouldn't accept any excuse.

All this could have been avoided if you had only obeyed the law. Yes, you did break the law when you went over the speed limit. How fast were you going anyway? 50, 60, maybe even faster?

You also broke one of the laws that is supposed to govern every driver. You should never drive anywhere if your mind is not on your driving. When you are driving your complete attention should be on your driving.

So you see that is why I say you murdered the child. How can I be friends with a murderer? Especially one who killed out of carelessness.

It is too late now for you to try to mend your ways. As long as you live you will be able to see the child in front of you, just before you hit him, and you will be able to feel the impact when you did hit him.

All this could have been avoided if you had only been going the speed limit and not one mile over and if your mind had been on your driving.

Are you still my friend?

Aggies down Jr. Rebels in defensive game 14-6

By Tommy Hart
Putting forth their finest effort of the year the Murray Aggies sailed by the Arlington Jr. Rebels with a score of 14-6.

From the first whistle it was a give and take battle with neither team able to score in the first quarter. As the teams deadlocked it became a defensive battle with Murray coming out on top.

Led by outstanding linebacker Antoine Treadaway, sophomore from Shreveport, Louisiana, Murray's defense was able to hold the Jr. Rebs to only 86 yards on the ground.

Murray's first score came late in the second quarter as the defense again took charge. On a fourth down nineteen yards to go situation, Arlington went back to punt. Arlington punter Skipper Butler set up in punt formation but his kick was blocked by Mike "Tonto" Simpson, freshman from Hugo and recovered for a touchdown by defensive stalwart Tommy Harber, freshman from Sulphur. Jerry Pemberton, freshman from Oklahoma City, added the P.A.T. and Murray led at the half 7 to 0.

Both teams locked horns again in the second half with Murray maintaining its lead until the fourth quarter.

Arlington was able to tally in the fourth stanza on a line plunge by quarterback Mickey Eddleman, one of Arlington's standouts. The P.A.T. was wide, however, and the Aggies still led 7 to 6.

Late in the fourth quarter the Aggies added the finishing touches when Randy Warren, freshman from Ardmore, picked off an Eddleman pass and returned it 50 yards for Murray's second T. D. Pemberton again converted and Murray won 14 to 6.

The Aggies now stand 1 and 3 for the season.

Aggies bombed by Kilgore 35-0

by Tommy Hart
The Kilgore Rangers grounded Murray's Aggies Saturday, Sept. 24 in their third attempt for victory.

With a very impressive running attack Kilgore was able to score at least once in each quarter and tallied twice in the second.

Duely earning their second in the nation rating for junior colleges Kilgore was able to rack up 216 yards in the air and a very impressive 534 yards on the ground.

The loss was the third in a row for the Aggies who were still looking for their first win.

LONNIE APPEL, (30) sophomore halfback, goes in to stop Kilgore quarterback for short yardage. The Kilgore Rangers defeated the Aggies at Tishomingo September 24, 35-0.

Murray wins first JUCO game over Mavericks 34-6

Aggie coach Wayne Canaday's Aggies rolled over Leo Canaday's Northern bunch by a score of 34-6 Saturday Oct. 8 for Murray's Homecoming win.

With 42 seconds gone in the first quarter halfback Duane Freese, freshman from Del City got loose on a 55 yard scoring jaunt to open things up. The extra point was no good and Murray led 6-0.

In the second quarter Murray took to the air and before the half began they had racked up two more T.D.'s.

The first score came on a 35 yard pass from quarterback Randy Warren, freshman from Ardmore, to end Robert Manley, freshman from Ardmore. Jerry Pemberton, freshman from Oklahoma City, added the P.A.T.

Then late in the second quarter the Ardmore twins combined efforts again to tally and Murray led at the half 20-0 as Wyatt added the extra point.

At the start of the second half it was still Murray all the way. Then late in the third quarter came the most fabulous play of the year as quarterback Warren, from Ardmore hit end Manley, from Ardmore, with another pass. Manley was hit as soon as he caught the ball but instead of falling he pitched back to halfback Duane Freese, freshman from Del City, for Murray's fourth score and a 27-0 total after Pemberton's P.A.T.

Murray was able to score again in the fourth quarter on another pass from quarterback Gary Wyatt, freshman from Tishomingo, to halfback Donald Terrell, freshman from Putnam City. Pemberton again converted to give Murray its 34 points.

Northern was able to score late in the fourth quarter but they missed the extra point and the game ended 34-6 for Murray.

Murray fall enrollment hits 751

Large freshman class pushes enrollment up 14%

Enrollment for the fall semester at Murray College reached 751 students, according to Louise Craven, College Registrar. This is a 14% increase over the 1965 fall semester enrollment of 659 students.

The increase in enrollment is due to a large increase in freshmen students. The number of freshmen students is 523 compared with last fall's freshmen enrollment of 382. 527 men are attending Murray this year and 224 women.

The largest enrollment in departments is in business with 131 majors, and Agriculture is next with 107 students.

Seven Hundred students at Murray are residents of 36 Oklahoma counties. Carter county students are first in enrollment with 160, and Johnston county is second in number with 125. Oklahoma county is third with 45 students.

Forty five out-of-state students are attending Murray this year and they are from 16 states. Foreign students this year represent Guatemala, Iran, and Mexico.

Reception held for parents in student union

Serving at the reception was Loma Steele, Carolyn Kennedy, Patty Hudgens, Peggy Herrell and Mrs. Sybil Alloway.

Entertainment was provided by Shelly Collard and Jamie Pace who played several selections on the piano and Carole Halsted who sang.

The refreshment table was covered with a white tablecloth with a centerpiece of assorted flowers.

A scale model of Murray showing all of the new buildings was displayed in the lounge.

Home group has special meeting

Phi Theta Kappa met Thursday night. The purpose of this meeting was to acquaint the prospective initiates with the members and also with some of the ways of the fraternity.

Monday night was set for the initiation rehearsal and the initiation date was set for tonight (Tuesday) at 7:30. This year for the first time the initiation will be a closed initiation with only the initiates, members and the faculty members present.

Dean Cleveland was the guest speaker at the meeting Thursday night.

Students: Your mail could be sorted faster and easier if dorm and room number is included in the address. We encourage you to include these in your return address when writing relatives and friends.

A Virginia driver was arrested for traveling through a radar zone at 95 mph. Unable to make bond, he asked his passenger to take his car and bring his wife to bail him out. Returning with the wife and bail, the friend was arrested for driving through the same zone at 85 mph.

Fulton Hall to be renovated

Plans are now being made for the renovation of Fulton Hall. Work will begin in December, according to Dr. Freeman McKee, president. Students who are currently being housed in Fulton will be moved to Haskell Lucas dormitory, prior to the beginning of the improvement project.

This project is being undertaken because of the large increase in enrollment, and the anticipated increase in enrollment of future years.

Nov. 5 is poetry contest deadline

Any student attending either junior or senior college is eligible to submit his verse. There is no limitation as to form or theme. Shorter works are preferred by the Board of Judges, because of space limitations.

Each poem must be typed or printed on a separate sheet, and must bear the name and home address of the student, as well as the name of the college attended. Manuscripts should be sent to the Offices of the Press, National Poetry Press, 3210 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles 24, Calif.

Tony Kennedy vies for state office

Tony Kennedy

According to Clyde Clayton, State B.S.U. Director, Tony Kennedy has been chosen to compete against students from other state colleges and universities for the position of State B.S.U. vice president. Kennedy, vice president of the local B.S.U., will campaign for this position October 28 and 29 at the State B.S.U. convention in Norman. Election will be held October 29 in a business session of the convention.

This is the first year one of the local students has been nominated for a state office.

Also at this convention James Docker, Tishomingo sophomore, is scheduled to speak to approximately 600 students about his work this summer as a B.S.U. summer missionary.

Booker, local B.S.U. missions chairman, was one of 16 students from Oklahoma chosen as a summer missionary. He spent 10 weeks in California assisting with vacation Bible school and revival services.

Tentative date set for season's first drama

Kyle Crichton's three-act comedy, THE HAPPIEST MILLIONAIRE, has been selected by the drama department as the first production of the fall season. Production dates have been scheduled for December 5 and 6 in the college auditorium.

THE HAPPIEST MILLIONAIRE, suggested by the book "My Philadelphia Father" by Cordelia Drexel Biddle Robertson and Kyle Crichton, starred Walter Pidgeon in its successful run on Broadway in the late 1950's. The action of the play takes place between September, 1916 and June 1917 in the Biddle home in Philadelphia. The Biddle and Duke families who play important roles in this play are the ancestors of Angier Biddle Duke, who was Chief of Protocol during the administration of the late President Kennedy, and presently ambassador to Spain.

Mrs. Benjamin Duke and Angier, her son, are portrayed by Sharon Westover, Wilburton sophomore, and freshman, Ronnie Fannin from Marietta. Ed Smith, freshman from McAlester was cast as the butler; John Lawless with Fredda McClain, Fox freshman playing Emma the maid, St Elmo, Illinois freshman, Jim Wallen will play the part of Charlie Taylor. Athletic members of the cast are sophomore Bill Rains of Lexington, portraying Joe Mancuso; and Ted Haxel, Washington freshman playing Spike O'Malley.

Mr. Fred Poe is director for the play with Linda McCarrell acting as student director.

Engineering Club holds auto rally

Bob Behler with his navigator Cecil Underwood took first place in the auto derby. Second place winners were Danny Pennington and navigator Randy Ferguson. Taking the honors of third was Ron Wiggins and navigator Haisel Simmons.

Best time turned in for the course was Behler in car 1 taking 49 minutes for 24.6 miles. Pennington and Wiggins turned in 27.5 miles in 49 minutes and 28.1 miles in 60 minutes respectively.

Science Club sponsors weiner roast and trip

The Science Club sponsored a weiner roast October 10. Eighteen members and guests were present for this fun-filled event, including the sponsors, Howard Johnson and Paul J. Park.

Everyone enjoyed a generous number of hot-dogs. Entertainment was provided by an unfortunate armadillo which wandered near the fire. An armadillo chase followed, the vicious creature was finally captured. It was suggested that a deer chase might climax the next weiner roast.

October 19, the club also sponsored a tour of the Warren Petroleum Company near Maysville. Those going on this tour were Harold Scates, Don Bales, Royce Chandler, Linda Wooten, Johnny Day, Alfred McConathy, Alvin Wood, and sponsor Howard Johnson. On the tour, the group was shown the extent of the company's operation and also information was given concerning the processing of petroleum. The tour proved to be both very interesting and informative.

As you go to the business office to pay your room and board fees for another month, you will be approached for an additional $6.00! No, it will not be to help Mr. Mahura's morale, but to secure a copy of, and I quote, "THE SPECTACULAR TRIBESMAN 67", which through the pain, agony, tears, and sleepless nights of Loma Steele has met its first deadline.

It was a beautiful day around the second week in September when a great cloud began to appear on the horizon for our hero, Loma Steele. As she was calmly sitting in Gerald Alloway's office, which by the way has become her permanent residence, the great storm began. By a unanimous vote of two distinguished English professors, Mr. Fletcher and Mr. Nichols, Loma was elected editor of The Murray State College Annual, "Tribesman 67". Unable to speak because of the great joy in her heart, she simply sat in a corner crying and began eating another box of NoDoz.

Loma, wanting to begin her reign, or should I say dictatorship, in the right manner planned a ski party, after which every person who attended found themselves in her debt and are still working out their penance.

If you would like to meet Loma you might look for a wrinkled, pale creature who wears sunglasses all the time. These distinctive traits are accredited to spending so much time in the dark room developing your class pictures and doing her best to make you all look beautiful. If you fail to spot her you might try reaching her on her private phone which was installed for editorial use.

After a great struggle and many fits of anger, our Miss Steele has secured for you a yearbook cover which "by sacrificing color and adding simplicity has real collegiate class."

We will leave our hero now to continue her noble work. As you pass this pitiful but secretly happy girl you might give Loma a pat on the back for a hard job which is being well done.

All Around Campus

By Fern Perry
 It seems as though Mother Nature can't make up her mind as to what kind of weather we will have. One day it is so cold we wonder when the first snow will be, the next day it seems as though it is summer again.

I guess maybe this just helps prove the old saying, "If you don't like Oklahoma weather, just wait a few minutes."

Either the students are all striving to make the president's honor roll this semester or their instructors are tougher this year because there sure are a lot of students burning the midnight oil on campus.

Erma Burleson didn't anyone ever tell you that only the house mother or the dorm president has the authority to call a dorm meeting?

Carolyn Kennedy did you really hurt your knee that bad or did you just want to slow down the practice?

Rick Calhoun don't you have anything better to do than sit in the cafeteria and play with the salt and pepper shakers?

Well I can finally go out for an afternoon's football practice without being so sore that I can't move the next day.

If you see a lot of people walking around as though they had lost their last and dearest friend, you can more than likely say, "He or she flunked a chemistry test."

Dean Cleveland I believe that I can truthfully say that everyone thoroughly enjoyed your talk Thursday night.

Larry McTague I can't believe that anyone who is president of an honor fraternity still can't spell meeting.

Don't feel too bad though it seems you aren't the only one who has trouble with their spelling, how about it Dean Cleveland?

Now is your chance to buy a calendar with pictures of 12 different "beauties" on it. They are for sale in Ad 206. Buy one now.

In closing I have one thing more to say, I think that Donnie Davis should get the Farm Prize of the Month, if there is such a prize.

EDITORIALS

DEAR LINEBREAKER.

I know you're hungry because I'm hungry too. When the line forms at the cafeteria it's only fair to take your place at the end, but you and some of your friends have a better idea.

I saw you come into the cafeteria today. You looked around at the long line of starving students and just happened to see your old pal at the front of the line. I must say, you really played it cool talking to him about a chemistry test. Then when it was his turn to get his card, you decided to go on and get your's too, since you were already there anyway, and you could discuss chemistry together while you ate.

Friend, I admit, you really are a suave linebreaker. However, there is no demand for suave linebreakers.

ARE YOU AWARE OF NATURE AT MURRAY?

Have you ever thought of the natural life going on here at Murray?

I was passing the Library the other day when I happened to notice something that drew my attention for a short while. This something came in the form of bushes in front of the Library and what was happening around them.

The first thing I noticed was small flowers on the bushes. Then a sudden movement caught my eye, and to my surprise this movement was caused by several insects.

The most outstanding of these came in the form of bumble bees gathering pollen from the small flowers. Then my attention was drawn to another beautiful insect. Several large Monarch butterflies were also helping in the pollination of the flowers. A small spider, grey and inventive, was building a web. Then a sound began to pierce my ears.

I was trying to locate the sound when I noticed two small antennae that reminded me of the bristles on a hair brush. Out from under a leaf appeared a green caterpillar. The sound was his, produced by rubbing his wings together.

These happenings, combined with the outstanding stature of Murray, gave me a feeling of esteem. On your next trip by the Library take just a minute to truly Mother Nature at work there, for so few of us truly know or appreciate the "Hidden Nature at Murray".—WH

STUDY HABITS CAN MAKE OR BREAK YOU

Do you know what study is? Study is the application of mind to arts, sciences, or any subject for the purpose of acquiring knowledge. Now, since we have that awful word properly defined, maybe something can be done to apply it to our situation:

You have been a college student at Murray for six weeks and your grades aren't what you would like for them to be. That professor in English just doesn't seem to give tests like your good ole home town school teacher. Of course, you could make a good "C" by just skimming over the material—but this year it doesn't seem to work. You put in a full 30 minutes on that test and you didn't even make an "F".

If you are a student on campus making 16 hours of "F" and about 16 hours of "A" in spades and 4 hours of "B" in poolroom life, remember Mom isn't here to remind you "study tonight, you have a test tomorrow." Nobody is here to make you attend classes, but skipping classes is the best way to get to see your parents again because you will more than likely flunk out.

No one is going to make you do anything; it is up to you as a college student to budget your time. If you enjoy the student union and the pool room make your grades so you can be around to enjoy them next semester.

Only three more weeks left until mid-semester grades come out. I hope everyone studies because I don't like to see my friends drop out because of poor study habits that could be remedied.—JMM

Navarro edges Aggies in last period 14-10

Murray's Aggies despite a tremendous comeback effort were tripped up by Navarro Jr. College 14 to 10.

The first half looked like a standoff as neither team was able to move the ball.

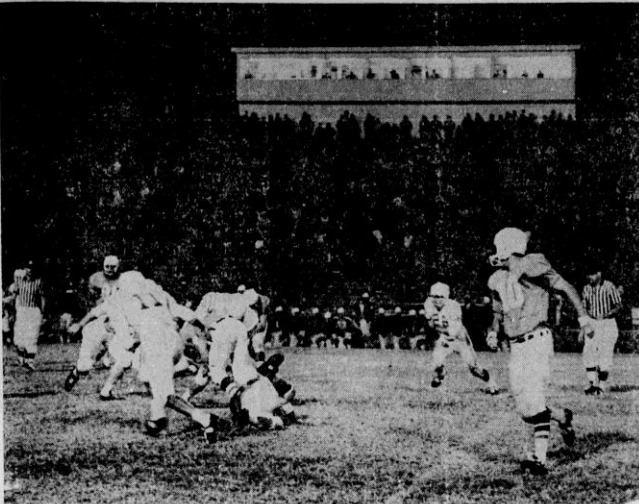

It appeared as if the second half would be identical to the first as neither team could gain ground. Finally late in the third quarter the Aggies were able to fight to within field goal distance, and the talented toe of Jerry Pemberton was able to count for his first field goal of the year and Murray led 3 to 0.

This lead began to loom large until late in the fourth quarter when Navarro was able to key on a Murray fumble and score their first T.D. The P.A.T. was good and they led 7 to 3.

With seven minutes to play Navarro keyed on another Aggie fumble and scored again. The P.A.T. was added and Navarro had their 14 points.

Murray's only touchdown came with 5 minutes left as they talked on a pass from quarterback Randy Warren, freshman from Ardmore, to halfback Duane Freeze, freshman from Del City. Pemberton added the extra point, but it was not enough to overcome Navarro's lead and the game ended 14 to 10 in favor of Navarro.

Cameron squeaks by Murray at Lawton 21-14

By Tommy Hart

Murray's Aggies, despite a valiant comeback effort, fell to Cameron Junior College Saturday night, October 15, by a score of 21 to 14.

It appeared to be a total rout for Cameron as they ran amuck the first six minutes. They led at halftime by a score of 21 to 0. The second half was an entirely different story however as the Aggies were able to tally once in each quarter.

The Aggies first score came on a blocked punt by defensive linebacker Mike "Tonto" Simpson, freshman from Hugo, which was recovered for the T.D. by guard Don Swanson, freshman from McAlester. Gary Wyatt, freshman from Tishomingo, made the extra point for Murray's first 7 points. The third quarter ended 21 to 7 in favor of Cameron.

Early in the fourth quarter Murray quarterback Randy Warren, freshman from Ardmore, faked a pitchout around left end and galloped 40 yards for Murray's second score. The dependable toe of Jerry Pemberton, freshman from Oklahoma City, added the extra point.

Fighting desperately, the Aggies were able to push the ball to the Cameron 5 yard line but time ran out with Cameron on top 21 to 14.

Murray now stands 2 and 4 for the season.

Murray students attend religious film in Madill

Instead of the regular B.S.U. vesper services, approximately 40 students attended the showing of the film "The Restless Ones" at Madill theater last Tuesday evening. Sponsored by the Baptist Student Union the group was furnished tickets by the Madill Baptist Brotherhood and Mrs. Katy Rood of Tishomingo.

Produced by World Wide Pictures, the film deals in a very real way, with the problems that face young people today. Evangelist Billy Graham makes a guest appearance in the film.

B.S.U. devotional services are Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 12:30 to 1:00 and Tuesday evenings from 7:00 to 7:30 p.m. in the Baptist Student Center north of the college campus.

Women take over football spotlight

You poor feminine creatures. No one really feels sorry for you, they all think you are crazy. Now after two weeks of practice you are beginning to believe it also. No one twisted your arm to make you sign the paper saying "I will participate in the powder-puff football game", even though by now it feels as if it has been twisted.

Each and every one of you is so sore you can hardly move. Black and blue blotches cover your once flesh-colored body. When small screams come from the front ranks of the cafeteria line saying such as "Don't touch me," you don't think a thing about it because you know it is just a female football player who is one huge bruise.

Torturing drills have been the main factor of all the moans heard from the poor mistreated line-women and backs. When asked how his team was coming along Rick Calhoun, Patton Hall coach said, "My girls are coming along just fine but they still need to lose some baby fat."

Even though you poor girls feel mistreated, after the night of the big game you will all say, "Well it was fun even though it was hard."

Former student awarded Ray Gildea Scholarship

Jimmy D. Altom, 21, of Ada, Oklahoma State University agronomy senior, is 1966-67 winner of a Ray Y. Gildea, Jr. scholarship in conservation.

Word of his selection was received from headquarters of the Soil Conservation Society of America, Ankeny, Iowa. He was chosen from the southwestern regional states of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and New Mexico.

Fifteen $300 scholarships are given annually in the United States and Canada by the Soil Conservation Society of America, from funds supplied by Ray Gildea, a member of the society.

Altom, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Altom, RFD 2, Ada, is majoring in agronomy, with the science option, at Oklahoma State. He has an academic average of B-plus to date. He plans to study for the M.S. degree in agronomy, and then to work as a range conservationist.

Prior to enrolling at OSU, Altom attended Murray State Agricultural College at Tishomingo, where he served as secretary-treasurer of the Aggie club and represented the sophomore class in the student senate.

At Oklahoma State, he is vice-president of the Agronomy club and held a Lew Wentz Service Scholarship during 1965-66. He is a member of the student section of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

Beef judging team has first meeting

The Murray State beef judging team had its first workout October 11.

The five people participating in the first meeting were all from Perkins. They were Kenny Cundiff, a sophomore general education major; Dale Shaffer, a sophomore agriculture economics major; Charles Authur, Bill Ramsey and Bob Blair, all freshmen general agriculture majors.

Dr. Martin, head of the agriculture department, stated that he expects to have about five more members before the first contest. He also said that only six of the ten would be allowed to go and only three of the selected six could participate in the contest.

The first contest will be held in Fort Worth, Texas during the month of January. In this contest only freshmen will be allowed to judge.

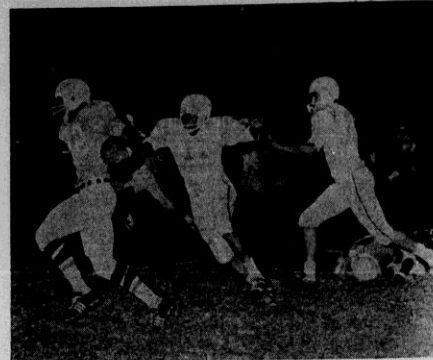

Bookstore obtains various supplies

This year the bookstore is carrying an assortment of items which are being sold for the first time. Not only is the bookstore selling school books and school supplies but helpful outlines and notes which are keyed to the college students' text books. Articles of clothing such as sweat shirts, wind-breakers, and tee shirts are for sale.

For the male student the bookstore has shaving cream, after shave lotion and razors. While the essentials such as nail polish, hair spray, eye makeup and hose are available for co-eds. For all students there is facial soap, washing powder, playing cards, spray starch, umbrellas, and greeting cards. For the avid sports fans stadium cushions with the school name on them, can be purchased.

Mrs. Rubye O'Bryan, manager of the bookstore, just received a new shipment of pull-over sweaters, sweat shirts, and wind-breakers.

Throughout the year Mrs. O'Bryan plans to add new items to the stock which she now carries.

Stray ghosts, lost puppies, dripping faces and halfeaten apples were prevalent at the B.S.U. Halloween party October 31. In addition to the traditional bobbing for apples, several students found their hands and feet bobbing in the tub with the apples.

An old fashioned melodrama featuring Tony Kennedy as Handsome Harry, Bill Mitchell as the villain and Roy Reeves as Aunt Minerva underscored the need for more dramatic training on campus.

A student senate meeting was called November 1. At this meeting the minutes of the last meeting were read and the treasurer's report was given.

Carolyn Kennedy gave a report of the Parent's Day reception.

A school calendar was presented to each of the senate members and events for the month of November were written in on those calendars.

Some events for November include, a dance after the Connors game, Sadie Hawkins Week, Powderpuff Football Game, a Dog Patch Dance, a Pool Tournament and a Thanksgiving assembly.

It was decided at this meeting to schedule the Powderpuff Football Game for November 17 at 7 p.m. There is an admission of 75c for all those not participating in the game.

A suggestion was made by Fred Keas, president, that Mike Loundenlager be made Historian for the year. The vote was unanimous.

The pool tournament was set for November 19 and 20.

At this meeting it was voted to have November 23 set for the student achievement day for the first semester.

How's That Again?

In the wake of the recent prayer ban rulings, a high school principal was recently overheard admonishing the young men of the student body, "Boys, if I catch any of you down on your knees, you better be shooting craps or we're all in trouble".

How 'bout that motivation?
 Matters not from whom.
 But if it really moves you,
 Twon't take you to your doom.

And if it's from the teacher,
 It counts a whole lot more,
 For without his motivation,
 Wouldn't college be a bore?

So let us not be hasty,

EDITORIALS

HAVE YOU DONE YOUR BEST?

The first nine weeks' reports will be out shortly. Can you honestly say, "I did my best, I'm satisfied with my grades?" If you can't, try a little harder next time. Unless you can say, "I've done my best," don't be content with your efforts.

"That old Mr. Jones 'gave' me a 'D.'" How many times have we heard or said this? Mr. Jones didn't 'give' you anything. You earned that grade all by yourself. If Mr. Jones 'gave' you anything at all, it was probably a "C" instead of a "D". If you didn't like the grade you received, work harder this next nine weeks and "let" Mr. Smith 'give' you an "A" or "B".

In all fairness, a teacher should tell his students what area a test will cover and give them sufficient time to study. However, unless you cultivate good study habits, these helpful hints from the teacher aren't going to help you at all.—F.M.

FOLLOW THESE TWO RULES—

Have you ever heard the adage "Don't say anything about anyone unless you can say something nice"? Why don't you try abiding by this rule for just one week?

Do you know anybody who follows this rule? Do you follow it? I doubt it, since maybe one person out of ten do. Some people do follow it at times but not all of the time.

The world would be a much nicer place in which to live if people would follow this rule. You wouldn't have to worry about what people said behind your back because you would know that it was something nice.

Don't you feel better if you say something nice about someone? I feel a lot better if what I say is nice because when I run someone down I always feel guilty. I guess it is on the same line as when you give a gift to someone. You know it is always "better to give than to receive."

Why don't you try following this rule for just one week? You will hear someone say "but there is nothing good to say about him". Have you ever seen anyone who didn't have one good quality? Chances are that if you will only notice that even the most hardened of criminals has a good quality. It may be that he has a softness in his heart for small children of merely that he likes flowers or animals. Wouldn't you say that this is a good quality? I don't think that you know anyone that has the character of a criminal. If a criminal has good qualities surely the people you are associated with every day have several good qualities.

I think the reason people invariably run other people down is because they want to make themselves bigger in the eyes of those around them and in their own eyes. This may make them feel bigger, but in the eyes of others it makes them smaller. Down deep it really makes them feel smaller.

To me the adage "Don't say anything about anyone unless you can say something nice", should be held in reverence only to the Golden Rule.

It is my opinion that if you will follow these two rules life will be better for you and for those around you.—E.F.P.

DID YOU EVER WONDER?

If you are a 4.0 student and belong to at least two clubs or organizations you need not read further.

If you have made the statement "but there just isn't anything to do here," then this is for you.

In the past two weeks meetings have been held by the Aggie Club, Engineers Club, Pep Club, Art Club, Music Club, Science Club, International Club, Drama Club, Phi Theta Kappa, Tribesman Staff, and Student Senate to plan and carry out activities fitting all interests.

Each evening you will find the football team, basketball team, band, drill team, and cheerleaders practicing to be able to perform for YOUR enjoyment.

Did you people, who "have nothing to do here," ever stop and think how much work goes into a dance? No, you just go and dance. Do you ever wonder who put that cute picture of you in the yearbook, or where all those signs came from advertising the game this week? No you don't wonder.

All the clubs and organizations on Murray College Campus want and need new members, but they want leaders, followers, workers, and SUPPORT, not — chronic complainers.

Aggies romp over Cadets in aerial barrage 36-14

Murray Aggies traveled to Claremore October 27 to romp on the O. M. A. Cadets 36 to 14.

It appeared to be a certain rout for the Cadets when halfback Bob Rogers returned the Aggie kickoff 97 yards for the first touchdown of the night. The extra point was good and O. M. A. led 7 to 0.

It took the Aggies approximately one minute to get on the board after they got possession of the ball. Quarterback Randy Warren, freshman from Ardmore, went into the paydirt from 8 yards out. Jerry Pemberton, freshman from Oklahoma City made the conversion and the score was tied at 7 to 7.

The Aggies went on the move again in the second quarter as they moved 82 yards for their second score. It was Warren again doing the honors as he took it over from the 1 yard line. Pemberton again converted and Murray led 14 to 7 as the half ended.

Murray came back for its biggest third quarter of the year as it racked up 19 points. Their first score came from a pass from Warren to end Richard Calhoun, freshman from Marlin Texas. Pemberton converted and Murray led 21 to 7. The Aggies tallied again as halfback Clinton Johnson scampered 28 yards for Murray's fourth score.

The Cadets took over but a Cadet back was shaken loose from the ball and after a mad rush for the ball it found a place in the loving arms of Larry "Elwood" Woods and Murray had possession once again. From that point it took the Aggies only one play to reach paydirt as Johnson once again reached the promised land. The Aggies now held a 33 to 7 advantage over the Cadets.

Not to be forgotten, however, the Cadets bounced back on a 64 yard drive to gloryland as they scored on a run by halfback Mark Crossland. The P.A.T. was good and the Cadets had their 14 points.

The Aggies, however, would not be subdued as kicking specialist Jerry Pemberton put on the finishing touches with a 38 yard field goal to finish Murray's scoring and the Cadets' hopes. The final score was 36 to 14 in favor of the Aggies who now stand 3 and 5 for the season.

-Chalk Talk-

By Tommy Hart

As the 1966 football season draws to a close, football players and fans alike are waiting anxiously to see who the captains of the year will be. The Aggies have done an outstanding job this year, considering that better than three-fourths of the team are freshmen. All of the players are potential captains as each has done an outstanding job. Perhaps the most likely candidates are sophomores Antoine Treadaway, and Larry Wood; both defensive standouts, and halfbacks Tommy Caskey, and Clinton Johnson.

Murray basketballers began workouts October 20 in the hopes of equaling or bettering the outstanding record of last year's team. First report says that a pretty good crop turned out.

Some people fail to realize the quality of Murray's Athletic program. In Coach Gene Robbins we have possibly the finest athletic director in our conference. Head football coach Wayne Canaday has done a remarkable job with the predominantly freshman football team this year. And assistant coach Robert Nelson, who also heads the track team, has shown tremendous success with his offensive and defensive lines. One football player when asked his opinion of Murray's coaches replied, "They're all good guys". What better comment could a coach hope for?

Epitome of a speech student

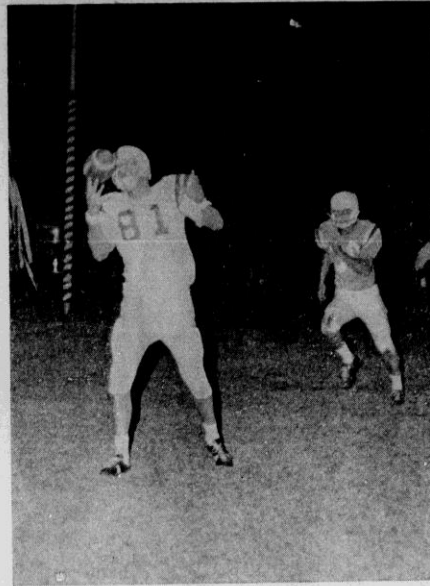

After climbing what seems to be twelve flights of stairs, I walk into the room, slump down into my chair, and try to get comfortable. However, in vain, I sit up and fall down, cross my legs, uncross them, fold my arms, grasp the side of my desk, bounce my pencil a couple of times, and usually end up with my head in my hands. The bell sounds.

Now I can hear my instructor ascending the stairways. As he comes bouncing into the room, flipping the ashes off his cigar, I just sit there amazed at his vitality on this dreadful day. From his enthusiasm I can tell he thinks this is going to be one of those "million dollar days!" People like that should be put in a "home".

I grimly watch as he takes his place at the front of the room. He casually, but in a somewhat final mood, announces we will begin the speeches. As I sit there with my eyes glued to my own outline I can faintly hear the shuffle of feet as my fellow students go to meet their persecution. He calls my name. I quit breathing for a split second. This is it. I forge toward the podium but suddenly my feet weigh 1,000 pounds each and I can't move. This is fear.

Somehow I manage to get to the front of the room, arrange my notes in front of me, take a deep breath and glance over the sea of bored faces. I then begin my speech. I find a place on the wall at the back of the room and fix my eyes to it. It happens to be a picture of Abraham Lincoln: I work hard at making my voice "project" hoping it will awaken some of my friends at the back of the class. To release nervous tension and break the monotony I try to smile at Abe when possible.

By the time I finish, my face is hot, my hands are cold and my friends are even drowsier. I make it back to my seat and pray for the bell to ring early. Finally, on the way out the door I glance back, give Abe a wink, and say to myself, "Someday I'll be glad I took speech!" And then, I repeat it over and over.

Mountaineers crush Aggies in JUCO duel 20-0

Running into one of the most powerful defenses that they have faced all year the Murray Aggies were handed their first J.U.C.O. conference defeat Saturday night by the Mountaineers of Eastern Jr. College 20 to 0.

With misfortune striking at them from the very start the Aggies fumbled on their first play from scrimmage and Eastern took over on Murray's thirty year line. Unable to move the ball, they were forced to punt. Lady Luck intervened as the Mountaineers punt rolled out of bounds on Murray's 4 yard line.

Unable to move the ball, Murray punted and Eastern took over once again but were forced to punt. Murray could not move the ball however, and the Mountaineers took over.

With a powerful offensive attack spearheaded by a 3 yard plunge the Mountaineers were able to score their first touchdown. The try for point was no good and Eastern had a never relinquished lead of 6 to 0. Late in the second quarter freshman Ronald Pinckard's punt was blocked and recovered on the 7 yard line and carried into the end zone for Eastern's second score. This time the extra point try was good and Eastern led 13 to 0.

The second half looked good as the Aggies came from the dressing room fired up and ready to go. But this time Lady Luck intervened in a more earthlike fashion and squelched all hope that the Aggies had.

Eastern's last score came in the third quarter as they talled on a line plunge, made the extra point, and wound up the scoring for the night.

Murray's last hope ended as the football was taken from the arms of fullback Tommy Caskey, sophomore from Wagoner, and Eastern was able to run out the clock. The final score was 20 to 0 in favor of Eastern.

Half-price to college students and faculty: the newspaper that newspaper people read...

At last count, we had more than 3,800 newspaper editors on our list of subscribers to The Christian Science Monitor. Editors from all over the world.

There is a good reason why these "pros" read the Monitor: the Monitor is the world's only daily international newspaper. Unlike local papers, the Monitor focuses exclusively on world news — the important news.

The Monitor selects the news it considers most significant and reports it, interprets it, analyzes it — in depth. It takes you further into the news than any local paper can.

If this is the kind of paper you would like to be reading, we will send it to you right away at half the regular price of $24.00 a year.

The Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation, Ardmore, has established a $600 scholarship to be awarded an outstanding agronomy student.

This award for scholastic achievement in the science option in agronomy will be presented to the recipient during the second semester of the sophomore year. At that time, $100 will be awarded. Upon transfer to Oklahoma State University the student will, with satisfactory academic progress, receive $200 per semester during the junior and senior years.

Minimum requirements for consideration for this award are: must have completed at least 30 semester hours with an accumulative grade point of 3.0 at Murray State Agricultural College and must have selected the Agronomy (science option) as his curriculum or be qualified to pick up this curriculum at Oklahoma State University upon transfer. The student must also have at least a 2.72 and 3.0 cumulative grade point average for the junior and senior years respectively at Oklahoma State University, and possess those qualities of personality and character that reflect credit on his chosen profession and school.

The Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation has been a leader in agricultural improvements for many years in southeastern Oklahoma. It is presently engaged in Biomedical research, and agricultural consultation and research.

Aggie Club sells rodeo tickets

The Aggie-Rodeo Club is in the process of organizing a rodeo team which will consist of five members of the Rodeo Club.

They are taking orders for Rodeo Club jackets and also selling tickets for the National Finals Rodeo which will be in Oklahoma City. Tickets can be purchased from any member of the Rodeo Club.

Music Department presents program

An assembly was held in accordance with Thanksgiving, November 14, in the ballroom of the Student Union.

Donna Martin, president of B.S.U., led the invocation and Fred Keas, Student Senate president, led the pledge of allegiance. The college choir presented two numbers and the Men's Ensemble, also under the direction of Robert Pearson, sang one selection.

Dr. Richard Murray, academic dean, introduced the guest speaker, Virgill Trout, minister of the Northside Church of Christ, Duncan.

The program was concluded with the audience participating in the singing of America and repeating the Doxology.

A reception was held in the VIP lounge following the program.

Senate sponsors Armistice program

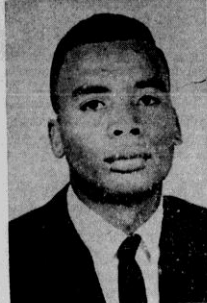

November 11, Veterans Day 1966, Murray State College held a Veterans Day program on the front lawn of the administration building, to commemorate the courage and patriotism of the men and women who have served in the armed forces far and near.

The Murray College band, under the direction of Mr. Reid and Mr. Pearson, played the national anthem while the many students who were in attendance stood at attention.

After the invocation given by Tommy Hart, the president of Student Senate, Fred Keys, explained the reasons for Veterans Day touching on the subject of our fighting boys in Viet Nam, and the privilege that Americans have to live in such a country as America.

While students listened attentively, the main speaker, Rev. Lester Ames of Tishomingo, spoke of the need of young Americans to fight and preserve their freedoms. Rev. Ames also mentioned the challenge young people are faced with and that they as young learners must live up to the challenge, as the ones to whom we dedicate Veterans Day lived up to their challenge.

After interviewing Wisconsin's Director of Safety on the importance of tires in safe driving, a reporter checked his own car and found two tires 'bald'. One of them blew out as he drove to a tire store to replace them!

James Booker

Murray Student works as Baptist Missionary

December of 1965, eighteen year old Tishomingo sophomore James Booker, a medical technology major, sent in an application to the Baptist Student Mission Board. One month later James received a letter asking him to appear for an interview. In the interview James was asked to give a character story connected with the church and to tell his reasons for sending in the application.

Around the first of April James received a letter telling him he was accepted as a summer missionary. One month later James was assigned to the Los Angeles area to work under the Baptist Student Association of California. James arrived in San Francisco June 10 for orientation classes. The classes were held specifically to acquaint the missionaries with their duties. During his orientation period James met 100 other missionaries, 36 of whom were assigned to Los Angeles.

June 14 James proceeded to Los Angeles to begin his summer duties.

Murray students have plenty to be thankful for

In the United States and Canada, a day is set aside each year as Thanksgiving Day. On this day people give thanks with feasting and prayer for the blessing they have received during the year. Thanksgiving is usually a family day celebrated with big dinners and joyous reunions.

The first Thanksgiving Day, set aside for prayer as well as celebration, was decreed by Governor Bradford for July 30, 1623. For many years there was no regular Thanksgiving Day in the United States. Some states had a yearly Thanksgiving holiday, others did not. Finally Congress ruled that after 1941 the fourth Thursday of November would be observed as Thanksgiving Day and would be a legal holiday.

Now in 1963 Thanksgiving season is here again. Soon students will be home with parents, friends and relatives celebrating and partaking in many festivities. This year as we go home for Thanksgiving... everyone have fun, see friends, but we also need to pause and thank God for our fighting men in Viet Nam who are protecting us and our country. We should thank God for the privilege to live in such a country as America and for the right to enjoy the many privileges that accompany this privilege.

Mrs. Robbins was ever absent? The mail didn't come in? LET US BE THANKFUL!

During his stay of 10 weeks in California, James worked as superintendent of the junior department in Vacation Bible School for four weeks and as science tutor for two weeks in the Mount Zion Baptist Church of Los Angeles. James also worked for two weeks as principal of Vacation Bible School in Aliso Village, a housing project in the northeastern part of Los Angeles.

James returned August 23 very pleased with his summer after contributing it to helping others. James commented, "I didn't see any rain for 2 1/2 months but it was raining when I left and raining when I returned."

No excuses for good study habits

"Eating while under mental strain is the leading cause of ulcers." That is just a gem of knowledge from a vast oyster bed that I, as a loyal student, thought might help you in your moments of acute depression.

The faculty has solved this problem for us all. By being prompt, speedy, and efficient, our marvelous staff of teaching computers (I refer to them as "computers" because of the lack of sympathy some hold for their students) has turned in all the mid-term grades just in time to be mailed and delivered to your homes before you poor struggling students arrive for what you thought would be a quiet, restful, and enjoyable visit.

For a few it will be a wonderful, pat on the back, Thanksgiving. But for others of us it will be dreadful crying, explaining and possibly a different kind of pat on the back type of holiday.

Being the helpful person I am I will bring to mind a number of, perhaps old, but still quite useable excuses for you to use at will, or should I say at necessity?

I. Never forget, it was always the teacher's fault because:

A. He doesn't like you.

B. Someone had to fail, you were just at the bottom of the list.

C. You're a boy and your teacher likes girls—you're a girl and your teacher likes boys.

II. Everyone failed his course.

A. In that course an F is considered good.

B. He fails every first 9 weeks.

C. He said I really didn't fail, he was just trying to scare me.

III. I'll try harder next 9 weeks!

As you consider the possible excuses and explanations, keep in mind how many dances you have missed so far this semester, and how many nights did you burn the midnight oil? Could this be the explanation?

WHERE IS YOUR SPORTSMANLIKE ATTITUDE?

At a recent ballgame I was amazed at the conduct that many of the spectators displayed during the game.

The spectators jeered everyone including the referees, members of the ball team and the fans of the opposing team. What was so amazing to me was the fact that it was grown men and women and not children who were acting in such a juvenile manner.

I think this is the case so many times, when there is trouble during a game or after it, that it is more often than not the grown-ups who attend the game and not the children or teenagers who are the root of the trouble.

I'm not saying that the teenagers and college students won't get mixed up in the trouble because they will usually finish what someone else has started.

When an outsider, someone who does not attend the school, causes trouble during the game the school and the ball team are the ones that have to suffer. Most of the time you will hear people say about the one who is in the spotlight of the trouble, Oh! he is from a certain school. Naturally when you say that they are from a certain place this puts the emphasis upon the school and finally upon the members of the team. This not only gives the school a bad name where sports are concerned but it also tends to degrade the team.

Do you think that this is fair to make the group suffer the consequences for the actions of a few?

Maybe it isn't always grownups who are the cause of all of the trouble. Sometimes it is teenagers. Nine times out of ten the person who first begins to jeer the referees or the players doesn't even attend the school. He is just an outsider who tries to pretend he is someone big when he attends the ballgame.

I'm not saying that the students of Murray College are above reproach because I know there have been times when the college students have proven themselves to be bad sports.

Football season is over so we can't change our sportsmanlike attitudes for that season, but basketball season is just beginning. Why don't we, as Murray students, prove to everyone that we are the best sports anywhere?

LET US GIVE THANKS—

At this time of Thanksgiving let us stop to look at our many blessings and show our gratitude in our everyday life. We should not wait for one season of the year to appreciate the things we have. Our daily actions should reflect our gratitude to the One who has bestowed upon us so many blessings. What is Thanksgiving? It is thanking God for the gift of life by living it in the manner He would want us to. It is thanking God for our talents and abilities by using them constructively. It is thanking God for those who have helped us by doing things for others. It is thanking God for our opportunities by accepting them as a challenge and doing our best to achieve success. It is thanking God for our happiness by making someone else happy. It is thanking God for inspiration by trying to inspire others. It is thanking God for health and strength by maintaining self-pride. It is thanking God for each new day by living it to its fullest.

 I would like to begin my column this week by repeating something that was told to me: I heard that the manager of the Ramanda Inn in Tulsa sent Coach Canaday a letter complimenting our boys on their gentleman-like conduct while staying at the hotel.

I have always heard that it is great to see your name in print. How about it Jennifer Wiggins?

Millie how much were you worth at the slave sale? You say that you sold for half-price?

In the spirit of the Thanksgiving season Phil Pointer wants to give thanks for two things—GIRLS AND LARRY HERDLICHKA.

Sandy Ridgeway I hear that you are sporting a new piece of jewelry.

Bobbie Jordan I didn't know it meant so much to you to get to go to classes. Some people wait until they are dressed to go down stairs.

Lawana Havens and Sharon Shortes did you ever think that so many people could be stuffed into one little room?

It is really amazing what the girls in a dormitory will do on a Sunday afternoon. Don't you agree Mary Stewart?

Paulette Bates what is it that you want Santa Clause to bring you for Christmas?

Marsha Baxter and Kay Sizemore what is that you say you are?

The thought occurred to me during the Powderpuff Football game Thursday night that the girls play just as rough or rougher than the boys.

Dean Cleveland did you say that you got tackled and you weren't even playing in the game? How did you manage that?

As a member of the Patton Hall Plungers I would like to congratulate all the members of the Poe Hall Francers. You all played a good game.

DEAN LITTLE

THE "WEAKER SEX" getting ready for the big "Powderpuff Game." The girls of Patton and Poe Halls had many tough work-outs before the game. The Poe "Prancers" edged the Patton "Plungers" 14-0.

Poe "Prancers" defeated by Patton Plungers 14-0

Poe Hall "Prancers" met their defeat Thursday night in the annual Powderpuff Football game against the Patton Hall "Plungers" with a final score of 14-0.

The "Plungers" defensive team kept the "Prancers" from getting into scoring position throughout the game. The "Plungers," true to their name, plunged repeatedly through the defensive line of the "Prancers."

Sandy Ridgeway led the "Plungers" to victory with the scoring of two touchdowns in the first half. The "Plungers" converted both times for the extra point.

Neither the Patton Hall team nor the Poe Hall team were able to get into scoring position during the last half of play.

The Poe Hall "Prancers" were coached by Fred Keas and Michael Loudenslager. Jerry Calcote, Cliff Calcote, and Butch Buttre coached the Patton Hall "Plungers."

Alfred McConathy, Joe Maxwell, Don Allen, and Red Goodson acted as cheer leaders for the team from Poe Hall. Cheer leaders for the Patton Hall team were Terry Bryant, Ronald Green, Steve Cleveland, Antoine Treadaway, and Dick Severson. Terry Patty acted as the "Aggie."

Sadie Hawkin's week enjoyed by Murray Students

Sadie Hawkins week began last Monday night with a musical concert presented by the colleg choir. Guest speaker for the night was Virgil Trout, pastor of the Duncan Church of Christ.

A Sadie Hawkin's dance was the highlight of Tuesday. Dogpatch style decorations for the ballroom were furnished by the Home Economics Club. The band featured at the dance was the "Trade Winds" of Davis.

Wednesday was the day the boys seemed to enjoy best. Girls were sold as slaves to the boys at noon and in the evening. All slaves had to work until Friday evening.

Thursday's activities included a powder-puff football game between the Patton and Poe girls. Patton won the game 14-0 over Poe.

Climaxing the week the girls dressed in slacks or shorts to attend classes.

Approximately 50 per cent of the 3,000,000 of the nation's eligible high school students received a course in driver education last year.

FARRIS STRAMBLER moves for long yardage for the Murray Aggies, but Connors defeated the Aggies 28-13.

Connors Stops Aggies in JUCO tilt 28-13

In one of the most highly heated football contests of the year the Aggies of Connors Junior College swept past the Aggies of Murray 28 to 13.

With second place in the conference standing before the winner, both teams fought their hardest, with no score at all in the first quarter.

Showing an impressive running attack, Connor's was the first to strike, scoring on an end run, and a successful point after, and leading 7 to 0 at the half.

In the third quarter both teams tallied twice with Connors doing the honors on another end run and a Warren pass interception before Murray could strike. Murray's first score resulted from a blocked punt by freshman Ronald Pinckard from Follet, Texas, which was recovered in mid-air by captain Dick Severson from Marlin, Texas, and carried across the goal. Jerry Pemberton, freshman from Oklahoma City, added the P.A.T. for Murray's first 7.

Late in the third quarter Murray scored again as quarterback Randy Warren from Ardmore carried up the middle for Murray's second and last score. The extra point failed and Murray ended up with 13 points.

Connor's was the only one to strike in the final quarter as they added the finishing touches on another end run. The final score was Connors 28, Murray 13.

The Aggies finished their 1966 football season with a 3 and 7 season.

Chalk Talk

Aggie footballers elected captains for the 1966 football season. They are Dick Severson, sophomore from Marlin, Texas; Tommy Caskey, sophomore from Wagoner, Oklahoma; Antoine Treadaway, sophomore from Shreveport, Louisiana; and Larry Woods, sophomore from Wynnewood, Oklahoma. All four have done an excellent job this year.

Not to be forgotten are Murray's football managers this season. These boys, Phil Lanford, Allen Roberts, and Sammy Green, have worked extremely hard this year and deserve credit for a job well done.

The Aggie basketballers looked very impressive last Tuesday as they took on East Central's roundball team in their first scrimmage of the season.

Murray's football season ended November 12 as the Aggies fell to Connors. The Aggies finished the season with a 3 and 7 record.

Our football fan club records the poorest football team in history: After 12 full seasons the score against St. Pauls Poly. was 822 to 0. They played 47 consecutive games without scoring a single point!

College classes visit Central State Hospital

Monday, November 14, twenty-five members of the psychology classes traveled to Norman to tour Central State Mental Hospital. The group, accompanied by Mr. Jack Reid, was led by Mr. Shaffer and Mrs. Trillsdale who are clinical psychologists at the hospital.

The students were told of the work being done at the hospital and their questions about the hospital were also answered. The trip was designed to stimulate interest and create a deeper understanding for psychology. According to Mr. Reid, "This trip helped point out the dire need for majors in psychology and psychiatry to help in testing in institutions of this kind."

Members of the group were Tim Williams, Bill Ames, Patsy Willis, Ken McCall, Andrea Shannon, Larry King, Darla Burden, Ronnie Norman, Fred Keas, Jennifer Wiggins, Cynthia Venator, Marsha Calahan, Harry Linam, Willa Smith, Roy Hughes, Kenny Corley, Linda Duke, Roy Carmon, Janice Matthews, Sharon Westover, Phyllis Freeman, and Willa Rastrusan.

DICK SEVERSON, Marlin, Texas sophomore grabs an interception against the Eastern A&M Mountaineers. The Eastern team defeated the Aggies to clinch the top title in the Oklahoma JUCO Conference.

At last count, we had more than 3,800 newspaper editors on our list of subscribers to The Christian Science Monitor. Editors from all over the world.

There is a good reason why these "pros" read the Monitor: the Monitor is the world's only daily international newspaper. Unlike local papers, the Monitor focuses exclusively on world news — the important news.

The Monitor selects the news it considers most significant and reports it, interprets it, analyzes it — in depth. It takes you further into the news than any local paper can.

If this is the kind of paper you would like to be reading, we will send it to you right away at half the regular price of $24.00 a year.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"THEY SAY HE'S PRETTY TOUGH."

Old Saint Nick is on his way to Murray

Fred Keas, Johnny Curry, Judy Parker and Mike Loudenslager help to decorate Christmas tree. The tree which was sponsored by the Student Senate was placed in front of the Administration Building.

On the afternoon of Wednesday, December 8 a strange sight was seen flying over the campus of Murray State College. Being an alert journalism student, I hopped in my car to see where it was going to land. To my amazement it landed at none other than Tishomingo International Airport. As I wheeled in I realized it was . . . You guessed it, dear old Saint Nick! You can't imagine my excitement knowing I was going to get a personal interview with Santa Claus.

He told me he had come to Murray to talk to all the house mothers and the deans to find out who had been good boys and girls. It seems he is having a problem trying to get all the toys that have been requested in his sleigh. During the interview I did find out some interesting news that I knew I had to share with my fellow students.

It seems Dick Diepenbrock's Daddy wrote Santa a special letter and asked him to bring Dick a new '67 Corvette race car. Santa also told me that Ronnie Greene and Duane Freese get new BB guns because their old ones don't shoot straight. He also mentioned Duane wants a Chatty Cathy doll, too. I hear Danny Johnson gets a new butler suit and Tommy Hart gets a new book entitled, "The Golden Book of Sports."

Santa hasn't figured out how Glenda Wilson is going to replace the two inches of hair she lost when asked for it to be trimmed. But he is bringing it Glenda! Les Bower and Fern Perry get brand new chemistry sets. Word has it that Lennie Appel made such a sweet little girl during 'O' Club initiation that he is going to bring him a new Tiny Tears Doll. Ma Gains is going to get her only request; a rest!

Larry Wood and Ken Case are lucky enough to get a pink pool table, and Dick Bills is getting a miniature electric pinball machine. Lavana Havens will receive a giant sized waste paper basket. Debbie Patty has ordered 12 dozen unbreakable zippers, and La Don Ray wants a GTO race car with wire wheels.

It seems Santa was watching the football game between Pos Hall and Patton Hall on his closed-circuit television, and decided the girls on both teams should get new uniforms complete with shiny new helmets. While I was talking to him he dropped the hint that several of our boys had better watch out or they might get G.I. Joe outfits for Christmas. Donnie Davis will finally get the 007 Jr. Super Spy Attache Case she has been wanting, and Kaye Essary and Janelle Roberts are going to get a "Little Miss Tidy" broom to keep their room clean. Mrs. Haynes is going to get an undisturbed long winter's nap.

Well students I know this made you all happy to know Santa hasn't forgotten you. If you didn't find your name on the list (don't feel bad I didn't either) there is still hope. You still have thirteen days in which to be your very best. Just as Santa was climbing back into his sleigh he whispered in his 'ho-ho' voice that he was going to come back to Murray again before we all leave for the holidays to make one final check. So let's all be good because you never can tell who Santa Claus really is in disguise. It might be me!

Murray applies for Federal building grant

The application of Murray State Agricultural College for a grant under Title I, has been carefully reviewed and it will be recommended by the Oklahoma State Commission for a full Federal share in the amount of $241,960, according to Dr. Freeman McKee, President.

This grant will be matched by a state share of $362,940.

If the application is approved by the Federal Government, the total amount of $604,900 will be used for the construction of a new auditorium, additions to the Physical Education facilities and library, and remodeling of the Administration building.

O-Club pledges survive initiation

Murray's O-Club has gone into action for the purpose of initiating all pledges to the O-Club. President Gerald Elias promised, and according to responses from the pledges, has succeeded in incorporating a different and interesting initiation week for all prospective members.

The 24 pledges can be recognized as the "different" group on campus. Being as helpful as possible in the cafeteria has been an interesting change of pace from our general luncheon routine, although some of these gentlemen (?) are wearing their skirts a bit short this season.

True congratulations go out to all for being such good sports as a club as well as a team.

Yes, Freshmen there is a Santa Claus

Freshman, we know you are all grown up, and you are much too old to believe in Santa Claus. You forgot all about Santa back when you were in grade school. You have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age, you don't believe in what you can't see. Well Freshman, there is a Santa Claus. Santa Claus exists as sure as devotion, loyalty, friendship, and love exist. What a dreary world it would be if there were no Santa Claus.

Santa Claus exists in the happiness people find during Christmas vacation. Santa lives when Christmas lights are put up in dorms and students scurry here and there decorating.

The joy each one feels at Christmas just by giving keeps Santa alive. Everyone feels Santa in the spirit of Christmas. Just think of the joy a smaller brother or sister receives from Santa, and you still say there isn't a Santa Claus.

Just because you can't catch Santa coming down the chimney Christmas night or the fact that you didn't hear the sleigh bells or the reindeer doesn't mean there isn't a Santa. Can you see the elves dance on the lawn No, but that doesn't mean they aren't there. Many things are in this universe

Editors Note: The following is a theme written by Shelley Collard for her English 113 class. I think that Shelley is to be commended for her work on this subject. Shelley's paper was chosen as the best out of her class.

Giving is the theme of Christmas. Sometimes, however, we become so involved in giving our material gifts that we forget that "you give but little when you give of your possessions. It is when you give of yourself that you truly give." To love those who are unlovely, to comfort those who are bereaved, to be a friend to those who are lonely, to help those who fall spiritually—this is how we give of ourselves. The material gifts we give are soon forgotten, but when we personally involve ourselves in the lives of others less fortunate than we, we give a gift that never is forgotten.

The supreme gift of all history, the coming of the Messiah, is the reason for Christmas. How fitting then that we, too, should give. As God gave his son for the redemption of our souls, let us give our lives to the enrichment of the lives of others.

Janet Rose Plumley composes winning poetry passage

Janet Rose Plumley, Tishomingo freshman, received a letter this week from National Poetry Press informing her that the passage of poetry entitled "Peace", that she had written was selected by the Board of Judges to be published in the Spring anthology of College Poetry.

The letter also stated that the anthology is a compilation of the best of the thirty thousand poems received, this semester, written by the young men and women of the leading colleges in the country. Congratulations, Janet, for your efforts and achievements.

PEACE
 Peace is the measure of simple things like little children and wedding rings
 Peace is freedom from fear and pain
 Peace is sunshine after rain.

Peace is the calm after furor of war
 Peace is the hurt that hurt no more
 Peace is release from worry and care
 Peace is the knowledge of blessings rare.
 Yes, Peace is the measure of simple things the deepening joy the gospel brings
 Peace is the calm after fervent prayer
 Peace is the knowing that God is there.

WHAT IS THE TRUE MEANING OF CHRISTMAS?

Does anyone today really know and understand the true meaning of Christmas and all that it stands for?

Most people today think of Christmas as a time to throw big parties to impress their friends or employers. The thought behind Christmas never enters their minds. Others think of Christmas only as a time to give and receive gifts, the more expensive the better, you can impress people more with money than by any other means.

Do the people who give these expensive gifts ever stop to think about the reason for giving these gifts? Do they remember that Christmas was set aside to commemorate the birth of Jesus? These gifts are to symbolize the gifts that were given by the Wise Men to the Baby Jesus.

Today what does Christmas mean to the small children? What is the main thought behind every child at Christmas? Do they think of Christmas as the birth of Jesus? I would say that most of the children today think of Christmas as the time of Santa Claus and not the time to worship Jesus. I'm not saying that it is wrong to teach the children that there is a Santa Claus, I am only saying that the child should also be taught the more serious meaning behind Christmas.

As part of my Christmas decorations I always like to include a Bible opened to the Christmas story.

As the Christmas season draws near I like to remember the story of the Littlest Angel. At the birth of Jesus he searched and searched trying to find a gift that would be suitable for the Baby. Finally after having found nothing that was suitable in the eyes of the other angels, he decided to give his most prized possession, a little box containing a few odds and ends that he treasured most. The other angels laughed as he presented the gift but only the Christ child could appreciate the gift because he knew that the Littlest Angel had given all that he could.

This Christmas season why don't we try to follow the example of the Littlest Angel and give without trying to impress anyone? Don't give beyond our means and give something that we think the person would truly like to have.

Above all, this year let's all try to keep the true Christmas spirit—a time that has been set aside to worship Jesus.—E.F.P.

CHRISTMAS SHOULD BE A YEARLY EVENT—

Again it is that wondrous time of the year when we tell again the beautiful story of Christ's coming to earth. A story so grand it never seems to grow old or lose its appeal. The events of that night in Bethlehem have thrilled the hearts of young and old alike for two thousand years now, but we love to hear it again and again as each new Christmas comes along. With all of this telling of the story, I wonder if we have ever learned the things Jesus came to teach?

Have we learned that we can become so concerned with trivials that we overlook the more important things of life? If the people of Bethlehem were too concerned with their own affairs to care for a young pregnant woman who would soon give birth to the Christ, we have little to accuse them with. We're still too busy with ourselves to care much for others. We are still more upset about a scratch on our new car than someone starving to death in India. The club, the school, the car, the boat, the job, all call for so much of our time that there is little left for showing mercy or for being a friend to someone who really needs one.

Another of the things that Jesus tried to teach, that we haven't learned yet, is that love is the strongest force in the world. Is there any among us who really believe that love is stronger than hate, than prejudice, than stockpiles of atomic weapons, than prestige? Most of us say we believe in the power of love to bring peace on earth and goodwill among men, but we exercise ourselves to retain militaristic, financial, or social advantage over our brothers — just in case.

Now the third thing I would like to mention: The world before the coming of Christ had been told over and over by its preachers that He would come to earth, yet when He came none really expected Him. The word of the prophet had long since been interpreted as meaning something else or perhaps just the words of an honest but mistaken man. This could not really ever happen, yet happen it did. Maybe, just maybe I say, we are guilty of taking the same attitude toward Christ's promise to once more visit this earth.

We should indeed keep telling the story of Christmas from year to year. But we should not do so and then ignore all that He came to teach all year long.—C.H.

Murray opens season with Texas win 71-69

By Tommy Hart
The Murray Aggies opened their 1966-67 basketball season with a trek through Texas as they swept the season's opener from Clarendon Jr. College by a score of 71-69. Starting the opener for coach Gene Robbins were Willie Jones, Lionel Williams, Danny Hester, Butch Williams, and Robert Kraft. It was nip and tuck all the way as both teams stayed well in range of each other throughout the contest. At the end of the first half the score stood Murray 39 Clarendon 34.

The second half was virtually a carbon copy of the first as both teams went all out for that first and vital victory. Late in the fourth quarter Clarendon managed to pull even with the Aggies 69-69. Aggie Robert Kraft was fouled in the waning seconds and sunk both free shots to give the Aggies the margin they needed. The final score stood Murray 71 Clarendon 69.

The action of the play took place between September 1916 and June 1917 in the Biddle home in Philadelphia. The Biddle and Duke families, who played important roles in the play, were the ancestors of Angier Biddle Duke, who was Chief of Protocol during the administration of the late President Kennedy, and is presently ambassador to Spain.

Authentic 1917 costumes and stage setting were used for the production.

Marietta, freshman Rick Brannon who played Anthony J. Drexel Biddle. Other members of the Biddle family were Paul Stewart, sophomore from Ardmore, as Livingston Biddle; a freshman from Hugo, Dickie Bills played the part of Tony Biddle; and Lone Grove freshman, Janice Matthews, portrayed the daughter, Cordelia Biddle, along with Tishomingo freshman, Jane Ann Bullard as Aunt Mary Drexel; Cousin Lucy Rittenhouse was played by Patsy Willis a freshman from Ringling.

Myths of our time dimished by Kelly in Pogo Poop Book

Walt Kelly is un masked in his latest book, Pogo Poop Book. In this book Kelly laces gleefully into some of the myths of our times including the Jack Acid Society, Prehysteria, Kluck Klams, Mouse into an Elephant, Computer Commuters, and Whose God is Dead.

The story of Prince Pompadoodle and the pig, in which brownshirts, Blackshirts, no-shirts-at-all, are seen to be each as bad as the other. The true story of the origin of the Jack Acid Society for the Protection of the People.

Prehysteria is a primer which proves that no matter how simple the language, in this age of communication nobody understands the other guy.

In the Kluck Kalms a note of hope is struck when a small Kluck Klam discovers what is underneath his father's hood and sheet.

The Mouse into Elephant evolves on the theory that everyone loves elephants because of their size, some mice—with the help of the size with the elephants. Does being big and tough create love Walt Kelly knows the grim answer.

The Computer-Commuter relates a report on a noble experiment designed to solve two of the major problems of our time. Coleman the Calm invents a machine to travel to the city every day and make a living for him. For a while it works, too.

Sensational developments come about in Whose God is Dead. This is a startling new version of the Chicken Little story, involving many of Pogo's friends and neighbors in the rumor that God is dead.

Walt Kelly says of his book, "There is no need to sally forth, for it remains true that those things which make us human are, curiously enough, always close at hand. Resolve then, that on this very ground, with small flags waving and tiny blasts on tiny trumpets, we shall meet the enemy, and not only may he be ours, he may be us."

The Pogo Poop Book is written in comedy form with comedy characters. Publication date was November 8 and price is $1.50.
