TISHOMINGO, Okla. (KTEN) – The Single Mother Success Program at Murray State College is a new scholarship program to help young women attending MSC inside the classroom and out.

"They are usually working full time," said Amy McCain, Dean of learning and student success. "They have children at home. They have school functions, and that can be really hard on single moms."

Single mothers within MSC's STEAM field – Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Math – now have an opportunity to receive financial help. Inspired by the Women's Foundation of Oklahoma, the college created the $500 scholarship to help single mothers pay for school or at home needs.

Thank You!

"It was amazing to see everyone who came by to experience the world of Veterinary Nursing during our open house. We are proud to have so much support."
