STAN WILSON, instructor in biology, has received a continuation of a grant from the National Science Foundation to study the effects of temperature and day length on the Ovogenetic Cycle of Fundulus kansae, commonly known as the plains kill-fish. Wilson's grant will allow him to continue the research until Oct. 31, 1972.

Stan Wilson Receives NSF Research Grant Extension

Murray State College officially received a research grant from the National Science Foundation Nov. 1, 1970. The grant will be used to continue a research project started last summer by Stanley Wilson, Murray Science instructor.

Wilson's project involves the effect of temperature and day length on the Ovogenetic Cycle of Fundulus kansae, commonly known as the plains kill-fish. The plains kill-fish can be found near Tishomingo in Big Sandy Creek.

Last summer Wilson worked at the University of Oklahoma Biological Station at Willis, Oklahoma.

In his work, eggs were removed from the females and artificially fertilized. Then he placed the fertilized eggs into capped test tubes half filled with lake water, and in turn these were placed into temperature gradient blocks. The gradient block was designed with 42 temperature stations having a gradient of one degree centigrade from one station to the next. The rate of egg development to hatching and yolk starvation was checked to determine the effect of temperature.

Wilson was one of five teachers this summer with projects in a program of Research Participation for College Teachers.

The current research grant is an academic year extension to be used by Wilson in his project through Oct. 31, 1972.

The grant was given after Wilson turned in a report of satisfactory progress on his summer work.

Wilson said, "A scientific publication is at press now about my work from last summer, and this year's work will result in another publication."

The research project will enhance the Science department. It will also give Wilson credit towards a Ph.D. in Ichthyology, which he has begun work on.

Wilson taught at Wapanucka before coming to Murray three years ago.

Decision Not Made On Nurses' Uniforms

The nurses in Murray State's pre-nursing program are not completely decided on the uniforms presented to them by the Uniform Shoppe from Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Winnie Dunham, head of the department of pre-nursing, said, "some of the students are not completely satisfied with the uniforms from the company which also modeled them. Hopefully, we will have at least two more representatives from other uniform companies before choosing the final uniform." She also stated that "the students have already decided on the most two main factors, one is that they will wear the school colors (blue and white), and the other is the wearing of the school's seal on the sleeve of the uniform."

"The students haven't decided on whether they will design their uniform caps themselves or not, but their uniforms will consist of one pant suit and one dress suit," Mrs. Dunham said.

Most of the students have reconsidered the offer from the Uniform Shoppe and have decided to wait to hear from the other uniform companies. After this the students will probably make their final decision. Mrs. Dunham said, "I do not know how long it will be before they choose their uniforms, but it should be in the near future."

Derek West Is Club Speaker

The regular meeting of the International Club was held Monday, Feb. 1, at 7:45, after being postponed from its regular meeting time, the last Thursday of each month.

The club's guest speaker was Derek West, head of the department of art and design, St. Peter's College, Birmingham, England. He is currently serving as an exchange faculty member at Murray. He spoke of his home country and as he put it, "this most peculiar place" of the U.S. of America. There was a very informal exchange of ideas, feelings and concepts between West and the club members present.

Beulah Zimmerman will be the guest speaker at a meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 10. Dr. Zimmerman will show slides of her travels through Hungary and Russia.

Katy Rood, sponsor of the club, and the members said they feel honored to have two such distinguished speakers in a short time.

Marine Visits MSC

A representative for the United States Marine Corps Officer Selection Program visited Murray campus Jan. 22.

The representative, Lt. U. S. "Sam" Grant, set up his display in the Student Union ballroom. During the day he explained the Marine Corps programs of officer training to curious and interested Murray students.

Anyone desiring information about the officer programs may write, United States Marine Corps, Officer Selection Office, American General Building, 621 North Robinson Avenue, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, 73102.

Did you ever notice when someone you know is nominated for high office how you're torn between local pride and fear for the country?

Murray State Pageant Scheduled For March

The Murray Dames will sponsor the Miss Murray State Pageant this year in the latter part of March. The event will be held in the Fletcher auditorium with some 15 participating candidates.

Mrs. Janace Fogleman, pageant director, said "that the contestants must be between the ages of 18 to 26, single and a full time student at Murray to qualify for the pageant. Applications must be in to me by February 15 and a $5.00 fee for each contestant must be paid. I would also like to see those who are planning to compete in the pageant when they bring in their applications into my office."

The Miss Murray State Pageant will have three categories to compete in, swim suit, evening gown and talent. The winner of the pageant will then represent Murray State College in the Miss Oklahoma Pageant in Oklahoma City June 9-10-11-12. The winner will receive an all expense paid trip to the Miss Oklahoma Pageant.

Audio Center Sets Hours

Student technicians are now available in the Audio Center in the library to operate the electronic carrel system at the following hours: Mon., Wed., Thurs. 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., and 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.; Tuesday 3:00 to 5:00 p.m., and 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Morning hours may be set up by arrangement in advance in the library.

More tapes are needed to use for both class work and individual study. Instructors may bring records, reel to reel tapes or other material to be copied on cassette tapes by the student operators.

Individual study or make-up work may be assigned by instructors during the hours the system is open, or during the morning by arrangement. For commuting students an hour in the morning can be arranged upon advance request.

Tapes will be identified orally and on the outside of the box with the catalog number, to be assigned by the librarians.

Students Receive 15c Wage Raise

As of January 11, 1971, Murray student workers are being paid $1.60 per hour, a fifteen cents per hour raise.

Because of budgetary considerations, students may not work over a maximum number of hours except under unusual circumstances. Maximum hours per month are as follows: Cafeteria, 50 hours, full time; Farm Work, 50 hours, full time; Proctors, 50 hours, full time; All other areas, 32 hours, full time; 16 hours, half time.

Before any student can work in excess of the maximum hours, the respective student work supervisor must receive budgetary approval in writing from the Dean of Students.

Fifth 'Civilisation' Film Set for Monday

The fourth film in the "Civilisation" series was entitled "Man - The Measure of All Things." This portion of the series dealt with the 14th century's dramatic emergence in the modern world. It was a period when man felt that through the power of his rediscovered individuality he could accomplish wonders.

The fifth film entitled "The Hero as Artist," will be shown Monday, Feb. 15, at 6 and 7:30 p.m. This portion of the series deals with the high renaissance in Rome under the great humanist Pope, Julius II, Patron of Michelangelo, architect, painter, sculptor, and poet—and of Leonardo daVinci, whose vision looked beyond his period and on into worlds yet to come.

Voting Begins Today For Valentine Queen

Selection of a Valentine Sweetheart, a Student Senate-Aggie Club sponsored Aggie Day, and Student Senate pins are the main projects that the MSC Student Senate is now engaged in.

Preliminary nominations for a Valentine Sweetheart will be held today in the lobby of the Student Union. Candidate choices will be by way of a write-in-vote. Any girl on campus is eligible for nomination. A final vote for the girls receiving the most nominations in the preliminary election will follow, and the queen will be crowned at 11:00 at the Valentine dance to be held on Thursday night.

An Aggie Day is being planned by the Student Senate and the Aggie Club. The purpose of the day will be to promote the Aggie Club on campus. Everyone will be required to dress "western" and anyone failing to do so will be fined or put in "jail" for the day. The date for Aggie Day has not been set.

Student Senate pins have been ordered for all members of the Senate. They are yellow gold and have MSC 1971 embossed on them.

Letters to the Editor

The revitalization of rural America should be one of our top legislative goals in 1972.

Despite some helpful actions by Congress in the past two sessions, the shift in population from rural areas and small towns to big cities is continuing.

Rural areas and small towns are not sharing evenly in the economic growth of this nation. Because of inadequate income and limited opportunities, many rural folks pull up stakes and move to urban centers seeking a better life.

The 1970 census showed that this rural-to-urban trend is continuing in Oklahoma, as well as in most other states.

Through rural water systems, rural electric systems, conservation and resource development programs and grants to improve rural health and education facilities, life in rural America has been made better.

I deeply regret that the administration has forced down expenditures in some of these vital programs and am urging that these decisions be reversed immediately.

Also, I am asking Congress again this year to take what I believe would be a major step toward revitalizing America—the enactment into law of the Rural Job Development Act which would provide tax incentives to businesses and industries locating in low income rural areas.

This act would attract new job-producing industrial and commercial establishments to rural areas so that people might have a chance and a choice to decide for themselves where they will work and live.

More good, private jobs is the one most desperate need in rural areas and small towns. This act, which Senator Jim Pearson of Kansas and I are sponsoring, would answer this need and I am hopeful it will soon be passed into law.

Senator Fred R. Harris

Judging Team Goes to Ft. Worth Contest

The agriculture department made a trip to Ft. Worth, Texas February 6 in an attempt to bring home the top honors of the Ft. Worth Judging Contest.

The judging entries were made in beef cattle, swine, quarterhorse and sheep. Murray was in competition with 21 other college teams from the states of Iowa, Colorado, Mississippi, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Eight colleges made a stop-over Thursday, February 4, at Murray before proceeding to the judging contest. The stop-over was made in order for the judging contestants to have a little more practice before continuing to Ft. Worth. Those colleges making the stop-over were the University of Nebraska, University of Oklahoma, University of Mississippi, Kansas State University, Northeastern A&M, Northeastern Colorado Junior College, Southern State Pueblo College and Panhandle State College. All these colleges were in competition with Murray at the judging contest.

The Murray students that participated as judges for Murray were Kent Barnes, Mike Fagan, Jim Stewart, Charles Dabbar and Dale Nye, Murray's Agriculture instruc-

MSC Hosts Class B Speech Tournament

A total of some 19 schools and 300 students were on the Murray campus Friday, February 5, who participated in the Class B Secondary Schools Activities Association speech tournament.

The annual event was a qualifying tournament for the regional contest of the SSA. The top three students in each of the tournament events were to proceed to regional competition.

The competition categories included were original oratory, standard oratory, after-dinner speaking, interpretation of poetry, dramatic literature and humorous literature, dramatic duet acting, humorous duet acting and debate. Also scheduled was a one-act play festival. Although this was not a qualifying event, a trophy was awarded to the school presenting the best play.

Individual first-place winners received a trophy in addition to the right to compete on the regional level and a sweepstakes trophy was awarded to the school with the largest amount of points.

Co-directors of the event were Fred Poe, chairman of the language arts department at Murray, and Janace Fogleman, Murray speech instructor.

High schools that participated in the contest were Bokchito, Drumright, Lindsay, Marietta, Stratford, Holdenville, Stonewall, Broken Bow, Waurika, McLish, Byng, Healdton, Sulphur, Plainview, Wilburton, Thackerville, Chandler, Madill and Hartshorne.

Marietta walked off with the sweepstakes trophy after receiving most of the points of all the schools that competed. Marietta also won the first place trophy in both one-act play and debate categories. Many of the first place individual categories were also won by the school. Marietta acquired close to 150 points to win the sweepstakes trophy.

Two other schools, Wewoka and Sulphur won second and third places in the debate category.

MEMBERS OF THE MSC LANGUAGE ARTS DEPARTMENT show one of the trophies which were awarded last Friday at the annual speech tournament held on the Murray Campus. The event is sponsored by the Secondary Schools Activities

B. A.'s Notable Notes

By B. A. Lindgren
The flu bug seems to be going around striking a lot of Murray students like so many pins in a bowling alley. If you get the bug, get plenty of rest and aspirins, and for heaven-sakes, don't give it to me.

I already feel like I've run into a brick wall and might trip down a flight of stairs. If the latter should ever happen, you all are invited to my funeral. Send no flowers 'cause they make me sneeze, just give to your favorite charity.

On the other hand I think I'll just grip the railing and not take any chances. Seeing the Murray Aggies win those basketball games was one thing worth being alive for.

After the game with Eastern, Teddy Williams could be seen swishing a towel around in victorious glee. Someone in the cheering section sent up a small cloud of confetti.

If you've ever wanted to see a game with a little more hurrying toward the goal, the game with St. Gregory was the game to see. It was like they were running a non-stop lap. A man with a head-set unit was relaying the action to the KGFF radio station in Shawnee.

By the way, Teresa Wilson raced back from Durant the other night. Joe David Ferris' bobcat might have been after her. It wasn't Teresa barely made it to the dorm by 10:30, only to find out that the curfew wasn't until 11:30 that night.

I heard Diana Biard say Joe Ferris had his cat up for sale. In case anyone's interested.

Connie Bagley all but lost her voice after a recent basketball game, when she tried to talk all that would come out was a squeaky whisper. Connie whispered to friend Marilyn Lowrance that she had a speech to give in a couple days. She recovered considerably before the time and gave her speech over "The Common Cold."

A man participating in the police school two weeks ago said that the policemen were kept til late each night during the two and a half day session. The session counted for 20 credit hours.

The man commented that the session wasn't so bad except when you got to be his age and had to go back to school.

Organization of Faculty Gets OK

Plans are underway currently for the formation of a Murray State College faculty organization. The idea to create such an organization received approval at the monthly faculty meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 2.

Gerald Alloway, chairman of the mathematics department, was named temporary chairman of the organization and a six-member committee was elected to begin drafting a constitution and by-laws. The committee consists of John Edwards, social science; Wayne Day, mathematics; Vernon Hurst, science; Rex Morrell, social science; Dennis Toews, music; and Hugh Campbell, journalism.

PTK Holds Meeting

Several Phi Theta Kappa sophomore members and sponsors attended a luncheon Jan. 19. After going through the cafeteria line, the group occupied the small dining room at the end of the cafeteria.

The main purpose of the luncheon was to discuss the initiation of new members. Leon Ward, sponsor, enlisted the help of members to send out membership invitations to prospects.

Also, suggestions were made about probable places for a banquet later this semester. Several persons volunteered to find out the prices of those places.

JACKIE ORR, a Murray State College freshman, is a contestant in the 1971 Miss Ardmore Pageant. The winner of the beauty contest will then compete in the Miss Oklahoma Pageant. Miss Orr is a music major from Mill Creek and a 1970 graduate of Tishomingo High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. (Jack) Orr of Route 1, Tishomingo, Oklahoma.

Upward Bound Students on Campus

Eighty Upward Bound students from Oklahoma Baptist University visited the Murray campus Sat., Jan. 23.

The group arrived by bus about 11 a.m. They were greeted in the Student Union ballroom by Don Martin, dean of students, and several faculty members.

Martin and the faculty members told the students about the programs of study and opportunities that could be offered to them at Murray.

Connie Bagley, a Murray sophomore, gave a "pop talk" to the students on Murray's behalf. She has participated in the Upward Bound program for the past few summers.

After lunch in the cafeteria, the group was given a tour of the college.

Upward Bound is a summer program primarily aimed at high school students whose families are in the lower income bracket. New recruits join the program for the summers before their junior or senior year in high school.

Ags Down Eastern 62-59 Take Conference Lead

By Eddie Garrett
There were many doubts—much reservation—and a lot of "they won't do it."

But they did do it. "They" are the Murray State Aggies and "what" they did was to down Eastern State College, 62-59, in what many considered the most important conference game of the season.

The MSC roundballers went into the game with a 1-0 conference record, defeating Northern Jan. 21, in another close battle. The Mountaineers of Eastern brought a 2-0 record for the conference season.

Murray surged ahead in the opening minutes of the battle and at one time had an eight-point lead. Eastern tied and again Murray walked away. To make a long story short, it was like a seesaw, back and forth and up and down.

At half-time Murray led, 32-28. The Mountaineers rallied in the opening minutes of the second half. They jumped to a one-point lead but couldn't hold it. The Aggies, with a well-balanced attack, took over the lead.

In the second half, the Aggies seemed to do many things right and at one time had jumped to a 13-point lead over the Mountaineers.

Then came one of the most spirited rallies many fans will ever see in a basketball game. When the rally had died out, Eastern had come within one point of the MSC roundballers.

Playing a tight zone defense in the first half, Eastern switched to a man on man that baffled the Aggies at first.

Quickly becoming un baffled, the Aggies switched their offense and the game was back to its usual form.

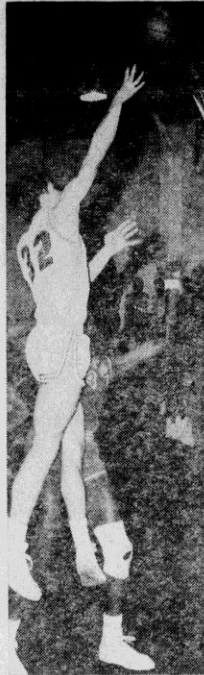

Like many games before, fouls seemed to follow Murray all through this one. They took 20 penalties to Eastern's 14.

Lynn Hofacket took high-point honors with 23. Ozzie Edwards and Charles Manson of Eastern hit 21 and 19, respectively, to come in second and third.

Murray vs. Eastern

Murray: Hofacket 28; Tucker 13; Beard 10; Carter 5; Peterson 4; Williams 2.

Eastern: Edwards 21; Manson 19; Lawrence 6; Page 6; Hudson 4; Duke 3.

When another person departs from the truth, it's a lie; when we do, it's imagination.

LYNN HOFACKET goes up for two points during the recent conference game against Eastern, which the Aggies won 62-59, putting them in sole possession of the conference lead. Eastern had been picked as the pre-season favorite for the championship.

The faults of others are like headlights of an approaching automobile—they only seem more glaring than your own.

Only Seven Left For Track

"This is the smallest squad I've ever had at Murray," Coach Nelson commented.

Four of the seven are returnees from last year: Belcher, Booker, Weimar and Yates.

"We lost some boys that we had last year to other schools," Nelson said.

Nelson also said that he lost three members at midterm to other schools.

Murray's track team has been working out since the fall term began.

Nelson's team completed in probably the only indoor meet of the year for Murray on Jan. 30, in Oklahoma City.

Four Murray members competed in the Oklahoma City Jaycee Invitational: Solomon Lusby placed second in the 60-Yard Dash; Dewitt Belcher qualified for the finals in the 60-Yard Dash but did not place. Greg Weimar competed in the 300-Yard-Dash but did not qualify for the finals. The MSC tracksters ran in the Eight-Lap Relay but did not qualify.

"One thing that hurt us at Oklahoma City was the fact that there were boys competing against us that we had last year at Murray," Nelson replied.

Commenting on the conference which includes Eastern, Northern, Connors and, of course, Murray, Nelson said that Eastern would be the toughest this year.

"Northeastern will be our roughest opponent in the Regionals," Nelson said.

The next track meet for Murray will be in March according to Nelson.

"We won't have to worry about any broken records this year," Nelson said.

Aggs Down St. Gregory's

Playing a game — that was flashy, quick and enjoyable to Murray fans — against St. Gregory on Jan. 28, the Murray Aggies upped their season record. Many people said that they looked like the old team that won its first five games of the 1970-71 season.

The opening minutes of the contest looked like a runaway at first—for St. Gregory. With 17:41 showing on the clock, St. Gregory had fought out a 9-3 lead over the Aggies.

Coach Wayne Cobb of Murray called two time outs within the first four minutes of the battle. No one really knows what he said, but they could guess. His words did do something to aid the Aggies because at 14:30 the MSC roundballers took the lead, 11-10. From then on, Murray gradually built up their lead.

SOULS AND B.S.U. INTRAMURAL CHAMPS

Brown Souls took the Intramural Basketball Championship away from the Dribbling Drops Thursday night when they swept past them 61-40.

The B.S.U. girls maintained an unbeaten record during the playoffs to capture the championship title for the girls. B.S.U. met the Lightning Diggers in the finals and whitened past them 33-27.

With 2:27 left in the first half, Murray held a five-point lead over St. Gregory, 35-30. But the Shawnee based team showed just what they were made of. With 1:45 left, they tied up the battle, 35 all.

Due to fouls and fumbles, Murray was able to break open with a three-point lead, 40-37, at half time.

The opening minutes of the second half proved to be just like the first one—a tug-of-war. Then due to some more fumbles, a few fast breaks and some mighty hard playing, the Aggies of MSC started leaving their opponents behind.

With 8:35 left, Murray held an 11-point lead, 68-57, over St. Gregory.

Braving a comeback late in the second half by St. Gregory, the Aggies finished the game with an 84-76 win.

VOLUME FORTY TWO

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1971

NUMBER TEN

Nursing Receives Boost

The State Board of Nurse Registration and Nursing Education has given its approval for Murray State College to proceed with plans for developing its Associate Degree in Nursing.

According to Mrs. Winnie Dunham, director of nursing at Murray, this approval will allow Murray to actually begin nursing courses this fall.

"After we have graduated our first class in the spring of 1973," she said, "we will be able to apply for full accreditation by the State Board. The final step in the program will be accreditation by the National League for Nursing." This step will be taken after final approval by the State Board.

Mrs. Dunham feels the program at Murray is already a proven success. "We have a total of 51 students enrolled in the program this semester, even though they are having to take general education courses. It will be next fall before the actual nursing courses can be initiated."

In addition to the current group of students, Mrs. Dunham said there are approximately 40 on a waiting list. "We simply have more applications than we can possibly handle," she noted. "We are very limited in facilities at the present time, but hopefully, federal and state grants will help us expand the program. We should be able to accommodate 75 students by 1975 and 90 to 100 by 1980."

Mrs. Dunham cites the area need for Registered nurses as a factor in the popularity of the new program. "There are no other facilities for educating R. N.s in Oklahoma within a 100-mile radius and because of this, the area is suffering a severe shortage of these people."

Studies by the Surgeon General's study teams indicate a need for 400 R. N.s for every 100,000 people during the 1970's. A study by the Oklahoma State Board of Nursing shows the state has only 210 R. N.s per 100,000 people.

In the ten southern Oklahoma counties from which Murray draws 75 per cent of its students, there are only 107 R. N.s per 100,000 people.

When the program gets fully underway in September of this year, it will take two years of training to prepare students for the State Board of Nurses' Examination. Successful completion of the exam will qualify the students as Registered Nurses.

"Only the first semester students will use the college laboratories for practical experience," Mrs. Dunham said. "The remaining experience will be gained in local hospitals and other health facilities."

"Due to the shortage of nurses in this area," she continued, "the students who complete our program will be valuable assets if they pass the exam and go directly to work."

However, the Murray program

Dunn Gets Crown

Kathy Dunn, a first semester freshman, was crowned Campus Valentine Sweetheart, Feb. 15, during the Valentine Dance in the Student Union Ballroom. The affair sponsored by the Student Senate was held from 9:30 to 12:00 p.m. after the home basketball game with Northern.

The five sweetheart candidates were presented in coronation exercises at 11 p.m.

Kenneth Meeler, Student Senate sponsor, introduced the Senate officers of 1970-71. He told students to be thinking of candidates for the Student Senate elections to be held in April.

Miss Dunn, attired in a hot pink pants suit was crowned by Student Senate President, Chris Boiles. Boiles gave Miss Dunn the traditional sweetheart kiss and first dance to the tune of "I don't wanta leave her now."

Miss Dunn, a 1970 graduate of Milburn High School, is a secretarial administration major. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Imotichey.

Students voted on the five candidates Feb. 11. The five girls were the finalists of the Feb. 9 general election.

The Sound Experience from Shawnee provided the heavy rock music for the occasion.

Regents OK Basketball

STILLWATER, Okla. (SpI) — The Board of Regents for Oklahoma A&M Colleges has authorized Murray State College in Tishomingo to inaugurate girls' basketball during the 1971-72 season.

This action came at the Board's regular monthly meeting Friday, Feb. 5.

Murray discontinued football as an intercollegiate activity at the end of the 1966-67 season and, according to Murray President, Dr. Clyde Kindell, the college has since been seeking to fill the void with other spectator sports which appeal to both students and area residents.

Kindell reported that a recent poll of Murray students indicated an overwhelming majority were in favor of girls' basketball. A separate faculty poll also showed majority support of the idea.

Kindell noted that recruitment of players for the new sport will be from southern Oklahoma, primarily the ten-county region from which Murray draws three-quarters of its students.

In other action, the Board also approved the establishment of track and field on an intramural basis at the beginning of the 1971-72 season. Lack of track facilities, the small number of other colleges in the area participating, lack of spectator interest and limited finances were given as the primary reasons for this action.

Judging Team Places Third at Fort Worth

The judging team from the agriculture department may not have come back home from Ft. Worth with all the honors, but they came back with a few of them.

In competition with 23 other colleges, Murray managed to grasp the third place honor in all competing teams. They also won second place in High Individual Sheep Judging, fourth in High Individual Swine Judging and fifth in High Individual Cattle Judging. The individual honors were won by three individuals of the judging team.

Dale Nigh, freshman from Lindsay, Oklahoma, was the fourth place Swine Judging for their team. As a team, they won fifth in cattle judging and fourth in swine judging. Kent Barnes, another freshman, from Perkins, Ok-

B.S.U. Hosts Banquet

The Baptist Student Union held a Valentine Sweetheart Banquet Feb. 11 at the First Baptist Church in Tishomingo.

The formal affair began at seven o'clock. The menu of ham, baked potatoes, salad and cherry pie was prepared and served by members of the First Church.

Jerry Tacket acted as master of ceremonies for the program of entertainment which went along with the theme of the banquet, "Love is Surrender."

Ted Maas, director of the BSU, presented trophies to the winners of last semester's ping-pong tournament. The winners were Ferial Faramarzi, Mansour Alizadeh, Mansour Vazirzadeh and Hasan Ardalan.

The three sweetheart candidates, Sandy Trammell, Debbie Shook and Janet Mills were given white mums trimmed in red. Maas said he had the pleasure of crowning Debbie Shook Valentine Sweetheart. Each of the candidates was also given a necklace with a BSU inscription.

A group of six high school and college students from Edmond, who called themselves the Leftover Clay from the group of God's Young Creation, provided entertainment with skits, stories and songs.

The guest speaker, Paul Roach, a student at Central State College in Edmond and a ordained minister, presented a message of love and ultimatum to his audience.

Roach and the Leftover Clay are part of a crusade team which will be on Murray campus during the week of the campus erudite, March 29-April 2. The crusade, to be held in Fletcher Auditorium, will be led by Buster Reeves, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Rush Springs. Other guests expected are Captain Steve Harris, member of the Pueblo crew, and Christian athletes.

Two men were commenting on a friend's bad luck at the horse races. "Funny," said one, "how lucky Harry is at cards and how unlucky at the track." "Nothing funny about it," replied the other, "They won't let him shuffle the horses."

laboma, won the fourth place in individual cattle judging. Jim Stewart, a sophomore from Marlow, Oklahoma, was another individual judge in the meet. Mike Fagan, from Perkins, and Charles Dunbar, from Marlow, Oklahoma, were alternates during the competition.

Mr. Fogleman, advisor of the agriculture department, said "the team didn't do as well as I expected them to, but I know they'll do better when we go to our next meet, scheduled for March 5, in the Astrodome in Houston, Texas."

"The contest in Houston will be judging horses, sheep, cattle and swine. We'll be competing with more colleges than we were in Ft. Worth. They expect from 25 to 26 teams to participate in the meet."

Notable Notes

By B. A. Lindgren
The last few days have been just like summer. Folks are beginning to pull their shorts and short sleeve blouses out of mothballs. The girls that is. In a couple of days it'll probably be cold again and make them glad for a pair of long jeans.

Everyone seems to be more awake, alive, mischievous, daring and full of energy when it's warm. Emma Jones was riding around on a tall boy's shoulders a few days ago, when he offered her passage through the student union door. She quickly refused after anticipating the shortness of the door and the hardness of the ground below.

Do you know how to spell Potawatomie? Apparently two out of the three honor roll students from Pott county don't, and I'm one of those two. I still don't know how unless I look it up on Janice Hill's file card. She has it all spelled out so she can probably teach Glenn Richards how to spell it too.

Hugh Campbell, news release director, made out one release to Pott county and another to Potawatomie county before finding out that it was one and all the same county. Glenn and B. A. thought everybody knew that!

Surrounding the blushing BSU sweetheart, Debbie Shook, six Edmond lads serenaded her with a hillbilly love call. Something about Kentucky goosebumps.

Taking pictures of people can be amusing to hear sometimes. The conversation of a photographer might run something like this: "Turn your knees a little that way. No, the other way. Come back a little. Yes, your shoulder looks fine. Smile. Oh, you don't wanta smile. You're doing a pretty good job of it. Now look at my hand. Click! Why did you let your head down? I let my hand down. Oh-Ka, we'll try it again. I'll hold my hand up this time. Click! Goodby."

The sixth in the series of civilization films was shown Monday, February 22.

"Protest and Communication" was the sixth in the series of thirteen films that was shown. This film told of a troubled world of Protestantism and the division of Christianity. It also told of the invention of printing, a series of religious wars and of the humane spirits of Erasmus and Sir Thomas Moore.

In this film Lord Clark discussed the revolutionary changes in music and art forms.

The next in the series of films to be shown is entitled "Grandeur and Obedience," and will be shown Monday, March 1, in the Audio Visual Room of the Library Science Building.

Intramural Volleys Play Three Games

The intramural volleyball competition got underway last Tuesday, February 17 with three games that were played that night.

Seven boys' teams and three girls' teams are participating in this semester volleyball intramurals. Last Tuesday, the Petticoat Bouncers lost to the No Name girls' team. The two teams competed for the best two out of three. The No Names won the first with a 9-6 score. Petticoat Bouncers took the second game 12-5. The No Names downed their opponent in the third game with a 14-3 victory.

Two boys' teams competed also that same night with the winners being the Pars (Iran boys' team) and the Brown Souls. The Pars took on the Ball Bouncers, winning the second and third games with scores of 12-6 and 11-5. The Ball Bouncers took the first game by a score of 12-3. The Brown Souls had no trouble what-so-ever in claiming their win by taking the first two games with winning scores. The Souls defeated the Hillbillies by the scores of 8-6 and 6-3.

The next games are scheduled for tonight with the No Names taking on the B.S.U. girls. The next game will be the boys Mashers vs. the Billygoats, and followed by the Hillbillies-Ball Banger game.

After tonight the next games will be scheduled for February 25, with the Petticoat Bouncers playing the losers of the No Name-B.S.U. game that is played Tuesday night. The B.S.U. boys will compete with the winner of the Billygoat-Masher game. The last game to be played that night will be the Brown Souls-Pars game, which should really be quite a game.

Engineering Club Schedules Affair For Mar. Fourth

The Engineering and Technology Club, in its last meeting, went over all its rough spots before giving its annual club banquet scheduled for March 4th. The club also decided to make plans for a field trip to Texas in April.

Mr. Ross, one of the club sponsors, said that "the banquet will be held in the ballroom on Murray's campus. The chosen guest speaker for the occasion is Berry Ballard, who holds the title of Assistant State Director of Technology and Education in Stillwater, Oklahoma."

Mr. Ross also reminded that the banquet will be for only those who have their dues paid up.

Besides the banquet, the club decided to plan a trip to the LTV plant located at Irving, Texas. The plant manufactures aircraft parts for airplanes.

The club scheduled the field trip for April 13th. Mr. Ross announced that "the trip is not final as of yet, it's still in the planning stage but we expect to have around 25 to 26 club members making the trip if we do make it."

Fourteen Murrayites Make 'Who's Who'

Fourteen Murray State students have been nominated for Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges, according to Kenneth Meeler.

Out of the eligible sophomores with a 2.5 grade average, the 14 nominated by the faculty are Debbie Bennett, Katherine Elaine Biggs, James Randall Christian, Mary Elizabeth Clark, Ina June Daniels, Jerry Wayne Ellington, Edwin Burton Garrett, Barbara Ann Lindgren, Doyle Thomas Mosier, Linda Sue Osborn, Michael Stephen Phipps, Monica Reed Smith, Belinda Kay Talley and Bernie B. Wyatt.

The main purpose of the Who's Who listings is to provide a democratic, national basis for the recognition of outstanding campus leaders. These listings, gathered from over 500 schools in all 50 states and the District of Columbia, are published annually in a directory form.

The national organization advises nominating committees to select students whose academic standing, service to the community, leadership in extra-curricular activities and future potential are decidedly above average.

The 14 Murray students nominated by the faculty for the 1971 listing are:

Debbie Bennett is a 1969 graduate of Marietta High School. A science major, she holds membership in Phi Theta Kappa Honor Fraternity as well as being vice president of the Student Senate and reporter of McKee Hall.

The president of the Home Economics Club, Katherine Elaine Biggs, is also a Home Economics major. She graduated from Vanoss High School in 1969 and is also a member of the Outing Club, Phi Theta Kappa and was 1970 editor of the Tribesman.

James Randall Christian came from Lampasas, Texas, and made the President's Honor Roll and the baseball squad during his first year at Murray. The math major also claims membership in Phi Theta Kappa.

As a physical education major, Mary Elizabeth Clark, holds membership in a national physical education club for phys. ed. majors. The Ardmore commuter is a '59 graduate of Hugo High School.

Ina June Daniels, a general education major, is an example of a married woman who has added the title of "college student" to the task of being a wife and mother. The Tishomingo resident plans to transfer to South-eastern.

Jerry Wayne Ellington, an engineering major, is Student Senate Representative for the Engineering and Technology Club. The 1969 graduate of Paden High School is also a member of Phi Theta Kappa.

Catching every play of the game and recording them for posterity, Edwin Burton Garrett, has served on the Aggie staff for the past two years dealing mostly with sports. He is also Phi Theta Kappa Reporter and Student Senate Representative for the Dramatics Club.

Barbara Ann Lindgren, a combination journalism-math major, is serving as second semester editor of the Aggie. The 1969 graduate of Bethel High School is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and an ex-officio member of the Student Senate.

Doyle Thomas Mosier is a biology major and a 1969 graduate of Dale High School. He holds membership in the Outing Club and serves as president for the Science Club.

Linda Sue Osborn plans to transfer to Panhandle State College after graduation from Murray. The 1969 graduate of Vanoss High School is an honor roll student and a member of Phi Theta Kappa.

Pounding the gavel is Michael Stephen Phipps specialty as president of the Phi Theta Kappa. The Aggie Club and Phi Beta Lambda are other claims of membership for the 1969 Springer graduate.

Monica Reed Smith was elected to the office of secretary for Phi Theta Kappa. The general education major graduated from Marietta High School in 1969 and was a member of the Entertainers last year.

Belinda Kay Talley plans to continue her elementary education major at Oklahoma University. The Marietta graduate serves as secretary of the Afro-American Club and is a member of the Social Science Club.

As a pre-dentistry major, Bernie B. Wyatt, is one of Murray's many commuting students. The Phi Theta Kappa member and graduate of Tishomingo High plans to transfer to Oklahoma University.

Aggies Lose Title To Eastern Rival

It was a toss-up—the winner would take the Oklahoma Junior College Conference championship home with them.

The roundballers of MSC traveled to Wilburton to battle the Mountaineers of Eastern, Feb. 17, and were bombed 76-63.

From the very start, the contest proved to be a rough one for Murray.

With only 2:53 gone in the first half, Coach Wayne Cobb had called time out twice. Eastern was on top, 6-0.

Murray narrowed the lead to within three points, 12-9, with 13:26 left. But Eastern crept back to a five-point lead margin with 9:51 left.

The courtmen from Murray managed to tie the game, 23 all with 7:59 left. But that was the closest to winning they ever got that night.

Eastern led, 37-32, at half time.

Ball control and a zone defense that was spread out but tight were major aids for the Eastern ball club.

The second half game was much the same as the first except for a tighter defense by the Mountaineers.

With 16:10 left, the Mountaineers held a 45-35 lead.

Eastern began to creep away after that. From then on, it was just a matter of time.

The bigger Eastern club took more rebounds off the board. Despite the efforts of Marion Peterson, Eastern's six-foot, six-inch, Ozie Edwards seemed to put the ball in the bucket with ease. Edwards chalked up 26 points for the night.

But high-point-man honors went to Murray's Lynn Hofacket. Hofacket swished 32 points during the game.

From 12:28 on, the Mountaineers continued to build up their comfortable lead. Eastern held a 12-point, then a 14-point and finally a 16-point lead before Murray's roundballers managed to close the gap. But it was too late.

Eastern and Murray will travel to the Regional Tournament in Tulsa the first week of March.

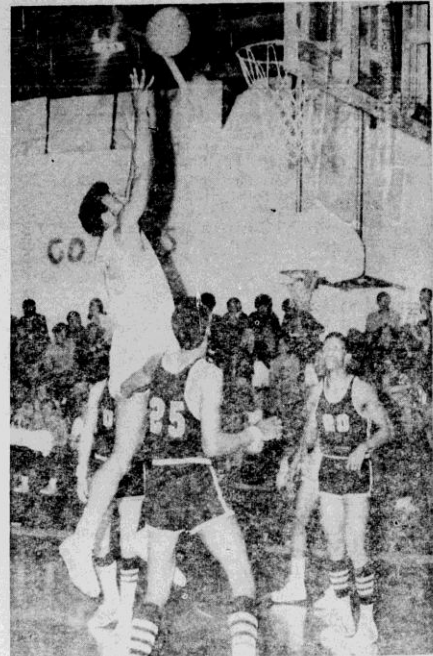

Placings in the OJCC are (1) Eastern, (2) Murray, (3) Northern and (4) Connors.

Murray vs. Eastern

Murray	32	31	63
Eastern	37	39	76

Murray: Hofacket 32, Peterson 15, Payne 7, Beard 5, Williams 5.

Eastern: Edwards 26, Manson 20, Page 18, Duke 10, Hudson 2.

MURRAY'S MARION PETERSON (35) goes up for two during the MSC-Connors tilt recently. Peterson led the Aggies to a 94-79 victory and set a new individual high point total for the season, grabbing off 46 points against the ill-fated Connors team.

Murray vs. Connors

Connors	36	43	79
Murray	43	51	94

Connors: Palmer 35, Walker 14, Holiday 11, Pickens 8, Williams 7, Nelson 2, France 2.
Murray: Peterson 46, Hofacket 18, Beard 12, Williams 10, Tucker 8.

There is no indigestion worse than that which comes from having to eat your own words.

Aggies Down Connors By Fifteen Points

Murray State's Marion Peterson sunk 46 points to lead the MSC Aggies to a 94-79 win over Connors State, Thursday night, Feb. 11.

The game, played at Tishomingo, was the fourth straight conference game win for the Murray roundballers.

From the very first, Peterson led the MSC team, sinking the first three buckets for Murray.

With 17:06 left in the first half and Murray on top by one point, 6-5, Connors called the first time out. Three minutes later, Connors tied the game, nine all.

It was Murray's time to call time next, with Connors on top, 16-14. When play resumed, a contest evolved that went on for six and one-half minutes. Neither team gained a comfortable lead.

At 1:59, Murray stopped the clock with another time out. The score at this time was 35-33, Murray.

By the end of the first half, Murray had managed to chisel out a seven-point lead, 43-36.

With 2:53 gone in the second half, the Aggies of Connors had narrowed MSC's lead to three points, 45-42. Coach Wayne Cobb called another time out for Murray at this time.

His words must have been words of wisdom. With 11:55 left, it was Connors' time to stop the clock. The Murray roundballers, meanwhile, had jumped to a 13-point lead, 61-48.

At 10:14, Murray called its last time out with the score 65-51, Murray on top.

For the first time in many games, the MSC courtmen took advantage of fast breaks. A tight defense helped the Connors' team from making a attack, although both teams scored more points in the second half, 51-43, Murray.

Peterson hit 18 points the first half and 28 the second for his total of 46. Booker Palmer swished 35 for Connors.

Murray chalked up 18 team fouls while Connors fouled 19 times.

International Club Hosts Speaker

Dr. Beulah Zimmerman, head of the MSC science department, was guest speaker at the last meeting of the International Club, which was held on Tuesday, February 9. Dr. Zimmerman showed slides taken during her summer tour of Russia and Germany.

"It was fascinating," states Janice Hill, a club member. "The pictures were wonderful, but her comments made them more so.

She added little personal bits about each picture — something that had happened there, or what she felt about a particular slide — which made it much more interesting to us. It gave the audience a better insight as to the background of each picture."

The club hopes to have more speakers to share experiences they have had similar to Dr. Zimmerman's.

NUMBER ELEVEN

Faculty and Students Say, "We Love You Ma"

Tuesday, March second, started out a miserable sort of day, as far as the weather goes, with the wind blowing and the sleet and snow making travel around campus difficult. Although it started out rather bleak, the day didn't remain that way, at least where housemother Audrey "Ma" Gaines was concerned. The day was her seventy-first birthday, and in the afternoon she was surprised with a birthday party given to her by the Murray faculty, staff and administration, and attended by the many friends of Ma Gaines.

Ma was further surprised by unexpected long distance telephone calls from Wayne Cataday and Ray Cleveland, both former deans of Murray State and good friends of Ma Gaines.

The party began at two o'clock in the teachers' lounge and lasted until four o'clock. The party-makers consumed the major portion of four birthday cakes baked especially for the occasion. One of the highlights of the party was when Ma Gaines was asked to sing a song, which she did to the enjoyment of all. It was estimated that some 200 people attended the birthday party.

Ma Gaines, as everyone calls her, was born in the year 1899 in the small city of Berwyn, Oklahoma. This city has since then been renamed for the movie star Gene Autry. When she was seventeen years old she and her family moved to Ardmore where her father, W. W. "Uncle Gus" Gaines, held the position of special investigator on the Ardmore Police department. Her father gained quite a reputation because of his great ability for finding and destroying liquor stills and bootleg whiskey. This was during the first years of the prohibition era in Oklahoma. About that time Ardmore was earning its nickname of "Little Chicago."

Later on in her history Ma Gaines worked in Tallahas, Texas, where she held the position of supervising nurse for the night shift. Later on she held this same position in the hospital in Prentiss, Texas.

Ma then moved back to Oklahoma where she worked for eight years as a nurse for the late Dr. John Herd of Tishomingo. She held this position prior to his death in 1961.

In that year Ma came to Murray State to become housemother at Fulton Hall. She relinquished this position after one semester and went to Haskell Lucas Hall where she has been a source of constant help to the bulk of Murray's men students during the entirety of those ten years.

MA GAINES gets best wishes from Martha Giddens and Debbie Dullor.

Eleven Will Vie For Murray Title

Eleven Murray lasses will compete for the title of "Miss Murray State College" March 25 in Fletcher Auditorium. John Edwards will act as master of ceremonies for the talent, bathing suit and evening gown competition beginning at 8:00 p.m.

The eleven contestants, sponsored by campus organizations and the Tishomingo Chamber of Commerce, are Kathy Dunn, Milburn, secretarial administration major; Tonya Underwood, Marietta, sociology major; Taujuana Tallafiero, Waurika, general education major; Peggy Kennedy, Noble, physical education major; Jackie Orr, Tishomingo, music major; Diana Woods, Oklahoma City, music major; Shirley Ned, Stoa-wall, music major; Faye Jones, Tupelo, business education major; Karen Biggs, Vanoss, home economics major; Emma Jones, Rosedale, general education major; Martha Giddens, Ardmore, music major.

Mrs. Janice Fogleman, president of the Murray Dames, is the pageant director of the Murray (Continued on Page 3)

Tribesman Sale Starts

The 1971 Tribesman staff will start a yearbook selling campaign today in the student union.

Yearbook Editor Lewis Jenkins states that the deadline for buying a yearbook will be no later than March 14, as the number of books sold will have to be given to the company at that time.

In describing the 1971 Tribesman, Jenkins says that it will again contain 160 pages. Eight of those pages will be in color, compared with two color pages last year.

Anyone wishing to purchase an annual should go by the yearbook booth in the student union. The booth will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. If later than two o'clock the person should see someone on the yearbook staff.

The price for the annual is $7.50. It has been arranged with business manager Bryan Kinney where a student can place the cost on his account in the business office if he wishes to do so. REMEMBER THAT THE DEAD-LINE FOR BUYING A 1971 TRIBESMAN IS MARCH 14.

Edwards Elected Chairman of the Faculty Organ.

John Edwards, social science instructor, was elected chairman of the newly-formed Murray State College Faculty Fraternity at the group's first meeting Tuesday, March 2.

Nolan Arthur, agriculture instructor, was named vice-chairman and Katy Rood, language arts, will be secretary-treasurer.

Elected to the group's board of governors were Dennis Toews, music, and Hugh Campbell, journalism, for two-year terms. Gary Brown of engineering and Jim Schamberhorn of science were named to the board of governors for one-year terms.

History buffs mine attic for old records

A wealth of historic material was unearthed Tuesday when records dating back to Indian Territory days were removed from the dusty attic of the Johnston County Courthouse, the one-time capital of the Chickasaw Indian Nation.

Numerous legal books and thousands of documents were taken down rickety attic steps for storage in the courthouse basement and the Chickasaw Council

House Museum.

The monumental task was undertaken by student volunteers from Murray State College and members of the county historical society.

Supervising were John Edwards and Rex Morrell, Murray College history instructors, and Mrs. Margaret Lokey, museum curator.

Notable Notes

By B. A. Lindgren
The high school basketball tournaments at Murray the past few weeks stirred up a lot of hometown rivalries. Especially between the Murray students from the schools participating. The hum of talk in the cafeteria sounded of the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat.

If you were to ask someone, "Who are the most enthusiastic basketball fans in McKee dorm?" you would probably get an answer with the name of at least one of two girls, Kathy Biggs and Romana Riley. Their enthusiasm for the game is even talked about by other girls.

.....
The tournaments bring a lot of visitors to the Murray cafeteria line. Janet Taylor, cafeteria worker, says that just as sure as they close the doors, a coach will usually come up and ask, if they have food for X-number of boys. So, it's back to the stove for the cooks.

Competition doesn't have to be inter-collegiate to be brutal. The intramural volleyball girls proved that this past week. Several peeled at least one knee in Beames Hall, but Peggy Kennedy came through with both shins looking like Getylsburg.

Luckily for Wanda Hammit and Rhonda Ross, that guy they woke up was in a good humor. He even obliged them with their first plane ride. Just one of the benefits of

Did You Ever Have One of Those?

By James Huff
Wednesday started out with a bright shiny morning. I thought I would accomplish a great deal this last part of the week. I made one mistake though. I got up.

Everyone, well almost everyone, has a vehicle. I do. Well, did have. On my way to 8:00 class I blew my transmission up, and that's what started the whole row-of-unlucky days. One of the last, I hope. For a while anyway.

After scurrying to class, just to listen to a play called "The Little Foxes," I crammed for my history exam for the following hour. When the exam came, I knew everything, but as I said once before, this was one of the unlucky days, for I ran out of time and didn't get to finish the whole exam.

Next spot was English, the only class I had left, and it was a flop too. It just so happened that I forgot to write a simple paragraph to be handed in, so I just hurried up and wrote a quicky. Classes were over so homework bound I went for lunch, with a little stop-over at my girl's house. Acting cool and trying to shrug off my bad taste of bad luck, I decided to take on a smoke. I fit the long slender cancer stick and took a long deep weary drag. Looking at the ashes on the end of the cigarette, I decided to thump them off, so I did. As the ashes hit the floor I watched in horror the sleek round brown filter roll helplessly along the floor. I almost cried. It was my last cigarette.

With the irresistible urge to fling something, I took the only box of matches I had and threw them at the disgusting person that was laughing her fool head off. It was a good shot, but an unlucky one. It hit her right square between the eyes, flew high in the air from the glancing blow, and sank slowly in a sink full of dish water.

Seeing that my day had not ended I decided I'd better go home. Going home was not simple. I was on foot because my "Old Faithful" automobile went capout. Looking back at a passing car, I very stupidly stepped right in the middle of a mud-hole. As I stood there looking at the water seep into my shoe, and racing up my sock, I wondered if I would make it home, which was only a block away. I was really quite fearing of meeting up with a terrible accident, like stepping out of the path of the city's garbage-truck and getting hit by a little kid on a bicycle. I made it home finally, and went straight to my room where I would be safe. As I was fixing to go out, my grandad came in, and lo and behold, SMACK dab right in the face came the door. Oh boy, I'll guess I'll quit. I can't bear to tell you everything that happened, because Thursday and Friday were just as bad. I guess my luck is changing to good again, I typed this on an electric typewriter and only got shocked once.

Man of Many Talents Attends MSC

Gene Schullingkemper seems to be one of those people who just can't stand to have spare time on his hands. So to try to keep himself busy, he is a full-time student, full-time father and husband, part-time hospital worker, part-time radio reporter, part-time judo contestant, and part-time judo instructor.

His school work is done at Murray State College, where he is a freshman, majoring in pre-medicine and biology. He drives back and forth to Murray State in Tishomingo each day from Ada, where the rest of his activities are based.

He works in the Ada Hospital and this is where he began to get interested in medicine. The radioing is an interest he has had most of his life and judo first caught his eye during a stint in the Army in 1956.

A first degree Black Belt, Schullingkemper holds classes in Ada for 38 people interested in judo. Twelve of his students won awards recently in the state judo competition held in Ada. "I was really pleased to have so many of my students place in the contest," he noted. Proving himself a really qualified instructor Schullingkemper entered the meet along with his students and won first place in his weight division (176 lbs.), competing against 15 of the best judo experts in the state.

"Judo is a fine recreation," he claims. "It is also a good health program and keeps the body and mind in good shape. It isn't just a physical sport, but one that takes a lot of concentration."

Schullingkemper's family shares his zeal for the sport and his son, Christopher, is already pretty good at it. "He can't enter competition until he is five years old, so he has a year to go, but he really is coming along quite well."

Christopher should fit in quite well in his father's class, since he won't be the only six-year-old. Schullingkemper says the class age ranges from six to 28.

When words fail, try a few new ideas.

Professional Improvement Day, scheduled for the 11th and 12th of March, will be held at Bacone College. This is an annual meeting of the Oklahoma Association of Junior Colleges.

Thursday, March 11, is the meeting for the delegates. Delegates from Murray are Robert Pearson, Faculty Representative, and Kenneth Meier, the Administrative Representative.

Friday, March 12, a bus will be available to take to Bacone those wishing to attend the meeting. Bob Hill, Academic Dean, urges the faculty to attend. There will be dynamic speakers on numerous educational aspects.

"There will be commutations from the Murray faculty for President 'Bert,'" says Dr. Hill, "but they have not been chosen yet."

Following the Professional Improvement Day, will be spring break, March 15-19.

Aggs Lose First Game In Regional Tourney

Regional games are supposed to be fast and exciting. Murray's first and only Regional II game was just the opposite—slow and rather dull at times.

Slated to play Phillips, Ark., in the first game of the tournament, the Aggies of MSC were downed, 64-52.

Tipping off at 2:00 p.m., Thursday, March 4, the Phillips team jumped to an early lead with a tight zone defense which kept the MSC Aggies from scoring in the opening minutes of play.

With 10:11 showing on the clock, the Aggies had come within six points, 16-10, of the Phillips round-batters.

Phillips bounced back and with 7:05 left held a 20-11 lead over the Aggies. When the buzzer sounded, Phillips led, 29-19.

In the opening minutes of the second half, Phillips upped their lead 35-20, with 18:30 left.

Then the biggest rally that occurred for Murray sprang up and with 13:57 showing, the Aggies had jumped within eight points of the Arkansas team, 38-30. The rally died and the battle went on, as Phillips clocked a margin of 50-39 with 8:46 left.

Commenting on the game, Coach Wayne Cobb said that the Murray team played a good, over-all game.

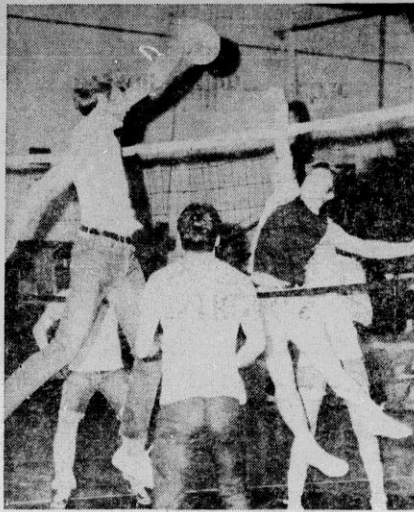

"Both our offense and defense were handled well, we worked for the good shots and we blocked off the backboards, I was disappointed in our field goal shooting percentage, though. We would have beat them, if our shooting had been better," said Cobb.

Murray vs. Phillips

Murray	19	33	52

Murray: Peterson 13, Beard 12, Tucker 10, Hofackert 9, Williams 2, Harwell 2, Candler 2.

Phillips: Jones 19, Pitt 14, Washington 9, Williams 6, Jordan 4, Coney 4, Overton 3, Dyer 2, Flanigan 1.

STEVE HARWELL, LEFT, AND MARTY SWEENEY, right, both try to score a point for their team. The Mashers won over their opponents, the Hillbillies, by the scores of 10-4 and 10-6.

Many Play-Offs In Past Weeks of Volleyball Intra.

Tonight, March 9, will be the last intramural volleyball game played until the students return from their spring break. One game will be played between the Mashers and the Brown Souls.

February 23, the No Names girls' team was pitched against the B.S.U. girls, and came out on the winning end. The No Names lost the first game to B.S.U. 13-6, but came bounding back to take the second and third games by the scores of 15-6 and 9-7.

The Mashers and the Billygoats battled it out following the girls' game, with the Mashers making a clean sweep over the Billygoats by winning both games in succession with 10-4 and 10-6 victories.

The third game almost was as exact as the girls' game earlier. The Hillbillies took on the Ball Bangers, winning the last two games. The Ball Bangers took the first game by an easy margin of 12-3, but the Hillbillies defeated them in the end by 11-5 and 10-7 scores.

March 2 the Petticoat Bouncers played the B.S.U. girls, taking the first game 13-10. B.S.U., however, was not defeated, they rallied to take the second game 14-6. The Petticoat Bouncers tried to take the last game, but the B.S.U. girls won by a two point margin, the score, B.S.U. 13-11.

The finals were played, as far as the girls' team was concerned, March 4th, with the No Names girls pitted against the B.S.U. girls. In a non-final game, that same night, the Billygoats took on the B.S.U. boys. The finals of the boys' team will not be determined until after the spring break.

VD Specialist Presents Program Past History

Pete Raybon, venereal disease specialist with the state health department, presented a general information program to Murray students Feb. 24. The separate sessions for men and women students were held at 1:00 and 2:45 p.m. respectively in Fletcher Auditorium. Raybon was accompanied by Mrs. Floe Caskey, county health nurse for the Johnston County Health Department.

Raybon said that there were five types of venereal diseases, but his talk concerned only two, syphilis and gonorrhea. In a lecture flavored with humor, he never let the audience forget the seriousness of his topic.

Venereal disease, VD, ranks number one in statistics of the 23 communicable diseases in this country. Raybon related facts that doctors had admitted to reporting only 19% of the number of VD patients they treat.

He explained how the disease was contracted, diagnosed and treated. The long range results of the diseases, if left untreated, are possible blindness, deafness and many other types of disorders.

Raybon said that these social diseases were hard to control because they are generally painless and the symptoms are few. Persons most often have the disease for years in a non-communicable stage before some ailment shows up that can be traced back to the disease.

He explained that the only way to control the disease was early detection and the treatment of the patient and all other persons he had intercourse with, while the disease was in the communicable stage. Over seventy percent of the venereal disease victims are persons between the ages of 14-24.

The students were told to ask unrestrained questions, and Raybon answered them straight-forwardly throughout his talk.

At the end of the program, Raybon showed a fifteen minute film entitled, "A Quarter Million Teenagers," which concerned the same topic.

Further information can be obtained at any public health department.

Senate Schedules Achievement Day

At the Feb. 17 meeting, Student Senate members voted to have Student Achievement Day on April 12, only to change it at the next meeting.

Senate President, Chris Bolles, told members Feb. 24 that election of Student Senate officers was to be on April 12. So the decision was reversed and Student Achievement Day was moved back to April 9.

Members also voted to have something like a turkey shoot to make money for the Miss Murray State Pageant. Prizes for the event were not decided upon at that meeting.

Kindell, Senate Meet For Retreat Session

A "rap session" between Student Senate members and several members of the MSC administration was held last Tuesday, April 26, at Goddard Youth Camp on the Lake of the Arbuckles. The administrators were: Dr. Clyde Kindell, MSC President; Dr. Robert Hill, academic dean; Don Martin, dean of students; Mrs. Jo Conway, counselor; and Harold Slack, registrar.

During the informal session following a hamburger fry, Dr. Kindell urged all members of the Senate to express their views or complaints about anything pertaining to the Senate or to student life in general.

Discussion ranged from dorm hours for women students to more varied representation of the student body in the Student Senate; from student services to friction among the various student factions.

Students present were asked by the administrators to strive to find out what the majority of the student body's views and complaints are so that the administrators and members of the faculty can be of more assistance and work together better with the students.

It was suggested that at least one such session be held each semester so that something can be done to better student/faculty relations, as well as among the students themselves.

The administrators assured the Senate members that they are willing to consider any proposal that they might have brought to their attention, and that they are always striving for the betterment of MSC.

The meeting was, according to one student present, "a good session. A lot was brought to light, and now maybe something can be done since the administration knows some of the student views."

Newly Elected Members To Head Senate Next Year

The Student Senate election of April 12 was followed by a run-off on April 14 between Ricky Griffin and Mike Dawson for the presidential seat.

New officers beginning with Senate president are Ricky Griffin, a 1970 Battiest High School graduate, majoring in agricultural education. He plans to transfer to Oklahoma State University.

Kent C. Barnes, vice-president, also plans to transfer to OSU after graduation from Murray. The 1970 Perkins High graduate is a combination animal science and agriculture major.

Secretary Bobbie Lou Anderson was a member of the "Class of '70" from Midwest City High School. She is majoring in nursing.

Cathy Lee Bagley follows her sister Connie into the Student Senate as treasurer for next year. The Moore High graduate plans to leave to Southeastern State College after graduation.

Kenneth Ford hails from the 1970 graduating class of Milburn High School. The agriculture major plans to be an OSU student after graduation from Murray State.

Delores Jones, reporter, is majoring in general education while at Murray. She was a 1970 grad-

MSC, Housing Will Dedicate?

Plans are to co-ordinate three dedication ceremonies in the near future. It is still in the planning stage as to when and who will be the speakers.

The buildings being dedicated are the Overton James Village, a Chickasaw Housing Development sponsored by the Chickasaw Housing Authority and developed thru the Housing & Urban Development.

Also the Apartment Housing Project, Federally Subsidized, which is sponsored by the Tishomingo Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club, and the Rotary Club.

It is also being financed thru H.U.D., Housing and Urban Development.

Also included in the day's ceremonies will be the dedication of the Murray College Facilities Improvement "Phase I." "Phase I" will include dedication and naming of certain buildings on campus.

RIDE 'EM COWBOY! Bareback riding was one of the contests featured at the College and High School Rodeo April 16 and 18, sponsored by the Murray Rodeo Club.

Rodeo Sponsors Queen Gives Contest Prizes

The 1971 College and High School Rodeo of April 16 and 18 was well attended although plagued by the rain of the previous year. As in 1970 the Saturday night contests were postponed until Sunday afternoon.

The activities of the rodeo began at 8:00 p.m. on Friday, April 16 in the Tishomingo TeePee Arena. The crowning of the rodeo queen, Miss Corky McLain, took place during intermission. She was sponsored by the Murray Rodeo Club, which was also responsible for the event.

Miss McLain is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newt McLain of Duncan and a 1970 graduate of Duncan High School. The Phi Theta Kappa majors in general education at MSC.

Cash prizes were awarded in all events, except for the relay teams who were given trophies. Other events included bareback riding, bull riding, calf roping, steer wrestling, girls' barrel racing and wild horse racing.

The wild horse race seemed to be the most popular event for spectators attending. In a feat of strength, three persons tried to get a rider on a wild horse and across the line first.

The second night of the rodeo was rescheduled for 3:00 p.m. Sunday, April 18.

Speech Contest to be Held

The District Carl Albert Speech Contest will be held on Thursday, April 29, at 3:00 p.m. in room 202 of the Classroom Building. Participants from Southeastern State College in Durant, East Central State College in Ada, Eastern State College in Wilburton, Seminole Junior College in Seminole, Poteau Community College in Poteau, and Murray will compete for the one hundred dollar prize. Also going to the first place winner will be a gold medal, and a silver medal will go to the second place winner.

Representing MSC will be Sam

Jeong, a freshman from Marietta, who won the local competition last Tuesday, April 20 and was awarded a $50.00 prize.

Following the competition, the Murray speech department will host the contestants, coaches, and judges at a special dinner to be held in the MSC cafeteria.

The contest is held annually at one of the participating schools, and is open to all freshmen and sophomore students. The speeches should deal with some facet of patriotism, and should not exceed 15 minutes.

Sophs. Bagley & Cook Are Mr. and Miss MSC

Mr. and Miss M.S.C. was first instituted in 1970 as a replacement for the traditional yearbook king and queen. At its creation, the title was to typify the all-around good student, exhibiting qualities of leadership and responsibility.

Eddie Cook and Connie Bagley are this year's Mr. and Miss M.S.C. They were elected on April 27 by popular vote opened to the students, faculty and staff.

These two students were elected from the potential list of sophomore graduates in which 124 sophomores were listed.

Eddie Cook is a member of Delta Si Amaga, which is an honorary drama club, president of the Drama Club, and also of the Sigma Phi Alpha. Eddie spent both his freshman and sophomore years at Murray. He plans to attend Southeastern State College at Durant next fall.

Connie Bagley is secretary of the Student Senate and plans to seek employment after graduation from Murray.

There were two other alternates, Chris Bolles and Dewitt Belcher, for Mr. M.S.C. and one alternate for Miss M.S.C. Taujuanna Tallferro was a runnerup for the title but didn't have enough votes to

Pig Draws Big Crowd During Sadie Hawkins

A greased pig race, a beard growing contest, and the selection of the "best dressed" hillbilly couple rounded out MSC's Sadie Hawkins Day, held on Thursday, April 15.

The greased pig race held on the front lawn of the campus was won by Mack McBoe Clevers from the spectators were heard for participants, but sentiment seemed to generally be for the "poor little pig."

Richard Dickens, according to the judge, a barber from Tishomingo, had the best beard of the boys who entered into the competition. He won $5.00 for his efforts.

Georgia Lee Russell and Marty Sweeney were, in the opinions of the judges, for the best dressed couple contest at the dance held in the ballroom of the student union, the most typical hillbilly couple there. The judges were Bobbie Anderson, Kent Barnes, Ricky Griffin, Ken Ford, Kathy Bagley, and Delores Jones, the newly elected Student Senate officers. Georgia Lee and Marty split the $5.00 prize.

The day of girl-ask-boy was, according to one Freshman girl, "Cool! A real blast."

NDEA Exit Meet Held on April 14

Over 100 students met in the Student Union Cafeteria on April 14 for the National Defense Loan Meeting.

Mr. Bryan Kinney was on hand to explain to the students how to fill out the loan papers. He explained how important it was for them to note the date and amount on the first payment and when it is due. Kinney said too many students either don't understand when their first payment is due, or they simply forget.

When too many former students neglect to make annual payments back on their loans, Murray loses its standing with the Federal Government. This means all money given to Murray will be cancelled and no more loans can be given to the students. This is why it is most important for these loans to be paid back promptly when the students complete school.

All Murray State College students are reminded of their loan commitments and are asked to comply with them.

SMORGASBOARD

Murray State College will sponsor a smorgasboard May 4 in the Student Center cafeteria from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. The event will be a casual affair free to boarding students and $1.25 for others. The special meal is being given as a schools-out celebration congratulating the graduating sophomores.

OFFICERS ELECTED

In a nursing club meeting April 21, officers for the coming year were elected. The roster of officers remains the same except for the selection of Clarene Hensley of Elmore City as secretary.

E. A.'s Notable Notes

By E. A. Lindgren

I must say this last edition has been quite a paper. First off we had all kinds of buggy problems of getting it out. Everything from pictures to getting copy.

To say it all out, I skipped two classes on the deadline day. I hope Mr. Edwards and Mr. Pearson will forgive me. It was the first time I had ever skipped class on purpose. I heard I missed out on a lot. Something about the era of the bathtub gin and Showpan writing music like he fit.

Lucky I have friends in the eight and nine o'clock history classes that will let me copy their class notes. Gonna try to have confidence that I'd let them do the same.

Speaking of confidence, the AggieLite co-editor has been trying to walk in the editor's footsteps and keeps stepping on her heels.

For the Student Senate rap-session at Goddard, President Kindell took along his note pad marked "Top Secret Notes." Within its cover he planted all the juicy suggestions that students brought at the rap-in.

I think at least the Senate members feel a lot better about certain gripes, having laid them to someone that will listen without jumping all over them.

There was some wicked weather for the rodeo or anything else, but the rain was a good thing for all farmers and garden growers. Coming back to Takonings from Falls Creek with Janet Mills drinking and feeling a little drunky, we weekend retreaters found the college lawn wetter than the place we'd left behind.

Since we missed the sandwich in the cafeteria, we treated us down to Daniels to get a bite to eat after a stop-over in between to let the motor cool down.

The track team swooped into Daniels with news that the clouds were hanging kind of low in Sherman. No records were really set as the muddy track sort of bogged everyone down.

Heard one of the Grayson County baseball players say he ran for the supper line. "Oh, this is fun, we did it last year." Wonder if he was talking about our cafeteria line or the FOOD.

Two days after returning from the Falls Creek retreat, Mr. Semkoff, math instructor, and his wife were talking about still being tired from cooking for those ninety mouths. I wonder why.

The co-editor of the paper was wondering about a name for a column, so the editor gave the suggestion of "The I. Hull" since James Hull is his name. Well, he reacted about like I did when the first semester editor, Robbie Pitts, mentioned "Barbs from Barbara." In the first place, I don't like Barb for a hangout and at the second place everybody that's ever called me Barbara was eventually called me Barb. Not so for the Murray folk who started out with Barbara Ann, they all call me E. A. and I love it.

The AggieLite co-editor doesn't think much of my nickname, but that doesn't detract from all the help he has been during this semester. I would also like to thank Robbie Pitts, the first semester editor, for asking me to be her assistant last year. And to all the other people in classes or otherwise, and you too Mr. Campbell, who helped with the paper. Thanks again, cause I'll really miss Murray and the AggieLite next year.

There probably won't be another E. A. Lindgren on Murray campus after graduation, unless my younger sister, Betty Ann, should decide to come to Murray. Betty Ann is a broad shorter than me and thinks that she looks like her older sister. But to those who might dread the likes of another E. A., you don't have to worry until 1980.

Former Students To Hold Banquet

The Murray State College Former Students' Association will have its annual banquet May 12. Overton James, governor of the Five tribes and principle chief of the Chickasaws, will be the guest speaker.

Vernon Hurst, Association president, said reservations are still needed for the $2.50 a plate banquet.

Editorials—

COMMUNICATIONS—NOT JUST BY SPOKEN WORD

The Student Senate rap-session at Goddard Youth Camp was a step towards communications on Murray campus. Various aspects of communication were discussed.

Between administration and faculty, faculty and students, students and students are just a few of the situations where misunderstanding can cause distrust and withdrawal.

But it is not with apathy that problems of a college community are solved. Dr. Clyde Kindell, President of Murray College, knows this. It was with his suggestion that be, several administrators and Student Senate members sat down to clear the air about MSC affairs and problems.

The fact was brought to light that there is often less communication between the student groups than between the students and teachers. Personal differences and prejudices often keep the students from participating or getting along together. Senate members agreed that it would take a long time to remedy these attitudes and it could only come through individual effort.

In reference to the Student Senate itself, an opinion was revealed that the Senate was the place to go to just when an organization wanted something financed. Members of one organization are not really concerned with another and the Senate representatives do not have anyone to report back to.

But looking at the record of club reporting for the paper, one wonders whether the clubs are concerned with themselves or not. Every organization to the knowledge of the journalism staff elects a communications official each year known as a reporter.

What does the reporter do? Usually nothing. What is he supposed to do according to the provisions of his office? To communicate the activities of his organization through all the school media available to him. If that is the case, the reporters of Murray organizations have fallen short this year.

With indication of organizational support, the college newspaper, The AggieLite, could be a fine example of the free enterprise system in our college. But unless the news is turned in by the appointed persons, the news staffs can not possibly hope to get your favorite events publicized. As with all communications, though, it begins with individual organizations and persons.

Students Help Save Past

Several students and faculty members at Murray State College have assisted Tishomingo and Johnston county to preserve a piece of southern Oklahoma history.

The college group, members of the Johnston County Historical Society, and Mrs. Margaret Lokey, curator of the Chickasaw Council House Museum, banded together to crate up and transport hundreds of pounds of historical records found in the attic of the county courthouse.

Discovery of the whereabouts of the records was made last fall and, Mrs. Lokey said, "It has been my dream since to gather this material and classify it, because it is irreplaceable information."

Mrs. Lokey contacted John Edwards and Rex Murrell of the Murray State College social science department and enlisted their help and the aid of their history students to furnish the manpower to get the records out of the courthouse attic and into the Museum.

It took almost a full day of sweaty, hard work and about 20 students to get the job done, but all agree it was well worth the effort.

On a preliminary trip to inspect the records prior to moving them, Edwards made a surprising discovery which doubled the total number of papers found. "I noticed a false roof in the attic which we found later had covered the original Chickasaw Nation Capitol Building. I began to wonder if more records might be stored under it and Mrs. Lokey gained permission for us to kick out a portion of the roof. We crawled back behind it and found that there were at least as many records dumped there as in the open attic area."

Although it will be many months before the classifying of the records can be completed, historical researchers will have the opportunity to use them as soon as possible. "I would discourage anyone from attempting to use this material right away," Mrs. Lokey noted. "It would be almost impossible to find anything because they are not in any sort of order, but they will be made available to researchers."

Finding these documents and getting them out of the courthouse is really just a small start, however. Now months of work lie ahead in sorting, compiling, classifying, and filing. The local museum is a division of the Oklahoma Historical Society and this organization has agreed to send two of its officials to Tishomingo to help Mrs. Lokey with this task. Mrs. Alene Simpson, chief librarian, and Mrs. Rella Looney, head of the Indian Archives Division, will aid the local historical society in assessing and evaluating the material.

"Actually," Mrs. Lokey continued, "it is just fortunate that these records still exist. A law was passed some ten years ago, permitting the county officials to destroy records which were more than ten years old. The courthouse simply did not have the space to store the papers and something had to be done about them. Fortunately, the officials in Johnston county chose not to destroy them, but instead put them into the attic and into an old outbuilding. While at least they were being preserved to some extent, they actually were a real hazard and were not very well-protected from the elements.

"So I visited with the Board of County Commissioners for Johnston County and obtained their permission to remove these records from the courthouse into the museum. I felt that their approval was needed because, as County Commissioners, the board has control over courthouse property. They were very interested in the project and could readily see the historic value of these documents."

"Some of the records will be housed in the basement of the courthouse, but we intend to store all of those which date back prior to 1915 in the museum."

The bulk of the records seems to pertain to court proceedings since 1902, the oldest document found in a preliminary inspection of the papers. Mrs. Lokey is "very disappointed so far. I had high hopes of finding old Chickasaw records, but there do not seem to be any."

A quick glance through some of the boxes turned up school warrants, reports of state public welfare funds, clerks' records for area townships, chattel mortgages, sheriff's records, U. S. mortality records for 1911, monthly Johnston county teachers' reports, examinations for teachers' certificates in 1908, and minute books for the Johnston County Board of County Commissioners for 1911.

Light reading of some of the material shows some of the changes that have taken place in governmental proceedings through the years. A lot of the papers concern road surveys which, by modern standards, might not be considered too scientific or exact. A survey might simply note that the road was to pass in front of a certain man's house, turn right at the next oak tree, and proceed north for so many tenths of a mile. However, this was evidently adequate information for engineers at the time to get the roads built.

Chattel mortgages used in the early years of the 20th century might also seem somewhat vague to today's loan officer. Money would be loaned on a horse, with a description saying that the horse was branded Flying E and stood so many hands high.

Interest in these old records ran high, according to Mrs. Lokey, "because Johnston county and Tishomingo, as capital of the Chickasaw Nation, have played a significant role in the development of Oklahoma. Several of the state's highest officials have been born and raised in southern Oklahoma and many are direct descendants of the Chickasaws or other groups of the Five Civilized Tribes."

Southern Oklahoma was set aside by the federal government as a permanent reservation for the Five Civilized Tribes, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Creek, Cherokee, and Seminole.

The Choctaws were the first to settle the Indian Territory, as the area was designated by the government, and all lands in southern Oklahoma south of the Canadian River were given to them.

Following the Trail of Tears March, the infamous movement in the 1830's of the Five Civilized Tribes from their native lands in Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, and Florida, during which untold thousands of Indians died from disease, starvation, and other dangers of the trail, the Chickasaws bought an interest in these lands from the Choctaws, becoming joint owners.

By 1855, the Chickasaws felt they were losing their identity as a tribe, so they decided to separate from the Choctaws and formed their own government, complete with a written constitution, bicameral legislature, and a governor. The tribe then occupied the south-central one-third of the Indian Territory.

The first Tribal Council House, used by the leaders of the Chickasaw Nation to form and implement tribal policy and law, has been restored and is now housed in the Chickasaw Council House Museum. The Museum contains all the artifacts, documents, and other information which has been available relating to the culture and people of the Chickasaw

Afro-Am. Choir Sets Fair Record

It's been nearly three months since the Afro-American Club Choir was first formed. In that time its members have performed every Sunday except one.

Dewitt Belcher, president of the Afro-American Club, is pianist and organizer of the group. He says the group plans to continue next fall.

After the group performed at the Baptist Student Union and the First Baptist Church of Tishomingo on Rece Relations Sunday, there was no problem with advertising. Ward just got around from those who heard the group and through the members themselves.

Club secretary, Belinda Talley, reports that the choir's appearance at a Marietta pageant April 21 was a change from their usual church performances.

With an invitation from Sherman Duncan, Chairman of the Board of Regents of Oklahoma A&M Colleges, the group attended a talent exposition of college choir groups in Muskogee April 17.

John Edwards and Rex Morrell are sponsors of the club.

Grads Attend Sponsored Tea

The Tishomingo Daughters sponsored a tea for graduating Tishomingo High School girls and Murray's sophomore women Thursday, April 22 at 7:30 p.m. The annual occasion took place in the Student Union Ballroom.

Entertaining those present was the Murray Dramatic Arts Club. As the club's last performance for the year, they did Spoon River Anthology and a cutting from Teahouse of the August Moon.

The Tishomingo Daughters is a federated study club, the second oldest of this type in the state. The Daughters have been honoring graduating women with teas during many of its 67 years of existence.

JOHN EDWARDS, Murray history instructor, and MSC students, Mike Fox, Mike Hendricks and Pat LaFevers, carry a box of historical county documents from the attic of the Johnston County Courthouse.

Sophs. Publications Members To Leave MSC As Term Ends

This last issue of the Aggie-lite brings to a close of the hard work and determination of four sophomores, Barbara Ann Lindgren, Lewis Jenkins, Ron Lord and Keith Robins.

B. A. Lindgren, a journalism-math major, is the second semester editor of the Aggie-lite, in which she will soon relieve her duties to enter Southeastern State College at Durant. Barbara Ann worked on the paper as a freshman during the 1969-70 school year. At the beginning of the 70-71 semesters she became the co-editor under Robbie Pitts, who is currently employed as a stringer for the Daily Oklahoman. Due to Robbie's leave from Murray, B. A. took over the duties of editor. Besides being the editor of the Aggie-lite, B. A. is also a member of the Phi Theta Kappa, Student Senate, and was elected to the Who's Who of Murray State College. During the start of this year, B. A. started her own column known as B. A.'s Notable Notes, which will cease from the Murray paper after her graduation. Her contributions and hard work cannot be summed up in the few lines of this paragraph, she deserves much more for her hard work and dedication.

Another sophomore, Lewis Jenkins, is the editor of the 1971 Tribesman. Lewis has worked on the annual since the beginning of his freshman year at Murray. This year Lewis accomplished an extension in the number of pages in the yearbook and also the addition of a number of color pages. Lewis is a member of the Student Senate, Outing Club, Drama Club, and International Club as well as his editor's job. He has also saved as a reporter on the Aggie-lite staff for two years. Lewis plans to further his education after leaving Murray at another college which he has not chosen as of yet. He plans to keep his major the same, which is journalism.

Two other sophomores deserve recognition in the photography field, they are Ron Lord and Keith Robins.

Ron, an art major, plans to transfer to Central State College after his graduation from Murray. Ron started his first year on the Aggie-lite staff as a photographer in which he remained all during this year. Ron worked hard during the year at intramural games, baseball games, basketball, campus events and the long hours in the darkroom to furnish the Aggie-lite in whatever photos the staff needed.

Keith Robins might be considered the backbone of the Tribesman. Keith furnishes all the photos that are to be printed in the annual. Keith plans to go to Southeastern State College where he will major in Wildlife Conservation. He has no membership in clubs and organizations but spends most of his spare time doing his job. That is making sure the Tribesman gets the photos it needs.

These four students will soon be forgotten after the start of the next fall semester, but the past two years have marked an era for two, B. A. Lindgren and Lewis Jenkins. But with these four working hand and hand striving to make the journalism department more publicized and the students informed, they deserve the words "job well done."

be returning, as Robins and Jenkins are transferring and Miss Van Buskirk is getting married this summer.

MURRAY STUDENTS dance to the sound of the Morocos from McAlester at the close of Afro-American Day April 8. Mary Kemp, Freshman, was selected Afro-American Queen.

COACHES WAYNE COBB and Jack Hedden suffer through a Murray game. Cobb became head basketball coach this year with Hedden as his assistant. Team members were Steve Harwell, Paul Hafler, Roland Mullins, David Payne, Lynn Hofacket, Marion Peterson, Orrin Williams, Stanley Beard, Gerald Tucker, Danny Carter and Clenzle Candler.

A. W. "BOIS d' Are" Beames. Physical Education Building is one of the eight college complexes to be labeled with new lettering in the near future. Several college structures will also be dedicated for the first time in tentative ceremonies.

Last Culture Film Of Thirteen Shown

The last in the series of Civilization films was shown April 19, and was entitled "Heroic Materialism."

The series of civilization films tried in Lord Clark's words, "to define civilization in terms of creative power and the enlargement of human faculties."

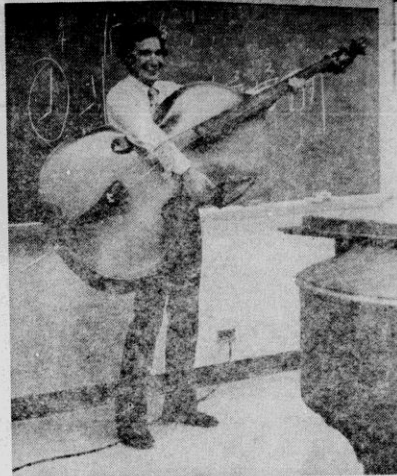

The films covered the Vikings, Charlemagne, many of the painters of the Gothic period, the people and art of Holland and the Dutch painters. They also covered the romanticism and revolution in the 19th century. The film also covered the advance of industrialism and modern technology.

VOLLEYBALL ENDS

Intramural volleyball ended last week with finals between the Mashers and Brown Souls with the Mashers champions.

With finals over, the finals for tennis singles and doubles were being played. Bruce Aliens took the boys' singles and Faye Jones defeated Willeta Provo in girls' singles.

Phillip Holye and Kieth Simpson took on Bruce Aliens and Jim Irish in the boys' doubles.

DEREK WEST, art instructor from England, will soon be leaving Murray after a year of teacher exchange with Murray art instructor, Larry Milligan. Both instructors will be back in their home colleges next fall.

MAC McBEE is somewhere under that pile just one of the contests sponsored by the Student clenching the five dollar greased pig prize on Sadie Senate on the annual day. Hawkins Day April 15. The greased pig race was

Did You Give The Best of Yourself During Your Stay At Murray State?

By A. Lewis Jenkins

The school year is ending. In a few weeks classes will be dismissed for the last time this semester. Final tests will be over and the many goals set by each student will either be won or lost.

The days are getting warmer and as the temperatures and spirits rise with the first hints of summer, students already are making plans for next year. Some will return to tussle through another year at Murray. Others will go elsewhere, some to full time jobs, some to the army, but most will go to other colleges where they can add to their hungry well of knowledge.

Looking back over the year, one might think of the many things that have happened that will hold many memories for the years to come. The queens, the dances, the pageant, the ball games, the prom and graduation which are to come, all of these and many more will command a portion of the students' mind in the future when the activities of this year are just feeble memories of the past. When that time has come what will be remembered most of all? For sure the parties and dances will be remembered, but what are they? They are just happenings that are here and then just as quickly are gone, leaving nothing for the morrow but memories. But will these memories be beneficial to those who will follow after we are gone to places unknown? What has really been accomplished this year that will be remembered?

Attending college you have furthered your education, you have made new friends, learned new objectives and had new ideas. On the whole you have become more independent, more mature in your thinking and in your actions. But beyond this what else have you accomplished? Have you in leaving Murray made it a better place than it was when you first arrived? Have you actively participated in the many things that Murray has to offer? Have you shown spirit and loyalty for your school to show others that while you were there, Murray State College was the greatest junior college in Oklahoma? Have you shown consideration for those who are here and those who will be here in the future? Have you left in the busy halls of M.S.C. the memory "that in '70 and '71 you were here and that You helped to make it a good year" or will those silent busy walls rejoice when you go and hunger for a stronger better year? These are questions that

Summer Technical Program Offered To Hi-Sch. Grads

A joint venture between Murray State Department of Vocational-Technical Education will allow Murray to offer a pre-technical program this summer for high school graduates interested in any phase of technology.

The program has been funded for 56 students and will include all supplies, fees, and room and board for these selected.

"It's probably the best opportunity that these students could have to get a taste of college life in general and specifically technology," commented B. B. Drisco, chairman of the Murray engineering technology department. "It's a chance to get a good look at college life at absolutely no cost for room and board, fees, or supplies."

This is the second year Murray has conducted this program. Last year the program was funded for only 28 students but, due to its success, funding has increased to allow 56 participants.

Joe Reid, program counselor and instructor in the technology department, said students would be accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis. "The only requirement for admission is that the applicant must be a high school graduate or 21 years of age and must indicate an interest in some area of technology. But it must be emphasized that the student is in no way obligated to Murray State College or to technology. If he chooses to attend college in the fall, he is completely free to attend any college he wants to and major in any area that he pleases. Of course, we would like for him to come to Murray, but completion of the course does not restrict him at all."

The program will consist of studies in mathematics, communication skills, science, and introduction

West Writes To Students

Dear Students,

A number of us are about to leave Murray College, some to transfer to another college, others to take up employment and the visitors, who will go back to their own societies. We have a mutual bond in the form of this experience, but our interpretation of it all will differ very widely.

During my own life, including twenty years of work in different facets of educational systems, my most striking reflection is that one becomes less and less certain about more and more. The truth behind the facts, sorting right from wrong, the good from the bad. These gray areas of uncertainty and doubt seem to become larger.

But these same doubts seldom seem to assail so many of the professional men and women or students or ordinary people. I have encountered during these past months. Instead of discussion, silence, or its equivalent; an angry lecture all about how it all really is. They know how housing, schools, racial differences and taxes should be handled. They know this or that system, politician or criminal is a total plus or minus. They know that any supporter of an opposite view is a fool or worse.

Is there some mystic virtue in "having the courage of one's convictions" and thus to fight to make it right? Too often this courage is little more than an expression of a closed mind, and the strongly held convictions merely a package of unsupported prejudices, illuminating a basic insecurity. May one ask if education is a learning process rather than a vehicle for instruction? One may then ask, instruction in what, by what, for what and where? Education, exploration, can produce people with the courage of their own uncertainties, people who stop the harang long enough to listen, to question and to learn. By this I don't mean an attitude of cynical disbelief in everything, as this represents its own type of arrogance. I mean an inner directed doubt that recognizes one's own fallibility when attempting to distinguish between what one knows, what one hears and what one holds as a belief.

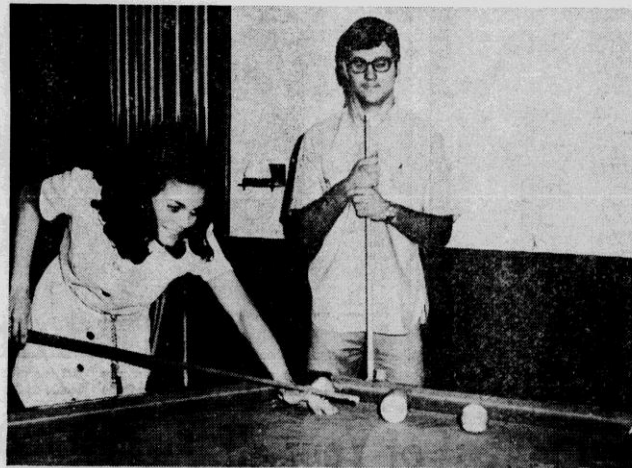

—DEREK WEST

Either this is the most fantastic paper printed or the biggest mistake that was made.

If there is one thing B. A. Lindgren can do, is write a book about anything with everything in it.

MISS EMMA JONES, is the first Murray contestant to compete in the Miss Oklahoma Pageant. The Miss Oklahoma Pageant will be June 9-10 at Tulsa, Oklahoma.

EMMA JONES, among other talents is fairly good with a cue stick. Here she is shown demonstrating a few techniques of her own.

Queen of Many Talents

Emma Jones had no intention of entering the Miss Murray State College Pageant, she had never even considered being a contestant for the title of Miss Oklahoma, and taking steps toward the Miss America competition is something that had never crossed her mind.

Years ago, though, she never considered becoming a lady barber or a pool player, either. Things just seem to have a way of happening to Emma.

"When the Miss Murray Pageant was announced," she says, "I didn't even think about entering. Then the pageant director, Jenace Fogleman, began talking to me about it and really just talked me into it. I certainly didn't think I had any chance to win, but it sounded like it might be fun to enter."

But she did win, she does barber, and she plays a mean game of eight-ball.

Pert and pretty Emma, 5'3" and 102 pounds, hails from Rosedale, Oklahoma, and is swiftly gaining a reputation around the Tishomingo campus for her tonsorial abilities. "Cutting a boy's hair is really not hard, at least not as hard as cutting a girl's hair. All you need is a comb, scissors, and a trimmer." And, of course, Emma does furnish her own equipment.

She says she got started barbering back in high school in Wayne, Oklahoma. Rosedale is too small to support a high school, so everybody boards the bus each day and goes to school in Wayne.

"My sister-in-law used to cut my hair, so I figured I could do it, too. Then one day my little brother needed a haircut so I talked him into letting me try it. It wasn't one of my better jobs, but I guess it turned out alright. At least, he kept on letting me practice on him."

Emma has no shop and no set prices (You see, I don't have a license so I can't actually engage in barbering commercially). If she happens to be in the Student Union and a friend wants a haircut, they simply go to the lobby of the boys' dormitory, get a chair, and she goes to work.

"Really, about the only ones whose hair I cut are my friends, and if they decide to leave a dollar or so when I get through, I suppose it's alright."

When she finishes giving a boy a haircut, it's not unusual for the two of them to stroll over to the Student Union for a few games of eight-ball. And quite often, she says, the guy will just pay for the pool games instead of the haircut.

She won't admit to gambling (I think it's against the rules to play pool for money), but if a fellow should be trying to get his haircut money back at the pool table, he might find himself trimmed a second time. Emma's a mean gal with a cue stick.

"I always kind of liked pool, so I just started playing it. I can't play snooker because the table is too long and the pockets are too small, but I feel pretty good at eight-ball. Actually, I can beat most of the girls here, but there are some boys that I can't hold a candle to."

She leaves you with the feeling, though, that she just might play pool better than most of the boys if she set her mind to it. But she also strikes you as sharp enough to know that boys like to be able to beat their barbers at such things as eight-ball, especially if their barber happens to be a lady.

Emma doesn't have any specific plans for the next few years except to finish school. "But I do intend to try out for the livestock judging team next year. I don't know if any girls have ever been on the Murray team, but I sure intend to try. I've lived in a rural area all my life and this sort of thing interests me."

She hasn't seriously considered the Miss Oklahoma Pageant yet. "I just haven't had time to think about it. I've really been busy just enjoying being Miss Murray. Regardless of how the other contest comes out, I'll be pleased just to know that I competed."

Emma says she doesn't intend to make her living at either eight-ball or barbering, but as a school teacher, "I'm majoring in elementary education, and teaching school is what I really want to do," she says.

If Emma really wants to teach school, she probably will. And if she teaches school, she probably will be one of the best. She's one of the best at almost anything she does.

There are not very many people running around these days trying to find their room keys. One particular person I know tied her hair up in a pony-tail with the string that had her key attached to it. Going back to her room she seemed to misplace her key and was left stranded on the outside of her door. Not wanting to sacrifice a dime she tried to remember where she had placed it. Luckily she found it when she ran her fingers through her hair. That's my editor, B.A.

Graduation Exercises Scheduled For May 12

Graduation ceremonies for Murray State College is set for May 12 at 8 p.m. in Fletcher Auditorium with Lt. Governor George Nigh as commencement speaker.

Nigh has served as Lt. Governor of Oklahoma from 1959-63, 1967-71, and was recently re-elected for another four-year term. In 1953, he completed an unexpired term as Governor. His years of public service also include eight years in the Oklahoma House of Representatives.

Nigh has also served as Chairman of the National Conference of Lt. Governors, Chairman of the Oklahoma Industrial Development and Parks Commission, and member of the Executive Committee of the Council of State Governments. He is a member of the American Legion, Masons, Shriners, and former state officer of the Jaycees.

A former high school teacher at McAlester, grocery store owner, and public relations executive, Nigh received his education at Mc-Alester public schools, Eastern Oklahoma State College, and completed the Bachelor of Arts degree at East Central State College in Ada. He and his wife, Donna, have two children: son Mike, 13, and daughter, Georgeann, 6.

A total of 124 Murray sophomores are scheduled to receive the Associate in Science degree, making the successful completion of two years of college-level study.

Academic Dean Bob Hill will present the candidates to Dr. Clyde Kindell, president, who will confer the degrees. Presentation of the diplomas will be by Herman Duncan, chairman of the Board of Regents of Oklahoma A&M Colleges, governing board of Murray.

Indistrict winner of the chapter meeting contest of the speech contest was Wetumka with Prague taking the overall placing.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I would like to express my opinion concerning the discontinuing of track at Murray State College.

In the past we have had many good track teams at the college, but no interest which I believe is because of the lack of a track field.

During the first part of this semester a ballot was passed around asking about whether we were in favor of girls' basketball, but it didn't include the fact that track would have to be discontinued if we picked up girls' basketball.

A lot of money has been spent on building Murray a track field, and I feel that it is a shame to waste all this money by getting rid of track, as track has been one of Murray's sports for a long time, so why throw away the money used on the track field.

Upcoming Year Locks Bright

Basketball prospects for the 1971-72 season look "pretty good," according to Coach Wayne Cobb.

Cobb has signed two players for next year, one a Pennsylvania All-Stater, the other an All-Conference from Lindsay.

Cobb announced that Wayne Moten from Avella, Pa., has signed a contract to play for Murray. Moten is a six-foot, five-inch All-Stater in high school.

A six-foot All-Conference from Lindsay, Lindell Trout, has also been signed to play for Murray State next year.

Coach Cobb is also looking at other prospective players, including another All-Stater from Texas. Cobb would not disclose any names.

Track Team Comes Home With Honors

Four members of the Murray track team traveled to Sherman, Texas, April 17 to compete in the Austin Relay Invitational. Due to the onslaught of rain and hail, part of the events were cancelled.

Although on a muddy track, Solomon Lusby placed fifth in the 100-yd. dash and second in the broad jump.

Dewitt Belcher came in fourth with the 220-yd. dash. Alex Booker took second place in the high jump.

Gerald Tucker also competed in the high jump and placed third.

April 22, the team went to Ada for a conference meet. At the meet Dewitt Belcher placed first in the 100-yd. dash.

Coming in third with the 100-yd. dash was Solomon Lusby who also placed second in the broad jump. Alex Booker came in second both in the high jump and the triple jump.

Charles Yates and Gerald Tucker both placed third in the 440-yd. dash and the broad jump respectively.

Gregg Wiemar placed first in javelin and third in shot put.

The team of Charles Yates, Dewitt Belcher, Gregg Wiemar and Solomon Lusby placed third in both the 440 and mile relays.

May 6, the team will return to Ada to participate in the regional meet. First and second place teams at regionals go on to the national in La Mesa, Arizona later in May.

The Murray team plans to enter members in the following events for the regionals: 440 and mile relays, high and broad jumps, javelin, shot put, 100, 220 and 440-yd. dashes.

Club Has Foreign Style Gathering

Friday, April 30th, at 6:00 p.m. will be held the last meeting of the year for the International Club.

This will be a special cook-out in honor of the Club's Guest Speakers through out the year. Also special guests invited were Dr. Clyde Kindell, President of Murray State College, and Dr. Hill, Dean of Students.

The Iranian boys, members of the International Club, will do the cooking for the event. They will prepare some of their native foods.

Hazel Ruth, president of the International Club, says they expect some 35 guests present, and that it will be a memorable event for the ending of her year as club president.

IN CONFERENCE PLAY on April 24, the Aggies lost the ballgame in the first game against Connors. In the second game Rockie Arms pitched a winning game for Murray with a score of 2-1.

Curator Says Thank You Girls' Basketball Readies for Fall

To the Murray State College History students who took part in the historic project of removing records from the attic of the Chickasaw Capitol:

Dear Friends:

The Oklahoma Historical Society thanks you, the Johnston County Historical Society thanks you, the Chickasaw Council House Museum thanks you, and especially, I thank you for your marvelous cooperation in removal of historic records from the attic of the Chickasaw Capitol.

To my knowledge, it is the first such project in the state of Oklahoma. Our hope is other counties will follow the example we have set and will seek to preserve their records as a part of the vast and colorful heritage of our state.

Tribes.

Historically, the Chickasaws have lived in small villages and made their living from their ability to farm the lands. Even when DeSoto first discovered the tribe around 1541, the palefaces were relatively expert in agriculture. Once the paleface began invading their land, the Chickasaw realized that if they were to contend with the white men, they must have the white man's education, thus they became probably the first Indian tribe to send their children to the white man's eastern schools for education. These children would then return and become leaders of the tribe.

Actually, the Chickasaws copied many of the white man's habits, not all of them good. Many Chickasaw tribe members lived in much the same style as the southern plantation owner, complete with Negro slaves.

With their education, governmental ability, and native cunning, the Chickasaws probably lived the best life of any of the Indian Territory inhabitants, and were a prosperous and progressive tribe, surviving quite well when Oklahoma statehood in 1907 marked the end of the Chickasaw Nation, the Indian Territory, and a most interesting era of American history.

that Indian Territory and Chickasaw National records dating to 1898 were rescued from complete deterioration. The early and later county records, too, were most important, as they have been burned in many instances throughout the state.

History is being made every day. And you students made history that rainy, snowy Tuesday morning you spent in the attic and transporting records to the museum. These records up to and including 1907 I have kept here as part of our archives. Those from 1908 are in the Oklahoma Historical Society Library in Oklahoma City. Eventually, all will be microfilmed and made available to researchers.

You are cordially and warmly invited to visit the museum any time, either as a class, or individually. Thanks again, very much.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Margaret Lokey,
Curator

Did You Give—

can not be answered honestly by you or by me if we have not done our best in the things that needed done.

The year 1970 and 1971 was a good year. We have seen the sun shine and we have felt the rain fall. We have seen good days and we have also seen days in which things could have been better. We have studied and we have played. We have sighed over good grades and worried over ones which were not too good. We have had our smiles of joy and our frowns of disappointment.

Team: Recalls Happy Events

By Edd Garrett

With the dust cleared and the gym quiet; the boys were lying back to the court after about a week off to shoot, scrimmage and to just keep loosened up. Another basketball season is over.

Looking back over the year, many thoughts come to mind; some pleasant, some not so pleasant; some humorous, others not so humorous.

Like taking a 5-0 record to the Cowboy Classic in Dodge City and being picked to win the tournament—and getting beat out in a heart breaker. Then traveling out to California in the dear old Murray State bus—boy, what a thrill! (Except when you had to squirt some ether in the engine to get it started and then being smoked to death).

And the time when the team was traveling through the mountains (and man, they were mountains) of Arizona and Danny Carter wasn't looking at the scenery. He was too busy shaking under some blankets. And remember the friendly card games, boys?

We remember getting beat out in the NIT in El Centro—getting beat out but scaring some pretty tough teams. Then the trip to Old Mexico; Hook remembers the chicks the most, huh, Marion?

The mountains of New Mexico! What a delight, except when Coach Cobb drove. Then we couldn't sleep, read or do anything except sit and pray. Ha!

Remember the JUCO tournament, fellas? Almost winning the championship from Connors—almost, but not quite. Then our conference games started and we knocked Northern, Connors (We owed them that one) and Eastern. Yeah, Eastern; man, what a game that one was! The Murray Aggies could do no wrong that night. Then we avenged ourselves again against Connors. But our last two conference games were not so easy or so pleasant. We lost to Northern and Eastern but cinched a place in the Regional Tournament in Tulsa.

Ah yes, Tulsa. The little establishment on the corner and the two policemen strolling out. Man, we scattered in fifteen different directions!

But alas, we didn't stay very long in Tulsa.

Yes, the season is over and three of the team will not be back, Steve Harwell, Roland Mullins and Marion Peterson. The season is over for 1970-71, but it will not be forgotten.

Prospects Visited by E. Central Rep.

Representatives from East Central State College were here on Wednesday, April 21.

Tom Wood, Administrative Assistant to the President, and Don Blevins, Public Relations Director for East Central were doing general recruiting work for their fall semester.

Coach Hedden has had one series of tryouts but plans no more, because "recruitment has been going so well."

Hedden said that some girls, who he thinks deserve them, will get scholarships to play on the team.

Girls' practice will be scheduled from 12:30 to 2:30 and the boys will be scheduled from 2:30 on to avoid conflict in practices.

Hedden has signed several players for next year and according to the Coach, some of them are All-Staters.

The girls Hedden has signed are Diane Miller, Lone Grove; Teresa Winbush, Colbert; Becky Ball and Sherry Shuman, Sterling; Barbara Jenkins, Ft. Towson; Linda Lowe, Silo; and Janie Fencher, Ft. Cobb.

White is an ex-Murray student, receiving the A.S. degree in 1967 with a major in engineering. He has attended OSU and received the B.S. in Applied Science and Civil Engineering from Portland State University in 1970. White is a member of the Oklahoma Society of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors and Phi Theta Kappa. A Registered Land Surveyor, State of Oklahoma, White has held positions in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Pettijohn Engineering Company, and Perdue Housing Industry.

Williams is a native of Wynnewood and holds the A.S. and B.S. degrees from O.S.U. His major areas of study were electronics technology and technical education. He has also studied at Texas A&M University in physics and is currently a candidate for the M.S. in technical education at OSU. Williams is a member of the OEA, the Oklahoma Technical Society, and the Masonic Lodge. He has had positions with the Federal Aviation Agency, Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company, and the Southern Oklahoma Area Vocational-Technical Center at Ardmore. He is married to the former Joella Williams.

The Department of Nursing also has two new people for the 1971-72 year. Yvonne Vernon has joined the staff, coming from the University of Kentucky, Somerset Community College. She has also had experience with Odessa College, Odessa, Texas and with the Medical Center Hospital in Odessa. ## Fresh. Orientation Starts Off Murray's School Year

August 25 and 26 went without casualties or mishaps as beginning freshmen went through what is commonly known as Freshman Orientation.

Freshmen began their two-day run-around, Wednesday, August 25, at 9:00 with their welcome in the auditorium. Preceding the welcome, the freshmen broke up into sections, which at different time intervals attended pre-planned scheduled classes. Among these classes were, Academic Information, a Reading test, Classes and Clubs on campus, the Student Handbook, the Learning Center of the Library, standing in long lines to get calculated and to pay their fees, take mug shots for I.D. cards, receive humorous remarks from the yearbook photographer, pick up their I.D. cards and have a free period to recuperate in.

Not all of the orientation was as bad as some made it out to be. Wednesday there was a Howdy Dance at 7:30 to get the freshmen acquainted with others and a Watermelon Feed, Thursday, at 6:30.

Harold Slack, the registrar, said about 400 freshmen went through the orientation. "Those freshmen," he said, "who missed some of the orientation classes will have to make them up. They can be made up by taking Freshman Orientation 111 at 1:00 Tuesday and Thursday this first nine weeks." Those freshmen who were late enrolling will have to take the one hour course, because Freshman Orientation is a requirement to graduate from Murray.

"The purpose of Freshman Orientation," Jack Reid, Counselor, said, "is to get the freshmen better acquainted with the college and get the students used to attending classes. It also acquaints them with buildings, teachers and general information that the student should know. It also gathers information about the student, that helps their advisors to advise the student from his own academic standpoint."

AN UNIDENTIFIED FRESHMAN seems to be enjoying herself at the annual Howdy Dance on the campus last week. A large crowd of freshmen turned out not only for the dance itself, but also for the other activities of Freshman Orientation which included a watermelon feed Thursday evening.

Aggie Club Has First Meeting

The 1971-72 Aggie Club held its first meeting Tuesday August 31, in the audio visual room of the Library Science Building. A total of 117 members attended the meeting. During the meeting they selected some officers that were not elected last year and organized committees and their representatives.

Newly elected officers of the Aggie Club are Danny Glover, freshman, Secretary-Treasurer; Orville Cottrell, freshman, Reporter; Mike Fagan, Student Senate Representative; and Kenneth Roberts, Parliamentarian. Pre-elected officers Ricky Rose, President; Dale Nye, Vice-President; were present at the meeting.

The Aggie Club set its regular meeting time at 7:30 every first and third Monday night. They formed several committees and their members. ## Fulton Hall Opens With Alterations In Planning

The old dorm, Fulton Hall, has been re-opened this year to house the girls' basketball team. This year it has been opened after being closed completely last year, and may still yet undergo a few changes.

Not only will this dorm be for basketball girls, it will also house, if occurring, the overflow of students from the girls' dorm, McKee Hall.

Poe Hall, the Aggies' basketballers' dorm, has seen the overflow already. Haskell Lucas and Paton Hall have reached the "no vacancy" point and have had to transfer students who have to stay in the dorms into Poe Hall.

So far, McKee Hall, has not reached its maximum capacity and therefore has not had to transfer students into the old dorm.

Fulton will be undergoing a few changes this month, when the basement of the dorm transforms into a lounge for commuters. The basement should be cleaned out by October 1, and will be opened to commuters by Thanksgiving.

Election Set on Yearbook Deliveries

An election will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 8, to determine whether students of Murray State College prefer a summer or a spring delivery of yearbooks.

According to Hugh Campbell, sponsor of the MSC Tribesman annual, there are several pros and cons on each type of delivery. "In the first place, if we have a spring delivery book, that means all material must be submitted to the printer by approximately Feb. 15, in order to get the completed book delivered by May 1. Obviously, any events occurring after Feb. 15 cannot be included in the yearbook, so basically you have a half-year book. By using a summer delivery system, the final deadline is June 15, which gives us adequate time to include all the year's events. On the positive side, however, the spring delivery book seems to create a little more interest due to the fact that the students get the book while the year is still in progress. Probably, some prefer to have other students' signatures in their book and if they don't get the book until summer, this is almost impossible to do."

Bradley is Executive Director of the Higher Education Alumni Council, a group dedicated to the improvement of Oklahoma higher education. Here, Bradley confers with Ralph Benham, science instructor at Murray and local representative to the Council. Other areas covered in the workshop were "What can be done to improve interdepartmental communication at Murray?", "How can we work together to better serve the students at Murray?", "What federal grants are available and how to apply for these", and "Use of the computer terminal." William Accola, supervisor of academic computing services for OSU, conducted the last workshop.

Plans Being Prepared For Planned Site

Architectural design is now being completed for what will soon be the "Student Plaza," to be located on the east side of the Library Science building and stretch to the front sidewalk of the Student Union.

"The building material has already been purchased and is ready to be built," President Clyde Kindell said, "but the designs will be presented to the Student Senate before approval. The next step," he said, "will be the hiring of a competent block layer who will construct the site."

The initial project has already cost Murray $1,000.00. "As funds become available," Kindell said, "they will be applied to the plaza, and will be used for adding onto the site."

The plaza will basically be a large patio that will cover the grounds between the Library Science building and the Student Union. In front of the Union, there will be constructed a huge fountain.

MSC Accepts Gov. Award

Murray State College has received an award of $2,756 from the federal government to assist area law enforcement officers in attending college.

The grant has been made by the U. S. Department of Justice, Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, through the Law Enforcement Education Program authorized by the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968. The bill authorizes grants to officers of publicly funded law enforcement agencies of federal, state, county, and municipal governments who wish to enroll in classes at an institution of higher education.

The commitment of $2,756 to Murray is firm, but, according to Academic Dean Bob Hill, "The Department of Justice has estimated that our final appropriation for this program will be $3,678."

The program allows maximum grants of $300 per semester to a student to cover tuition and fees, not including books and supplies unless they are catalog

Girl Basketballers To Start Practice Oct. 15

Coach Jack Hedden reports the Murray College Girls' Basketball Team will start regular practice October 15. Their first scheduled game will be October 30.

The seventeen girls who are trying for the team are now practicing about one hour each day, until the regular practice sessions begin. Their first game will be with Phillips University at Enid. The first home game will be November 30 against OMA.

The girls' basketball team was chosen by popular student demand last year. In turn, track as part of Murray's interscholastic curriculum was discontinued.

"The starting team," Hedden said, "has not yet been chosen and will not be until regular practice begins." The starters will be chosen from the following: Freda Matthews, Lonegrove; Diane Miller, Lonegrove; Teresa Winbush, Colbert; Linda Lowe, Silo; Jane Fincher, Fort Cobb; Becky Ball, Sterling; Sherry Schoeman, Sterling; Penny Jackson, Bray; Debbie Stewart, Marlow; Nancy Washington, Stringtown; Janeen Gann, Talihina; Mary Jenkins; Ft. Interested applicants should contact Dr. Bob Hill, Academic Dean, Murray State College, Tishomingo, Okla., 73460.

Selective Service Releases Latest on Deferments

The Selective Service System today clarified expected policy changes on undergraduate student deferments.

College students who were enrolled full-time in the 1970-71 academic year will be eligible for student deferments in the 1971-72 school year if they continue to make satisfactory progress in their programs of study. Selective Service officials said, however, young men who entered school for the first time this summer and those who enroll as freshmen this fall will not qualify for student deferments if the pending changes to the Selective Service Act are passed by Congress. The House has completed action on the bill and final Senate action is expected in September.

Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, Selective Service Director, said: "Few incoming freshmen students are likely to be inducted in the near future because of the student deferment phaseout. Of the 1,034,000 incoming freshmen males estimated by the Office of Education, approximately 80% are 18 years old and only 20% are 19 years of age or older. The 18 year olds will receive their lottery numbers in 1972, and they will not be subject to induction until 1973, when draft calls should be low. The 19 year old freshmen received their lottery number August 5 of this year and will be subject to induction next year; at least one-half should have high enough lottery numbers to preclude their induction. Of those remaining, approximately 50% will be disqualified on mental, moral or physical grounds.

This means that a maximum of 50,000 men will be directly affected in 1972 by the student deferment phaseout and one-half of these, or 25,000, will probably not be inducted because of enlistments in Regular, Reserve or National Guard units, participating in commissioning programs or because of procedural delays.

Dr. Tarr said that college students will not be drafted in the middle of a semester or term. "If called while enrolled, they will be allowed to postpone their induction until the end of the semester, or term. If in their last academic year, they will be able to postpone their induction until after graduation."

"If the pending Selective Service legislation does not pass," Tarr said, "it would not be in a registrant's best interest to obtain a student deferment which would extend his liability until age 35. Should Congress change the legislation to provide for deferments for new incoming freshmen, which is most unlikely, applications for deferments will not be jeopardized by delaying their submission until after passage of the new law."

The President's authority for the induction of all men under 35, except for those who have or who have had deferments, expired on June 30, 1971. If Congress does not reinstate the general induction authority, the President could authorize the induction of those registrants who hold or have held

MSC Cheerleaders Named For This Year

Six cheerleaders were selected this year to pep up the spirit of the student body for both the Aggie Roundballers and the Girls' Invitational Basketball team.

The six cheerleaders and two alternates were selected September 8, at tryouts in the gym. The girls were chosen by five East Central Cheerleaders and their director, Mike Brooks. They were judged in four categories: performance, voice, co-ordination and general appearance.

Janice Brown, June Freeman, Jackie Howard, Peggy Kennedy, Rhonda Kerr, and Barbara Langston were selected as the six cheerleaders out of the ten who tried out. Karla McCarrel and Debbie Sealy were voted in as alternates.

Mrs. Conway, sponsor of the cheerleaders, said that "the two alternates are being fitted for cheerleader uniforms, and will probably be alternating quite frequently, because this year they will be cheering for both the girls' and boys' basketball teams."

Janice Brown is a Physical Education major from Kansas City, Kansas and a member of the sophomore class.

June Freeman, sophomore, is a nursing major, from Ardmore, Oklahoma.

Three of the cheerleaders are from the same home-town, Marietta. Jackie Howard, freshman with general education as her major and Barbara Langston, also a freshman, and also a general education major are listed as main cheerleaders, while Karla McCarrel, another freshman, and general education major is an alternate.

Peggy Kennedy, a sophomore, with a physical education major from Noble, Okla., and Rhonda Kerr, freshman from Walters, with a general education major finish up the main body of the non-alternating cheerleaders.

Rhonda Sealy, sophomore, from Mill Creek is a science major and alternate for the squad. She also represents the cheerleaders in the Student Senate.

"The girls practice from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. each day," Mrs. Conway reported, "and the girls have worked up a lot of ideas and really have some enthusiasm about the upcoming pep assemblies and games."

Some of the cheerleaders have had past experience by being cheerleaders in high school. They hope, at the first pep assembly to introduce the members of the girls' and boys' basketball teams. They will try to rally M.S.C. students into supporting both teams by coming to the games and filling up the empty seats, which hasn't been done very often in the past.

OJCMSA To Meet Here, Alloway To Be President

The fall meeting of the Oklahoma Junior College Mathematics Association will be held on the campus of Murray State College on Sept. 24 and 25.

Newly elected Association president Gerald Alloway, chairman of the MSC mathematics department, said that "approximately 45 math teachers representing every junior college in the state of Oklahoma are expected to attend the conference."

Guest speaker for the meeting will be Dr. James Danley, chairman of the mathematics department at East Central State College in Ada.

Alloway was elected president of the group at the last meeting. Other officers are: first vice-president John Merryman of Northern; second vice-president Eugene Prevett, Northeastern; and secretary-treasurer Louis Fuertsch of Eastern.

Sheriff to tell of drug addicts

Drugs and their dangers will be explained during illustrated talks at 1 and 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 28, in Fletcher auditorium at Murray State College.

The speaker, who will be bringing a collection of drugs and paraphernalia used by addicts, will be James E. Knight, sheriff of Pittsburg county and a 22-year air force veteran.

Knight, who has presented his 45-minute program before hundreds of state audiences, is being brought here by the Jaycees. "We hope every student and as many parents as possible will attend one or both of the programs," said Milton Gilbert, president of the civic club.

You can't get lost on a straight and narrow road.

Minds are like wagons; a light load is noisier than a heavy one.

Yearbook Vote Says Summer Delivery

In a close election last week, Murray students voted to retain the summer delivery of the Tribesman. According to Student Senate figures, 89 students were for the summer delivery with 76 voting to have the book delivered in the spring.

Yearbook advisor Hugh Campbell noted, "We were prepared to go either way, but from the standpoint of staff organization and deadlines, the summer delivery book is probably better. Plus, of course, the entire school year will be represented instead of just the first semester."

Students who will be returning to Murray in the fall of 1972 will be able to pick their yearbook up when they come back. Those who will be leaving school can have their book mailed to them as soon as it is published, but there will be a charge for postage and handling.

Yearbooks may be purchased at any time in the Business Office at a cost of $7.50.

Interest Declines, Classes Dropped

Harold Slack registrar for Murray State College said the following classes were dropped due to the lack of interest:

Business Administration 115
Music 102 and 233 Section 1
English 263
Foreign Languages
Developmental Reading
Elementary Spanish 115
Speech Introduction 123
Modern Math 113
Drama 133
Math Trig. 113
Stage Craft 132
P.E. 123 Team Sports Section 1
History 253

Mr. Slack said that the two main reasons for not having these classes were low enrollment and re-assignment of teachers' schedules.

Dr. Bob Hill, Academic Dean, said classes listed above will be rescheduled for second semester except for Foreign Languages.

S. Senate to consider new Proposals

The Student Senate met last Wednesday night, September 15, to review opinions on the SS Retreat, Commuter Lounge, the naming of certain rooms of the Student Union and appoint committees.

Dr. Clyde Kindell, President of MSC, was present at the meeting to speak with the senate. He made suggestions, and announced that he would have the plans for the "Student Plaza" by the next meeting so the senate can review them and add their opinions.

The senate voted to have a Student Senate Retreat with the Deans and Dr. Kindell, Wednesday, September 22 at Goddard Youth Camp. The camp is located on the Lake of the Arbuckles near Sulphur. The bus will load up the senate members by the Student Union at 3:00, the 22nd.

The purpose of the retreat is to get the administration and senate together for a rap session. The senate can freely express their opinions from the Dorms to the way teachers run their classes, and find out answers to these problems.

The senate also announced that they would have an election, on the un-named rooms of the student union where they can be more clearly identified. The election will be that each student will write on a ballot what he thinks the rooms should be named. The naming of the rooms should be in general where they are closely related as a whole. The student senate will then vote on the most popular group namings and come up with the best two. There will then be a run-off election, in which the student body votes for their best choice of the two.

The Student Senate also had a luncheon with the Chamber of Commerce here at Tishomingo, Friday, in the hall room of the Student Union. During the next meeting of the Senate, they will discuss the commuter lounge, trying to select a mascot, and further details on the forthcoming elections.

Editorial—

A lack of interest can sure hurt extra-curricular and regular scheduled courses as some students have already discovered. These effects have really shown up both in the Registrar and the Dean of Students offices. After reviewing classes that were recently dropped, quite a number of these were discontinued because no one wanted them. These classes however, had some interest, but not enough. There were students who enrolled in them, but they did not have the minimum number of ten to continue the class. Therefore the classes were discontinued.

It would appear that the college could sacrifice dropping some classes when a considerable amount of students, under the minimum, wanted to attend them. Say, for instance, seven or eight students enrolled in one of the dropped classes wanted the course and only needed two more students to meet the minimum. If the two students cannot be recruited the course is sunk, leaving the eight students, without a desired course, hunting for a replacement. Instructors have to break the news: "I'm sorry, maybe you can take it next semester . . ." But maybe next semester they will not have the time to take the course, or cannot fit it into their schedule. The result, a complete loss to the disappointed guy who wanted the course. This relates back to the whole of the students' interests and appeals. If the course is not a popular one, or not a required, no one will take it. So the enrollment will be low, maybe too low for the minimum, and too low for the people who wanted the class.

Classes are not the only thing that has been affected on Murray's campus because of lack of interest. Certain clubs and organizations are suffering also. Some clubs are very low in membership and one club in particular will have to disband because of no interest.

The Social Science Club held a meeting, and to the great disappointment of its sponsors, no one showed up. With no members the club cannot function. Consequently, the club will be dropped. Once the club is dropped, it will be hard to get it re-grouped and functioning properly. It could take considerable time to re-establish itself as a strong organization.

Not all the clubs are low in membership. Such clubs as the Aggie Club and Outing Club have a large number of members. But not all clubs have this high membership. A lot are really hurting for members. It is practically up to the members themselves to recruit new prospects to join their club and no one wants to railroad someone into something they don't want to join. Whether a club is popular or not, they know where they stand with a high membership.

Maybe by the second semester, organizations and classes can revert to their normal standing, but it all depends upon the individual student's interests, and needs.

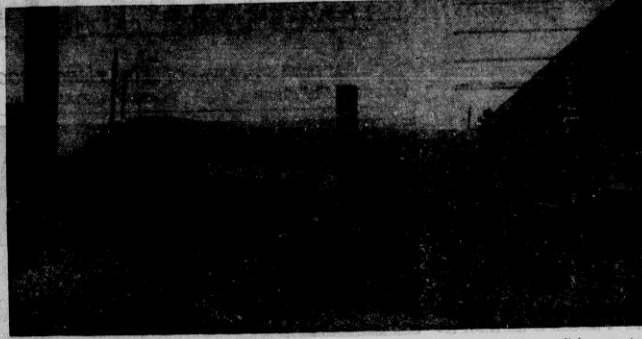

As long as students fail to show interest, these classes and organizations will continue to be low in enrollment and membership. Until club officers and leaders show more interest in these organizations themselves and strive to make the club appealing to other students, this problem will probably remain unsolved.

MSC's BLUE ANGEL is nearing completion. The bulk of the aircraft stands ready to be mounted on its pedestal. The engine was removed this summer by Navy crewmen. The plane will be mounted sometime in September or October.

Blue Angel Will be Mounted Soon

After two years of remaining on the ground, MSC's Blue Angel is nearing its intended destiny. The aircraft is located behind McKee Hall, facing the hospital.

During the summer, Navy crewmen came to Murray State to empty the aircraft of its main stumbling block, the engine.

The engine was the problem hampering the whole project of mounting the plane on a pedestal.

After the engine was removed, MSC employees built the pedestal where the plane is to be placed. The aircraft weighed seven and a half tons before the jet engine was removed. Because the plane had its weight, it was impossible to mount it on the pedestal, so the engine was a necessity to remove to lower the tonnage.

The Gruman F-11 was acquired by Murray back in 1969. It was intended to be mounted shortly after, but it had run into a few difficulties. The Blue Angel was once flown by Smokey Tolbert, of the Blue Angel squadron.

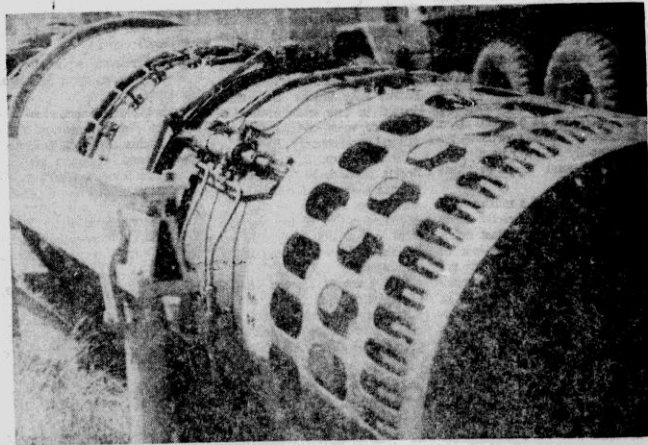

Dr. Clyde Kindell said that the Navy crewmen are responsible for the whole project of mounting the plane. The crewmen will probably refurbish part of the aircraft while on the ground before it is mounted. It will be repainted, and lettering restored.

The National Wildlife Refuge here at Tishomingo will furnish the crewmen their crane to lift the large craft on the pedestal. The crewmen plan to refurbish and mount the plane sometime during the month of either September or October.

As far as the engine is concerned, it is now inside the fence of the National Guard Armory. As of now, no one is certain where the engine will go. It will either be shown as a display beside the aircraft, sold for junk or given to the engineering department.

At any rate, the aircraft will be mounted fifteen feet above the ground in a banking position. After being restored to its original looks, it might be regarded by most people as something to look up to, instead of an eyesore.

THE JET ENGINE which hampered the mounting of the Gruman F-11 now lays inside the fence of the National Guard Armory. The aircraft weighed 7.5 tons before the engine was removed.

B.S.U. Makes Plans For Year

The Baptist Student Union has announced its plans for the 1971-72 school term, according to Mr. David Craig, sports spokesman. The union is located north of the campus on Murray Drive.

Purpose of this organization is to promote Christian love and share the reality of Christ. It's for the old as well as the young. The union provides all sorts of plays and games as well as worship.

All offices have been filled except the office of president. It will be announced at a later date. The remaining officers are as follows: vice president Bob Blackwood, secretary Janet Mills, enrollment chairman Debbie Shook, mission chairman Jimmy Wood, and sports chairman David Craig.

Services are held daily from 12:30 to 12:50. Vespers are held at 7:30 Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings.

Services and activities are open to all regardless of race, denomination, or economic background. The union's activities include intramural basketball, volleyball and baseball. The union sponsored a get-acquainted party Thursday, Sept. 8, in the B.S.U. building at 8:00 p.m. The union announced that it was a nice turn out. The B.S.U. is sponsored by the Southern Baptist Convention of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Katy Rood Elected MSC Teacher of the Year, Will Try For State Title

Mrs. Katy Rood, a six year veteran of Murray State, was elected this summer as the Teacher of the Year at this institution. She will compete with other elected teachers from other schools, Sept. 23, at Oklahoma City for the state title of "The Teacher of the Year."

A number of faculty members were placed on a list, then mimeographed and sent to each teacher. Each teacher cast one vote for the instructor of his choice for the award.

Mrs. Rood came to Murray State in the fall of 1964 where she has remained since. Before coming to Murray she taught at Madill, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Rood teaches Composition, Spanish, English Literature and Developmental Reading. During the past two summers she has also taught Communication Skills in the technical programs.

September 23, Mrs. Rood will travel to Oklahoma City where she will stay at the Skirvin Towers and attend a luncheon. At this luncheon, the award for the best teacher will be announced. This day has been set aside and named as "Teacher Recognition Day."

On this day citizens pay tribute to the teaching profession and the invaluable contribution that educators make to the advancement of the young people and the state.

Mrs. Rood holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education, from OCLA, and a Masters Degree of Teaching from Southeastern State College at Durant. She is also doing post-graduate work at both OSU and OU. Among other things, she also sponsors the International Club here at Murray.

The student body, faculty and administration hope she has the best of luck in winning this high honor, because it's one honor any teacher would be proud to achieve.

MRS. KATY ROOD took last year's honor as OEA Teacher of the Year. She will compete with other nominated teachers Sept. 23, at Oklahoma City for the state title of Teacher of the Year.

Gov. Boards Will Rule Dorms

Students living in the dorms this year will have a larger voice in the running of the dorm he or she lives in.

Each dorm will have its own Governing Board. A President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer will be elected. There will also be two Representatives from each floor of each dorm. Haskell, Lucas, McKee, and Patton have already held elections of officers and representatives.

Robert Pearson, Director of Student Personnel Services, urges that any student having any problem or any question go to his representative or any board member. The board will then meet with Mr. Pearson and other college officials to determine what action is necessary.

Water Tower is Repainted

Last July, Murray's gigantic water tower was repainted. Aquadyne Incorporated, having given the lowest bid, repainted the tower a light blue.

The Aquadyne men had to erapty the 30,000 gallon water tank, climb 150 feet, and scrape, weld, and clean the inside of the tank as well as the outside. The men were able to climb the tower with the aide of scaffolds, extension ladders, and various other equipment.

The light blue tower, with bold white lettering is situated past the music building, where it may be easily seen. The initial project cost Murray about $3,000.00 to have the tower refinished.

deferments. In this unlikely event, Selective Service officials believe that manpower requirements of the Department of Defense probably could be met by inducting those young men who have recently dropped deferments because they graduated, dropped out of school, or changed their occupations. Recent college graduates or dropouts would make up the bulk of inductions, the officials said.

'71 Figures Show Enrollment of 814

Figures released by Harold Slack, registrar, showed a record enrollment at Murray State College this fall. Enrollment figures were available only through Sept. 15, and at that time a total of 814 students had registered for classes. Enrollment was to continue until Sept. 17.

The old record was 803, set in the fall of 1968.

"This is a real milestone for us," Slack noted. "Hopefully, it is the beginning of a trend which will see Murray grow to an enrollment of 1,000 or more by 1975."

checking VA minimum specifications, (3) locating a mobile home that meets these specifications, (4) settling details for rental or purchase of a site, and (5) applying for a loan through a commercial lender. The lender will follow through to obtain VA approval of the individual loan. AV approval carries with it the 30 per cent guarantee, Anderson said.

VA is permitted to guarantee home loans (including loans on mobile homes) for all Post Korean and Vietnam veterans and servicemen with at least 181 days of active service, provided any part of the active service was after January 31, 1955. Also eligible are World War II and Korean Conflict veterans with over 90 days service, provided they have not previously used their loan eligibility. Widows of veterans are eligible also, and so are wives of Armed Forces personnel who are missing in action or prisoners of war for more than 90 days. Service disabled veterans are eligible without regard to length of service, Anderson noted.

Aggies have 0-4 Record; Play Today

Murray State's intercollegiate baseball team is having a hard time getting its winning streak off the ground with four losses and no wins.

Murray played Paris Junior College September 7, and lost both games by scores of 3-2 and 7-2. Grayson County Junior College and Murray were to meet September 9, but the game was postponed, due to weather. September 13, Murray played Eastern State College at Wilburton and was beaten by 5-2 and 11-0.

Thursday the baseballers played Eastern State College here at Tishomingo, and will play Seminole Junior College today, also here at Tishomingo at 2:00 Thursday, the re-scheduled game will be played with Grayson County. It will also be played on Coach Dean Ross' birthday.

Murray has three remaining games left, September 25, here at Tishomingo, with Paris Junior College at 2:00, Oct. 1, with Seminole Junior College, at 2:00 at Seminole and Grayson County Junior College, 2:00 p.m. at Denison, Texas.

Aggies Club Has 2nd Meeting Issue, Jackets

President Ricky Rose called the 1971-72 Aggie Club to order Monday night at 7:30 in the A/V Room as one of their bi-monthly meetings. The meeting was opened with entertainment from Danny Glover and Keith Russell who played a few musical numbers on their guitars.

There was a large number present at the meeting to take part in the discussion of the Aggie Club dance.

The next order of business was the discussion of getting a uniform type of jacket or vest for the entire club. After mixed discussion, the club decided more information is needed to decide what type of jacket would be suitable. A committee was formed to look into the matter further. They are expected to report at the next meeting.

SCORES ARE RELEASED ON "BEST TEACHER OF YEAR"

At the end of the spring semester a "Student Rating of Instructor" form was mailed to all students whose names were on the President's and Dean's Honor Rolls. They were asked to help select Murray State's outstanding teachers; by rating their instructors on a 0-25 scale, for a possible score of 100, in the following areas—(a) positive traits, (b) scholarship, (c) class presentation, and (d) grading methods.

On the basis of an average score of better than 90, results show that the honor students selection of outstanding teachers are: Gerald Alloway, Ralph Banham, R. B. Brisco, Gary Brown, John Edwards, Robert Pearson, Stanley Wilson and Beulah Zimmerman.

Several teachers who made average scores very close to 90 (above 87) include: Wayne Day, Alma Hogan, Joe Reid, Katy Rood, Jim Schammerhorn and Arthur Vernon.

Aggies Look toward year

Five returning sophomores and 15 talented freshmen will make up the Murray State Aggies basketball team for 1971-72. With practice starting in mid-October, Coach Wayne Cobb says, "We are expecting big things in our schedule this year."

Coach Cobb believes that his team can win the championship. "We were second in the conference last year and with hard work we can win the division title," he stated.

The schedule, including tournaments, consists of 35 games of which the Black Hawk Invitational in Burlington, Iowa on Nov. 25-27 will be the first.

Intramurals To start soon

Six football teams and three softball teams are slated to participate in Intramural Double Elimination Tournaments. Coach Dean Ross says, dates for the tournaments have not been decided.

In the first bracket of football the Colts go against the Rams and the Broncos take on Patton Hall.

In the second bracket the Jets drew a bye and will play the winner of the Brown Souls and Cowboys game.

The champion will be decided when the winner of the winners' bracket takes on the winner of the losers' bracket.

Girls' softball has three teams. The Strike Outs play the Moonshine Nine and B.S.U. drew a bye.

Captains of the football teams are Dale Dacus for the Colts, Kent Barnes for the Rams, Keith Russell for the Broncos, Larry Moore for the Jets, Danny Glover for the Cowboys, and Curtis Washington for the Brown Souls.

Captains of the girls' softball teams are Flokene Johnson for the Strike Outs, Sharon Bryson for Moonshine Nine, and Debbie Shook for B.S.U.

People seldom misquote something you should have said.

You Want a Mascot

A question arose in the Student Senate in its last meeting about having a mascot to represent Murray during the basketball games. It was suggested that a horse could represent the college's mascot. A horse? Why not, no one else had any suggestions.

There was also another opinion about having a student dressed up like Pistol Pete. Do you think it would do any good to have a mascot? If so, what do you think it should be, a goat, or something of that nature?

How about letting a Student Senate member in on your opinion or suggestion so he can bring it up at the next senate meeting. Besides, whoever heard of a horse in a gymnasium?

Patton Hall Selects Officers at First Meeting

Patton Hall residents held their first dorm meeting September 7, 1971, at 7:00 p.m. Dean Pearson opened the meeting by introducing the house-mother, Morn Cude, and the guests, Dean Martin, Dean of Students, and Jack Martin, chief security officer of M. S. C.

The campus and dorm rules were reviewed, followed by a few observations: Cans can't fly (down halls), sidewalks and dorm floors are definitely allergic to tobacco juice and cigarette butts, and Jack Martin is here to "protect" us.

Elections proceeded, and officers were selected. Greg Kindell, President; Chuck Blehm, Vice-president; Dennis Freeman, Secretary Reporter; Regie Rowe, Student Senate Representative.

The Governing Board members were elected as follows: Bruce Akins, Trent Smith, Gary Tiner, and Paul Wiles.

The officers were congratulated and President Gregg Kindell adjourned the meeting.

G.I. Loans Possible For Buying Homes

A veterans' mobile home and lot to put it on can now be purchased with a "G.I." loan, Joe W. Anderson, Director VA Regional Office in Muskogee said today.

The Veterans Administration official points out that loans up to $10,000 can be guaranteed on a mobile home purchase by a qualified veteran, and up to $17,500 can be approved if both a lot and a mobile home are purchased.

VA guarantees up to 30 per cent of the loan on purchases that meet VA specifications, it was noted. The current interest rate on mobile homes is 10.75 per cent. On the lot and permanent improvements, the interest rate is seven per cent, the same as the current rate for loans on conventional homes.

Mobile homes purchased with VA guaranteed loans must be at least 40 feet long and 10 feet wide. Lots must meet VA standards with regard to location and utilities, Anderson explained.

Steps for would-be purchasers include: (1) applying to VA for a certificate of eligibility, (2)

John Edwards Elected Chairman

John Edwards, history instructor, has been elected chairman of the Murray State College Faculty Fraternity for the 1971-72 academic year.

Other officers elected at the first meeting were Nolan Arthur, agriculture, vice-chairman, and Katy Rood, language arts, secretary-treasurer. Elected to the organization's Board of Governors for two-year terms were Doris Townsend, business, and Jim Schammerhorn, science. Rounding out the Board of Governors are Dennis Towes, music, and Hugh Campbell, journalism. Both were elected last year for two-year terms.

The Fraternity was formed last year and has as its objectives to provide professional and recreational opportunities for its members, to develop a spirit of unity among the members, to help create a feeling of cooperation and rapport between the members and the administration, staff, and students, to make recommendations to the total academic community, and to strive for continuous improvement, advancement, and support of all curricular and extra-curricular activities of the college.

Student Senate Election Today; Senate Retreat Big Achievement

The Student Senate will be holding an election today in the student union for the purpose of naming the rooms of the union. Each student will receive a ballot who wants to make a suggestion and will place it in the ballot box. The names are to be centered around a certain subject, such as, for example, the Five Civilized Tribes. The ballots will be gone over by the student senate at their next meeting and will decide on the best two, for a run-off election.

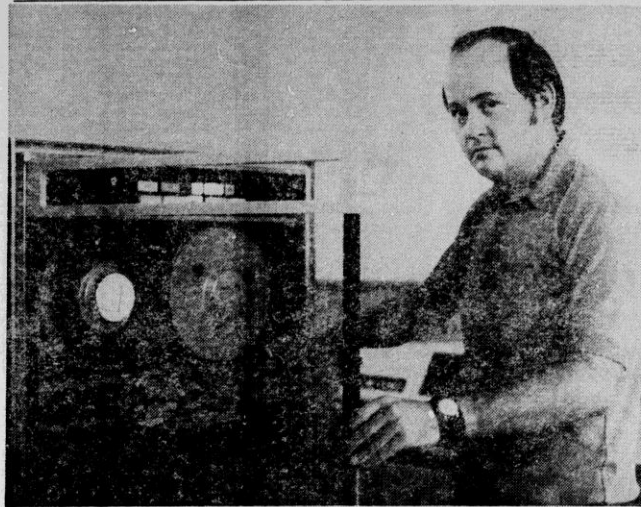

Rain canceled the Murray State Student Retreat scheduled for September 22 at the Goddard Youth Camp near Sulphur, Oklahoma. The meeting of the College President, Dr. Clyde R. Kindell, and faculty representatives and the Student Senate was re-scheduled for Sept. 29.

Rick stated that, "The purpose of the retreat was to give the Student Senate, representing the Students of Murray State, an opportunity to discuss questions that were troubling them with the faculty. It was hoped that some of the problems that students may have had in the past or will have in the future was eliminated during the retreat."

Among those representing the students, along with Rick, were the Student Senate officers: Kent Barnes, vice-president; Bobbie Anderson, secretary; Cathy Bagley, treasurer; Deloris Jones, reporter; and Kenneth Ford, parliamentarian.

Along with the officers were students representing the different clubs on campus. The clubs

FRED WHITE, engineering instructor at Murray State College, works with the magnetic tape unit of the IBM 1401 computer system recently donated to the Murray engineering-technology department by International Business Machines, Inc. The system is valued at approximately $180,000.

MSC Gets $180,000 Computer

International Business Machines, Incorporated, has recently put the Murray State College department of engineering-technology in the computer business.

IBM has donated to the department the IBM 1401 System, valued at approximately $180,000.

Murray is one of 12 colleges nationwide which received this system, to be used in the technology and engineering areas.

Fred White, technology instructor, has been spending the last few weeks familiarizing himself with the system, which includes a Central Processing Unit, 1402 Re-Punch Unit, 1403 Printer, 1311 Disc Storage Unit, and two 7339 Magnetic Tape Units. "We have a system here," White noted, "that most corporations in the U.S. would love to own. This system can completely run the computer support programs for the largest businesses. We will use it in technology areas, but it is primarily a business-oriented machine."

Capabilities of the unit include reading cards at the rate of 1,800 per minute and the printer can print up to 600 lines per minute.

White stated the unit would be used primarily for diagnostic programming, as both a teaching tool and an exploratory tool.

"One of the reasons IBM donated the unit to Murray was the fact that it would apply well to the programs we already have in existence," White said. "In addition, we will be developing new programs which will even further utilize the capabilities of the machine. One program which we are studying and hoping to institute this spring is a course in diagnostic programming. The program would work in conjunction with the 1401 and prepare students to enter the computer industry as field engineers after studies in logic circuits, start-up and test procedures, and maintenance."

R. B. Brisco, chairman of the engineering-technology department, noted that there is thought of also establishing a civil technology program in which the 1401 would be applicable. He said the purpose of the program would be to train civil engineering technicians.

White is currently working through the start-up and test procedures to determine whether any defects exist in the equipment. "This process will take about six weeks to complete and by mid-October, we should be doing some programming with the students."

White joined the faculty at Murray this year and has had four years experience with both IBM and General Electric equipment as a systems analyst and programmer with the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Pettijohn Engineering Company in Portland, Oregon.

Record Enrollment Sets All Time High

A new record enrollment has been set at Murray State College as 865 students enrolled in classes for the fall semester. The total represents a 22.6 per cent increase over the registration figure of 705 last fall.

The old record of 803 was set in the fall of 1968.

According to information released by Harold Slack, Murray registrar, the largest total gain was registered in the sophomore class, increasing from 210 to 301. Freshmen were up from 482 to 493, and special students increased from 18 to 82.

"We are particularly pleased with the increase in the sophomore class," Slack said. "This indicates that our rate of retention between the freshman and sophomore years is increasing. In essence, we are having fewer students drop out after their freshman year."

Dr. Clyde Kindell, Murray

president, feels that the enrollment record is due in part to increased recruiting efforts on the part of the faculty and staff. "We began to notice last spring and summer that a really healthy interest in the growth of the school was evident among our faculty members. This led us to hope that a new record would be set, but we surpassed the old total by even more than we had anticipated. The faculty, staff, and administration were all working together, trying to achieve this goal, and the figures speak for themselves. Obviously, we were successful."

Another contributing factor, according to Kindell, was an earlier study concerning the retention rate. "We were not at all pleased with the number of freshmen students who were returning to us as sophomores, so a special committee was formed to analyze the problem and make specific recommendations. Their study probably has played a very significant role in the enrollment this year, since the number of sophomore students has increased dramatically."

Year Book Pictures to be Taken

Yearbook pictures will be made tomorrow (Wednesday) in the Lounge of the Student Union. All sophomores and freshmen who have not had their pictures made are urged to do so. Cost is $1 and two poses will be made of each student.

Facts on Drugs Has Influence on Small Audience

James E. Knight, Sheriff of Pittsburg county, was guest speaker on "Facts About Drugs," here at Murray State College. The demonstration was held at 8:30 p.m. in Fletcher Auditorium on September 28. It was also televised on KTEN channel 10.

Sheriff Knight talked about the many people who used drugs, the problems it causes, the habits it forms, and the dangers to young people.

Knight also ran a film on drugs. It showed many different aspects of drugs, including the effects of L.S.D., mixing amphetamines with alcohol, and over-doses of pills.

Sheriff Knight explained many different terms used for marijuana, barbiturates, and amphetamines, are: reefer, dope, roaches, weeds, and bombs.

He also had many articles on display, such as water pipes, syringes, marijuana (both ground and raw) and heroin.

The audience, consisting of about 40 people, asked Sheriff Knight several questions at the end of the demonstration. The meeting itself closed at 9 p.m. with a round of applause for the guest.

New Furniture in Haskell Lucas Expected Later

The New Year will bring a new look for Haskell Lucas Dormitory, according to Murray State College business manager Bryan Kinney. The dormitory will be completely refurbished during the mid-year break, which is December 24 through January 11. Each room will receive a new study desk, double chest of drawers, new bed frames, box springs and wall hung book cases with one adjustable shelf. The wall cases will also have a fluorescent light fixture. The estimated cost of the project is in the $25,000 bracket.

Mr. Kinney noted that the furniture will be bright colors such as red, orange and blue. These colors were selected to liven up the dull looking rooms.

Fluorescent lights will also be installed in the hallways to brighten up the dim corridors.

Contract for the project was given to Fields, Downs, Randolph Institution of Furniture of Oklahoma City, who made the lowest bid.

The old furniture will be sold on the "all or none" basis to the highest bidder.

Bryan Kinney said "eventually we are hoping to completely air-condition the dorm, but the cost is so great that it will be at least four or five years before the project can be financed."

Ninety percent of solving a problem is the realization it exists.

and representatives were: Afro-American Club, June Freeman; Aggie Club, Mike Fagan; Engineering Club, Dennis Freeman; Rodeo Club, Wayne Robins; Science Club, Orville Cottrell; Phi Beta Lambda Club, Paul Wiles; Freshman Class, Danny Glover; Sophomore Class, Dale Nye; Outing Club, Stella Studeman; Cheerleaders, Debbie Seeley; and Aggie Staff, James Huff.

Some of the questions that were discussed were:

1. Why there aren't air conditioners in the Labs and Classrooms on the west side of the Library Science Building?
2. Request that the Administration amend the Board policy concerning reporting hours for female students.
3. Questions concerning giving awards (awards banquet) for students who are excellent in a certain field.
4. Questions concerning students being allowed to play basketball in the gym when it's not being used.
5. Questions concerning leaving the pool hall and snack bar open on weekends.
6. Questions concerning the prices charged by Southern Vending on their Cokes.
7. Why the swimming pool isn't open more than two hours.

8. Why couldn't the Student Activity Fund help finance such organizational teams, such as the Judging Team.

9. Locks on the north doors of McKee Hall.

During the meeting with the Administration Robert Pearson also suggested a "hats-off" policy in the student union, and asked if the Student Senate might come up with a few suggestions. He also asked the senate to think of a way to improve the lunch line in the cafeteria.

Business Office Discloses 20% of Students Work

According to Mr. Bryan Kinney, Murray State College Business Manager, 20% of Murray College students are on some kind of student employment. These jobs range from custodial work to secretarial assignments.

These students are allowed to work 32-50 hours a month at $1.60 an hour. Mr. Kinney said, "These jobs are for students who need financial aid in paying for their education and we are happy to give them jobs."

Officers Elected At McKee Hall

September 7, Mrs. Dorothy Adams, House Mother at McKee Hall, called a meeting to elect officers and their governing board. The meeting was held in the basement of the dorm.

The elected officers are: Beverly Frazier, President; Dena Marley, Vice-President; Kathy Bagley, Secretary; Jackie Howard, Treasurer; and Sanki Park, Reporter.

The governing board members are: First floor, Julia Campbell and Estella Finley; Second floor, Ann Brown and Bertha Douglas; Third floor, Cordella McClain and Joyce Colbert.

The meeting was adjourned after the election of the governing board.

Katy Rood Is Honored at Fair

Katy Rood, "Teacher of the Year" from the Murray State College chapter of the Oklahoma Education Association, met at the State Fair in Oklahoma City with others from over the state who were being honored for their years of outstanding service to Oklahoma's youth as part of "Teacher Recognition Day" on September 24.

A white orchid corsage was presented to Mrs. Rood with the compliments of the First National Bank and Trust Company of Oklahoma City.

Vernice Ware of Bartlesville won the state title of "Teacher of the Year." She teaches in special education and is an author of a text book on the subject of special education. She also has two daughters that teach in the same field.

An award was presented to each teacher by Edward L. "Jim" Roederer, member of the Board of Directors, State Fair of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Rood was most impressed with Dr. Paul Sharp, O. U. President, principal speaker for the luncheon at Skirvin Tower's Persian Room. Sharp's speech concerned the role of the university. He said that the college or university is one of the few viable institutions in our society and the challenge is to restore among ourselves a community sense of dedication to individual abilities and values.

Science Club Elects Officers

The Science Club's first meeting was held on September 2. At this time they elected new officers: Sam Jeong, President; Orville Cottrell, Vice President; Stella Studeman, Secretary-Treasurer; Darlene Henley, Reporter. The Vice President, Orville Cottrell, was also elected Student Senate Representative.

The Science Club is sponsored by Dr. Zimmerman, Mr. Moseley, and Mr. Wilson, who are in charge of setting up a program for the monthly meetings.

The Club's second meeting was on September 9. They discussed plans and named committees for the upcoming functions. Suggestions were made for the carnival booth. Also, tentative plans were made for a special trip during the spring break.

Murray Dames Sponsor Tea

On September 23, the Murray Dames were hosts of a tea given in honor of all women students of Murray State College.

Upon arrival, refreshments were served buffet style. Mrs. Hill, president of the Dames, welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. Fogleman, who told the girls of the Miss Murray State College pageant. Mrs. Fogleman then introduced the reigning Miss MSC, Emma Jones. Emma spoke of her trip to the Miss Oklahoma pageant which was held this summer. Emma, accompanied by Keith Russell on guitar, sang "Help Me Make It Through The Night," and "Don't Let The Sun Catch You Crying."

MRS. JANICE FOGLEMAN instructor of the language arts department, welcomes both freshmen and sophomores at the Murray Dames Women's Tea, held Sept. 27 in the Student Ballroom.

Murray Splits Two Way Tie

The Murray Baseballers split the wins, with one win each, with Seminole last Wednesday. The first game Murray lost 8-1. Rocky Arms was the losing pitcher for Murray. The Aggies were beaten because of too many errors. In the first game the Aggies had six hits to Seminole's three.

During the second game, Mike Dunn started the game, but was replaced by Doug Kahotek, in the seventh inning. Kahotek pitched five innings and allowed Seminole only one hit. The second game was tied all the way to the twelfth inning, 4-4. Doug Kahotek singled with Blackwell on third and Darrel Northcott on second. Blackwell scored the winning run.

Individual Studies in Phy. Ed. 111 Attract Murray Faculty Members

At 7 p.m. each Wednesday evening, the gymnasium at Murray State College undergoes an interesting transformation. From a place where hundreds of young college students daily play basketball, volleyball, tennis, do some calisthenics, and generally meet easily the requirements of college physical education classes, it becomes an area where some 25 college instructors (out of shape instructors at that) meet to perform what physical acts they are capable of.

The class is Physical Education 111, and the "students" are mostly instructors or staff members at Murray. The idea was generated by John Edwards, history instructor, who felt that he, along with plenty more members of the staff, could do quite a bit toward getting back into good physical condition, if they have ever been there in the first place.

Wayne Cobb, basketball coach and physical education instructor, is handling the class and says that it's quite different from the regular P.E. courses. "After working hard and fast with the basketball team and then coming over to work with a group that's generally overweight and out of shape and really not fast at all, it's a real change. If you've never watched a flabby teacher try to do 25 push-ups, you've missed something."

Cobb says, though, that "It's really one of the most enjoyable classes I've ever taught. We have a lot of fun and laughs. At least I do. Some of these fellows don't laugh hard all the time, but they are not really as miserable as they could be. I work the basketball team a lot harder than I do them."

The students may not really be miserable, but it was noticed during their "basketball" game that no hustling whatsoever was going on in the court. It seemed that the winning team would have to play against the third group waiting their turn. Finally, Cobb said that the losing team would have to play and the winners could sit down. Immediately, the attitudes of the players changed and one could tell that each team really wanted to win the game. Of course, maybe it was just their competitive spirits taking hold, but one can't help but be suspicious.

Navy Team To Be On Campus

A Navy Information Team will be on campus November 10-11 to explain officer programs available for freshmen through graduate students. The team will be located in the lobby of the Student Center.

The team will explain the programs available which will enable a student to graduate from college before reporting for active duty and will also administer qualification tests without obligation. Physical qualifications vary for different programs. Anyone who is in doubt about meeting these qualifications should drop by and the team will be happy to discuss the situation.

All programs lead to a commission as a Naval Officer and several programs are open to women as well as men.

Aggie Expecting Bright Year, First Game Nov. 25

Six returning sophomores and several talented freshmen will make up the Murray State Aggies' basketball team for 1971-72. The six returning sophomores are: Lynn Hofacket, Chattanooga, Okla., major business; Stanley Beard, Montgomery, Ala., major physical education; Gerald Tucker, Fort Towson, major P.E.; David Payne, Wapanucka, major P.E.; Clenzle Chandler, Hugo, major P.E.; Paul Hafner, Dallas, Texas, major drafting.

The freshmen are: Eddy Hicks, Wynnewood, Okla., major P.E.; Bobby Hicks, Achille, Okla., major P.E.; Greg Welch, Walters, Okla., major P.E.; Roy Baker, Butler, Okla., major P.E.; Toney Collins, Fort Towson, Okla., major P.E.; Brad Walek, Tecumseh, Okla., major pre law; Lin-

The new manager adding spirit to the team is Dwight Davison from Tulsa.

With practice starting in mid-October, Coach Wayne Cobb says, "We are expecting big things from our schedule this year."

The schedule, including tournaments, consists of 35 games of which the Black Hawk Invitational in Burlington, Iowa, on November 25-27, will be first.

MSC Task Force Plans Ahead for Next 10 Years

In accordance with guidelines established by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, Murray State College has formed a Task Force Committee to make an in-depth study for formulating a long-range institutional plan.

The plan is expected to outline the aims and objectives of the institution during the next ten years and assign priorities to each of the proposed projects.

The committee was called for by the State Regents for Higher Education in their report "Oklahoma Higher Education: A Plan For The 70's." In this report, the Regents stated, "... each institution in the State System should develop a long-range educational plan consistent with the statewide plan which would contain the institution's educational programs proposed to be developed over the decade of the 1970's. Upon the approval of its master plan by the State Regents, each institution should work systematically toward the development of its long-range program on a scheduled basis."

Members of the Task Force Committee are: Jack Reid, chairman; Ralph Benham; Jim Conway; Louise Craven; Harold Fogelman; Joan Kimbrough; Louvee Montooth; Joe Reid, and Dennis Toews.

Dr. Clyde Kindell noted that various sub-committees would be appointed by the Task Force group to study the institution's needs and make recommendations. He urged that individuals contacted by the committees make every effort to assist with the project in any way they can.

Statistics Show Gen. Ed. No. 1

A record-breaking 899 students have enrolled for classes at Murray State College during the fall semester, making the largest enrollment in the school's history.

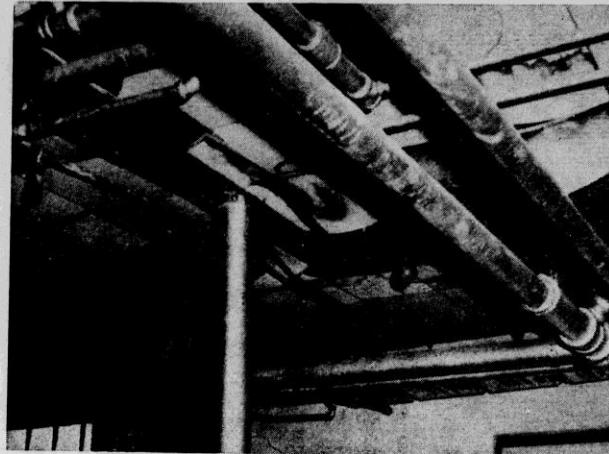

General education continues to lead the field in number of majors, with a total of 436. Second in number of students is technical education with 149, followed by agriculture with 144. Rounding out the top four areas of study is business, with total enrollment of 95 students.

Men students still out-number the women, as they always have. There are 528 male students enrolled, compared to 331 female students.

Class breakdown shows the freshmen as the largest class with 497 enrolled. The sophomore class consists of 289 students, and there are a total of 83 special students.

Johnston county furnished the largest number of students to Murray with 242. Second in supplying Murray was Carter county 189, followed by Garvin and Murray counties, each with 29 students.

Murray students came this year from 42 Oklahoma counties, five other states (Alabama, Georgia, Kansas, New York and Texas) and three foreign countries (Iran, Japan and Ethiopia).

A LOT OF REPAIR will be needed before the Murray State College Commuter Lounge will be completed. The south side of the room which is to be the locality of lounge, will be in a bad need for roof repair before it will be opened later next semester.

Sen. Bill 214 Comes Up With Answers

(EDITOR'S NOTE) During the last legislative session, Senate Bill 214 was passed, calling for a study to be performed by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education to determine the feasibility of placing predominant emphasis on technology at Murray State College, changing the name of the institution to Murray State College of Technology, and establishing a separate governing board for Murray, removing it from the control of the Board of Regents of Oklahoma A&M Colleges. Several questions were asked pertaining to situations which could develop as a result of the bill, provided the study deemed such changes feasible. Dr. Dan Hobbs, Academic Vice-Chancellor of the Higher Regents, has responded to those questions and his answers are given in the following article.

Q — Since the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education do not currently provide funds for non-credit courses, what would be the source of funds if the feasibility study indicated that non-credit courses were needed? How would additional funds be more readily available if the changes are made?

A — The factors currently used by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education in determining the operating budget needs of two-year institutions in the State System are considerably weighted by the number of student credit-hours anticipated to be produced. However, that does not prevent institutions from providing compensatory or other credit courses of a non-transfer type in their course offerings. In projecting the anticipated student credit-hours to be produced at institutions for determining operating budget needs, the State Regents do not differentiate between compensatory and "non-credit" type courses, and courses of a so-called "credit" variety. Therefore, there is already a mechanism by which so-called "non-credit" courses may be provided for regular students. Also, some additional funds are provided for the function of extension and public services, which may be utilized for the offering of non-credit type courses to adults and special students in the community.

Q — What assurance do the employees have that present fringe benefits, including retirement program, will be sustained at the present level?

A — Their provision of fringe benefits, including retirement programs, is a responsibility of institutional governing boards. Therefore, the number and extent of fringe benefits which might be provided by a new governing board cannot be accurately assessed. However, general consensus has been reached by all institutions in the State System in connection with retirement benefits. To my knowledge, all such institutions guarantee retirement benefits for their faculty and staff equal to 50 per cent of the employees' average salary during the last five years of service. As you probably know, this guaranteed figure is computed by adding the employee's benefits from the Oklahoma Teacher Retirement System and from the federal social security program. In the event that the sum generated from these two programs does not provide an amount equal to the guaranteed figure, the institution provides a monthly supplement to make up the difference.

With regard to benefits such as life insurance, hospitalization, etc., there is not the same kind of uniformity between and among the various institutional programs. However, I believe that all governing boards currently offer a package benefit program comparable to that provided by the Board of Regents for Agricultural and Mechanical Colleges. For example, a group of public two-year colleges having their own individual governing boards recently negotiated a life insurance program as a group. In addition, some of these institutions also have a program of hospitalization and medical benefits through Blue Cross-Blue Shield which is equal to or perhaps somewhat superior to the program under the A&M Board contract.

Q — Since the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education currently have constitutional authority to perform the feasibility study as the Bill directs, why must the Board have a statutory mandate to inaugurate the study?

A — This question was answered in connection with the public hearing held on the Murray State College campus last summer. It was then pointed out that the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education currently possess the Constitutional authority to determine the functions and courses of study at each institution in the Oklahoma State System of Higher Education. The State Regents therefore need no additional authority to conduct a review of the functions and programs of study at any institution in the State System. However, since the Oklahoma Legislature, the official mechanism through which the people of Oklahoma make known their needs and desires, requested that high priority be given to a study regarding the functions of Murray State College of Agriculture and Applied Science, the State Regents agreed to give special attention to the request.

The State Regents have been in process of studying the functions of all State System institutions on a systematic basis for the past several years, and have already completed a number of functional reassignments, including those for the Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts, Cameron College, Southeastern State College, and Claremore Junior College. The study of Murray's functions at this time is therefore neither singular nor unplanned, but has merely been moved up slightly in priority as a result of the legislative request contained in Senate Bill No. 214.

Q — Like other State supported two-year colleges, Murray State College is presently designated by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education to provide one-

New Lounge Being Processed, May Have Delay

A Commuter Lounge with many facilities for the use of Murray's drive-to-classes students is in the planning stage now and is to be completed during the spring semester.

The Murray Dames, who are in charge of producing this facility for commuters, will have to do a lot of "fixing up" before the lounge will be open.

The Dames now have financial support from three other major organizations to help with the production on a facility for the commuters.

The Rotary Club here at Tishomingo, the Student Senate and the Faculty Fraternity have all pledged their support on the lounge.

When the lounge is completed, it will contain lounge furnishings, various vending machines and will be able to hold the majority of commuters on campus.

A few things are quite noticeable that has to be repaired, as in the above photo, the roof for one thing is badly tattered and will no doubt be replaced.

The furnishings and machines will be chosen by the Dames for the Commuter Lounge. Commuters are expected to be interviewed for their ideas of what the lounge should contain.

It was hoped that the Lounge would be open by the Thanksgiving Holidays, but the schedule may be slowed down until the beginning of the next semester.

Election Set to Name Who's Who

An election will be held on Wednesday, October 20, in the lobby of the Student Union from 9-4 for nominations to Who's Who in American Junior Colleges. Each member of the student body may submit the names of 1-3 sophomores as possible recommendations for the award. From these nominations, faculty members will select 17 members to receive the Who's Who Award.

This award is given annually to 2% of the total student body. This honor comes in recognition of the merit and accomplishment (academic and activities) of superior service to the institution. This is a means to nationally honor those students who are the "VIP's" on MSC campus. The winners' names will appear in the 1971-1972 edition of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

EDITORIAL:

NFL, AFL, NCAA, High School . . . Why not Jr. College Football?

Why not? After a recent interview with President Clyde Kindel of MSC, it appears there are plenty of reasons for not having junior college football here at Murray. One good reason is a financial one. Because of the sport being an athletic one and used for the enjoyment of others, it cannot be supported by state funds. The sport would have to dig into other sources to finance a team. And the financial resources are very hard to come by at this institution.

With the enrollment below a thousand, the sport could not be supported well (financially) without draining other resources penniless. Before football was dropped quite a few years back, it was almost $20,000 in the hole, and that was way too much. So the process of elimination was the only solution.

Most students think that if the sport were re-entered in the athletic program there would be an increase in the number of students who would attend Murray

State. True, there would be. There would be those who played the sport, the ones who like to watch it, musicians for a marching band, and those who attend a college for the glory their school acquires from a good football team.

But, the students now, and the students in the future will have to wait until Murray State College has acquired an enrollment of one thousand students. The strange thing about this enrollment is that for the past 50 years Murray has never reached or come close to the one thousand mark until this year. It is to be seen whether Murray will ever reach this figure or not. Actually it's like a swinging door, someone has to push or pull it before the door opens wide. The school could take a chance on entering the sport and possibly get results in enrollment, or just wait around until the golden egg of one thousand students falls into its lap.

There is only one other junior college in Oklahoma that has a football team, Northeastern A&M, and their enrollment is well over the 1,200 mark. It would seem that Murray would want to boost its enrollment over this year's previous high.

Another point which is not to go unnoticed, is about the participation. With the participation Murray has, how long would this sport last, that depends on attendance? It's not like a high school, everyone participates in those, but no one forces participation here.

There are many aspects that complicate the task of forming a team, of getting a sport like this to interest enough students to come to Murray and make this sport financially stable. But this task is not left up to the students, it's left up to the administration and the board of regents. Whatever they feel that this institution can afford and needs, they are more able to decide when is the best time to re-introduce an interesting sport like football to Murray State College.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"SO I SAID: LOOK YOU DIRTY STRING-HAIRED, LOUDBMOUTH, CHRONIC MALCONTENT-OF-A-STUDENT! JUST COME ALONG TO THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING AND WE'LL SEE WHO IS RUNNING THIS CLASS - YOU OR ME!!"

COMMENT:

One of the main problems here at Murray State, is the lack of communication. It's not between student and teacher or vice-versa, it's between the resident and non-resident students. Between the students who live here on campus, and those who commute.

One might think, that this problem is irrelevant and does not need an answer. Those students who commute compose 55% of the entire student body. With this percentage of over half, they deserve half the say on how this institution is run. If it is noticed, by those who see the problem, there are only two commuters on this campus in the Student Senate.

What's more, the commuters participate less in interscholastic activities than the ones on campus. The resident students have, within the campus grounds, a snug little community of their own with the "commuter rejects" as their minority group.

However, every story has two sides. Although commuters do not participate in some of the college's activities, they do not seem to go out of their way to complain or relieve the problem themselves. So, each side shares the same amount of blame.

Some things are being done to help the commuters. The Murray Dames are spearheading a group to construct a commuter lounge. But this still does not help in any way the communication problem. If the lounge is not used, the money, the time and the effort on the lounge will be wasted for a long shot.

What this problem needs, is some way, or some organization on this campus to get commuters interested in what this institution does have to offer, and to take advantage of it. With a closer bond between the commuters and the resident students of Murray State, the institution as a whole will have a much stronger student body. Which, in the end, will produce a much more desirable college to attend.

Nurses Meet—

scheduled for District Six, was held in the Ballroom of the Murray State College Student Union. Guest speaker was Miss Frances Waddle, R.N., Executive Director of the Oklahoma Board for Nurse Registration and Nursing Education.

"Abstract For Action" grew out of a recommendation by the Surgeon General's Consultant Group on Nursing in 1963 which called for a national investigation of nursing education. As a result, the National Commission for the Study of Nursing and Nursing Education was formed and funded by the Kellogg and Avalon Foundations, and by private benefactors. Under the direction of Dr. Jerome Lysaught, the group began its work in 1968 and published the "Abstract For Action" in mid-1970.

The study found three primary problems in nursing, (1) the rising need for care, (2) changed economics of health, and (3) growing interdependence of care.

From the study came three major recommendations concerning nursing education. First, "The federal Division of Nursing, the National Center for Health Services Research and Development, and other governmental agencies, and private foundations appropriate grant funds or research contracts to investigate the impact of nursing practice on the quality, effectiveness, and economy of health care."

Second, the Commission recommended "Each state designate a master planning committee that will take nursing education under its purview, such committees to include representatives of nursing, education, other health professions, and the public, to recommend specific guidelines, names for implementation, and deadlines to ensure that nursing education is positioned in the mainstream of American educational patterns."

The third major recommendation of the Commission states that, "A national Joint Practice Commission, with state counterpart committees, be established between Medicine and Nursing to discuss and make recommendations concerning the congruent roles of the physician and the nurse in providing quality health care, with particular attention to: the rise of the nurse clinician; the introduction of the physician's assistant; the increased activity of other professions and para-professions in areas long assumed to be the concern solely of the physician and/or the nurse."

Miss Waddle noted that nursing education suffers from lack of funds to enable it to provide the type of quality education which the public demands of it. "Our salvation," she stated, "could be lying in Congress right now, held up in committee," referring to the Nurse Training Act of 1971; H.R. 8630, currently pending before a Congressional Conference Committee. If enacted, the bill would provide construction grants, guaranteed loans for the construction of nonprofit private schools of nursing, special project grants, institutional grants, start-up grants, traineeships, student loans, and scholarships.

The next meeting of the District Six group will be held at Memorial Hospital of Southern Oklahoma in Ardmore on Nov. 8.

Senate Bill—

fourth of its faculty resources in the development of technical education. Because of the lack of funds, the Oklahoma State Regents of Higher Education have not approved requests from Murray State College for technical courses now pending before them. What provisions are made for the Board to fund more technical courses?

A — The State Regents currently determine the operating budget needs of institutions through a functional or generalized approach, under the assumption that most two-year colleges probably offer educational programs of like type and number. Under such an approach, it is assumed that most two-year institutions will attempt to offer approximately one-fourth of their courses in vocational-technical fields, with the remaining three-fourths to be offered in general education and pre-professional areas. In other words, because all existing two-year colleges currently have the same functions, and since the State Regents budget by function rather than by educational program, all institutions receive virtually the same amount of resources per capita.

In the event that the State Regents change the functions of an institution (such as is contemplated under Senate Bill No. 214), that institution would become eligible for additional funding in order to underwrite any additional functions allocated. It would no longer be necessary to maintain equity between institutions of like function, since an institution with unique functions could be funded in a unique manner. A case in point is the Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts, which has both a unique set of functions and a unique budget-building pattern.

Q — In line 4, Section 1 of the Bill, the word "predominant" instead of "greater" is used. Does this not establish a statutory mandate that would restrict the latitude of the feasibility study?

A — The origin of the word "predominant" in the language of Senate Bill No. 214 has been discussed at considerable length on several occasions on the campus at Murray State College. The State Regents do not consider the language of the bill to be prescriptive or unduly inhibiting to the conduct of the feasibility study.

Q — Murray State College is currently serving under a constitutionally established Governing Board. What benefits would a statutory Board provide that the present constitutional Board does not provide?

A — With regard to this question, there are two substantive issues to be resolved. First, there is the question as to whether a constitutional governing board is superior to that of a statutory board. Second, there is the question as to whether an institution is better served by having its own individual governing board or by existing under a governing board which has several institutions under its care.

Concerning the first question, the State Regents have not arrived at a policy decision as to whether a constitutional board or a statutory board is to be preferred. There are numerous examples of both good and bad governance on the part of both types of boards. With regard to the second question, the State Regents recently adopted the following policy position, as contained in Recommendation 16 of the recent publication "Oklahoma Higher Education: A Plan For the '70s": "The organization for governmental control of Oklahoma's public higher education system should be restructured to provide for a consistent pattern whereby a separate governing board would be provided for each institution. The Oklahoma Legislature and the Governor should be advised of this recommendation and be urged to support its implementation."

Q — What is the delineation between technical and vo-technical subjects? Will they be offered for college credit or will they be non-credit courses?

A — The State Regents have not defined the term "technical" with regard to the assignment of institutional functions. However, an operational definition of sorts has been arrived at through common practice, to the effect that technical education is that which is post-high school in nature and which has a theoretical undergirding. Vocational education, on the other hand, might be offered either at the high school or post-high school level, but would not have the theoretical undergirding provided through advanced mathematics and/or scientific subjects.

It would be assumed that a college with the term "technology" in its title would give considerably greater emphasis to technical subjects and programs than to those of a vocational nature, although the latter would not necessarily be ruled out where such were appropriate to the interest and ability levels of the students to be served. It would be further assumed that a collegiate institution would offer all or an overwhelming majority of its courses for college credit, although some of such credit might be of a non-transfer nature or be only narrowly applicable for some certificate programs.

Q — Can the same type of new programs be put into effect under our existing structure? If not, why not? If so, why do we need these changes?

A — Because Murray State College of Agriculture and Applied Science already has a few programs which might be classified as technical in nature, it is obvious that new programs of the same type can be offered under the existing structure. However, it is also obvious that the existing structure has not produced the kind of flourishing institution which is attractive to students and which meets the needs of the young people and citizens in the geographic area of service. Had the institution been able to achieve viability under its present structure, neither the State Regents nor the Oklahoma Legislature would currently be concerned with an attempt to infuse life and energy through changes in its functions and governmental structure. It follows that some kind of mechanism is needed to provide for a new start and to project a new institutional image for the benefit of prospective students and the public at large.

Q — Must a name change include the word "technology"? Would the opportunities to secure funds be curtailed or enhanced by the use of the name?

A — Under the Oklahoma Constitution, the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education are given the responsibility for determining standards of education, functions and programs of institutions in the State System, and for recommending to the Legislature the budget needs of institutions. The Oklahoma Legislature exercises the prerogative of establishing institutions initially and for determining the names by which institutions are known. Therefore, the Legislature is responsible for changing the name of the institution from Murray State College of Agriculture and Applied Science to Murray State College of Technology. The new name would go into effect automatically in the event that the State Regents find it feasible to change the functions of the institution to give predominant emphasis to technical education. Whether or not the institution's opportunities to secure funds will be curtailed or enhanced by the use of the new name would be difficult to assess. However, the word "Technology" has not appeared to inhibit the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which ranks number one in the nation in securing federal funds for its operation.

Q — Would the implementation of these changes have any negative effects on Murray State's affiliation with North Central?

A — The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools accredits institutions primarily according to the level of their operation, and only secondarily with regard to the educational programs offered within that level. Once an institution is accredited by the North Central Association at a given level, that institution may offer additional programs at that level without seeking the approval of the accrediting agency, provided that such programs are operated in a qualitative manner consistent with the standards maintained in existing educational programs. It is unlikely that Murray State College has felt the need to consult with the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools before adding the technical programs which have come into being within the past two or

Halloween Carnival Set For October 28

The Murray Dames will be sponsoring a Halloween Carnival and Goblin Hop here on campus on Thursday, October 28. Along with the carnival a Halloween Carnival Queen will be crowned.

The queen contest will be open to any clubs or organizations that will want to sponsor a queen during the event. Through the process of elimination, the queen candidates will be narrowed down to five. Each of the five remaining candidates will be given a jar in which the student body will place a penny for the favorite girl of their choice. The pennies will represent the number of votes that are cast for each of the girls. The girl with the most pennies will be the Halloween Queen.

After the carnival closes there will be a goblin hop from 9 p.m. till midnight sponsored by the Student Senate. The dance, according to the Senate, will be a closed one, except for non-student dates of Murray students will be admitted. I.D.'s are necessary and admission is free.

three years. Neither should the institution feel any apprehension with regard to the effect that a name change might have concerning its affiliation with the accrediting agency.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"A LITERARY MASTERPIECE -- I'VE NEVER IN MY LIFE SEEN A TEST WITH SO MANY AMBIGUOUS QUESTIONS."

A ROUGH AND READY bull comes out of the chute with Benny Thompson hanging on with all he has. The bulls that day were the easiest to ride, with only one of nine contestants in bronc riding completing the eight-second ride.

Large Crowd Attends MSC Buckout

The Murray State Rodeo Club held its annual buckout Sunday, Oct. 9 at the TeePee Rodeo Arena east of Tishomingo. The buckout was limited to 20 bull riders and 15 bareback riders with the horses and bulls being furnished by the Bucking S Rodeo Stock Contracting Co. from Lawton, Oklahoma.

The Bucking S horses proved to be too much for the cowboys with only one of the nine entered completing the required eight second ride. Corkey Holman won $67.50 for his efforts and the remaining eight cowboys collected $5.62 in ground money.

In the bull riding, Rick Jones collected $125.00 for first place, David Weger hauled in $65.00 for second and David Fine took home $50.00 for third.

An estimated attendance of 350 was on hand to cheer on the cowboys in the buckout and the contestants in the Tishomingo Round-Up Club sponsored jackpot calf roping, steer roping and junior and senior girls' barrel racing that was held after the M. C. Rodeo Club's show.

The official judges for the entire show were Coach Wayne president. Emma Jones, Rodeo Cobb, sponsor of the Rodeo Club, Club secretary-treasurer, was one and Fred Fitzgerald, Rodeo Club of the official time keepers.

JERRY SMITH, Murray student, knows how it feels to be up in the world as he hangs on his bronc until the moment of his departure.

ALAN McDONALD is looking for some blocking to get past the defense of the opposing team. The Intramural football and softball ended last week with three shut-outs and one forfeit. Coach Dean Ross announced that all team rosters for intramural basketball teams should be in his office by Oct. 20.

20,000 Dollar Unit Furnished

Approximately $20,000 worth of electronics equipment was furnished to Murray State College recently by the State Department of Technical Education.

According to electronics instructor Donnie Williams, the new equipment will be used basically for electricity and electronics classes and, he said, "should allow us to do a much better job, especially in the basic courses."

The equipment consists of oscilloscopes, power generators, volt meters, tube testers, signal generators, laboratory benches and stools and electricity-electronic experimental kits.

"These experimental kits," said Williams, "are something we have really been needing. Primarily, they contain mounted electronic components which the students can assemble to gain a real working knowledge of the applications of electrical fundamentals."

According to R. B. Brisco, chairman of the Murray engineering-technology department, this delivery brings the total donations to the technology area up to approximately $250,000 this year alone. Among these is a $180,000 IBM 1401 computing system, donated to Murray by the International Business Machines Corp.

8 Full Length Films To Be Shown by SS

Full length feature motion pictures are coming to the Murray State Campus next spring. Eight films are to be scheduled during the spring semester. The Student Senate is sponsoring the films and will absorb most of the cost of the films. There will be a nominal fee of 25 to 30 cents, the price as of this printing has yet to be determined, per student showing a Murray State Student I. D. The films will be shown in Fletcher Auditorium and will also be open to the non-student but at an increase in price.

Rick Griffin, Student Senate President, appointed a committee to select the films from a list of 25 film titles furnished by the Student Senate. Members of the committee were Dale Nye, June Freeman, Elaine Pitman, Deloris Jones and Dennis Freeman.

The eight films that were selected were The Wild Bunch, The Learning Tree, Bullet, Up the Down Staircase, Sex and the Single Girl, The Shuttered Room, Four for Texas, and The Story of Will Rogers. The remaining films that were nominated by the Senate but not chosen by the committee were Giant, The Arrangement, Bonnie and Clyde, Camelot, The Performance, Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolf?, The Heart is a Lonely Hunter, Naked Under Leather, The Illustrated Man, None But the Brave, Reflections in a Golden Eye, Othello, Dead Ringer, Bramble Bush, The Bad Seed and Guns of Darkness.

Trick or Treats-Over, Name Change to MSC Technology

(From The Capital-Democrat)
Gov. David Hall last Friday told a group of Tishomingoans, representatives of farm organizations and Murray College faculty and students he wanted to "move quickly" on naming a separate board of regents for Murray "and the sooner we get a board the better. I believe every college should have its own board."

But the governor did give three assurances to the group:

1. He will recommend the legislature consider deleting the word "predominate" in Senate Bill 214 that calls for Murray State College to "give predominate emphasis to technical education";
2. He will request the Higher Regents' legislative committee to grant a special hearing to the group;
3. He gave assurance that the importance of agriculture instruction at the college would not be diminished.

The individuals appearing before the governor did so at the request of State Representative Kenneth Converse who stated he would ask that the governor back a proposal to repeal S. B. 214 of which Converse was listed as co-author in the House. The representative called the measure "a mistake."

(Regents for Higher Education approved a resolution putting S.B. 214 in effect as of Nov. 1 at their Oct. 28 meeting. The bill calls for changing the name of Murray State College of Applied Science and Agriculture to "Murray State College of Technology," removes the college from under the A&M Board of Regents and creates a 7-member board of regents for Murray; and calls for the college to "give predominate emphasis to technical education while retaining the normal two-year academic program.")

OSU Board Will Challenge State Regents Decision in Okla. Court

The Board of Regents for the Oklahoma A&M Colleges has challenged the authority of the governor, the attorney general, the legislature and the State Regents for Higher Education to take over the administration of Murray State College in Tishomingo, which the A&M board and its predecessors have supervised since 1908.

A&M Regents Chairman Herman Duncan of Muskogee said a lawsuit on behalf of the A&M board was filed on Nov. 3 in an Oklahoma county district court by the board's legal counsel, E. Moses Frye.

It contends the A&M regents' powers to control and administer Murray are established by the Oklahoma constitution and can not be changed except by Oklahoma voters.

It asks the court to rule on this question of constitutional authority and to restrain the governor, the legislature, and the state regents from taking any action about Murray until this question is decided.

This legal move follows a proclamation last week by the state

Just prior to the governor appearing before the group, Converse conferred with Hall and came out and reported, "The governor is committed on this."

In his opening remarks to approximately 30 persons—including Sen. Bob Trent, author of S. B. 214—Gov. Hall said, "This measure has been in operation for over a year . . . I will not encroach on the legislative prerogative . . . I would not tell them they are wrong."

The governor said that in appointing regents for Murray he will name persons whose "philosophy" is sympathetic to agriculture.

In opening remarks Converse stated to Trent, "I didn't help draft it (the bill), I've done some soul searching. I don't agree with you on it."

Senator Trent made no remarks before the group but had conferred earlier with the governor.

Converse asked John Lokey, C.D. publisher, to begin the statements. Lokey stated that, "during the past year the college has attained its greatest growth so something must be being done right." He outlined interest of the community in all measures to assist the college and termed "unfortunate" that the goals sought in S. B. 214 were "perhaps misunderstood by townspeople, faculty, students and alumni because of the untimely scheduling of meetings and conferences regarding it."

The publisher stated that perhaps the greatest stumbling blocks to united efforts under S. B. 214 were misunderstandings over the import of the word "predominate," the role of agriculture in the future at the college and the need for assurances that the final results would not be creation of a vocational school.

Speaking briefly on the importance of the agriculture role of Murray State and expressing their concern were Clarence Burch, Johnston county rancher and internationally known breeder of registered Angus cattle, Dave Foster, executive secretary of the Oklahoma Grange, and George Stone, executive secretary of Oklahoma Farmers Union.

Dennis Toews, head of the music department at Murray, began reading a 3-page typewritten statement but was asked by Converse to submit it to the governor as available time was running short.

It was then that Dr. Clyde R. Kindell pulled a prepared statement from his pocket, asked to be heard and read a statement that ended by asking the governor to investigate the conduct of Chancellor E. T. Dunlap's office.

Replacements Club Selects

During their last meeting, the International Club produced some new changes. Abbas Hafezi informed the club members that he could no longer continue as the club's current president, also Mike Hicks handed in his resignation as Student Senate Representative for the club. The members then proceeded to elect Hamid Naraghi the vice-president, to the office of president. Homayon Jatala was elected vice-president and Roger Allen as the Student Senate Representative.

Pres. Kindell Speaks to SS at Luncheon

A student advisory council is to be appointed by the Murray State College Student Senate for the purpose of increasing communication between students and the administration in general and Dr. Clyde Kindell, president, in particular.

This decision was reached at a Student Senate luncheon on Nov. 4 at which Dr. Kindell expressed a desire to improve campus communication.

The Student Senate will appoint to the advisory council one commuter from outside of Johnston county, an Indian student, a foreign student, a black student, a married student, and a girl from the women's living quarters. In the event that all of these appointees should be freshmen or all sophomores, one more student will be appointed from the class not represented.

The purpose of the advisory council will be to discuss with Dr. Kindell and all problems which the students are facing or simply to relate general ideas which students may have to improve Murray State College.

Dr. Kindell also spoke to the Senate about establishing one day per week when he will be available to all students to talk about problems of the college. "These problems will be two-way," Dr. Kindell said. "I want not only to talk to students about problems which the college faces, but also about problems of the individual students. Hopefully, these proposals will be of great value in improving communications and rapport between the college and the students it seeks to serve."

regents changing the name of the Tishomingo school to the Murray State College of Technology and also its educational functions and programs.

The state regents had been asked to make a study of Murray by the 1971 Oklahoma legislature under Senate Bill 214, authored by Senator Bob Trent (D) of Caney.

The senate bill further stated "there shall be created a board of regents for Murray State College of Technology, which will have the governing control of the property, assets and obligations of Murray State College of Agriculture and Applied Science, thereby taking Murray State College from under the control of the Board of Regents for the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical Colleges."

A&M Regents Chairman Duncan answers this way: "The governance of Murray State College was conveyed to the A&M regents by Oklahoma voters in 1941 and is plainly spelled out in the Oklahoma constitution for all to see."

"What people vote to take onto themselves, the people should be allowed to keep for themselves, and should not be taken away unless voted by themselves," Duncan said.

This section of the Oklahoma constitution reads, "the various boards of regents or boards of control, now in existence or hereafter created, of the constituent institutions of higher education shall have custody and control of the books, records, buildings, and physical properties of said institutions, the supervision, management, control, and the power to make rules and regulations governing such institutions, and shall fix the salaries of, and appoint or hire all necessary officers, supervisors, instructors, and employees for the same."

Duncan said the key phrases are "boards of control, now in existence or hereafter created, of the constituent institutions of higher education, shall have . . . supervision, management, control and the power to make rules and regulations governing such institutions . . ."

He said reference to control boards "hereafter created" means for new institutions, such as Tulsa Junior College and Claremore Junior College.

"The constitutional authority over existing institutions by existing boards of regents which has continued for the past 30 years should not be usurped arbitrarily by any person or groups," Duncan stated. All 20 state-supported colleges and universities have such boards.

"This is a friendly lawsuit," Duncan emphasized. "But, the A&M regents are sincere in our beliefs and contention that Murray and the other three A&M colleges at Connors, Miami and Wilburton are all under our administration."

"As laymen, we always wish to be responsive to the people we represent and to make changes the people would like. If changes appear desirable, then our board will be glad to consider them. The authority to make the changes belongs to us," he said.

Legal counsel Frye pointed out that under state law the legislature can change the name of Murray (Continued on Page 4)

Club Sponsors Road Rally

The Engineering and Technology Society will sponsor a computer controlled Road Race on Saturday, November 13. It will be the first computer controlled road race in the club's history. The computer will tabulate the information radioed back from various check points.

The course of the rally was prepared by three teams. Each team went out one-by-one to make the course. The three teams then got together and put the information they all collected and coordinated it all together. This information will be what makes the map and speed rules that each driver and navigator must follow. Points will be taken away from the driver if the speed and signs are not followed exactly, and the tabulation of these will be made by the computer.

To enter the road race, you must pay an entry fee of $2 per car, and the driver of the car must have a navigator. At 9:00 Saturday morning each driver will be given the rules and map of the area that must be covered to win.

Prizes will be given to the winners of the race. First prize will be $25.00, second $15.00, and third $5.00. If you want to enter the race, either contact Jerry King, Dennis Freeman, or Chuck Blehm and pay the entry fee. Everyone is eligible to enter the race, including non-students. For more information pick up a copy of the rules from any member of the Engineering and Technology Society.

Play Planned For Dec. 9

On December 9, the Fine Arts and the Language Arts Departments will combine their talents into a Christmas play entitled "SCROOGE" which is taken from Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol." Tryouts for the play were held on Thursday, November 4 at 6:30 in Fletcher Auditorium. Tryouts were open to anyone on campus. Students trying out read all the character parts in the play.

Mrs. Fogleman, Mr. Poe and Mr. and Mrs. Toews will be working together combining music, dance and drama in the play. Mr. Poe and Mr. Toews are anticipating on having an evening performance for the college students and adults, and a matinee performance for the grade school children.

LT.-GOV. GEORGE NIGH was featured as the guest speaker for the B&PW buffet held here at Murray in the student union ballroom. Here he receives a banana-strawberry pie, which he requested, from Mrs. Montooth.

Short Personal Opinions

Campus Day Date Is Set

November 30 has been designated by the Student Senate as Campus Day, here at Murray State.

The day is planned beginning at 9:40 with a pep assembly in the gym. At 2:00 a talent show will be given, and from 4:30 to 6:00 there will be a smorgasboard in the cafeteria. At 6:00 there will be a reception between the faculty and parents in the student center ballroom followed at 6:30 with two basketball games, The Aggie-Eltes vs. Claremore J. C. and the Aggies vs. Potosi J. C. From 10:00 to 12:00 there will be a dance in the ballroom of the student union.

In the afternoon of the 30th there will be open house in all the dormitories, and there will be club exhibits in the student center. During the halldances, the Meanest Teacher award will be given and the Campus Day Queen crowned.

Any club or organization may have a queen candidate for Campus Day. The Student Senate requested that the names of the nominees be given to the senate by Wednesday, November 10.

The talent show that is to be given derives from talent coming from this college. Any group or individual that wishes to participate in this talent show must contact Orville Cottrell for an entry blank. The entries must be turned in before 5 p.m. November 22.

The Student Senate vetoed two proposals during the past month on the subject of co-sponsorship of other clubs. In other words, financial support. It would appear that these organizations would be productive enough as to go out of their way as the Phi Beta Lambda has to make their own financial stability better, instead of asking for free handouts from the Senate.

A subject which needs to be touched is the so-called reporters of the clubs and organizations.

Intra. Football Reaches Climax

The Lizards defeated the Rough Recruits in the intramural football semi-finals last Tuesday afternoon 26-6. Ronnie Perryman scored two Lizard touchdowns.

One score was on a 60 yard run through the middle of the Rough Recruits' defense. Perryman's other run came on a 6 yarder through the middle.

Kenneth Gregston scored the next touchdown on a pass play of 15 yards from quarterback Harry Wershman.

David Bingman scored the last touchdown on a 5 yard run to increase the Lizards' lead.

Keith Foreman scored the only touchdown for the Rough Recruits as he ran for the 40 yards and the six points.

The Brown Souls defeated the Lizards Thursday afternoon in the finals to win the championship.

The Aggie staff has neither the patience nor time to go to each of the thirteen clubs, to ask what they have been doing or what they plan to do. Each of the organizations elect a reporter to do this particular job, and if they can't maintain it, they should elect someone who can. After all, the people on the Aggie staff are not mind readers, we do not know what each of the clubs are doing. We also cannot write anything down if we do not have the information that the reporters are supposed to give us. With this in mind, if the reporter does not furnish information to the paper, we will understand that the club does not want any publicity.

Navy Team To Be On Campus

A Navy Information Team will be at Murray November 10-11 to explain officer programs available for freshmen through graduate students. The team will be located in the lobby of the Student Center.

The team will explain the programs available which will enable a student to graduate from college before reporting for active duty and will also administer qualification tests without obligation.

All programs lead to a commission as a Naval Officer and several programs are open to women as well as men.

Carnival Success, Woods Named Queen

The Murray Dames held their annual Halloween Carnival in the Student Union of Murray State College on Oct. 28. The booths, sponsored by individual clubs of Murray State, included disc throwing, penny tossing, dart throwing, a haunted house, football throwing, bean guessing and powder puff throwing which seemed to be the most popular with Mr. Alloway and Mr. Semkoff being the favorite targets of the students.

The Student Senate sponsored a dance that followed the carnival in which the Carnival Queen was crowned. Diana Woods, a sophomore business major from Moore, Oklahoma, reigned over the dance as this year's queen. The runners-up to the queen were Bobbie Anderson, a sophomore nursing major from Midwest

City; Ann Brown, a sophomore secretarial major from Coleman; and Joyce Colbert, a freshman psychology major from Ardmore.

Music was furnished by the Majestics, a group in which Keith Russel, a sophomore at Murray State, plays lead guitar.

AFTER THE CROWNING of the queen, Rick Griffin, Student Senate President, had the first dance with the newly crowned queen, Diana Woods.

Tribesman Staff Chosen

UPWARD BOUND ON CAMPUS

Fifty-two Upward Bound students, representing 26 highschools in the Shawnee area visited Murray State College October 28.

Kenneth Meeler, Director of Public Relations at Murray, saw the students were welcomed in a general assembly by Murray's President, Clyde R. Kindell.

The students then had lunch in the cafeteria. After lunch, Mr. Meeler discussed the educational programs and some general information about Murray.

The students were then taken on a tour of Murray's Campus.

The 71-72 Tribesman staff this year had quite a bit of difficulty in getting a full staff together. For nearly the whole first nine week period both the editor and the co-editor were hard to recruit. This year's editor will be Sandy Park, a Business major from Fox, and her co-editor is Debbi Hamilton, also a Business major, from Tishomingo.

The American Yearbook Company landed the contract again this year at Murray. So far the book has not been started but the staff will have its first regular meeting sometime this week.

 ray, if it wishes, and can delegate to state regents the power to determine its function.

However, Frye said the A&M Board contends in its lawsuit that neither the legislature nor the state regents have the proper authority to define what an A&M college should be, nor to remove it from control of a constitutional governing board, nor to create a new governing board.

"Under present Oklahoma law, as long as Murray State College of Agriculture and Applied Science carries on any agricultural and mechanical functions, it is in fact an agricultural and mechanical college, and by constitutional authority, is to be governed by the Agricultural and Mechanical regents, notwithstanding the fact that Senate Bill 214 may add technology functions to it and change its name to Murray State College of Technology," Frye explained.

History of College Told
 Murray State was founded on May 20, 1908, by an act of the first Oklahoma legislature which provided for three district secondary agricultural schools, now known as Murray, Connors, and Cameron. Each was to teach "agriculture and mechanics and allied branches, and domestic science, and economics."

In 1920 the governing of Murray was transferred to the State Board of Agriculture and the school began offering two years of college studies. In 1944 Murray and the A&M colleges by vote of the people came under control of the A&M regents.

In 1955 its name was changed from Murray State School of Agriculture to Murray State Agricultural College, and in 1967 to Murray State College of Agriculture and Applied Science.

Chairman Duncan's complete statement also includes the following:

"Early settlers in Oklahoma realized the values and benefits to be gained by education and made great sacrifices to establish schools, colleges and universities, almost as soon as they staked their claims to the land.

"The founders of our colleges and universities, both public and private—sensitive to the need for intellectual freedom and the desirability of protecting faculties, students and administration of the institutions from interference—created governing boards of laymen to whom the responsibility for the welfare and perpetuation of the institution was trusted.

"Thus, colleges and universities are of the people, by the people, for the people.

"Legislative council studies and court tests in Minnesota, Michigan and other states show that freedom from control by executive and legislative branches that is guaranteed by state constitutions is essential to a vigorous and productive system of higher education.

"Protecting the authority of boards of lay trustees from interference by the state is every bit as vital to the freedom of the college as is the preservation of freedom for teaching and research.

"A college or university damaged by arbitrary state intervention bears wounds that harm succeeding generations of students."

BILL MANUS, president of Phi Beta Lambda, adds the finishing touches to 206 N. Kemp Street as a project of the PBL. The club is painting street numbers on the curbs in front of all downtown stores. "We decided to try this project," said PBL sponsor John Patton, "because it would allow us to perform a service to the community as well as gaining funds for the club." 206 N. Kemp is the address of Cobb Lumber Company, which donated the paint necessary for the project.

Field Trips Made By Gov't. Class

Mr. Vernon's Government classes are looking forward to a field trip to Ada. This trip will be to listen to civil cases tried in Pontotoc county. Another Government class taught by Mr. Vernon attended a trial in Ardmore. This group saw the selection of the jury and part of a trial of a woman who had been accused of shooting her husband. The most notable aspect of the selection of the jury seemed to show the prejudices of people.

Mr. Vernon stated that there will be a new class offered by the department next semester and urges everyone to enroll. This class will be Contemporary Affairs, which will be at 8:00 on Tuesdays and Thursdays. In this class the students will watch television and discuss current problems. The class will have liberal grading and students will receive one hour credit.

2 Intra. Sports Being Played

Intramural sports has lined up two categories of play which will probably run until the semester ends.

Coach Dean Ross has lined up the table tennis sport along with the intramural basketball. Ross also added that "the basketball this year has a lot more interest and participation than it did last year."

This year in table tennis intramurals, there are fourteen singles in the boys' category and two in the girls'. There are also three double teams which will play each other. "The games," Ross said, "will be played each Monday and Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the gym." The tennis matches started Oct. 27 and has played four games so far. Jatala defeated Gregston. Asagari won on a forfeited game. Joseth lost to Mashoon who played Williams (after winning on a forfeited game) with Williams winning, and placed him in the semi-finals.

The intramural basketball will begin its season tonight at 6:30 in the gym. This year there are ten boys' teams and four girls'. These games will be played on the double elimination basis. Coach Ross said that "these teams will meet the finals before the Christmas vacation begins."

New Program Underway

In order to more fully meet the needs of the area which it serves, the agriculture department of Murray State College has advanced beyond offering only transfer courses and has embarked on a new program to produce qualified mid-management people in the agriculture field.

The new program, officially known as Farm and Ranch Management - Agriculture Business, will aim primarily at training young men to enter farming, ranching and agriculture-oriented business at the mid-management level.

"We will be able to turn out people who can step in and enter a farm or ranch with considerable practical knowledge," stated Harold Fogleman, chairman of the Agriculture Department at Murray. "We do not expect that these students can hire out immediately as managers of large farms or ranches, but they will certainly be qualified to at least begin serious training toward these positions."

Supplements Existing Program

The Farm and Ranch Management is designed to supplement the present agricultural programs. Current curriculum for present programs at Murray is designed primarily to fulfill the first two years of study for the baccalaureate degree. The students complete two years at Murray and then either terminate their education without having particular vocational skills, or they continue on at a four-year institution. The mid-management concept will allow a student to attend Murray for what is basically a two-year terminal program with practical applications.

"We have designed this program for the purpose of providing further agricultural training for high school graduates who do not have the academic capability and/or the desire to obtain a baccalaureate degree," Fogleman continued. "However, we realize that many of these students may want to continue their education after completing the program, so it is designed in an open-ended manner. This way, almost all of the courses could be transferred to a four-year college and counted toward a degree. In fact, if a student decided at the end of three semesters in the program that he wanted to get a four-year degree, he would not lose any credits. After completing the entire program, there would be some loss of credits, but the loss would be minimal."

Report 'Opens Eyes'

The decision to enter the mid-management field was based, at least to some extent, on a statement from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which accredits qualified colleges in the Oklahoma area. Their report noted that "Studies show that 60 per cent of those who enroll in agriculture do not graduate. Since agriculture is of prime importance in this area and in this institution, it would seem that this fact raises a serious question—why? Too little is known of these students and what happens to them. It is assumed that the training at Murray State has been of assistance to them. Has it? In what way? Could it be that the preoccupation with transfer programs is causing Murray to miss a golden opportunity in 'terminal' programs."

Fogleman noted that the report "opened our eyes a bit. We realize that we had been spending almost all of our time and resources trying to continue our existence as a traditional junior college, offering only the transfer-type programs and possibly not filling an important need in the area."

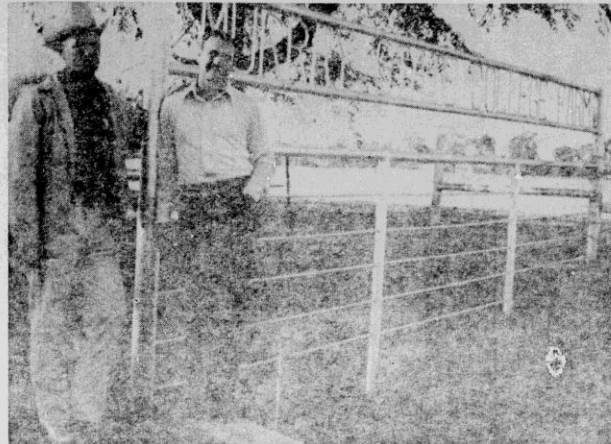

"We decided that our basic purpose had to be serving the needs of the people. When we began studying the possibilities of this particular program, we found that farmers and ranchers in the ten-county area from which Murray draws approximately 75 per cent of its students expressed real concern about the shortage of middle management personnel and skilled farm employees. This concern is the main reason we are entering the program. We only desire to be receptive to whatever needs are evidenced and to be relevant to the people's concerns."

Once the need for this type of program was recognized, an Advisory Board was formed to clarify what was needed for the program to be successful. The ten-member board will, according to Fogleman, "help us in evaluating and revising both the curriculum and the program itself periodically in order to insure that the program teaches the necessary skills for the mid-management personnel it will produce."

Fogleman feels that the Advisory Board will be invaluable in determining the direction which the program should take. "For the most part, these board members represent the people we are trying to serve and certainly they are in a position to relay to us exactly what types of training and skills the farmers and ranchers are needing."

Gary Heads List

A quick look at the members of the board is indeed impressive. Heading the list is former Oklahoma Governor Raymond Gary of Madill. Other members include: Bill Brannon, Marietta rancher; DIRECTING the new Murray State College Farm and Ranch Management Program will be David McCormick (l.), under the general supervision of Harold Fogleman, chairman of the agriculture department. The two-year terminal program is designed to prepare middle-management people in the area of agriculture, primarily in farm and ranch management positions.

Tom Burch, Mill Creek rancher; Bill Corbin, Conserveville rancher; Gene Mungle, Atoka dairy operator and milk processor; Rick Maloney, Duncan, representing the Oklahoma Pork Commission; Gus Martin, Coalgate rancher; Ernest Muncieff, Marlow vocational agriculture instructor; Les Roberts, Ardmore ranch manager; and Bill Sims, Colbert farmer and rancher.

In addition to providing guidance in the development and operation of the actual program, the Advisory Board will assist the Murray personnel in trying to place the students who complete the program, Fogleman observed. "The information collected by the College indicates that there are some 50 positions available right now in Southern Oklahoma alone for personnel with skills which will be taught in this program. Farming and ranching has become big business and trends have shown us that demands for people who are trained in the fundamentals of both business and agriculture are certainly going to be increasing."

Selecting the right person to head up the new program was no easy matter. "When we began looking for a program director, we felt that a man with the ability to communicate with area farmers and ranchers as well as students was a necessity. Also, some experience in teaching and livestock production was very desirable."

The search led to Hydro, Oklahoma, and David McCormick.

McCormick had been teaching vocational agriculture at Hydro High School for ten years and had spent six years teaching adult farm classes in livestock production and management. He was awarded the Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Education from Oklahoma State University in 1961 and has taken graduate-level courses at Southwestern State College and O.S.U.

The program will not be completely operational until the fall of 1972, but a few students will be accepted in the spring. McCormick said, "We plan to accept only a very few students for the spring semester, but by next fall, we hope to have 20 students enrolled in the program and our long-range plans call for us to be training and placing approximately 65 students within three years."

We the staff of the AggieLite wish you a Happy Thanksgiving. We hope you have a safe trip home, some decent food and a nice return back to MSC, that is for those who don't die of indigestion.

Brown, Bivins Take 1st Place In Road Rally

On Saturday, November 13, at 9:00, the Engineering and Technology Society staged their first computerized road rally race. The winning score of one hour and one minute was brought in by Jack Brown, the driver, and his navigator Larry Bivins in a yellow Volkswagen. Both boys are seniors at Tishomingo High School. Second place winners were Bobby Widerson and Pat Freeman bringing in a score of one hour and ten minutes in an Opel GT. A score of one hour and seventeen minutes was brought in by the third place winners Jerry Yochum and his navigator William French in a Dodge Station Wagon.

The race was mainly in the north part of Tishomingo. There were six check points, placed in strategic areas. Of the twenty six entries, only twenty-three ran, and only 30% finished the race. The race itself finished at 2:00 at the Tishomingo High School football field.

The president of the Engineering and Technology Society, Chuck Blehm, stated that the club may sponsor another rally next semester, but if the student participation isn't any better than this race, there will not be another one held.

TWO AREA high school boys walked, or you might say "drove," off with first prize at the first M. S. C. computerized Road Rally. The two boys, Jack Brown, the driver, and Larry Bivins, his navigator, are seniors at Tishomingo High School. They finished the route in one hour and one minute.

DARRELL BROWN, Steve Bracket and Rick Rose are the three place winners of the pool tournament. Bracket was the first place winner, second place was Brown and third place was Rose. The pool tournament was sponsored by the Student Senate and gave 1st, 2nd and 3rd place trophies to the winners. There were approximately 20 entries in the tournament.

Comment: By Jan Rogers

By Jan Rogers

Many of the students on Murray campus have gripes throughout the year. Often these gripes are worth hearing but the students never let them be known to anybody but other students. On the other hand complaints have been made to the faculty members and to the deans and still it seems as if nothing is ever changed to a great extent.

I asked many students what their biggest gripe was or what their improvements would be on Murray State College campus. Their answers were as follows:

"There is never anything to do. We need more recreation so you don't have to sit in the union."—Bobbi Chapman.

"It's dead."—Brenda Godgel.

"Can't find a place to keep my horse. Put a hitching post in front of the union."—Terry Wright.

"It's boring, we need more dances and stuff."—Patti Huffines.

"Girls' dorm hours. The girls should be able to leave their rooms after 11:00 at night."—Ann Holder.

"Not enough dances."—Barbara Hook.

"No drinking in the rooms."—L. K.

"Locking the fire escape doors after five."—June Freeman.

"The food in the cafeteria."—Estelle Finley.

"The girls' dorm rules. The girls are treated like kids."—Florence Johnson.

"Having to stay in your room after 11:00."—Hazzona Riley.

"The system of checks for punishment."—Linda Hamilton.

"Too boring. Not enough dances."—Steve Nail.

"Unfairness in relation to girls' Dorm rules."—Cynthia Pickens.

"Too strict curfews. There should be no curfews."—Dale Neeves, Lynn Hockett, Paul Halner.

"Dorm curfews and too boring."—Teresa Briggs.

"Restrictions on girls as far as having visitors, curfew hours, etc. are definitely too strict and old fashioned."—Richard Dickens.

"The food, tired of chicken fried steak."—No names.

"Union should be open on weekends."—Emma Jones.

"Nothing is open on weekends."—Wade Smith.

Are You Represented?

We, the student body, elect representatives to serve in the Student Senate. They represent our clubs, organizations, dorms and classes, but do they show equal and just representation for all? We call these people our student representatives, but are they? Or are they representatives of themselves? We elect them to serve students' purposes but do they? With open eyes and ears, I have heard and seen many people, including instructors, label the Student Senate as a "farce," and with close examination, one can see why.

If one visits the meetings of the senate, he will find that the business that is brought up is usually accepted or nullified, without even the consideration of discussion between the senate representatives and their constituents. The senator votes as he pleases, the power is his, whether constructive or destructive. Some proposals do leave the senate meetings, but rarely, issues like the selection of queen candidates and extra-curricular projects cannot be proclaimed by the representative, therefore, it must be chosen by the clubs' option.

One may also sense, during the presence of the election of appointees, the feeling of popularity voting. This campus is so full of popularity vote that one may wonder if it's becoming a tradition. Queen candidate voting, election of officers, representatives and particular office holders, Who's Who and a number of others are totally selected by popular vote. Some of these candidates may be very popular, but not a logical choice, but because he is popular he assumes the office.

In the Student Senate meeting November 10, seven people were selected to serve on the Student Advisory Council of the President of MSC. Some felt that these appointments were not in a justified manner, no verification of the qualifications of any of the members were made and the selections could be classified as another popularity voting spree. Somewhere along the line, the student senate is failing to do its job. Because whenever the president of the college has to select a committee which seeks out and acknowledges problems or suggestions made by the students, the senate representatives must be failing the students they represent.

Dr. Clyde Kindell devised a "mini-student senate," and in my opinion it's a good one. It has good equal representation that covers each and every kind of student on this campus and gives each and every student an opportunity to speak for himself. The council may not receive a standing ovation, but it gives each and every student on this campus a chance to express himself, which they haven't been able to do in the Student Senate.

The Student Senate has a lopsided majority. The senate is composed of two black students, one married student, one commuter inside Johnston county and none outside, no foreign students, one Indian and the rest are residential representatives. A minority of five to a majority of twenty-two, in my opinion, is not equal representation. The minority of students holds the majority of the senate and the majority holds a very slim minority. And this cannot express the whole views of the students of Murray, their wants, needs, expressions, suggestions or voice in the college.

Abraham Lincoln once quoted that the government is former, of the people, by the people for the people, and there is no reason why the Student Senate cannot be adjusted to the same basis.

Cleveland Brown Wins Tourney

The Ping Pong Tournament ended with at 21-17, 21-6 and 21-13 win for Cleveland Brown. Brown won games one and three. Game two went to James Williams, who Brown defeated in the finals. There were 14 contestants entered in the tournament.

Basketball results for the first week of intramural games were: Bearcats 33, Lizards 25; Rough Riders 56, Supporters 11; Moonshine Nine 29, BSU 22 (girls); Grasshoppers 27, Liberated Blacks 15; Bucks 30, BSU 32; Brown Souls 72, Bull Shippers 25; Bearcats 42, Bruins 49; Rough Riders 44, BSU 23; and Liberated Blacks 16, Moonshine Nine 17 (girls).

Tree Lighting Set For Dec. 2

The beginning of the Christmas season will be observed at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, December 2, with a Tree Lighting and Caroling Program, to be held on the north central Murray campus. This program is a joint effort of Murray Dames, the Student Senate and several civic clubs of Tishomingo.

The program will begin with the Tishomingo High School band marching up Murray Avenue playing "Jingle Bells." There will be group caroling, led by Mr. Robert Pearson, a special musical rendition by the Tishomingo High School Chorus, and a solo by Miss Johnice Brannon. Reverend Ted Maas will present a devotional message. The carols to be sung are "Joy to the World" and "Silent Night, Holy Night." The verses which will be sung are printed in this edition of The Aggie-lite.

Following the Tree Lighting Service, hot chocolate will be served to all present by the Tishomingo Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees and Lions Club, from the Murray parking lot north of the campus. Members of these clubs will also direct traffic in the area.

The Student Senate will provide the Christmas tree for the program and will act as ushers to escort the participants into a semi-circle around the Christmas tree. Murray Dames is a co-sponsor of this annual event and has acted as an organizer of the program.

All are invited to attend this short outdoor program.

Mr. Gerald Alloway said the lounge will be built and paid for by the faculty.

Anyone who is employed by Murray College can use the facilities. Students will not be allowed to use the lounge.

The staff lounge will be located in the west half of Fulton and the commuter lounge will be in the east half.

Vending machines will be located in a hall between the two lounges and will be used by both.

The lounge will be operated by a membership committee chosen by the staff. A fee will be charged faculty members who use the lounge.

DIDJA HEAR?

Did you hear about the beer-bout that got busted? A group of college students were really having a good time in a far off secluded place when their party was busted by the county sheriff. Little did they know that the county sheriff was building a home at the site where the party was in progress and happened to drop in unexpectedly. For the sheriff actually didn't know that a party was being held at his new home. Happy Birthday M. P.

Accounts to Be Cleared Before 1st. Term Ends

Bryan M. Kinney, Business Manager at Murray, announces that all student accounts should be paid in full by December 12, 1971.

Mr. Kinney said grades will not be issued until the accounts are paid. He gave two reasons why the school is so strict with the loans. One is because State Auditors audit the accounts at the end of every semester and Mr. Kinney feels it is his duty to be sure all accounts are paid in full. The second reason is because the money taken in from the accounts is used to help run the school.

Students who do have loans for the spring semester can now go to the business office anytime and get their checks. They can pay their tuition and keep $50 out for books.

Mr. Kinney also wanted to remind the students that the business office will gladly cash personal checks that are not over $10. He said the reason for this is because most local merchants don't want to worry about out of town checks from students.

On the outskirts of a small town in Pushmataha county, Okla., a sign warns: "Slow. No Hospital."

LAST CHANCE FOR PICTURE IN YEARBOOK

Students who have not had their picture made for the 1972 yearbook will have an opportunity to do so on Thursday, Dec. 16 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Lounge of the Student Union Building. A charge of $1 will be made and this will be the final deadline for these pictures.

Miss Viney is a nursing major and the daughter of Mrs. Corean Viney of Stringtown. Sharlotte was the first Black to ever achieve the honor of Campus Day Queen at Murray.

Sharlotte Viney, Crowned Queen, Tops Campus Day

Murray's 5th annual Campus Day festivities were held November 30. During the day, parents of students had a chance to mingle with the faculty, with other parents, and with the students. In the afternoon, open house was held in the dormitories allowing everyone to visit students' rooms.

At 2:00 p.m. a talent show was held in Fletcher Auditorium. There were approximately ten musical acts ranging from country and western to contemporary. While awaiting the judges' decision, the audience was entertained by exhibitions of judo and karate performed by Wayne Robins and Eugene Schultinkemper. The judges awarded Vaughn Wand first place for his presentation of "Old Man River." Second place went to Danny Glover for his lively guitar picking of Chet Atkins' medley of hits. Art Trujillo was awarded third place for his emotionally filled interpretation of "Theme from Love Story." Accompanying many of the acts was Joan McLaughlin on the piano, and Jerry Edwards on the drums.

At 4:30 a savory smorgasborg was held in the cafeteria for students and all visitors.

Highlighting the day's events was the awarding of the "Meanest Teacher of the Year" trophy, and the crowning of the annual Campus Day Queen during the half time of the boys' basketball game. This year's winner of the "Meanest Teacher of the Year" trophy was Mr. Arthur Vernon. Other teachers who vied for the title were: Mr. Nolan Arthur, Mr. John Edwards, Mr. John Patton and Mr. Palmer Mosley.

Miss Sharlotte Viney, escorted by Mike Jones, was chosen by popular vote by the students to reign as this year's Campus Day Queen. Miss Viney is the first Black student to ever receive this title on the Murray Campus. Runners up for the title were: first place—Emily Hilliard, escorted by Dale Dacus; second place—Bobbi Anderson, escorted by Mike Fagan; third place—Janis Fincher, escorted by Jim Dabbs; and

Snow Contributes to Tree Lighting

Despite the severe cold and snow on Dec. 2, approximately 100 Murray students, faculty and Tishomingo residents displayed their Christmas spirit during the annual Tree Lighting program sponsored by the Murray Dames and the Murray State College Student Senate.

Mr. Robert Pearson served as master of ceremonies and led the group in singing "Joy to the World" and "Silent Night, Holy Night" and Reverend Ted Meas delivered the devotional message.

Christmas Play Had Big Success

"A Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens was presented on December 7, in Fletcher Auditorium. This play, produced by Murray State College Department of Language Art and Fine Arts was directed by Janice Fogleman, Fred Poe and Dennis Toews. Music and choreography were directed by Dorothy Toews. The Art Director was Larry Milligan.

The cast consisted of Murray students, members of the faculty and many children of the staff members. The people of the cast were: Julia Campbell, Robert Pearson, William Adams, John Edwards, Danny Stone, Sharon Weger, Benita Williams, Vaughn Wand, Jerry Teel, Doug Pharoah, Dwight Harber, Sam Jeong, Tom Walker, Terry Wright, Rhonda Shurley, Jane Ann Bullard, Caroline Parrish, Kathy Evans, Bobby Farks, Kay Kindell, Valerie Pearson, Marcus Reid, Ann Lowe, Jeff Reid, Dewey Johnson, Judy Slaughter, Judy Smith, Louise Alford, Billy Johnson, Ali Raoufi, David Semkoff, Mitch McCormick, Linda Cobble, Rita Davis, Jerry Edwards, Beverly Frazier, Linda Hart, Joan McLaughlin, Sandy Miller, Lynn Pinderton, Charles Posey, Faye Reid, Art Trujillo, Kenneth Wiggins and Debbie Woods.

The play was presented with much work and with the help of many people who have not been mentioned.

Nearby schools brought groups of grade school children to see the matinee performance.

Letters to The Editor

To The Sophomore Class:

To do a February deadline, the yearbook staff has to get 40 pages for the yearbook done very shortly. The staff is currently working on class pages, but has run into difficulty due to the number of sophomore pictures that were taken in October.

As of present, there are 264 Freshman pictures and only 60 Sophomore pictures. For the Sophomores who want their picture in the '72 yearbook, and have not had their pictures taken, the Tribesman photographer will be set up in the Student Lounge Thursday, December 16. There will be two pictures taken of each person, and the price will be the same, $1.00.

The photographer will set up at 9:00 a.m. Please have your picture made sometime during this day, as this will be the last chance due to the deadline.

James Huff, Editor
The AggieLite
Murray State College
Tishomingo, Oklahoma

Dear Sir:

According to an editorial published in a recent issue of The AggieLite, the Student Senate was labeled "a farce." The first charge was that it "usually accepted or nullified business brought before it without discussion between the representative and his constituents." It should be pointed out that issues brought before the Senate, to be voted on, are either accepted or rejected; there is no alternative. This procedure is a necessary function of the Senate, and it is for this very reason that clubs and organizations elect a representative who will serve as that group's voice or vote in the Senate. The responsibility, however, for electing a qualified person to serve in the best interests of a particular group, of course, rests with that organization which ultimately goes back to individual responsibility in voting.

While it is true that our campus elections are determined by popular vote, the editorial in question offered no alternative method of selection. It was stated that "a candidate may be very popular but not a logical choice." It seems that this would go back, again, to individual responsibility in exercising the voting privilege. Perhaps the issue taken is with our own democratic form of government rather than with the Student Senate per se.

Unlike the proposed Advisory Council to the President, the Student Senate is a decision-making, policy making body. The powers of this organization are explicitly stated on page 21 of the Student Handbook. In submitting some 15 names of possible candidates to serve on the President's Advisory Council, the Senate was exercising one of the powers accorded it--"To make recommendations in all matters concerning student welfare." The final decision of who will serve on this Council to support special-interests and ethnic groups rests with Dr. Kinnell.

Each student has the privilege of bringing any matter before the Senate by contacting a Student Senate Representative and making his desires known. Further, any interested person is welcome to sit in on a Student Senate meeting. The Senate should represent the students' voice in government affairs on campus.

Cordially,
DELORIS JONES
Reporter
The Student Senate

Dear Editor:

After reading the editorial of the last AggieLite, I decided to write this letter. I agree in many ways about some things you said, but I feel you directed part of this editorial to the wrong people. I feel part of this editorial should have been directed toward the student body and not the student senate.

However, I understand your points about the student senate being a "farce." I was just elected to the student senate and have only been a representative long enough to attend three meetings. These three meetings were enough to see why the student senate has not improved Murray in the past two years. I am not saying they do not help the college because they do their best to have the dances and other things on campus which are becoming traditional anyway.

The point is, many things on Murray campus that need to be changed are not because the senate will not stand up against the administration.

The only person that I have seen that has tried to get anything changed in the last two years was a guy here last year that was marked as a radical.

Another thing I would like to bring out is that many of the student senate members vote for a person, because of his major. While voting on the nominations for the President's Council, each time one particular person would make sure everyone knew that the nominee was an "Ag" major. Many so-called "Ag" majors are fine but what difference does it make whether they are an Ag major or not, after all there are only 144 agriculture majors here at Murray. Unfortunately that is no longer a majority at this school so why is it so important that everything that is brought up before the senate have to be pro-ag?

Student Senate

Trophy will be Presented for Best Sportsmanship

On Thursday, November 11, a meeting was held to discuss the possibility of giving a sportsmanship award. The meeting was in Dean Ross' office.

The following results were voted on by all intramural team captains:

1. Trophies will be awarded to teams and each team member will receive an award certificate.
2. A trophy will be centrally located in a case, with the name of the team members winning the trophy engraved on it each year.
3. The votes by team captains and the officials of the game will determine the ones who will receive an award.

The receiving of this award does not have anything to do with the ability, but their sportsmanship.

Phi Beta to Give Away Television

The Phi Beta Lambda met Thursday to decide on their sign painting trip to Madill. They decided to leave Murray at 3 a.m. February 15, and paint signs until noon.

The organization also decided to have a Christmas party for the members, they will also go caroling and return to the Student Union Ballroom for refreshments.

PBL members are also selling chances on a Panasonic portable television set to be given away Dec. 17. The last day for purchasing chances is today, so either contact Mrs. Townsen or Mr. Paton.

Next Movie Set For January 13

The student senate showed their first movie, "Up the Down Staircase" last week to an audience of about sixty students.

On January 13, 1972, the senate will sponsor their second of eight movies to be shown the last semester. The next movie will be "Four for Texas," starring Dean Martin, Frank Sinatra, Anita Ekberg and Ursula Andress.

Price for the movie will remain the same, 35¢ for students with ID's and 45¢ for non-students and the movie will be shown in the auditorium at 6:30 p.m.

Guest Editorial

By Wayne Robins

In the past there have been many complaints about the students having nothing to do at Murray State College. But I believe that if the student would look around that he may find more happening than he could believe possible. It may not be the most exciting events that can be found in the larger populated areas but it will be enough to occupy his (or her) spare time, the little he may have. All too often the student looks for fun and excitement while shunning his studies. This is the main problem. Many students do not realize how important their grades are to them. They believe that as long as they pass the course, that's all that is important so they do the bare minimum. But if they would take note of the competitive conditions of our society today, and the part they will have to play in it, they would banish the thought of fun and buckle down to the business at hand . . . learning.

But for those who are able to complete their studies with time to spare, there are activities available to you. First of all you must get involved with a program that interests you and then apply yourself in its function. At a recent pep-rally, the enthusiasm of the Murray Student Body was regretfully put on display. Out of 800 students enrolled at Murray, only 200-250 attended the rally and of that only seven could be heard during the cheers, and those seven were the cheerleaders. There was practically no response from the students. The same students that say there isn't anything to do at Murray State. Before any student can have a valid complaint he must first exhaust all possibilities available to him. Be a booster of Murray State and not an albatross around her neck.

The Night Before Christmas

By Cleveland Brown
 'Twas the night before Christmas when I heard such a racket,
 Out in the snow was "Slick" and Hoffackett.

 He looked at the object and gave them a "D."

They tore down the snow man and continued to throw.
 Until one flying object hit poor Mr. Poe.

The old solid instructor looking sound as a bell,
 Attacked the two students with help from Morrell.

The scene was a flurry and started to dwindle,
 Because one of the snowballs had hit Doc Kindell.

The wise man stunned with nothing to say,
 Made him a snowball and hit Al-loway.

On top of the building there arose such a chatter,
 Everyone stopped to see what was the matter.

Snowballs were coming from an oversized gun.
 Squeezing the trigger was Mr.

Pearson.
 Suddenly the old sneak had a look of dismay,
 Coming from behind was Mrs. Conway.

Then action stopped and there wasn't a word,
 Off in the distance a voice could be heard.

Everyone looking, wondering which way to go,
 But the voice was coming from ten feet of snow.

 At the bottom of the snow was Jolly Ol' Edwards.

His cheeks were red, looking juicy and ripe,
 But glued in his mouth was his faithful old pipe.

Then Doc Kindell blasted a yell,
 His voice could be heard like the sound of a bell.

On Alloway, on Conway, on Campbell, Morrell, Before Jack and Richard put us in jail.

 Merry Christmas to all and to snow good riddance.

SHERRY SCHOEMANN scores two points for the Murray Aggie-Ettes as they defeated Claremore Junior College 62-40. The victory brought their wins to 2-0. Last week they played Phillips University defeating them and boosted their record 3-0.

Aggie-Ettes Having A Good Start in Season

If the first four games are any indication, the Murray State College Aggie-Ettes are headed for a fine season. The newly-formed girls' varsity basketball team is 4-0 on the season at this writing and were scheduled to take on Juchita University last Friday and Saturday nights.

Although the girls are undefeated so far, Coach Jack Hedden notes that no one is overconfident. "We've got a long season ahead of us and a lot of things could happen. So far, we're real pleased with our progress, but some tough games are coming up."

This is Murray's first venture into girls' varsity basketball in recent years, so what constitutes a successful season is anybody's guess. The Aggie-Ettes will be playing some varsity teams from four-year institutions such as Wayland College, John F. Kennedy University, Phillips University and Ouchita University in their 25-game regular schedule as well as entering three tournaments, so it is indeed a long season.

If credentials are any measure, the girls from Murray can play basketball with anybody. A total of 16 are on the official roster and six of these were all-stars in high school. Three of them, Diane Miller of Lone Grove, Sherry Schoemann of Sterling and Jane Fincher averaged ten points or more per game through the first three games. Sherry leads the team with 12.6 average, followed by Diane with 11.3 and Jane Fincher with 10.3. Also hitting in double figures is Nancy Washington of Stringtown, averaging 11.3 points per game.

The Murray victories have been mostly lop-sided affairs, with the Aggie-Ettes defeating St. Gregory's by 55-27, Claremore 62-40, Phillips University 79-61 and Ranger Junior College 47-41. But, Hedden says, "We are making a lot of mistakes, even though we won those games. I'm always pleased to win, but we still have some improving to do."

Hedden refuses to say exactly who his starters will be, noting only that the starters will probably change from game to game for some time yet until he is satisfied that he can pick out five of the girls and say they are the best. "We have a lot of talent on this squad," he said, "and it's not going to be easy to decide which five are the best. I don't think there's a girl who isn't capable of starting if she gives enough effort."

Next on the schedule for the Aggie-Ettes will be a return match with Phillips University in Enid on Dec. 16.

Aggies Enjoy Break After Defeating PJC

The Murray State College Aggies are enjoying their Christmas break now and don't have a game scheduled until Jan. 31 when they take on Pratt Junior College in Tishomingo.

After finishing up their pre-Christmas schedule, the Aggies are 4-2 on the season. They lost two games in the Black Hawk Invitational Tournament in Burlington, Iowa to open their season and have come on strong ever since. Actually, the Aggies have played only two games in which the score was close, losing to Robert Morris 73-70 and losing to Coffeyville 72-69. Since then, their games have been relatively one-sided. They downed Paris Junior College 68-56, Poteau Junior College 84-53, and defeated Southwestern Christian College twice 87-76 and 92-58.

Coach Wayne Cobb insists, however, that the roughest is yet to come. "We have some hard games remaining and if we let up, we're going to be in trouble. So far, things are looking good, but we are going to be playing some good teams in our conference. Eastern won the conference last year and I'm sure they are favored again. I believe we can play them a hard game, and we intend to beat them, but it certainly isn't going to be an easy game to win."

"We don't have as much height as some of the other teams," Cobb says. "Most of our boys are in the 6-0 to 6-4 range and the tallest one on our squad is David Payne at 6-5. Somewhere down the line, we probably will be wishing we had some taller people."

Even with some disadvantage in height, however, five of the Aggies are averaging ten points or better per game. Windford Newsom, 6-4 freshman from Atlanta, Ga., is leading the team now with 14 points per game followed closely by Stanley Beard, 6-2 sophomore from Montgomery, Ala. and Lynn Hofacket, 6-4 sophomore from Chattanooga, Okla., both with a 13 point average. Six-foot three-inch James Hudson, a freshman from Atlanta, Ga. and 6-1 sophomore Gerald Tucker from Fort Towson round out the top scorers with 11 and ten points, respectively.

On one side of a signboard on an Ohio secondary road the message says: "Road Closed—Do Not Enter." The other side reads: "Welcome Back, Stupid!"

WINFRED NEWSOM, Number 10, scored two for the Murray Aggies as they routed a win over Poteau Junior College 84-53. The Aggies now stand 4-2 so far this season. Both the girls' and boys' teams won their games in the Campus Day events at Murray, Nov. 30.

Chemistry Instructors Make Trip To San Antonio

Through December 2-4, Jim Schammerhorn and Dr. Beulah Zimmerman attended a conference at San Antonio, Texas.

On Friday, after they arrived there, they attended a Southwest Regional American Chemistry Society meeting. Mr. Schammerhorn said 831 people were present at this meeting to hear general information about the teaching of college chemistry in a two year college.

That afternoon Dr. Zimmerman and Mr. Schammerhorn attended a 2YCC (2 Year Chemistry Conference) meeting, after which they went to a COSIP (College Science Improvement Program) meeting.

Mr. Schammerhorn stated that he and Dr. Zimmerman learned a lot about audio-visual and audio-tutorial methods of teaching, which may be used at Murray in the near future.

Dr. Zimmerman and Mr. Schammerhorn enjoyed the informative trip to San Antonio, but were glad to get back home Sunday afternoon.
